One of the new routes, which the philatelists are waiting to flood with mail on the opening day, is from Atlanta to Miami, via Macon and Jacksonville. Another is from Atlanta to Chicago, branching off at Evansville to connect with St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. The third is from New Orleans to Galveston, with one leg to Brownsville and another to San Antonio to connect with air routes to Mexico City, Central and South America.

Thirty-five of the cities on air mail routes in the United States have special cancellation stamps, or cachets. The aim of the collectors is to own a cancelled stamp from each of these cities.

These cachets are designed with the idea of giving the city publicity. Galveston, for example, has a cachet celebrating its seacoast position, Peoria's cachet illustrates progress from the pony express to the airplane. Des Moines vaunts itself upon being the "crossroads" of air mail travel.

The modern, up-to-date philatelist, according to postal officials, is of all citizens of these United States the most air minded.

The remaining values of the series, viz., the 2, 25, 35 and 60ö, were not required until after Knudsen took the contract. Their appearance was approximately: 35ö October, 1895; 25ö February, 1898; 2ö May, 1899; and 60ö August, 1900.

We have already spoken of the 5ö stamp of the previous type with the 13½x12½ perforation, which must have occurred as a trial with a new machine. This new machine was regularly put into use about December, 1893, and employed upon the stamps of the Roman lettering type until December, 1897, when another new machine just purchased in England was employed which reverted to the former gauge of 14½x13½. All the values with the exception of the 2 and 60ö come with the 13½x12½ perforation.

With the dissolution of the union with Sweden and the deposition of King Oscar the Norwegians quickly retired the three stamps that bore his portrait and substituted three surcharged stamps, using remainders of the 2sk yellow of 1867. The overprinting was done by the printers of the regular stamps and there are no varieties except that the 2kr occurs inverted, but is extremely rare thus. The numbers printed were 1kr 139,300, 1.50kr 68,400 and 2kr 67,300. They were issued June 26, 1905.

Because of a reduction in the inland parcel rates on July 1, 1906, a 30ö stamp was deemed necessary and the first supplies of the new value were made by overprinting remainders of the 7sk of 1872. The work was done by the Knudsen firm as before and there are no varieties. The number overprinted was 449,500. A permanent stamp of the same value was soon prepared and issued in the regular type on April 2, 1907. Again on April 9, 1908, a provisional stamp of 15ö was issued overprinted on the 4sk remainders of 1872 to the number of 720,000. The permanent value followed on October 3, 1908.

Meanwhile preparations had been made to replace the provisional kronen stamps with permanent ones showing the portrait of the new King Haakon VII. A competition was held in 1905 for a new design for Norwegian stamps, and one by the painter Halfdan Wiberg was chosen and the dies prepared by Wilhelm Scheel & Co. of Kristiania. It is understood that the original intention was to have them line engraved, but as Knudsen's firm was not accustomed to work from engraved plates they were prepared for surface printing from electrotypes as with the öre values. The results were not wholly satisfactory to the Postal Department and the numbers printed varied little from those of the provisional issue, viz., 1kr 138,300, 1½kr 65,600 and 2kr 62,800. They were issued on August 10, 1907, on thick watermarked paper, perforated 14½x13½ and the size of the impression is 16x20mm. Meanwhile the dies were ordered to be re-engraved and the first stamp issued from these was the 2kr which was printed by the Mallings Printing Company of Kristiania and issued on March 16, 1909. The number printed was 273,600. The 1kr was the next stamp to be issued on December 23, 1909, to the number of 51,200 and the 1½kr on April 15, 1910, to the number of 22,300, both stamps being printed this time by Fabritius & Sons of Kristiania. The perforation and paper are as before. The principal difference between the two dies is in the size of the impression, the re-engraved one measuring 17x21½mm, thus being slightly larger. The head is noticeably larger in the re-engraving and the shading on the forehead is different, being extended to the middle of the forehead and ending in dots. The scrolls at the sides of the stamp are ornamented with large white dots and dashes on the re-engraved stamps instead of the small white dots of the first die.

Tolstoi

—Special Stamps to be Issued Sept. 10 to Commemorate his Birth.

By A. KOUINDJY, Sov. Phil. Assn.

I beg to inform you herewith that on September 10th of this year Russia will celebrate the 100th anniversary of Tolstoi's birth. A special Jubilee Committee has been entrusted with the organization of the celebration of this day and immortalization of the great author's memory. This Committee has requested the People's Commissariate for Post and Telegraph to issue two special stamps for this occasion. The Commissariate has acceded to this request and is issuing for the above date the following two postage stamps: 10 cop. value with L. N. Tolstoi's portrait, for home correspondence, and 28 cop. value, "Tolstoi working in a field," after I. Repin's picture, for foreign correspondence. The color of these stamps has not yet been settled.

OUR BOOK REVIEW

We have received from the Harris Publications, 112 Strand, London W.C.2, England, a review copy of "Who's Who in Philately" for 1928. It is a very pretentious book of 184 pages and furnishes a great deal of useful information. The publishers state that none of the matter in the text is paid for and that various offers of this nature for this and past editions have been consistently declined. There are some supplementary features including an obituary page and a specialists' index. The price of the book is 84c.

We have received from Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., 391 Strand, London, W.C.2, England, a copy of their new booklet "Titles of Countries." These titles are printed on good quality gummed paper in uniform type throughout, no less than 864 names being included. They will be found suitable for heading the pages of any blank albums. Price 28c post free.

ADDRESS CHANGED

I have recently moved to Chestnut Hill, a suburb of Philadelphia, beyond Germantown, and it is no longer convenient to get mail from the Germantown Post Office. Under the circumstances, I have arranged to receive my mail in the city at the address given below. Clients are requested to kindly address their mail accordingly. Will dealers sending auction catalogues, etc., also note change.

REGISTERED SEAL

In moving, I located 20 covers mailed fifty years or more ago, showing the large green registered seal, nicely town postmarked, Scott's #1751. The old timers will remember these on the entire cover, but they are seldom if ever seen today. While they last they are available at $1 each.

First Day, ½c Postage Due

Something else that I ran across was a few of the ½c postage due, tied to the cover along with a 1c green Franklin and cancelled day of issue. These are exceedingly scarce—only one small lot sent out. Almost as rare as the first day $5 postage. Price $1 each.

If you are looking for fine United States, mint or used, I have them. Have recently acquired a few side line accumulations including first day covers, air mail covers and 1½c surcharged envelopes. What do you need?

Early Covers

In a recent Chronicle, mention was made of two covers bearing humorous markings due to the fact that the stamps in the early days were not sticking very well to the letters. Mr. W. R. King now writes that he has a further cover bearing the 3c 1857 perforated, cancelled "Nebraska City, N. T. May 10th" with the following notation, "This is paid if the darn thing sticks."

Mr. W. F. Goerner sends for inspection two equally interesting covers, one bearing a 3c 1851 cancelled "Johnstown, N. Y., June 22, 1857." Around the stamp we find in manuscript, "Paid if the thing sticks."

A second cover cancelled, "Van Buren, Ark", shows that the stamp had fallen from the cover after the cover had been postmarked, and the postmaster writes where the stamp belongs, "Paid—stamp off." These curious covers which are indicative of the early troubles with postage stamps, make an interesting addition to any collection.

5c Air Mail

In inspecting a number of copies of this stamp, I note that three distinct shades are to be found. One the normal variety on the white paper in the blue and red, the second shade shows a deeper red, the paper having a reddish tinge due to the fact that the plate for printing the red border is somewhat new. The third shade shows the paper with a bluish tinge, due to the blue plate being new. When the three are together, they are very distinct.

Mr. H. H. Benners calls attention to a small spot found in the upper portion of the left figure "5" on the first stamp in the right pane from Plate 19550. I have checked this variety and find that it is constant, so that the defect is, no doubt, on the plate.

Several other correspondents call attention to the fact that they have found copies wherein the blue printing is over the red and mention the plate positions. Such a variety is not due to a plate defect, but they occur just the same as in the case of the Pan-American issue of 1901. These stamps are printed in two operations and if the second printing does not register exactly with the first printing, the center runs into the border. These stamps are not printed by the single process, such as the case with numerous foreign varieties, but they are printed on a hand-press, the center being printed first and later the border. In the case of the early issue of 1901, at times the center was fully a quarter of an inch out of register, but I have seen no such varieties in the current air mail variety.

The stamp came into extensive use on August first, at which time the air mail rate was reduced and since that date, the Philadelphia office has more than doubled its air mail business. No doubt, the new low rate will vastly increase the use of this service on long distance letters.

On the first day several postmasters applied special postmarks commemorating the change and I wish to thank Messrs. O. C. Rittenhouse, S. Dreyer, S. M., J. H. Brackett, M. A. Vogel, J. E. Guest, V. H. Ford, A. A. Leve, George E. Virden, and Charles F. Becker, for first day covers which are appreciated.

Envelopes

The bids calling for the printing of the new envelopes beginning with January first next, have been opened and it is found that one bid is lower than that of the present contractors. Of course, before the bid can be awarded, the Department must naturally investigate the facilities of the new concern for turning out the covers required. It takes not only capital, but an equipped organization to supply the many post offices with the millions of stamped envelopes required and as the present contractors have had great experience, it is to be regretted if it is found advisable to place the contract elsewhere. The Department has sixty days to make its decision which will give the contractors three months to prepare and make deliveries.

While speaking of envelopes, the precancelled collector may have something new to add to his album before long. In accordance with Section 435½ of the new postal regulations, it is possible to send two hundred identical pieces of third class mail, and as most of the mail of this type is in stamped envelopes, it has been thought that it might be advisable to have these envelopes pre-cancelled by the manufacturers for use in the numerous cities that are at present using pre-cancelled postage stamps. The marking would, no doubt, include the name of the town and state, as well as mention of the fact that it is in ance with Section 435½ P. L. & I Collectors have, no doubt, notic many of the circulars now bein out under permit bear this number.

It is also possible under the new lations for business firms and oth enclose special postals or envelope out stamps, which when used by t dressee may go free of all post himself, the amount being co from the receiver of the commun This prevents the waste of nu stamps by enclosing a stamped en or postal for reply. PRECANCEL POTPOURRI

By Frederick W. Allen.

Bureau Prints are without question the best buy in precancels—at Mitchell prices—Dr. Mitchell has very fairly deduced the valuations, which collectors should remember are net for perfect copies. Of course there are some items that have cause to fluctuate, such as 1½c Atchison coil—75c being too high now for the number on the market.

It seems that just as soon as you boost a Bureau item into the dollar class, a supply comes to light. Scarce items deserve a good price but prices must be subject to frequent revision because of this factor. To cite specific instances that have occurred, bear in mind: 1c Frenchtown coil, 1c New Britain coil, 2c Schenectady coil, 1c Berea coil, 1c, 1½c Macon coils, etc. But the one item that will never drop is the 1½c Liberty, Mo., coil for the dope has it that the major portion of the stock was destroyed when the Federal authorities closed up the patent medicine mail order business in which they were used.

What happens to all the 6c Saint Louis Bureaus? There is the best "sleeper" among the lower priced items.

The Dallas 4c perf. 10 is going to be mighty good. If you haven't it you had better secure the other perf. 10 Dallas before the market supply is exhausted.

We unearthed a 1c Manville coil the other day. Talk about precancel thrills—where are they more frequently experienced than hunting through unpicked lots for the items nearly everyone has on his Bureau Print want list?

How many collectors will pay $5.00 for a really cleverly produced loose-leaf Bureau Print Album? Each city will have individually printed pages neatly designed. In case the demand is sufficient to indicate the success of such a venture, we have plans for an album.

Bushnell made several attempts at printed precancel albums, including a Bureau Album, neither of which could have been very profitable. Before we will attempt the project we must have some assurance that it will be supported.

San Rafael, Calif., breaks into the U-12 circle with its initial precancelling device.

It is rather difficult to keep up with the various new handstamped styles that are constantly appearing, yet there is not an overabundance of them, for advanced state specialists need a constant whetting of their interest.

The oddest Minneapolis precancel to appear for many months is the current 10c coil in the U-13 electro. This is a Savage Co. variety. As has been explained before, the Savage Co. is allowed the privilege of having stamps received as remittances, precancelled by the plate at the main office. In the reconstruction of the sheets (the stamps are lightly attached to a paper, the size of a sheet of stamps), odd varieties such as coils are included. This explains the coils in the U-3 style, the Huguenot-Walloon series, etc., but does not explain two 5c red errors that exist in the U-13 style. The latter have never been offered for sale, but if they are—bear in mind that they are absolutely not legitimate.—Precancel Gazette.

RESELLO ISSUES OF NICARAGUA

from the American Bank Note Co., which included among others, the 4 and 6 centavo postal values. These were laid aside for preparation of the "Resello 1928," the issue for the ensuing year. I therefore estimate that the date or dates of the three varieties in black copying ink to have been made in October or early part of November, 1927.

On December 31, 1927, all "1927" Resello stamps were declared void for postal duty. The remaining stocks on hand in the post offices throughout the Republic had or were being exchanged for the new "Resello 1928" surcharges. The new surcharged stamps were the same as the violet issue, except the date. The stamps of the fourth issue automatically became current without further decree. The changing of the year being a matter of common sense, so that the terms of the "Revolutionary Decree" of April 28th were still in force. There were two deliveries of these stamps, the first being December 31, although its distribution occurred to allow the sale of stamps to take place on January 3, 1928, and the second on March 6, 1928. The writer will tabulate the quantities of each printing separate in this instance.

There were two settings for the surcharging of the issue, that used for the March 6th delivery showed two minor varieties on each value. Stamp No. 10 shows a Roman "1" in 1928, and Stamp No. 30 the "1" missing or "928." I understand that these varieties were corrected before the surcharging was finished.

Discussion of Resello Stamps

Second and Third Issues

The philatelic sages could describe the first issue as being "too small" and consequently the second and possibly the third as being "too large" when the time for their combined usage was only seven and a half months, or May 15th to December 31, 1927. The problem of anticipating stamp quantities was complex at this time. The happy medium was missed under the conditions governing these stamps.

The second and third issues exceeded the quantities of the first, with the known exceptions of the 4 and 6 centavo (violet surcharge). Again speculation attached itself to these two scantily surcharged values. It differed from that of the 4 and 6 centavo black surcharges in as much as the control of the "violets" was vested in one person. Many were used on "mails" and the remainder held for stamp collectors. The present balance is limited and await the demands of a certain number of collectors, and when absorbed, the "curtain" falls on two rare stamps of Nicaragua. The "lucky" purchaser has been more than fair in the price in proportion to quantities and demand for these values.

The setting of the second and third issues lacked minor sheet varieties. The stamps when seen appeared to be roughly printed. The later printings showed "worn type" and defective variations. Again, errors of surcharge are found on all values, except the 5 (violet), 20 and 25 centavo values. Shifted surcharges are more plentiful on them. These stamps are easily identified and classified from those of the first printing.

The end of the year was approaching, the revenue shortage had disappeared, the commoner values used largely because the "hated" ink (violet indelible) could spoil a higher valued stamp before usage. The cancelled "violet Resellos" are often in such poor condition that the quantities suitable for philately will be reduced materially. So on December 31, 1927 "remainder" stocks of the second and third issues were on hand.

Early in 1928, the Government took immediate steps to dispose of these "remainders" by having them cancelled individually and in sheet form, so as to destroy their original postal and face value and then to be sold "as is" at $2.00 per thousand stamps. This plan was perfectly proper, but the actual sale of them was made too quickly without good inspection. Skips and "leaks" occurred in the cancelling of the stamps and sheets when stamps of all the "remainder" values appeared uncancelled.

The remainders were sold in two large lots, which we can number in order of service as No. 1 and 2. Lot No. 2 may be considered as the balance of the stock, while lot No. 1 may have been more "regular." The writer has inspected lot No. 2, the largest of the two in number of stamps which up to date (July 15, 1928) is still intact and in original containers. In other words no stamps had been disposed of.

From this examination I will make the following statements in an effort to clear up the "remainder" situation and to explain the entire transaction of the sale, which has already been crudely featured in philatelic publications. These statements are made and to the best of my knowledge to be truthful.

No. 1—No "black Resellos" were in the lot.

No. 2—There were no 4c, 5c (violet), 6c or any "Resello R de C" in the lot.

No. 3—Omitting items mentioned in No. 2, the unused other values do not allow for complete sets and is even limited in cancelled sets.

No. 4—The unused and used 1c, 2c and 15c are in very small quantities. All the unused 25c are stuck together with large apparent damages.

No. 5—Quantities are spotty. The ½ centavo value being one-third the entire lot used and unused.

No. 6—The unused quantities of the "remainder" values are insufficient for philatelic requirements.

The first lot No. 1 was bought by a rather unscrupulous stamp speculator with two immediate channels of outlet at his command, i.e. (a) to philatelists for collections and (b) to natives for re-use. This latter practise (b) continued into June, 1928, when "remainder" 1927 stamps were used singly or in combination with "1928" on mail matter. This defrauding operation attracted the attention of other Government officials, none too soon. The stamps disposed under channel (a) were badly needed by stamp collectors, as very few "face" orders of the second and third issues, while current, had been filled owing to the chaotic conditions in the country. The remainders were a godsend to those who waited or were forced to wait for the stamps.

Fourth Issue

The setting for the first delivery (second delivery already discussed) was with new type and free of minor sheet varieties. Fewer "shifts" and "errors of surcharge" were found in the latter, only the ½c, 1c, 2c, 5c, 10c and 25c values were affected. The issue can be considered as being well executed and of good appearance.

This issue was unexpectedly withdrawn for further postal duty due to the confusion of the "1927 remainders" being used in conjunction with them. All stocks were ordered back to Managua and they are sealed in the Treasury of the Republic. The writer and his correspondents will use their best efforts to have the entire stock "as is" burned up before witnesses, rather than a duplication of "remainder" trouble experienced with the "1927" issues.

Conclusion

From May 3, 1927 to June 15, 1928, appeared a large number of different Resello stamps, the real Revolutionary stamps of Nicaragua. I have tried to tell all collectors the whole story as I have learned it. If there still remains anything "hazy" in the minds of anyone, the writer implores them to write to him, Box 16, Station L, New York City, enclosing self addressed and stamped envelope, have a little patience and I will try to clear up the trouble. I might add that this article will be sent to a prominent official in Nicaragua so that a repetition of the "remainder" evil will never occur again. I hope that my readers have not let the grass grow under their feet, but will get these stamps before they are gone. The cancelled violets will naturally fill a want of those collectors whose pocket books are thinner than others.

With American help and financing to come in the near future, Nicaragua has bright skies ahead of her, and who knows that the day of surcharging has gone forever, when an issue with a new design is one of her worst needs at the present time, and should be under way at this date.

Advance Sheets, 1929 Standard Catalogue

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

On August 13th, the first section of the Advance Sheets of the new 1929 catalogue, published by the Scott Stamp & Coin Company, were received. This covers the entire listing of the United and Confederate States. I do not recall ever checking a lot of Advance Sheets where the changes were so numerous, for most of the early varieties advance, and in the case from 1890 on, there is only a stamp here and there, which remains at the former figure.

These new prices reflect the large number of advanced specialists coming in the market for fine early items, and shows that numerous collectors who heretofore have been collecting the country as a whole, have decided that they can make the best showing on the amount that they care to expend by starting in with the Bureau Issues, or say the issue of 1890. These later varieties still offer a wonderful opportunity for investment, and as they have shown the greatest increases in the past five years, I believe that in five years hence today's prices will look as if they had been presented to the collector as a present.

In checking the catalogue, please note that the prices are for good average specimens. The demand for the superb copy is becoming greater year by year, and these naturally command a larger premium.

The postmasters, as usual, stand still with a few very minor exceptions, such as the Providence varieties and one or two St. Louis. Fine copies are practically bringing the same prices that they brought five or ten years back and will, no doubt, be bringing the same figures as many years hence. Those who are really interested in postmasters, may be counted on the fingers of the two hands, and even then, I am making a liberal allowance. Most are old line collectors who started years past, for the man coming into the field today who can afford to buy such varieties, usually passes them by. The 5c New York seems to be the only exception. A number of years back, one of the active dealers of the time was instrumental in interesting a number of collectors in these issues, but as his philatelic activities in United States issues lessened, the postmasters have been, more or less, dropped so that the current prices reflect current values.

In the general issues, the 1847 varieties stand still, with the exception of the horizontal half of the 10c used as 5c. There is only one copy of this variety known, that being in the B. K. Miller Collection, so that the advance means little. The two reprints are now priced at $8.00 and $10.00. As one or two are plating these, the small available stock is gradually becoming absorbed.

The 1851 series from the 1c to the 10c Type I inclusive, move forward in almost every case. The 1c Type I used goes to $400 and is still reasonable at this figure. The imperforate 24c, 30c and 90c stood still, although they are readily bringing in the open market full catalog or more, so that an advance would not have been out of the way.

In the 1857 series several stamps increase, the 1c Type III unused now listing $150.00, the 5c brick-red used at $32.50 and its red-brown side-partner $27.50. The 10c Type I, like the imperforate stamps increase both unused and used. In this issue, we find one of the few varieties that has decreased in value, namely the 1c Type IV unused, which drops to $100.00 This is still too high for a fresh unused copy which usually comes without gum, but I would gladly pay twice this figure for a perfection, well centered unused copy with full gum.

All of the reprints have advanced, the set now listing $193.50. These advances in the reissues are well warranted, for dealers have been paying in New York auctions nearly full catalog or more for good copies, for some months and they are still reasonable at the prevailing quotations, when one considers the few that were issued.

The August issue, with the exception of the 5c, which goes to $1,200.00, still stands at the old figures, in spite of the fact that many of them have changed hands in the last couple years at greatly increased quotations. If anyone has available, or can obtain, mint copies of the 12c, 30c, and 90c at full catalog prices, I would be glad to purchase them at very handsome increases, as the present quotations are practically the only ones in the 1929 catalogue that I would classify as "away out of the way."

The September issue of the same series increases in the case of the 3c pink and lake, as well as the 30c and 90c, the latter being priced at $50.00 unused and $15.00 used. In the following, 1862 series, the 15c used and the 24c unused, make slight increases.

The 1867 grills, the most difficult series of United States stamps to complete in fine condition, move up in many cases, the 3c grilled all over unused going to $100 and is still cheap, if fine. The two varieties grilled 12x14, always difficult stamps to obtain and generally missing in all stocks, go to new high ground in both conditions. Of the 11x13, the 2c increases and the diagonal half used as 1c moved to $100.00. I have always found this several times rarer than the ungrilled split, although it is priced one third cheaper. The same remarks apply to the split with the smaller grill. The 12c and 15c of the same issue move to $30 and $40 unused, and $5 and $6 used. Of the smaller grills 9x13, the 5c, 30c and 90c unused are now priced at $40, $50 and $125 respectively, while the 5c, 12c, 15c, 30c and 40c move slightly higher in cancelled condition. The reissues from 2c to 15c inclusive, have been increased. The 1c which is fairly plentiful remaining as heretofore. Why the three high denominations were left standing still, I cannot say, as these command around full catalog from dealers and naturally are sold at a profit.

The scarcer lower values of the 1869 issue, namely the 1c, 2c, 10c and 12c are increased in both conditions. The rare 15c unused is now priced at $60.00 and is a most difficult stamp to obtain. Of the reissues the 10c and 30c are now listed at $16 and $25 respectively.

In the Bank Note issues, numerous changes here and there are to be found. In the grilled varieties the 1c unused and the 30c in both conditions move higher. Of the "without grill" issue, all of the higher values take very fair increases and anyone who has endeavored to complete this set in superb condition, either used or unused, will have to do some hunting. In the Continental set two or three changes are made of minor importance. All of the special prints without exception in the case of the soft paper and all of the hard paper with the exception of the 2c vermilion and 5c blue, take very substantial increases and rightly so, for there has been quite a demand in the last several years for these two issues with practically no stock available. The two 1875 on hard paper, as well as all of the 1879 from 3c up, are increasing.

From this point on, there are few stamps that have stood still, this being particularly so of the higher denominations which are always most desirable and are seldom if ever found in the general collections that come to a dealer's hands, so that in order to obtain them he must compete with the collector at auction or else purchase the larger collections. I am pleased to see that the 4c green, special printing, has had the former price of $85.00 deleted, for the stamp has been worth many times this amount for several years. All of the 1888-1890 and the Columbian issue of 1893 have increased, with the exception of one or two of the cheaper stamps. The five high value Columbians in unused condition now being priced at $7, $6, $12.50, $15 and $17.50 respectively. The 1895 issue all difficult to obtain in nice condition will cost the collector more and this includes the imperforates which are still most reasonable at $8.50 per stamp. The $2 and $5 are now priced at $25 and $60 unused, and $15 and $40 in cancelled condition. The same remarks apply to the 1895 and 1898 issue, of which the available supply is becoming smaller.

All of the Omahas increase, the $2 going to $15 in unused condition. They have priced the 8c imperf. horizontally at $100.00, and if anyone has a pair or two that they want to sell at a handsome increase over catalog, please send them on.

The 1901 bi-colored, always a popular issue, especially with the younger collector because of its beauty, increases in almost every case. The errors take a well warranted jump, the 1c now being priced at $150 mint and $125 used, the 2c at $1,200.00, and the 4c at $250 and $100 with "Specimen" overprint.

The 1902 series from 3c to $5 inclusive, along with the coils, have advanced the three high values now being priced, unused at $7, $10 and $25. I can hardly note an instant either used or unused where there has not been an increase in the issues of 1904, 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910.

All of the 1909 blue papers advance the 4c and 8c being priced at $300, the 5c at $100 and the 10c and 13c at $15 and $70 respectively. The rare 10c coil now lists $40.00

The Panama-Pacific all increase, as well as the issue of 1912-1915, the 10c perf. 10 listing at $6 still slightly low in my estimation. The 50c single line watermark moved to $8.50 and the same variety with double line watermark to $5.00, the $1 now being priced at $8.00. In the watermarked perf. 10, series of 1914, every unused stamp and most of the used ones from the 4c to $1 inclusive, is priced higher, the 50c and $1 being listed at $7 and $9.

All of the coils with few exceptions move forward, and I am glad to see that the 3c rotary moves to $2.50, as this is an excessively scarce stamp and it seems to be one of the coils where no stock of any importance is available. I am glad to see that this year the Scott Company lists the different types of the later issues which heretofore have been mentioned in the specialized catalogue only. I note No. 449, Type I, a very rare stamp, is priced at $20, which is fair. The Type II is still very cheap at $12 and I would like to buy a few pairs and strips at fair advances over this figure. The rare imperforate 2c rotary No. 459, always a scarce stamp reflects the price that it has been bringing during the last year, namely $25.00. Needless to mention, the entire 1916 unwatermarked perf. 10 series, with the exception of the 5c error and the two high values which are still fairly plentiful, are increased, the 3c going to $6, the 50c to $50 and the $1 to $9.00. This issue just goes to show how much is to be gained by collecting the current stamps in unused condition. No dealer can possibly afford to put away a sufficient supply to last indefinitely, and just as soon as the few that he has stored away are sold, prices are bound to advance as it is necessary for him to go into the market and buy in competition with collectors. Only a few years back, the of this series was selling at $2 and I recall just about a year or s that collectors were refusing them as they were only catalogued at $7.

While the catalog is a most efficient and one that none of us could mak strides without, it must be remem that it is only published every yea new information becomes availab most daily, so that the collector really wants the fine things must guided entirely by the catalog, but —Not Merely a Hobby but a Scientific Study with Many Advantages.

By NEAL W. HUGHES.

ave noticed several lengthy articles our magazine upon the subject of sefulness and educational value of collecting. I am inclosing the wing article which seems so short o concise and yet very complete in arison with longer articles. It is from "Everybody's Book on Col-g" by Dr. George C. Williamson, shed in 1924 by Herbert Jenkins, ., London. You may or may not received this paragraph before, but, y rate, here it is:

ke the collecting of butterflies, collecting has been sneered at as a lboy's hobby, but there are no lboys that I have ever heard of are in a position to pay thousands unds for fine stamps, and moreover, the point of view of education, collections can rival that of stamps. w, when I was collecting years ago, s taught a great deal about various te places that I knew little of, and various persons that I knew even of, by reason of the portraits that r on certain stamps, that I learned currency and its varieties, about es of dynasty, about delicate shades olor, about the existence of small olics and states of which I knew little, and about rulers and colonies postmasters and founders, of whom gnorance was sublime. Ornitholo- and students of natural history can a pleasure in stamps from the ani- and birds finely drawn upon them, artist can often appreciate their y, the historian gains facts from as to the foundation and life of ful colonies, the orientalist finds ge inscriptions to decipher, and that was at one time thought to be or less a harmless craze, should be considered as a serious scientific with a great many advantages to mend it."

Partial Report A. P. S. Secretary

MEMBERSHIP IN THE SOCIETY NOW NUMBER OVER 4100 IN GOOD STANDING

H. A. DAVIS, Secretary.

This, my 12th annual report, will show that intensive campaigns for members and the living up strictly to the letter of our By-Laws relative to dropping members at a specified time has, if not lost a few members, left us in practically the same place in point of membership that we were in a year ago.

Perhaps a few words of explanation of this assumption gained by an experience in society work for twenty years or more will not be out of place.

First, let me say that I believe intensive campaign for new members, where large or valuable prizes are offered for recruiting is a mistake. Collectors and others are admitted thru their friendship or other inducement for or by the recruiting members who do not continue their membership and have little interest in our society. Without any other instances, which are many, this is shown to be true during the last two years in which we have dropped for non-payment of dues over 500 members. Tracing these applications from their source it was found they were induced to join our society thru the efforts of members who were working for a prize.

Our Recruiting Committee as now organized by Mr. Martin is doing fine work, new members are being admitted who I believe will stay with us. The growth will not be large each year, but I believe it will be a steady growth and one which can be maintained each year. Of course there will always be a certain number dropped each year for one reason or another; having lost interest in the hobby being the predominating factor.

Secondly, in the past, we have carried our members on the roll, sending them several notices of dues payable, soliciting their continued membership for several months prior to dropping them, disregarding our By-Laws on this point, and as a result saving many members who would otherwise have dropped out.

At the St. Louis convention a certain member (not during the sessions) made a decided objection to this method. He was right in saying the By-Laws had not been followed to the letter. It was decided at that time by several members of the Board in consultation, that in future we would observe the By-Laws strictly on this point, with a result which we all knew would be a large number of members dropped. The By-Laws were followed strictly, cutting off the American Philatelist to delinquent members and dropping them 30 days later. Hereafter the By-Laws will be followed strictly to the letter in anything which your secretary has anything to do with.

Credit is given the following for recruiting during the past fiscal year, for applications sent in from Sept. 1, 1927 to August 1, 1928, inc. Applicants have not yet been admitted whose applications were received and published after my June 1st report.

J. E. Guest, 88; H. A. Davis, 48; R. L. Hustis, 13; D. W. Martin, 12; A. D. Fennel, 9; Eugene Klein, 8; P. M. Wolsieffer, 7; Leslie Davenport, 6; A. H. Wilhelm, 5.

(We omit the names of those who sent in fewer than five. The list is a long one.—ED.)

A total of 38 deaths have been reported during the year.

Life Membership.—We have added 34 Life Members, expelled two and lost seven by death, making our total 414.

Chapters.—We have added seven new chapters during the year. Located at Augusta, Maine; Jersey City, N. J.; Springfield, Ill.; Yonkers, N. Y.; Dayton, Ohio; Cicero, Ill., and Long Beach, Calif. Four chapters were dropped for non-payment of dues: Pasadena, Calif.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Chicago, Ill.; and North Dakota Stamp Collectors Club. We now have 53 Chapters, 12 of which are Life Chapters.

Units.—There are now three Units in practical working order. The Revenue Stamp Unit, Precancel Stamp Unit and the Stampless Cover Unit. There are four others in process of organizing, which bid fair to be consummated and in working order during the next year. The Exchange Unit, Air Mail Stamp Unit, Plate Number Unit, and Postage Stamp Unit. Notices are being published monthly relative to membership in these Units. It is hoped that our members interested in certain specialties will give their support to these organizations.

The Council has rejected 9 applicants during the year and expelled 14 members. 368 were dropped for non-payment of dues. There are 77 applications pending to be admitted in September and October. Our gain for the year in numbers has been but 40.

The following is the summary of membership:

CHICAGO PRECANCEL CONVENTION

Reported by "Noname"

A four days' convention has just been held in Chicago that shows that precanceled stamps have a following whose enthusiasm and loyalty to their specialty are such as to amaze the one who has not followed precanceled stamps in their stride to the front. Not alone was the convention a real success, but the exhibition held in the convention room in the Sherman Hotel was of unusual merit.

On the evening of August 14th, a registration of local and visiting delegates showed that any misgivings as to the attendance were unfounded and by the time the convention was called to order on the morning of August 15th, the West Room where the sessions were held was well filled with collectors of both sexes and all ages. While the local representation was very large, the out-of-town members were in sufficient number to make an impression and the presence of men such as the president, Dr. W. I. Mitchell of Berkeley, Cal., Prof. A. F. Gamber, Valley City, N. D., Victor W. Rotnem, Minneapolis, J. A. Cook, Waterloo, Iowa, and many outsiders added to the interest of the occasion.

As the convention got under way, interest in it increased and as the well-arranged program was unfolded, it was seen that the meetings compared favorably with those of the great national philatelic conventions. There were special efforts made to entertain the ladies, and the usual picture was taken of the delegates. The auction sale of precanceled held on the night of August 16th was a lively one, despite the heat that prevailed. In fact, it happened that the weather was unusually warm during the convention period and so, all the more reason to congratulate the managers of the meetings.

The annual banquet was held on the night of August 17th and was a fitting close to a most enjoyable occasion and all in all, the convention was a creditable undertaking that reflected most favorably on the Chicago Precancel Stamp Club and its members who labored so unstintedly for the success of the "meet."

The work done by the delegates consisted in passing legislation that was calculated to improve precancel collecting standards and was of particular moment to us who are anxious to present these stamps in the best light. The idea is to frown down on irregularities and prevent imposition. The exhibition held concurrently with the convention was of special interest to precancel folks, although there were some frames of air-mail covers included in it as well as a few other specialties. The arrangement of the stamps in frames was most suitable, and it is safe to say that thousands of people in the aggregate examined the displays with more or less attention. It was regretted that some of the Chicago philatelists were not in town to help entertain the visitors, but nevertheless, the convention was a striking example of telling work done in behalf of a class of stamps that certainly are on the upgrade. In being the subject of the Chicago convention, precancels have proved their right to a place in the philatelic sun. There was much buying and selling during the convention and many friendships were made that will last for years. After a time, I feel sure that Chicago will again ask for the privilege of having the convention, so successful in every way was the sixth annual convention of the Precancel Stamp Society.

DEATH OF DR. HETRICH

It is with deep regret that we are compelled to chronicle the death of Dr. George Hetrich of Birdsboro, Pa., which occurred August 10. Dr. Hetrich had a noteworthy collection of United States, but he was especially known as a pioneer collector of Match and Medicine stamps, of which he had one of the finest collections in existence at the time of his death. We are indebted to Eugene Klein for the sad news we are compelled to give our readers.

New Approval Books

The following new books have just been remade and priced moderately for the summer season. Shall be glad to send on approval to collectors known to me, or to others on receipt of satisfactory references.

NEW ZEALAND

Pence Issues, 1st type only, 1855-1867. A nice lot of the early issues, imperf. and perforated.

DUTCH INDIES AND CHINA

A moderate lot of early issues only. In the Dutch Indies a few of the first issue, Imperf. and Perf., and in the 1870-74 some of the scarce perforations unused, such as the 11½ x 12, etc. etc. In China some nice single copies of the 1st type both unused and used.

FALKLAND ISLES

A little lot of early issues, including some nice strips of four with imprints, and a few early blocks.

NEW SOUTH WALES

1856-1886, a nice little lot of these issues, also a good lot of fine copies of Registered, both imperf. and perf.

SERVIA

Two new books. The early issues are a good lot. The narrow and wide settings and perforations are separated and the later perforations and papers properly classed.

UNITED STATES

"OFFICIAL" OR "DEPARTMENT" STAMPS

I have just made up six new books, three of unused and three of used, the latter containing many scarce cancellations.

MEXICO

I have again had to re-arrange the whole of my approval books of Mexico owing to the old set having sold out so freely that they were not in a condition to send out, and further, owing to the purchase of a rather nice collection of Mexico. I have combined all recent purchases and now have a really good series of twenty-six new books ready to send out. These include stamps up to about 1882 with a few later issues in scarce values and varieties, also a few extra fine Guadalajara.

CONFEDERATE STATES

PROVISIONAL ISSUES

Two new books of the early "Provisional Issues" are now ready. These include several Athens, Baton Rouge, Charleston, Knoxville, Nashville (10c green), over 35 New Orleans with several pairs and strip of four. Mobile 2c. black and 19 of the 5c. blue. Petersburg and Tellico Plains a pair of 5c. plus 10c.

SALVADOR

A good lot of early issues all from the "Ferrary" collection. In the 1874 issue, there are pairs with and without the overprint and a number with double overprint. In the 1879 issue a number of used Imperf. varieties and other interesting items.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Two books strong in early issues with fine copies, pairs, strips and many scarce varieties, such as stamps printed on both sides. Also a few scarce Officials and Department stamps.

TRINIDAD

I have just bought a small collection of Trinidad and made up two new books. A few early issues are included on covers and this collection comprises all issues up to 1908 and the Unpaid, etc.

ROUMANIA

Issues 1858-1891. A set of three books, being a fine specialized New York collection I have just purchased. The issues up to 1872 have always been favorites of mine. Almost all of them can be plated and they are full of interesting varieties that will repay research.

QUEENSLAND

I have just bought a collection from the estate of a well known Newark collector and have made up two nice new books. In the rare first issues there are two copies of the imperf. 1d., a pair of the rare 2d. blue, and two of the 6d. green, one is unusually fine. The later issues are well represented after by a number of copies of one catalogue number.

BAHAMAS

A very fine lot, especially of the early issues. In the first 1d. Imperf. there are two fine used copies and in the no watermark stamps, thirty-two fine copies including some rare unused. In the C. C. perf. 12½, the scarce 1/- green is represented by two fine unused and two used. The later issues up to the King Edward include some fine unused and used blocks. [65

5d LEEWARDS, 1922

By HARRY E. HUBER.

ıe 5d dull violet and olive green of Leeward Islands Federal series, orised by an Order in Council of ıary 9, 1922 (along with 4d, 2s, 3s 4s denominations), was first issued asseterre, St. Kitts, on May 12, 1922 at Antigua, Dominica and Mont- ıt later in the same month), having printed from DLR-1888, Postage evenue, King George V, keyplate No. Plate 11, 5d stamps were sent to ıinica in 1924 (and issued there in ıuary), and in the first quarter of to Montserrat. The 5d of the sh Virgins, and the 5d of Montser- both in the King's head and Presi- al Seal designs, and authorised by ers in Council of March 24, 1922, issued on June 15, 1922, and July 922, respectively.

an Order in Council of January 9, effective February 1, 1922, the rates etters to all destinations beyond the ard Islands Colony were increased ½d—i.e., British Empire and U. S. rs from 1½d to 2d; foreign letters 2½d to 3d, and the registration fee 2d to 3d. The 5d denomination ps therefore were issued to take care e combined letter rate and the regis- on fee to the British Empire and the ed States, just as the 6d served on rs to other foreign countries.

hen the rates on foreign letters, and to the British Empire and the ed States were reduced ½d (from ıd 2d to 2½d and 1½d respectively), tatutory Rules and Orders No. 5 of made March 1, 1926, and effective 1, 1926, the need for these 5d ps disappeared, but they were not drawn from sale as reported in the telic press.

Statutory Rules and Orders No. f 1928, made April 26, 1928, stamps d denomination were dropped from Federal series, and from the Presi- al series of Montserrat and the Brit- Virgins. Section 7 of these Orders that ". . . . . (these) stamps . . . . continue to be used unless or until wise ordered, and such stamps may nue to be sold until the existing s are exhausted."

e 5d British Virgins exhausted on 12, 1926, and the 5d of Montserrat July, 1927, but the 5d Leewards was in good supply in many if not all he Presidencies in January, 1928. ough not sent to the British Virgins ally, it was obtainable at Roadtown, ola, in July, 1928.

e original lot of Federal stamps to Tortola between 1912 and 1913, ed from plate 1, and Roman CA rmarked, was so large (for the de- l), that it was not until March, 1925, that Tortola indented on the Crown Agents for a small supply of the 1d Federal series, which was printed from plate 11, in violet, on script CA paper. The other denominations, on script CA, were never requisitioned by the British Virgins from the Crown Agents in London (nor were the 4d, 5d, 2s, 3s and 4s ever indented for), and it was not until June, 1927, that the Post Office at Roadtown, Tortola, began to stock all denominations of the Leeward Federal series (in addition to the British Virgins Presidential series), securing small lots, frequently, from the one central stock at the Federal Treasury, St. John's, Antigua. Previous to the fall of 1926, it had been necessary for each Presidency to indent on the Crown Agents in London for needed or desired supplies of Federal, as well as Presidential stamps.

The 1d red, 2½d blue, and 3d on yellow, Roman CA, plate 1, Federal stamps at Tortola were withdrawn from sale, and destroyed, subsequent to the receipt of supplies from Antigua, and issue, of the 1½d red (October, 1926), 2½d blue (Mar. 7, 1927), and 3d on yellow (July 1, 1927) script CA. The ½d green, plate 1, Roman CA, was still to be had in July, 1928.

Tortola is only four hours distant (40 miles) from St. Thomas in the American Virgins, and mails are exchanged almost daily, by the Government auxiliary schooner "St. Ursula," motor boats, or sailing vessels of small tonnage. Consequently, there are more frequent mail dispatches to the United States, via Porto Rico and the direct steamers, than from the islands further down the line.

Last summer in going to Trinidad, I sailed on the Furness s.s. "Dominica," from New York, on Thursday, September 22nd. We reached St. Thomas (1658 miles) on Tuesday morning, the 27th, and St. Croix (45 miles) that afternoon. The next morning early we were off Basseterre, St. Kitts (149 miles), leaving before noon for Antigua (67 miles), where we arrived at the end of the afternoon, having passed Nevis, Redonda and Montserrat en route. Nevis and Montserrat were not ports of call, being served through St. Kitts and Antigua respectively. Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe (116 miles), was our next port of call, the following morning, Thursday the 29th, and shortly before 5 o'clock that afternoon, anchor was dropped off Roseau, Dominica (the most southern of the Federal Presidencies), 67 miles distant from Guadeloupe, and almost 500 miles from the British Virgins.

CONVENTION OF THE S. P. A.

34th Annual Session Opens With Addresses by Government Officials

("Herald-Tribune"—B. Jarzembowski.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With an attendance of about 100 representatives of its 400 members the Society of Philatelic Americans opened its thirty-fourth annual convention here to-day with an address by Robert S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster General, who welcomed the delegates to Washington, and at the same time told of the value of postage stamp collecting as it is advanced by the organization.

Mr. Regar recounted that the collection of stamps indicated the soundness of a republic. Following his address A. W. Hall, director of the United States Bureau of Printing and Engraving, told of the extensive work of his department in carrying on permanence in engraving of stamps. He invited the delegates to visit the engraving plant to-morrow.

The principal address of welcome was delivered by William A. Johnson, president of the Washington Philatelic Society, while James F. Duhamel, president of the Washington branch of the Society of Philatelic Americans, told the delegates of the broad possibilities of stamp-collecting study in Washington.

At the brief business meeting during the morning hours the officers for 1929 were named by the election board. All officers who have served in the last year were re-elected. These included G. W. A. Camp, president, and William Lycett, of Cape May, N. J., secretary. Mr. Camp's report showed a membership of 1,433 from all parts of the world.

After the business session the delegates visited Mount Vernon, where the president placed a wreath on the tomb of George Washington. The rest of the afternoon was occupied with a sightseeing of Alexandria and other nearby Virginia points of historical interest.

RETURN OF MR. SEVERN

The readers of the WEEKLY will welcome back our editor, Mr. Severn, who has just returned from two months in Europe. In his absence we have been using the editorial work of various British editors, thus giving publicity to their brilliancy on this side of the Atlantic. Messrs. Melville, Ingram and Harris are all O. K., but we are glad that we have our Severn. Welcome back!

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

EDITORIAL

ON June 7, 1928, the editor of the WEEKLY sailed for France and on June 15th landed at Cherbourg, where our treasured school-book French collapsed beyond recovery and that flattering illusion that we would converse airily, if somewhat quaintly, with the French people was shattered. The natives love their language and do not throw out the life-line to the stranger whose tongue will not behave,—they let him sink. After staying over-night at Cherbourg, our little party proceeded by auto to Paris, which was reached in the evening, after a ride through beautiful Normandy. The following day, Sunday, a first visit was paid to the Stamp Bourse and for nearly two weeks thereafter, Paris was the center of our universe.

WHILE our trip primarily was a vacation from stamps yet it was not devoid of philatelic flavor and some pleasant contacts were established. An interview with Mr. Champion in his imposing quarters was enjoyed. Mr. Champion was at work on the new edition of his catalogue and with the recent stabilization of the franc, we predicted that the value of the work would be emphasized in this country. The fluctuation of the French franc is now a vexation of the past and an obstacle to easy interchange has been removed. The Champion stamp stock is a huge one and the business done by the famous house is large. Every provision is made for the convenience of customers and it is readily seen that the firm has a select clientele. Evidence of stamp activity in Paris was not lacking, and stores and shops were not hard to find; and many places included stamps in their displays although not exclusively stamp houses. It would be absurd to pretend that a few experiences were even an index to the real condition of the stamp market in Paris, but our guess is that the best class of stamps is as elusive there as elsewhere, such is the swelling demand for the fine examples. French colonials naturally are in favor and there is a great volume of business in them, and the issues of France are held in the esteem that embraces the stamps of a home country. The flitting tourist cannot hope to penetrate into the heart of philatelic Paris, and if he get prizes in U. S., he must credit chance to his good fortune. A consistent hunt for special things requires the expenditure of time and the bargain in a U. S. variant, for instance, does not fall into one's lap.

THE book-stalls along the bank of the Seine often include stamps among their stock, but the selections are somewhat bedraggled, as a rule. Sometimes, the proprietor, man or woman, will bring forth a book containing better stamps when the stamps on display are rejected. Packets of stamps are commonly shown in the windows of many stores such as stationery, tobacco and toy shops. The big dealers are found on some of the principal streets and their establishments are such as to give an air of substance to stamps as a merchantable commodity. It is apparent that there are many collectors who pursue collecting in an individual way in Paris who are removed from affiliation with stamp societies and that their purchases in the aggregate do much to sustain a relatively large number of dealers.

THE Stamp Bourse is interesting rather than impressive as a testimonial to the perpetuity of the philatelic flame. Twice a week, on Sunday and Thursday afternoons, collectors and dealers of all ages and both sexes congregate under the trees in a beautiful spot and enter into transactions that while in the total summing must make a considerable showing are apt to be of modest proportions singly. The idea of a stamp bourse is not without its fascinations and is stimulating to the imagination, but in reality, even the kindly critic must say that it does not picture philately with heroic strokes. In fact, there are critics of the scheme who say that it is a somewhat dubious procedure for reasons that are not without their sinister suggestion. On the contrary, it may be said that it affords opportunities for communion that appeal to many stamp folks, and its fame is such that it is listed as one of the sights of Paris in different guide-books. The sharp-shooter who frequents the mart may be rewarded, but passing observation would indicate that those who enter into its business have their eye-teeth cut both as buyers and sellers. There seems to be more sellers than buyers and the vendors have portable stands and chairs on which they display their goods. Stamps on sheets and in albums are displayed and the sellers are quick to sense the approach of a good buyer. Respectable dealers and collectors attend the sessions of the Bourse, and in their train, there must be numbers of those who do not fall under this category. A hopeful sign is the presence of young collectors alone or with their parents who make their purchases in this oasis of stamps.

IN speaking of the Stamp Bourse, one of the brokers who was selling out of a good collection, spoke about as follows, in answer to questions that were put to him. No, opportunities for plucking the goose were not common as everybody nowadays had a catalogue. Yes, one had to keep his wits about him or he would be imposed upon by a seller now and then. Again, the tendency was to be fair and he told how a small dealer went to expense and inconvenience to return a small packet of stamps that the buyer had forgotten to take with him. While the attendance was somewhat variable, yet there was always a good number of philatelists on hand from a few dozen to a few hundred. The understanding is that no importunate action on the part of those offering stamps for sale is counternanced. "My friend, the Bourse has an existence beginning with philatelic time and nowhere but in Paris could it flourish out in the open and under the trees. That is one thing that you Americans in your riches cannot have." The comment of our amiable informant was characteristic as he looked upon the institution, not alone as a creature of the present, but as a tradition of the past. He added for the benefit of the Americans: "The first thing you do is to want U. S., and you want them so fast. The first question is: 'Have you any U. S.?'"

THE Stamp Bourse has been the subject of more publicity than any other philatelic theme. It was first noticed in 1864, when from two to four hundred people, half of whom were adults, met every Thursday and Saturday in the Tuilleries garden. Complaints against the assemblages were acted upon by the police: as a consequence of the somewhat motley appearance of the habitués, the undiscerning might be excused for imputing sinister motives to them. They then settled in the Luxembourg garden where they again were frowned upon officially, but in time, the peregrinations of the philatelists ceased when they descended on the Rue Marigny behind the marionette shows where on Sundays the patrons of the Bourse may hear at times the excited trills of the children who are following the adventures of the puppets. We understand that there is some understanding among certain of the sellers to pass along the liberal or careless buyer. Since attending the Bourse, the recollection of a sentence that we read decades ago comes to mind; it was to the effect that neither prominent collectors or established dealers habitually frequented the Bourse. This remark still has its application fairly.

THE VIENNA MEETING

The Congress of the European Philatelists which was held in Vienna on July 5th to July 10th, 1928, was held in conjunction with a meeting of the Philatelic Aero Clubs International and the Societee Philatelic Internationale. The convention attracted from eight to nine hundred philatelists from all parts of the world almost and was the grandest success that the writer ever had the pleasure to witness, philatelically and socially.

The meetings of the Congress were presided over by Colonel Hessheimer, one of Austria's foremost philatelists and a speaker of wonderful eloquence who possessed a fine sense of humor.

The meeting of the Aero Club was directed by the able President Director Plass, while the sessions of the Societee Philatelic Internationale were under the guidance of the Belgian President Bidgewood, assisted by the secretary, P. J. Maingay.

The important resolutions adopted, recommended that work be instituted to the end that all countries would make it a punishable offense to counterfeit stamps or surcharges on them and not to allow the circulation or use on letters of any unofficial or private stamps, aero or otherwise; and that all post offices publ list of the number of pieces of mail ca on first flights and to allow only air a stamps to be used on mail sent by ai

MAIL FROM SHIP TO SHORE

AIRPLANE MAKES PERFECT TAKEOFF FROM FRENCH STEAMER 450 MILES FROM SHORE

An airplane was hurled from a catapult on the deck of the liner Ile de France, 450 miles at sea August 13, swung its nose toward New York and dropped down at Quarantine five hours later with a crew of three, a passenger, and a cargo of mail.

The liner, plunging ahead at her normal 23 knots, is scheduled to dock some time before noon today. Those aboard the plane had cut nearly 18 hours off the transatlantic voyage.

Their flight was the first in which a plane ever was catapulted from a moving steamer's deck and it inaugurated a ship-to-shore service which will be made from the Ile de France on both east and west journeys hereafter and which the French Line proposes eventually to extend to regular passengers.

A catapult weighing 60 tons and an amphibian plane of nearly four tons were loaded aboard the Ile de France when she sailed from Havre last Wednesday. Commander Louis DeMougeot went along as pilot. With him on the experimental flight yesterday were B. Monrouzeau, radio operator, and A. Sarzach, mechanic.

A radiogram from the master of the liner reported

The Take-off Was Perfect

The plane carried fuel sufficient only for the 450-mile flight to quarantine, but in the future the steamship company plans to load more fuel for longer flights that will cut a full day from the time of transporting important transatlantic mail.

At quarantine the plane and its crew went through the usual examinations to which all incoming steamship passengers and personnel are submitted, but these formalities were completed in less than an hour and the plane took the air once more for a short hop to the French Line pier at the foot of West 14th street.

There the mail sacks were unloaded and transferred to the foreign mail division of the post office. Commander DeMougeot filed his report at the company offices and went ashore.

It was a little more than a year ago that the first commercial ship-to-shore flight was pilot of the monoplane Columbia on its flight from New York to Germany.

Made by Clarence Chamberlin

Chamberlin soared from an improvised runway on the deck of the Leviathan when the liner was a little beyond Ambrose channel.

When French Line officials and customs inspectors came alongside the plane at quarantine in a fast motorboat it was disclosed that Pierre de Maglaive, an official of the line, had made the flight from the liner as a passenger.

An immigration inspector learned that in the flurry of the take-off, Commander DeMougeot had neglected to provide himself with a certified list, which is essential in the proper arrival of a foreign vessel.

For a time it was indicated that the three fliers would have to remain aboard the plane until the arrival of the Ile de France today, but the commander was permitted to go ashore, leaving his radio man and mechanic with the plane.

The pilot said the flight to quarantine was "uneventful" and expressed belief that his flight had demonstrated the practicability of regular ship-to-shore service for mail and passengers.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

From Mr. Fred B. Harrison comes word that the American Legion is working hard to get a special cachet applied to mail from Waukegan, Ill., for the convention dates, Sept. 10th and 11th, and that the postmaster of Waukegan has asked the CAM contractors of route No. 9 to make a special stop on the above dates. I suggest putting covers in the postmaster's hands in case the flight occurs.

I am advised that the new 5c Air Mail stamp was not put on sale in the Canal Zone on August 1st.

From Mr. George H. Jaeger of Riga, Lettland, comes three Air Mail covers carried from Riga to Berlin, Moscow and Leningrad. The covers carry the blue air mail label of Latvia and the semi-official cachet of the German-Russian Air Corp. in red. The Moscow cover has a special cachet, in Russian, which reads, "Arrived per Air Mail." Mr. Jaeger states that these are First Trips, the Riga-Berlin and Riga-Moscow flights having taken place on May 10th and the Riga-Leningrad flight on June 7th.

The question of straight edges on the new 5c Air Mail stamps placed on covers for First Flights seems to be bobbing up. I'll take 'em with one, two, three or four straight edges. BUT—the cancellation or cachet is what counts! Don't ever turn down a properly cancelled cover just because the stamp has a straight edge, for you may lose out on the deal!

The special anniversary cards used at Des Moines, Ia., on August 10th are quite unique. Des Moines made the attempt to send 32,000 pieces of mail on the above date, but my correspondent, Mr. F. A. Brown, failed to state whether or not the record was attained.

Keep these figures in mind. In May, the poundage of Air Mail carried was 199,284 lbs., June, 209,760, and July, 214,654. The P. O. D. reports their figures as showing a preliminary increase for August of between 25% and 30%.

Mr. J. P. Penning sends through information to the effect that Youngstown, O., will soon be replaced on CAM No. 11, probably Sept. 1st., and not later than Oct. 1st. Youngstown was cut off because of a poor landing field some time ago and her return to the route will be celebrated with a special cachet. Covers can be sent to the contractor, Mr. Clifford Ball, % Bettis Field, McKeesport, Pa., who will see that the cachet is applied. Mr. Penning also writes that the McKeesport Aeronautic Association (N. A. A.) may use a special cachet on Air Mail leaving McKeesport on the date that the National Air Races makes Bettis Field a control stop.

Night flying on CAM No. 11 will probably commence about the first of the year and I am informed that a special cachet may be used.

Ordinary Canadian postage stamps to the value of 5c, will carry an Air Mail letter to its destination in the U. S.

Notwithstanding the hot weather and vacations, my coöperators continue to bat 'em out strong. This week we have Messrs. M. J. Friedman, C. A. Forster, Ben Delovage, W. S. Dochterman, Donald E. Dickson, H. W. Bodley, Gay E. Milius, Jr., Fred B. Harrison, Harry Leonard, James Farish, J. P. Penning, F. A. Brown, and G. H. Crouch. Although I have been trying to do a little vacating myself, this spirit of interest in Air Mail doings keeps me on the job—and the best part of it is—I Like It! So don't hold back on my account. Keep the information coming and I promise to do my share in getting it through for the benefit of others. Let's Keep Going!

While on the subject of coöperators, how about some of our foreign readers coming through with news? You will note that two residents of over-seas countries have sent in details this week, Messrs. Jaeger and Leonard, but there is a growing interest in First Trips of other countries and readers abroad can be of material assistance in sending promptly the news of such flights. We will all be grateful for such information.

The ship-to-shore attempt from the S. S. Ile de France was made on August 13, while the vessel was 450 miles at sea, and proved highly satisfactory from all angles. The mail was advanced 18 hours and letters addressed to Boston were delivered at 7:00 A. M., August 14, while the big liner was being docked in New York! On covers before me—sent by registered mail—appear a record of the flight, through the cancellations. I note a special six line cachet has been applied to a very few of my covers—in French, to the effect that this is the First Hydroplane flight from the Ile de France and giving the pilot's name.

U. S. Watermarks

The postage stamps of the United States were issued on watermarked paper from 1895 to 1915. The first design was large doubled lined letters—one letter to a stamp. The second and last design was the same U S P S, but in single line letters—one letter to a stamp. These latter are the ones that are likely to cause the collector no end of trouble as they are not readily disclosed even with benzine treatment.—A. C. LeDuc.

Junior Dictionary

Mayotte.—One of the Comoro Islands which became a French possession in 1843. Postage stamps were first issued in 1892.

Mazatlan.—An important town in the state of Sinaloa, Mexico, at which a number of the 10c, 15c and 20c stamps are said to have been specially overprinted in 1916.

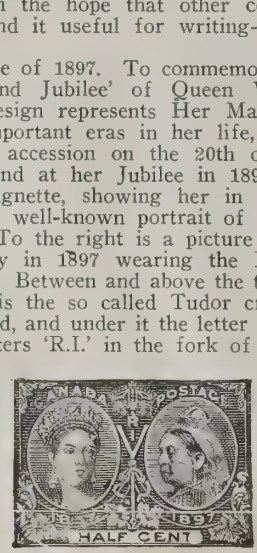
M. B.—An overprint found upon certain South Australian stamps used between 1868 and 1874 upon the correspondence of the Marine Board. These special stamps were superseded in 1874 by the set (overprinted "O. S") for general use in all the government departments.

McCormick, J.—The postmaster of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, in 1861, who is known to philatelic fame from the fact that he caused 2c, 5c and 10c stamps to be issued for the prepayment of postal charges. These stamps were superseded, after a short life, by the general series for the Confederate States. Like many of his contemporaries, who were, about the same period, also moved to issue their own local stamps, he thoughtfully had his name printed on all the Baton Rouge labels.

Canada: Jubilee Issue

One of our readers writes to say that he has been collecting sets for several years, and mentions that of all the many sets he has, the one he considers the best as regards appearance is the Jubilee issue of Canada. He sends a copy of the writing-up which faces this set in his collection, and, although I seem to have met with it before, I reproduce it herewith in the hope that other collectors may find it useful for writing-up purposes.

"Issue of 1897. To commemorate the 'Diamond Jubilee' of Queen Victoria. The design represents Her Majesty at two important eras in her life, namely at her accession on the 20th of June, 1837, and at her Jubilee in 1897. The first vignette, showing her in 1837, is from a well-known portrait of that period. To the right is a picture of Her Majesty in 1897 wearing the Empress crown. Between and above the two vignettes is the so called Tudor crown of England, and under it the letter 'V' with the letters 'R.I.' in the fork of the 'V.'



The three letters meaning Victoria Regina (Queen), Imperatrix (Empress). Above the portraits in semi-circles are the words 'CANADA' and 'POSTAGE,' below the portraits the dates '1837-1897,' in the lower corners and between the dates are ornamentations of maple leaves, at the base the denomination in coloured letters on a white tablet. The portrait of 1837 is from a painting by Alfred Edward Chalon, R.A., which was ordered by the Queen for her mother, the Duchess of Kent, as a souvenir of Her Majesty's first visit to the House of Lords. The occasion was the prorogation of Parliament, on July 17, 1837. The portrait dated '1897' is from a painting made by Professor Von Angelo of Vienna in 1886. It represents Her Majesty as she appeared on the assumption of the title 'Empress of India'."

This set is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain complete and in perfect condition and, like most Canadian stamps of the period, it is well worth holding as an investment. When the Jubilee set appeared various critics in the world of stamps denounced it and made much of the seemingly unnecessary dollar values, and speculators lost no time in piling up stocks, but, in the thirty odd years that have gone since it was issued, the effects of this caustic commentary have been killed and, except for some values of low facial denomination, very few worthwhile stocks of this issue are held individually.—West-End Philatelist.

Greedy Collectors Have the Poorest Collections

It is a fact that greedy collectors have the worst collections, because they put in the rubbish we have described, not because they like it or find it interesting—nobody could find pleasure in contemplating an off-centre stamp with a disfiguring postmark or a chunk out of the side—but because they think it may be worth money. They defeat their own ends, because the general poor appearance of such a collection will positively reduce its value if they want to sell. Nobody goes in for photography, or fretwork, or any other hobby, and expect to get their money back if and when they stop. Why on earth should stamps be different?—Junior Stamp Magazine.

Stamps Twenty Years Ago

By Eugene Claghorn (Age 16).

The most interesting, the most fascinating, the most enjoyable, and the most educational hobby is stamp collecting. Besides all these things it is profitable. The other day while going through a library I came across an old Scott's stamp catalogue. It was not so old at that, as it was dated 1908, but it interested me very much so I decided to take the book out, which I did. That evening while looking it over I made a few interesting discoveries. I discovered that the 5 cent red-brown "Franklin," 1847, catalogued then 85 cents cancelled. As you undoubtedly know it is now worth $8. It had advanced nearly a thousand per cent in twenty years or fifty per cent in one year! Who anywheres can get fifty per cent on money invested? The 10 cent black "Washington" then catalogued $5. It is now $35! The New York stamp also made a surprising increase. It was then worth $7.50, and now it is worth $60! Many other stamps greatly increased in value. The official stamps, though they seem to have made little progress, have gained in value rapidly since 1908, especially the "Executive Stamps."

The old foreign stamps have risen in value more so than even some of the United States stamps. Those of Baden, Bahamas, Bavaria, British Guiana, Canada, Cape of Good Hope, Ceylon, etc., have gained considerably in value. For example, 1kr black of Baden then catalogued $1.25, it is now $15. The 30kr orange was then $4, now $30. British Guiana also made surprising increases. The 12 cent blue of the first set was then $75, it is now $350. Many others that were high then are unrealistic now. The cheaper ones, the 4 cent blue of the third issue was then $5, it is now $35. The stamps of the Hawaiian Islands and those of the old German provinces have also increased greatly. The 1g gray-blue of Hanover was then 60 cents, whereas today it is $8. All the remaining sets of Hanover have increased the same amount or so. These are only a few quotations of the stamps that have made these great increases.

Stamps, as I have shown to you here, are profitable. There has been few stamps that have not doubled their value since 1908. That is 5% or so. In many cases they have increased more so than this. Besides this it is a good clean hobby, and I should suggest that every stamp collector get his friends started on it and encourage his children to save them.

A Place For Everything

Whether you buy a Ford or a Cadillac you would not expect it to keep looking good if it was not washed frequently nor was not put into a garage when not in use. Proper treatment of anything, whether it be an auto, a new suit of clothes, or a stamp album, is essential to get good service.

Put your stamps into their proper places in the album as soon as received. Don't drop them in between the pages and leave them for that day "when I have more time." If a stamp is worth buying it is worth keeping nicely. By dropping many stamps between the pages of an album, this causes an excessive bulge near the binding which will sooner or later cause the binding to break and ruin the album. Stamps thrown into an album often get stuck together or folded or torn.

The stamp album should have a definite place to be kept, a place that is handy to get at but always dry and out-of-the-way of little children. It seems ridiculous to call on a collector and have such conversation as this take place.

Collector: "Good evening, sir. I'm hoping someone would drop in this evening who could give me a little help with some stamps."

Visitor: "All right. I'll do the best I can."

Collector: "Have a chair. I will show my collection. (Pause) That's strange, I thought I left that book on the table last evening. Now where can it be? I bet the wife cleared everything off the top of the piano today."

Visitor: "What's that under the corner of the davenport?"

Collector: "Ah, there it is! I knew the boy was showing my album to one of his friends."

Visitor:——(Being a real gentleman he does not say what he thinks.)—Le Duc.

Don't Get a Wrong Idea

Collecting stamps can be made as expensive, or as costly, as you please, the man who spends least may have a more interesting collection than the man who has spent ten times as much. From it should be obvious that it will not be so valuable. Nobody can collect stamps satisfactorily while spending nothing at all, because he will then depend on gifts and while gifts are occasionally very welcome when they celebrate special occasions, the kind of stamps which are given to you year round for nothing are seldom worth much more than they cost.—Stamp Magazine.

How To Hinge Stamps

By Lewis A. McArthur.

The waste of good stamps due to improper mounting is very great. The writer almost never receives a selection either on approval or from a want list that does not contain at least one stamp that has been damaged by improper mounting or has so many remaining hinges attached that it is of questionable value.

Most of the damage due to improper mounting may be traced to the failure to directions that have been for many years considered standard by philatelists. The writer has been engaged in removing about 20,000 varieties and has found a technique that is much faster and much better than the old method. He has the satisfaction of knowing that there is hardly a stamp in his collection that cannot be removed from its hinge as suspected without the slightest damage. Several collectors have tried the new method and after the first hundred mountings, find that they too can work faster and with excellent results.

The old directions all order the use of third of the hinge, after folding, to be moistened with the tongue and then to be applied to the stamp, after which the tongue is applied to the other part of the hinge and the combination placed in the album. The new method calls for the opening of the album side of the hinge first. The hinge should then be moistened in the album. It is much better, in fact almost necessary, to carry on the application with tweezers. After the hinge has been placed in the album, the moistened finger of the right hand may be moistened on the tongue or on a sponge and the tip applied to the upper part of the hinge. Only a small part of the hinge, the part of the hinge need be moistened. With the tweezers, lay the stamp face down on the moistened hinge, center in the space and press down.

The advantages are manifest. In the first place the average hinge moistened on the tongue and applied to the album is generally too wet, and its entire surface adheres to the stamp. It can generally never be peeled off, for there is no hinge to get a start. This is particularly used stamps. Secondly, when the f the hinge is being moistened, too moisture is apt to be applied to the . The stamp itself is generally ned, and if it be unused, it fre- y sticks to the album. It is very t to get proper centering for the ied stamp and hinge. By the new i the back of the hinge may be tely moistened and attached firmly album. In a few seconds the hinge and there is no danger of the sticking to the album at the edges hinge, a common trouble. When nt of the hinge is moistened with le finger, a much better job can e than with the tongue. The col- can see what he is doing and there surplus moisture. NORWAY 1854-1924

But still the kronen stamps failed to please and further alterations were made, a new die being engraved by Mr. Rui of the Mint. This time the background was formed of solid color instead of being lined, which makes the whole design stand out more boldly; the King's portrait was altered somewhat and his coat formed of lines instead of solid color; then the scroll work was ornamented with lines instead of the white dots and dashes; and the letters and figures were made slightly larger. The 1 and 1½kr were issued in this third type about April, 1911, the 1kr being first printed to the number of a quarter million by Messrs. Kriste and Sieberth of Kristiania, and later supplies as well as those of the 1½kr by Knudsen as usual. Paper, watermark and perforation were as before. When the stock of the 2kr in the second type was finally used up, this value was at last issued in the third type in November, 1915, four years and a half after its companions. By 1918 the increase in postal business as well as increase in rates had shown the need of a stamp of higher value than 2kr, so a 5kr value was prepared and issued early in 1919. It conforms in all respects to the other krone values.

We must now retrace our steps some ten years and revert to the öre values once more. It seems that when the plates were prepared for the new 15ö stamp in 1908 it was found that the original die had become corroded and a somewhat unsatisfactory plate was the result. The die was given Mr. Rui, the engraver at the Mint, who tried to fix it up but finally suggested the preparation of a new one, which was agreed to, and proofs from this were taken in June, 1909. Minor changes were made in the lettering and the winged wheels in the spandrels, but the best distinguishing feature of the "re-engraved" die is the removal of the spot of color on the posthorn immediately beneath the crown, thus making a complete unshaded circle of white on the posthorn. On the 3 and 30ö values, also, the small figure "3" on the oval band has a rounded top instead of the previous flat top. The new type began to appear with the 2ö value in November, 1909, all the other values except the 35ö, which had been dropped, and the 25ö, which was not issued until September, 1911, appearing in 1910. The electrotypes for each value were especially prepared by the Printing Office of the Norwegian State Bank and are unusually clear in detail. The paper, watermark and perforation are as usual, the printing being done by Knudsen.

As the year 1914 was the centennial of its liberation from Denmark and of its becoming an independent kingdom, save for the union through the Crown with Sweden, Norway thought it fitting to commemorate the establishment of its own constitution by a small set of "jubilee stamps." These were engraved on steel and recess printed from copper plates by the Printing Works of the Norwegian State Bank. The design is the same for the series, being a reproduction of a painting by Oscar Wergeland showing the National Diet, assembled at Eidsvold, listening to Deputy Chr. Magnus Falsen reading the proposed Constitutional Law as presented by the committee which drew it up. The stamps were issued May 10, 1914, to be sold during the remainder of the year unless sooner exhausted. The numbers printed were: 5ö 10,275,000; 10ö 10,750,000; 20ö 1,662,000. They are printed in sheets of fifty, ten rows of five, on white wove paper watermarked posthorns and perforated 13½ all around.

Parcel post rates were raised on July 1, 1917, from 30 to 40ö for the first kilogram and a 40ö stamp in the re-engraved design was issued on June 27 in anticipation. On July 1, 1918, the letter rate between Norway, Sweden and Denmark was raised from 10 to 12ö, and a stamp of 12ö was issued in June for this new rate. On December 5, 1919, the 35ö stamp was added to the series, though in a different color from its predecessor. About September, 1920, the 15ö stamp was changed to a blue-violet.

On January 1, 1922, the printed matter rate of 5ö was raised to 10ö, the domestic letter rate was made 25ö, and the Postal Union letter rate raised from 20 to 40ö. This necessitated changes in color, and the 20 and 40ö exchanged, the 40ö thus getting the required Postal Union blue. The 25ö became carmine instead of red-lilac and the 10ö green, as required by Postal Union rules. The 5ö therefore dropped its green for the red-lilac of the old 25ö, while the remainders of the latter were surcharged 5ö to prevent confusion with the new carmine stamp. The 20ö olive-green was sent out in small quantity to some coast towns by mistake before the date of its intended issue (January 1, 1922) and has been found postmarked as early as September 21, 1921.

The long-talked-of new design for the stamps finally materialized in October, 1922, when the 20ö made its appearance in a very simple yet effective type, showing the "Lion of St. Olaf" on a ground of solid color with the inscriptions all at the bottom and right corner of the design. Two other values, the 10 and 25ö, followed on January 1, 1924, and a 45ö in dark blue in October, 1924, the Postal Union rate having been again raised from 40 to 45ö.

Postage Due Stamps

The cumbrous method of "booking" insufficiently prepaid mail matter was done away with in 1889, and the more convenient method of collecting by means of postage due stamps went into effect on July 1st of that year. The original die was engraved by Mr. Trondsen of the Mint, and like the postage die was pierced for a movable plug which bore the figure of value. The first three values were the 1, 10 and 50ö, the first two being ready in time, but the 50ö was not delivered until July 18th. They were printed at the Central Printing Works and conform in all respects to the regular postage stamps. The circular prescribing their use requires the amount of deficiency to be written in blue pencil in the upper left corner of the missive; the due stamps of corresponding amount to be placed on the back of the missive, when received at destination, and cancelled by postmark; the amount then is to be collected from the receiver. The sale of the stamps was at first forbidden but was very soon permitted.

A further value of 20ö was issued about October 1, 1890, and of 4ö about the middle of September, 1893. The 20ö was supplied to the number of 1,009,000 during the period when the machine perforating 13½x12½ was in use, and this value is the only one occurring with that perforation. A 15ö value was added on June 6, 1914. The 10ö occurs printed in aniline red.

From July 1, 1895, the stamps were printed by Knudsen, as were the regular stamps.

In December, 1919, the original die for the postage due stamps was sent to the Mint to be altered, so that the word at the bottom should read PORTOMERKE, instead of with the diphthong "AE." The legend "at betale" was also altered to "à betale" and placed across the middle of the white tablet. The re-engraved design began to appear in 1922 and now includes the 4, 10, 20, 40, 100 and 200ö, the 1 and 50ö not having been issued thus far.—New England Stamp Monthly.

ADDRESS CHANGED

I have recently moved to Chestnut Hill, a suburb of Philadelphia, beyond Germantown, and it is no longer convenient to get mail from the Germantown Post Office. Under the circumstances, I have arranged to receive my mail in the city at the address given below. Clients are requested to kindly address their mail accordingly. Will dealers sending auction catalogues, etc., also note change.

REGISTERED SEAL

In moving, I located 20 covers mailed fifty years or more ago, showing the large green registered seal, nicely town postmarked, Scott's #1751. The old timers will remember these on the entire cover, but they are seldom if ever seen today. While they last they are available at $1 each.

First Day, ½c Postage Due

Something else that I ran across was a few of the ½c postage due, tied to the cover along with a 1c green Franklin and cancelled day of issue. These are exceedingly scarce—only one small lot sent out. Almost as rare as the first day $5 postage. Price $1 each.

If you are looking for fine United States, mint or used, I have them. Have recently acquired a few side line accumulations including first day covers, air mail covers and 1½c surcharged envelopes. What do you need?

1870, National Prints

There has recently been found, and I have acquired, a complete set of the National prints of 1870, from 1c to 90c inclusive, in unhinged mint blocks of six. These had been purchased at the time of issue and put away all these years, only recently having come to light. The blocks were found in an official envelope reading, "Post Office Department, Office of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Official Business," in three lines. Inside the envelope, with the blocks, there was a card 3¼" x 6", printed in black with red border, reading as follows:

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
Description of
Adhesive Postage Stamps. Engraved on Steel. New Series
Issued April, 1870

One Cent—Franklin; profile bust, after Rubricht. Color: Imperial Ultramarine Blue.

Two Cents—Jackson; profile bust, after Powers. Color: Velvet-Brown.

Three Cents—Washington; profile bust, after Houdon. Color: Milori-Green.

Six Cents—Lincoln; profile bust, after Volk. Color: Cochineal Red.

Seven Cents—Stanton; profile bust, from photograph. Color: English Vermilion.

Ten Cents—Jefferson; profile bust, after Powers' Statue. Color: Chocolate.

Twelve Cents—Clay; profile bust, after Hart. Color: Neutral Tint (Purple).

Fifteen Cents—Webster; profile bust, after Clevenger. Color: Orange.

Twenty-four Cents—Scott; profile bust, after Coffee. Color: Pure Purple.

Thirty Cents—Hamilton; profile bust, after Cerrachi. Color: Black.

Ninety Cents—Commodore O. H. Perry; profile bust, after Wolcutt's Statue. Color: Carmine.

All of the stamps are in bright fresh unhinged condition, and have the dark gum peculiar to the National printing. The 24c is in the lighter shade which is sometimes classified as the Continental, but one familiar with the gum would never call it anything other than the National. The surprise piece, however, is the 30c black. Heretofore, most specialists have classified as National only the full black in the very deep color. This block, while dark black, is not in the very deep black, but has the dark gum which is only known on the National stamp, hence, there is not the slightest doubt but that it is the National printing. The 90c is, of course, in the lake shade, peculiar to the National issue, and is a magnificently centered piece. In this fresh condition, it is one of the most attractive engravings of the middle issues. While finds of old covers are quite frequently made, it is seldom that a new lot of mint blocks come upon the market.

Hawaiian Stamps Issued

The rotary print, 2c red Washington, and 5c blue Roosevelt, perforated 11 x 10½, and overprinted in small capital letters, in black in two lines, "Hawaii 1778-1928," were placed on sale in Washington, in accordance with previous announcement in this column, on August 13th. The stamps commemorating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of the islands by Captain James Cook, were also placed on sale at Honolulu at the same time, and will be available in the other post offices throughout the islands on the following day.

The type of overprint used is similar to the type used on the new pre-cancelled varieties, and was produced on the rotary press in the same manner. They will readily be taken for pre-cancelled stamps, and they will, no doubt, be found for many months to come among pre-cancelled mixtures, for the overprint in some cases is so poor that it looks nothing more than cancellation.

It is so far noted that they are from two plates, namely, 2c from No. 19054 and 19055, and the 5c from No. 18907 and 18908.

It was just one hundred and fifty years ago, that Captain Jim Cook, British sea-dog, who had sailed the Pacific from the Antarctic, and the South Sea Islands to Alaska, anchored his good ship "Resolution" in Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii. There was great joy among the natives, for the Great White God and his crew of Demi-Gods had come at last. We are told that the high-priests chewed the meat of cocoanuts and removed the juice from their mouths and rubbed it on the face and arms of Captain Cook. He was fed with the flesh of sacrificed animals, and washed down by the remains of the juice. No doubt, the Hula-Hula dancers were all on hand. Each day there were new ceremonies until several weeks later when the Captain sailed away. One of his crew died, which the Hawaiians thought to be rather peculiar. When the ship anchored a few weeks later, they were already convinced that he was no God, and trouble brewed. Early one morning, Captain Cook and his men tried to capture the King as hostage for a stolen cutter. The natives attacked, Captain Cook was stabbed and years later the breast bone of the old British sea-dog was found among the relics of one of the Hawaiian clans.

It is the coming of Captain Cook and not the going, which is being celebrated in Hawaii and for which the special issue of stamps have appeared. Hawaii must be one of the few Islands in the world that Great Britain has laid hands upon that got away.

Current Shades

The 1c green rotary, perforated 11 x 10½, is noticed coming upon the mails in a very pale washed-out light yellow-green shade, differing greatly from those first issued.

Mr. Frank E. Robbins, also calls attention to the fact that he has located the 10c Special Delivery in the red-violet shade, recently described.

Canal Zone

The Canal Zone Philatelic Agency is receiving numerous requests for the new Air Mail stamp overprinted "Canal Zone," but as explained in this column a few weeks back, Washington has decided not to issue the stamps at the present time, although there is a possibility of their appearance after January first next, when the Canal Zone is supposed to be placed on one of the new air mail routes. Collectors are requested not to send remittances to the Zone for these stamps, at the present time.

Spain.—25c blue of the current issue has been brought into use. This stamp was printed, says The Times, in 1923, but owing to a sudden change of rate in foreign postage, a carmine one was substituted. Only a few sheets have got into circulation, these probably unofficially.—Philatelic Magazine.

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Apart from new printings of existing stamps (among which we note further supplies of the Cyprus Jubilee 4 and 6pi) there is not much of interest to cull from the latest issue of the Crown Agents' Bulletin.

We note the following:—

Gold Coast. The new issue has been sent out to the Colony, with the exception of the 2½d, 6d, 1s, 2s and 5s values which are still in preparation.

Kenya. Postage Dues in the Federated Malay type, and of the values of 5, 10, 20, and 40c, are on their way to the Colony.

Malta. The current issue is being overprinted "Postage and Revenue."

St. Vincent. The £1 is on order on Script paper.

AUSTRALIA.—Mr. D. Hogarth kindly sends us a cutting announcing that the centenary of Western Australia, which will be celebrated at the end of next year, will be commemorated by the issue of a special postage stamp, on which the popular Black Swan is expected to appear.

FIJI.—Mr. R. Roberts reports receipt of a new printing of the £1, from Plate 13, and in a very brilliant shade of colour. The first printing of the £1, Die II, was from Plate 10, in its very worn state, the frame lines being very thin, whereas in the present issue the lines are thick and bold.

GIBRALTAR.—Messrs. Ewen's Colonial Stamp Market Ltd. draw our attention to new shades of the current 2s6d, and £5. In the former the green is now yellower than in the first printing, while the rather violet shade of the first £5 has now become more purple.

GRENADA.—We are indebted to the Rev. W. G. Iremonger for the sight of some new shades of the current series, from the latest printings.

1d. A deeper brown than any of the three previous printings.
1½d. Carmine instead of pale carmine.
2d. Pale grey instead of slate-grey.
2½d. Blue instead of the ultramarine shade of the second re-issue. The new colour is practically that of the original re-issue in blue.
5d. Deeper purple, and less yellow in the green. Double jubilee-lines instead of single.
2/-. Greyish purple and bright blue, not unlike the colour of the first printing, but without the oily appearance of the impression.

NYASALAND.—Mr. C. D. Twynam explains the absence of philatelic news from this colony by the fact that in outside stations the resident acts as postmaster, a native clerk doing the routine work. As the latter is usually only trusted with stamps up to 2d in face value, it is often difficult to get hold of higher values, except at Blantyre or Zomba.

Our correspondent adds that the supply of 1s stamps on the old CA paper seems practically inexhaustible. As there is no rate requiring a 2s6d stamp, ht regards this as likely to be the best of the set in used condition, apart from the very high values.

SEYCHELLES.—Mr. J. Harms and Mr. J. T. Bradley draw our attention to a variety occurring in the 2.25r Script, printed from Plate 11. The first stamp in the last row but one of the pane shows the letter "H" of "SEYCHELLES" with the right vertical stroke elongated, so that it almost touches the crown. The variety is constant in this value, but has not been noted in other values.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—It is officially stated that the 4d Triangular has never been perforated by authority. At the time when the 4d S.W.A. was perforated, reports were current that the Union stamp had been seen perforated, but such specimens were apparently produced with intent to deceive collectors.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

BOLIVIA.—Mr. A. H. Davis informs us that tenders have been called for the printing of the following supplies of stamps, including a new value, the 1c. The other values were those of which large stocks were stolen and which were issued with the "Octubre" control. (Later. We learn that new dies and plates are already being engraved by a well-known London firm, and that a new design will be used, at any rate for the three higher values here mentioned.)

1c, yellow, 300,000.
5c, dark green, 4,000,000.
10c, slate, 3,000,000.
15c, dark red, 4,000,000.

BRAZIL.—From Dr. Mario de Sanctis we have news of the following projected colour changes in the current postage stamps:—

100r, from orange to green.
300r, from sepia to red.
400r, from blue to orange.
500r, from brown to blue.

BULGARIA.—While a few of the overprinted Air Mail stamps are affixed by postal clerks to correspondence, it is impossible to buy the stamps at the post offices. In effect, it appears that the right of exclusive sale of the Air stamps is part of the payment received by the Air Mail Company, and this right has been transferred to a German philatelic firm, so that anyone in Bulgaria who wishes to possess the Air Mail stamps of his own country must buy them at a premium from abroad.

Under these circumstances we consider that the stamps are those of a private company, and do not propose to catalogue them.

DENMARK.—Iceland. Lieut. J. R. A. Seymour, R. N., tells us that the so-called Air Mail only runs occasionally. There is only one seaplane, which carries mails from Reykjavik to outlying towns, and this machine is frequently under repair.

FRANCE.—Professor F. P. Renaut tells us that postal rates for letters and postcards between France and Luxemburg have been raised, in accordance with the postal convention of August-September, 1926.

PARAGUAY.—Mr. A. H. Davis is informed that a special set of aviation stamps is being prepared for use in connection with the projected Air Mail service between Buenos Aires and Asuncion.

PERU.—A cutting sent us by Mr. A. H. Davis states that the Peruvian Government has authorised a German company to establish an Air Mail service along the coast in connection with the service between Europe and South America. be guided by reliable dealers, who are daily handling the varieties and are naturally posted as to demand and supply.

In the 1917 series, I regret to see that only the two high values increase. When these were priced, the Scott people were evidently under the impression that practically all of them were available at the Philatelic Agency, which is not the case.

The 1917 2c of the old design No. 519 moves to $10.00. It may be interesting to record that a further supply of 200 of these stamps, closely held heretofore, recently came upon the market.

Several of the surface prints and most of the rotaries from 1918 to 1920 have been increased. In the regular issue of 1922, the imperf. 5c and the imperf. and part-perf. 10c are now priced at $125 each, a figure which they have been bringing, net during the last year. The $2 used drops to 50c.

The two rotaries No. 578 and No. 579 are now priced at 60c and 35c each. These two could have been purchased just a year or so back at the Philatelic Agency for 1c and 2c each, showing what I had recently mentioned that dealers cannot put away everything. The 2c rotary perf. 11 moves to $3.00—still slightly low. Anything of the United States perforated 10 is desirable and these remarks apply in the case of the perforated 10 rotaries which will all prove good property. The 7c especially is likely to be desirable, as the stamp was only in use a short time.

One piece of news eagerly sought is the new price on the Norse-American. In the case of the 2c, they are priced at 12c and 6c, and the 5c at 30c and 25c. Personally, I feel that this stamp is overrated and one who pays $50 to $60 for sheets, is certainly not in line for any profit in the near future. I make these remarks having a good supply on hand.

This year the Departments in most cases take fair advances, which are well merited, for they are becoming more popular week by week. The collector who searches for superb mint or used copies has no easy work and the fact that many collectors are going in for cancellations and shades has taken much of the available supply from the market. The postal savings issues also increase. The Carriers stand still, without exception, for these like the postmasters are only collected by a limited few and the demand is not excessive.

One special delivery which I am glad to see increase is the 1894 issue, unwatermarked, which has always been scarce and is generally lacking in most collections and most dealers' stocks. I do not note a single increase in the Newspaper varieties, and only a few increases in the postage due, the 3c perf. 10 unused going to $1.50. It is odd that this stamp in unused condition is so evasive, and I warrant that I have it on twenty want lists and cannot pick up a single mint copy. I would gladly pay over catalog for a supply, as I still think it is underrated.

The catalogers still omit to price the perf. 11, 30c, and I regret to see this is the case, for I recently saw a block of four submitted to one of my clien $25.00, classed as a rarity because it not priced in the catalog. The sta fairly common and should be cata around 75c in unused condition around 10c or 15c cancelled. Mo the parcel post dues have increased

Among the envelopes, I see quite changes, but as I am but slightly ested in these issues, I have not the trouble to check them carefull do note that the 1½c on buff No. always a rare envelope, moved to $ The Shanghai have all been incre the $1 on 50c now being priced with the two local prints listed each.

The numerous increases in the nues reflect the increasing intere these issues during the last few It is becoming most difficult to pic fine items and this is especially so case of the imperforate issues. A the rare varieties imperforate, I see the $1.30 is now listed at $150.0 $1.60 at $35.00, the $1.90 at $175.0 $2 at $100.00, and the $2.50 at $150. am sorry to see the $3.50 stand stil this is equally deserving of an inc The $15 Mortgage imperf. is now at $50.00 and the $25 at $45.00.

The changes in the second issu few, and I especially note that the desirable $200 moves to $350.00, an $500, always a rare variety, to $7 Personally, I feel that some of t verts should have been increased.

In the third issue, the changes normal stamps are minor, with th ception of the $20, which goes to $ The $1 green and black inverted is at $800.00. I believe this variety almost as rare as the $2.50, which tainly should have been increased, have sold two copies at a higher than the catalog indicates, and I like to buy one or two more.

In the Proprietaries, the $5 on goes to $1,000.00, the price wh charged a year ago for the only that I have ever seen. These s really come on three colors of pape many confuse the medium shade the green. The real green is really and is not to be compared with so the so-called greens that are o from time to time. This is the that should not be purchased witho ing passed upon by a competent auth not that I mean that counterfeits for they do not, but 90% do not the green paper when they see it. 3c invert goes to $2,500.00, and w was ever lowered last year, I d know, for not a single extra cop been found, and as there are only four or probably five existing, the is not too high. In fact, there is a ket for several more on the basis current price.

The 1898 issues are left the throughout, and I must say this most uninteresting issue of revenues we have ever had. With very fe ceptions, they are all readily obta and most collectors buy them simp fill in the spaces.

From this point on, we find ch among the black Proprietary stamp higher values taking substantial adv The high value "Stock Transfer" rieties which have always been increase, while the "Future Deli again drop. I believe, however, these are about reaching the point the price will become stabilized. L cut and cut condition the $30 is priced at $20 and $5, the $50 at $6 a the $60 at $10 and $6, the $500 a and $15, and the $1,000 at $18 and Practically all of the more des regular issues of the Confederate are increased.

Comment on the Advance Sheets

A Friendly Criticism of Quotations Made in the 1929 "Standard Catalogue"

By J. M. Bartels.

While a great deal is constantly being written on various philatelic subjects it has been some years since philatelists have seen anything more than a brief note of a few improvements or a review of price changes in our Standard Catalogue. Can it be that any friendly criticism of it might be considered presumptuous on the part of any writer on account of the high degree of perfection this wonderful work has developed in its eighty-five editions?

Nevertheless we venture to call attention to a few short comings which if improved would add to the value of the work and be welcomed by the many thousands of its daily users.

The Advance Sheets have recently appeared covering all U. S. stamps and we will confine these notes for the present to the adhesive postal issues of our own country:—

Nos. 85a to 85c. There is no adequate description of this "Z Grill." No one could identify these numbers from the Scott Catalogue. Unless they are sufficiently different to stand a description they had better be omitted at least from the large catalogue.

Double Grills. Does it not seem that the inclusion of these should be left to the Specialized rather than burden the General Catalogue with them?

No. 133. 1880 1c, Special Printing. There were two quite distinct issues of this stamp, one a yellowish buff issued with gum and the other a brown shade issued ungummed. This calls for at least an "a" number.

Nos. 192-204. These and many other Special Printings and Reprints were issued ungummed. Notes designating all ungummed issues would be valuable information and not much trouble.

No. 216a. 1888, 5c on pinkish paper should certainly be dropped from the catalogue. The one copy from which this was listed is said to have been destroyed and others with a faint pinkish tint are not considered "it."

Nos. 248a, 250a, 252a. 1894—Part Perfs. were not regularly issued or sold at a postoffice. About one plate number strip of three of each which including also the 1c blue of same issue is all that ever got out. No. 260a it seems should be omitted as in this case only the bottom perforations below the tenth row in the sheet were omitted. It is therefore not really "Imperf. horizontally."

Nos. 253a, 254a, 255b, 258a, 2238a. 1894 Imperfs. were not regularly issued. An ungummed sheet of each was obtained in a manner never explained. These were gummed on the outside while the imperfs. of the 1895 issue were at least fully gummed and as worthy of separate listing as the above numbers. We recommend at least equal treatment in a foot note.

Nos. 279b and c. 1898 2c orange-red and rose-carmine. An error was made in including these in the 1898-99 issue and not as shades of No. 252. There was no intentional change on the part of the Bureau. Still other shades, a little less marked appeared in 1900 and later, but these seem to rank again as varieties of 252. We recommend this correction.

No. 400. 1912 10c Panama-Pacific. When the Department officially orders a change in color it would seem that the stamp is entitled to a full number in the catalogue. This stamp was printed at first in yellow which was found to be too indistinct and pale. The color was then ordered changed to orange.

No. 519. 1917 2c, doubled lined wmk., perf. 11. This stamp is steadily rising and now priced at $10. Collectors are still awaiting the release of something over forty full sheets which are being held apparently for a still greater increase in price. After placing these on the market what will happen?

No. 1545. Navy 2c green was never an "error" any more than the same stamp in black and should not be designated as such.

No. 1593. Agriculture 1c soft paper was issued only ungummed and this should be so noted.

U. S. 1908-1916 SPECIAL OFFER

We list below a fairly complete lot of these issues. The first price is for mint singles and the second for a mint block. These are all priced at or below our current list price. We would advise you to fill up your blanks on these now, as the new 1929 catalogue will show many advances in these stamps.

As a special offer and good only for the duration of this ad, we will allow a discount of 10% on all purchases of blocks made from this offer amounting to $10.00 or more. All the stamps are, of course, o. g. and in good condition. A full refund, of course, if you are not perfectly satisfied.

We expect to have our new U. S. list ready the beginning of September.

A Misstatement

Philip H. Ward, Jr., in MEKEEL'S on July 30, under the heading "Baltimore Postmaster" states "Mr. Bartels bought it at a figure said to be $250." This information is false and has a tendency to discredit our firm. Mr. Ward shows a lamentable lack of judgment and good will in publishing such information, which he admits to be hearsay.

H. A. ROBINETTE, Successor,

Nos. 1605, 1616. Interior 30 and 90c, printed by American Bank Note Co. We claim that said company never printed any 30 or 90c Interiors and should be dropped from the catalogue. This error has now been carried along about 20 years. We admit that these stamps are occasionally found on a slightly softer paper, but the shades are not like the printings of the American B. N. Co. and they are "Continentals."

No. 1630. War 6c. This stamp exists in the dull vermilion the same as the 2c No. 1628a, and both should be listed. The 6c in this shade is much rarer and extremely so unused.

Postage Dues. A year or two ago the first printing in yellow-brown was dropped with the exception of the 3c which is now listed as 2213a. The 1, 2, 5 and 10c came also in this shade while the 30 and 50c do not. This is certainly a rather arbitrary procedure. The 3c happens to be much more common in yellow-brown than the other values, but they surely do exist and are as entitled to a separate listing now as they have been for the past 35 years or more. We feel that Nos. 2201 to 2205 should be reinstated.

No. 2265. Postage Due 1c, Perf. 10, no wmk. It is claimed that only 50 sheets were printed and we are still looking for the collector who owns an unused copy, once listed at 5c, now $5.00.

No. 27a. The Tuscumbia Envelope. For a number of years this has been listed in the catalogue and a space provided in the album. We believe a single copy was found, one over which an 1857 3c had been pasted, proving that at least this specimen never had served as a postage stamp. Whether or not any copy was ever actually used has not been established and if it had, should it even then be included in the catalogue? There are a number of other handstamped envelopes of equal merit. Some years ago we had a Cumberland, Md., an oval with town name and "PAID 3," rather attractive. This went into the Ackerman Collection, but no request was ever made for listing it (See Philatelic Gazette).

Recently the writer discovered an interesting cover of Woodstock, Conn., quite similar in design to the Tuscumbia. This copy was acquired and featured in the August issue of the Am. Phil. by Dr. Chase with the closing note: "I believe it should be listed in Scott's catalogue as No. 27b." If we are going to continue listing these there will be many others clamoring for recognition and the catalogue will be burdened in a very undesirable manner. Probably this will also mean more album spaces which not a single collector will ever fill. Such listing is not in the interest of stamp collecting and for our part would like to see No. 27a dropped and similar handstamps, which appeared while general issues were in use, not admitted to the catalogue.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

San Diego, Calif., dedicated Lindbergh Field on Aug. 16th and a special cachet, —Lindbergh smiling, the ever-present horseshoe, etc.,—was applied to Air Mail.

August 18th was the dedication date for the Hornell, N. Y., Airport and Towanda, Pa., celebrated a two day opening of her new Field. Special cachets were applied to Air Mail from these two points.

It is regretted that some of the news I receive comes too late for publication. In the past two days I have received word that Colonial Western Airways, Inc., will apply a special cachet to Air Mail from Syracuse, N. Y., on August 22nd and 23rd, on which days there will be a great celebration in honor of the new Airfield. I also received word that Uniontown, Pa., formally dedicates Floyd Bennett Field on Aug. 23rd and Air Mail will receive a special cachet on that date.

Coöperators the past week were:— Wm. J. Prinzing, Henry C. De Witt, Fred B. Harrison, Frank W. Wright, G. H. Kieley*, Anna M. Schafer, Claude C. Beals, Conrad Mook, C. A. Forster, Postmaster Kellogg of Detroit and two of the contractors, Boeing Air Transport and Western Air Express. Hereafter, a star following a name indicates the receipt of a cover from the coöperator.*

Waukegan, Ill., will apply a special cachet to all Air Mail despatched on Sept. 10th during the American Legion State Convention. Mr. F. B. Harrison states that Postmaster Talcott is trying hard to have a special stop made on the above date, by the Chicago-Minneapolis mail plane. Whether or not Mr. Talcott succeeds in his attempt, the Waukegan Philatelic Club will see that something appropriate is applied to covers carried on this date. Covers can be sent to the Postmaster, who will turn them over to a representative of the Club in case the POD fails to give sanction to an official cachet, so get busy with yours!

That low, rumbling noise that you have been hearing lately is not thunder, Big Berthas or an elephant's digestive apparatus in operation, but the mutterings of Air Mail cover collectors who are trying to decide just how far they want to follow these new Airport dedications! The way the cachets are coming in lately, the mutterings will increase

DID YOU GET YOURS?

When the Hawaiian commemoratives were announced it was too late for most of you to get first day covers mailed to you from Honolulu, the only city where the stamps were sold except Washington.

Members of my First Day Cover Club, however, had already been provided for and covers addressed to them and sent to Honolulu for mailing.

First Day covers are of historical and philatelic interest. It only costs a few dollars a year to collect them. If they appeal to you, let me send you the dope on my First Day Cover service.

SEVENTY YEARS YOUNG

BIRTHDAY OF J. C. MORGENTHAU THE CELEBRATED NEW YORK DEALER

By HERMAN TOASPERN.

On Thursday evening, August 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Sloane, and the writer journeyed to the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morgenthau at Woodmere, L. I. The occasion was the 70th birthday of Mr. Morgenthau, the Dean of American Philately.

The occasion was a most brilliant one, with some sixty-five guests seated at the festive board. Many of the guests were names well known to New York's financial and social world, and every guest a friend in the sincerest meaning of the word.

Upon our arrival we were met upon the verandah by Mr. and Mrs. Morgenthau with the heartiest of greetings. In acknowledging receipt of a congratulatory telegram from the Hot Stove League, Mr. Morgenthau remarked in passing that the telegram was one of sixty he had received. During dinner I personally signed for eight more.

After the collation had been served, many of the guests turned to bridge, mah jong and other games, others viewed the numerous gifts that had been received in profusion and strolled about the spacious grounds. As I sat on the lawn alone, the thought came to me of how rich and full Mr. Morgenthau's life has been and is. The cold cynicisms of ordinary business life fell away, truth remained—truth that virtue, honesty, honor and love are what makes life worth the living.

Mr. Morgenthau's knowledge of stamps and stamp collecting is second to none in our field. But it is not to his knowledge alone that the stamp trade gives its loving homage. It is because he stands out as the one man who has done more for the stamp hobby than any other man in America, living or dead! He has moulded as has no other, the ethics and customs of our hobby and business.

The basis of business is mutual confidence. In dealing with ordinary merchandise, the purchaser buys with expert knowledge or for his own consumption as a personal want. But in collecting fields the tyro must buy on the seller's judgement, and the ways of fraud are many and devious. Mr. Morgenthau early realized that the only way to create and maintain value in these tiny pieces of paper we call postage stamps, was to maintain liquid values.

For values to be liquid, they must be readily convertible into cash. The auction was the solution—but the auction had to be honest!

Other fields more or less closely allied to stamps had auctions, but the evils of price fixing and wash sales was a matter of public knowledge. Bids opened at $5 and were closed at $2.10, and the buyers rarely got a break, and many the sale that was slaughtered! And the sales without warranty—caveat emptor!

Mr. Morgenthau determined to conduct the sales with meticulous care, to sell merchandise honestly, on its merits and to flay the rogues. For the seventeen years I have known Mr. Morgenthau I have never heard him pussyfoot on commercial or ethical honesty, nor to temporize, or to consider expediency.

With the auction as competitor the collector who desired to sell, could bargain with the dealer who was a potential buyer. There was no whip, "If you don't sell to me at my price, you have no market." The auction was and is open as a means of liquidation. Hence the confidence of dealers and collectors was firmly established, because the auctions were properly conducted.

As the new generation of stamp dealers grew up, those who followed the Morgenthau business methods flourished, others more or less fell by the wayside. With Mr. Walter S. Scott conducting all New York sales, honest relations were established.

Mr. Morgenthau was formerly a Professor of Logic, and his clear and direct thinking have always been a source of wonder to me. I have watched him at Committee meetings of the New York Exhibitions of 1913 and 1926. After ten men had talked ten different plans, Mr. Morgenthau would say, "So and so . . . ," and the solution was invariably correct. The biggest business men in America have listened and followed his judgement in stamp affairs without question, and profited by his keen judgement.

BROOKLYN STAMP CO.,
Box 149, Times Plaza Sta., Brooklyn, N. Y.

His brother, Mr. Henry Morgenthau, is perhaps one of the most outstanding men of the Wilson administration, particularly for his work as Ambassador to Turkey during the World War. One of the greatest tributes I have ever heard paid to a man was one evening, in Henri's restaurant. A group of stamp men were dining along with a friend of one, who was not a stamp collector. Mr. Morgenthau's name was mentioned, and the non-collector inquired, "Is he a brother to the famous Henry Morgenthau, ex-Ambassador to Turkey?" "Blazes," blurted out one of the group, "Henry Morgenthau is a brother of our Mr. Morgenthau!"

Pages could be filled with Mr. Morgenthau's deeds and work in stamp circles. That is common knowledge. But could you have been with us at that party, and have seen the love and affection and even adoration that distinguished men and women, young and old poured on him, your heart would have swelled with pride at the sheer joy of knowing him. I feel perhaps, that I wax over-enthusiastic in print, but ask any member of the Collectors Club, or anyone of importance in the stamp field, and hear them tune in with their praises.

Mr. Morgenthau's name stands for all that is best in the stamp world, and his ethics for any man to follow with profit. His name is anathema to the crook and the rogue. His advice is invariably followed in the proceedings of the Collectors Club and the American Stamp Dealers' Association. He never equivocates, calls a spade a spade, hews to the line and lets the chips fall where they may. Rich or poor, every one who comes in contact with him soon know where they stand in his estimation.

And just a word about Mrs. Morgenthau, following the words of some philosopher, who remarked on meeting a great man, "Now show me the woman who stands behind him, and makes these great things possible." About the best description I can give is that she is about an ideal symbol for either "Motherhood," or "Wifehood." Combining all the graces of a womanly woman with a keen, educated and cultured brain, she is an ideal mate for her husband.

As our little group stood around the punch bowl, having a farewell drink before leaving, George Sloane said, "I hope we are all here to drink to your good health, Mr. Morgenthau, on your 100th birthday." It was a remark that I am sure everyone who knows him will echo.

Mrs. Morgenthau often scolds George Sloane and the writer, saying, "You boys will spoil Mr. Morgenthau."

But she knows, as we know, that one can't spoil or tarnish pure gold.

New Approval Books

The following new books have just been remade and priced moderately for the summer season. Shall be glad to send on approval to collectors known to me, or to others on receipt of satisfactory references.

NEW ZEALAND
Pence Issues, 1st type only, 1855-1867. A nice lot of the early issues, imperf. and perforated.

DUTCH INDIES AND CHINA
A moderate lot of early issues only. In the Dutch Indies a few of the first issue, Imperf. and Perf., and in the 1870-74 some of the scarce perforations unused, such as the 11½ x 12, etc. etc. In China some nice single copies of the 1st type both unused and used.

FALKLAND ISLES
A little lot of early issues, including some nice strips of four with imprints, and a few early blocks.

NEW SOUTH WALES
1856-1886, a nice little lot of these issues, also a good lot of fine copies of Registered, both imperf. and perf.

SERVIA
Two new books. The early issues are a good lot. The narrow and wide settings and perforations are separated and the later perforations and papers properly classed.

UNITED STATES
"OFFICIAL" OR "DEPARTMENT" STAMPS
I have just made up six new books, three of unused and three of used, the latter containing many scarce cancellations.

MEXICO
I have again had to re-arrange the whole of my approval books of Mexico owing to the old set having sold out so freely that they were not in a condition to send out, and further, owing to the purchase of a rather nice collection of Mexico. I have combined all recent purchases and now have a really good series of twenty-six new books ready to send out. These include stamps up to about 1882 with a few later issues in scarce values and varieties, also a few extra fine Guadalajara.

CONFEDERATE STATES
PROVISIONAL ISSUES
Two new books of the early "Provisional Issues" are now ready. These include several Athens, Baton Rouge, Charleston, Knoxville, Nashville (10c green), over 35 New Orleans with several pairs and strip of four. Mobile 2c. black and 19 of the 5c. blue. Petersburg and Tellico Plains a pair of 5c. plus 10c.

SALVADOR
A good lot of early issues all from the "Ferrary" collection. In the 1874 issue, there are pairs with and without the overprint and a number with double overprint. In the 1879 issue a number of used Imperf. varieties and other interesting items.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA
Two books strong in early issues with fine copies, pairs, strips and many scarce varieties, such as stamps printed on both sides. Also a few scarce Officials and Department stamps.

TRINIDAD
I have just bought a small collection of Trinidad and made up two new books. A few early issues are included on covers and this collection comprises all issues up to 1908 and the Unpaid, etc.

ROUMANIA
Issues 1858-1891. A set of three books, being a fine specialized New York collection I have just purchased. The issues up to 1872 have always been favorites of mine. Almost all of them can be plated and they are full of interesting varieties that will repay research.

QUEENSLAND
I have just bought a collection from the estate of a well known Newark collector and have made up two nice new books. In the rare first issues there are two copies of the imperf. 1d., a pair of the rare 2d. blue, and two of the 6d. green, one is unusually fine. The later issues are well represented after by a number of copies of one catalogue number.

BAHAMAS
A very fine lot, especially of the early issues. In the first 1d. Imperf. there are two fine used copies and in the no watermark stamps, thirty-two fine copies including some rare unused. In the C. C. perf. 12½, the scarce 1/- green is represented by two fine unused and two used. The later issues up to the King Edward include some fine unused and used blocks. [65

A NEW INCORPORATION

By R. J. SCHWARZ.

A new air mail society was born at Chicago, August 10, 1928, the National Air Mail Society of Chicago. The infant gave a lusty squall and without further ado got down to business.

Mr. E. O. Howle, nationally known as a collector of U. S. Air Mail covers, was elected president; Mr. J. H. Ripstra, an ardent and well-known Chicago collector, was elected vice-president. As secretary, Mr. H. A. Opalla was chosen; and for treasurer, Mr. J. E. Mansfield. R. J. Schwarz was made chairman of the Publicity Committee. On the Board of Directors are C. L. Hall, J. Strauss, L. M. Jones, E. W. Carlson and E. H. Benson.

The purpose of this Society is the furtherance and betterment of air mail cover collecting. While the primary appeal is to be to U. S. Air Mail cover and stamp collectors, membership is open to all those interested in any branch of air mail collecting. The Society is being incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois as an organization not for profit, which means that all the proceeds from dues and other sources are to be used to the fullest extent for the benefit of the membership.

Dues have been decided upon at $3.00 per year, and everyone now coming into the organization as a member will have his dues fully paid up until December 31, 1929, almost a year and a half.

The Society's aim will be to keep members posted on air mail news sufficiently ahead of the flight so that they may avail themselves of the opportunity to prepare covers if they desire, or if members are having someone else supply covers they will know exactly what they should expect and when. Also, there are to be special features of interest and benefit to all members, and several of these features are being worked out for immediate development.

Those wishing further information should communicate with H. A. Opalla, Sec'y, Room 1627, 159 N. State Street, Chicago, Ill. Chicago collectors meet at this address every second and fourth Wednesday of the month.

EDITORIAL

AFTER a stay of over two weeks in Paris, the editor went to Ostend, Belgium, where philatelic indications were not lacking even though the season at this beautiful beach resort may be said to be compressed into two months, July and August. In consequence, some of the establishments at this popular place are of a temporary nature and the stamp shop or two is apt to be a branch of the firm in the larger city. At one of the stamp stores, the agreeable proprietor said that his stock while containing a number of interesting pieces did not compare with that he had at Antwerp, where his regular place of business was established. However, he showed pieces both straight and specialistic of Belgium, in particular that were worth attention. In explanation of his prices for fine things, he said that it was necessary for him to scour the market for them and pay increasing prices with the result that he had to charge accordingly. He told of the insatiable demand for scarce or unusual Belgians and said that there was no trouble in selling such goods, but he seemed to be somewhat concerned about the time when it would almost be impossible for him to restock them. Belgium and Belgian Congo were favorites and the albums for them seemed to be in demand. It is the same old story to the effect that the stamps of a country are best placed in it.

OUR Ostend friend spoke English very well and a keen sense of the desirability of condition was his. In fact, he was more extreme in his critical appraisal of a stamp than many of the advanced precisians in our country and he seemed to price his wares according to the exacting standard that he had raised. His idea of the future of stamps was such that he seemed to think it ironical for one to even ask the question. Evidently, he thought stamp wealth was more secure than any other kind as it was apparent that his faith in stamps as an investment was a part of him. Asked if he found big buyers dropping in, he said that when the Rotary convention was held in Ostend, an American came in and in a short time had lavished bills on him; and it is our belief that the American got value received. Other instances that he related evidently were not intended to be divulged.

IN Belgium one is safe in asking anybody if he or she collects stamps. In fact, for the American it seemed to be advisable at times for him to identify himself as a collector. The porter at the hotel, the waiter and the other persons who act in a somewhat public capacity are apt to be interested in stamps, and if they are not, a relative or a friend is. While it may not be the accepted thing to do, it might be arranged by the careful traveler to pay some of his tips in stamps. Belgium is a compact country and has been called the nursery of philately. It claims some of the first collectors and has produced not a few of the greatest philatelists of all times; and the name of Moens will live on the philatelic page forever. It may be said that with the Belgians, collecting is bred in the bone and needs no stimulus to force it.

FROM Ostend, the route was to Amsterdam by way of Brussels and Antwerp, and both of these important Belgian cities showed evidences of collecting to the roving eye, but the short time spent in them did not allow of any visits. Amsterdam was reached when it was in the midst of preparations for the Olympic games and while no philatelic excursions were made there, stamps were to be found on sale at various stores. What was more to the point was that stamp conversation was always of interest to the one with whom one came in casual contact even when that person was not a philatelist. The one addressed knew about collecting even if he did not follow it and it was not necessary to bridge a chasm by explaining the rationality of collecting, as is so often the case, elsewhere. The public was interested in current issues and special varieties and we are sure that the people of Holland knew for instance that special stamps had been prepared for the Olympiad. Here, we must admit, many of the people are unimpressed by a special issue, due to no mental obliquity, of course, but to the diffusion of population and perhaps a greater variety of interests for the people. Amsterdam is a most attractive city, and Holland a country that has its allurement. From Amsterdam, we took an auto to the Hook of Holland to sail for England. Arriving at the station at the Hook, an examination of the little stock of books on sale there revealed the works of our friend, H. Bedford-Jones of Ann Arbor, Michigan, prominently in place among the best sellers; and here we may as well add, that in England and elsewhere, his books were well to the front in the shops. We certainly felt that Mr. Bedford-Jones is most generous in giving some of his time to the preparation of stamp articles, as the columns of the WEEKLY and other stamp journals attest. At the Hook of Holland, a few words revealed the fact that one of the officers of the station there was a collector. We gave him a block of the Valley Forge and a few other stamps which he gratefully accepted. In a short time, he handed us a few common U. S., which showed his good-will; and we must not forget to send him a few stamps as we promised to do, when once we got home.

THE day following we got to London, just in time to encounter the most torrid spell that it had experienced for many years, and after a few days of activity, the heat told us that it was wise to restrain our activities. The British Museum was our shrine and the Tapling collection was a lode-stone and repeated visits to the institution were well rewarded. The famous Mauritius were shown as well as the Hawaiian Missionaries and other great rarities. Inquiry for a catalogue of the collection which was so ably prepared for display by Mr. Bacon was met by the statement that a new edition of it had not been published when the former one had become exhausted. Amidst all the wonderful treasures in the Museum, the Tapling collection receives it meed of attention, and it was noticed that interested onlookers were always inspecting the stamps.

THE immensity of London in all respects is somewhat disturbing, and our stamp range was restricted there. Not a few addresses at which we intended to call were not made use of, but a number of out-of-the-way shops that we happened to be near naturally were not remarkable on the score of stock. However, the courtesy of the small dealers, let us say, made visits to them a pleasant experience. The Strand is famous as a philatelic thoroughfare and names known throughout the world are found on signs there. A call on Mr. F. Hugh Vallancey, proprietor of Stamp Collecting, and a meeting with Mr. Fred J. Melville were the high-lights of our London visit and to them we were indebted for courtesies extended. A trip to Mr. Vallancey's bungalow on the Thames was refreshing, indeed, and we shall not forget the restful day spent under nature's smiling face. Notwithstanding that he was in the midst of preliminary work on the exhibition at Olympia, he insisted upon interrupting his task to give us a most enjo afternoon. We are pleased that brother publisher may relax under conditions and recoup his energies a distracting day at the office.

HELD AT TORONTO, AUGUST 22ND-25TH, 1928

Reported by "OSKOPAR."

The convention of the American Philatelic Society was held outside of the United States this year for the first time in its history; and the progressive city of Toronto, the seat of a flourishing local philatelic society, was chosen for the honor. The convention was timed in a way to coincide with the Canadian National Exhibition, the golden jubilee year of which was celebrated beginning with August 24th. Doubtlessly, the great national exhibition attracted some collectors who otherwise might not have attended the stamp convention; and it was certain that hotels were crowded and the city filled with visitors. In fact, the delegates to the stamp convention found it difficult not to be distracted from the philatelic theme, such was the lure of the popular attractions.

On Wednesday night, August 22nd, the registration of visitors began in the Yellow Room of the King Edward Hotel, and it was seen that the number of delegates present from the United States was promising and that the enrollment from Canada was large. Mr. L. A. Davenport, chairman of the Toronto committee, was cordial in his welcome, and the scene was an animated one. The evening was of the kind dear to the heart of the collector who hungers for companionship and an opportunity to compare notes and stamps. Mr. Henry A. Diamant of St. Louis proved to be at home with the reporters, and we doubt not that they were given much information, which if not brushed aside by the calloused city editors would make good stories. As for publicity, I suppose that there was no dearth of it in the enterprising dailies of Toronto, but I cannot vouch for the truth of the surmise as I was too busy to read the papers. As I may be said to run a newspaper, I wanted a vacation from press stuff, and now I am corralled to write of the convention for the WEEKLY. I write under pressure and do not intend to be held responsible for mistakes!

The opening of the convention, scheduled for 10 A. M., Thursday, August 23rd, was an interesting spectacle to one who has not been privileged to participate in a meeting of the kind heretofore. The officers of the American Philatelic Society, the welcoming Torontonians and the presence of Mayor McBride were an effective setting. The Mayor was an ardent advocate of the pre-eminence of his city. Once under way, the convention soon was listening to the reports of the officers and it is needless to say that some of the statements were plain-spoken. That candor was the keynote of certain of the reports was apparent, and the indications were that subsequent discussion would be full and free.

The afternoon was devoted to a sightseeing trip around the city through the courtesy of the civic authorities and those who saw the panorama that was unfolded in the course of the afternoon gained a decided respect for the city in its physical and community aspects. Some of us from over the border do not realize how fast Toronto and all Canada, for that matter, are marching onward and upward.

The attendance at the auction sale under the auspices of Mr. V. C. Rotnem was large and representative and much interest was shown in it. Due to a variety of causes, the sale was almost too long drawn-out as it was well into the next day when it was finished. The prices were good, as a rule, although a few pieces may have sold below a fair figure. On the contrary, other lots went high, leaving catalogue quotations behind, and the axiom that anything really exceptional sold well was exemplified. I had my eye on a block of four of the 1903, Edward, Canada, 50c, catalogued at $24 ($30 in the Advance Sheets. Ed.) that brought $31.

The next day, Friday, August 24th, was devoted to an important business session, and without attempting to follow the recommendations of officers in their reports and the committees' reports, I may say that there seemed to be a sincere desire to improve the workings of the society by increasing its usefulness and dismissing influences that held it back. It is the wish to elevate the plane on which it is run, and the legislation that was passed had that idea in view. Well in the afternoon, a sail in Toronto Bay was deemed by some to have been the most enjoyable of the entertainment; and in the evening the banquet was ordered for 7 P. M. Saturday was Canadian National Exhibition Day. President Wilhelm was to preside at the banquet, and one estimate was that over 200 persons would be present.

All hail, Toronto, a great city with a collecting clan that will remain a most pleasant memory.

HONORS TO PRES. WILHELM

By HERMAN W. BOERS.

On Saturday, August 18, a reception was tendered President A. H. Wilhelm of the A. P. S., and Mrs. Wilhelm by the stamp clubs of Detroit and vicinity. The guests were met by Dr. Hoskins and Harry Carter, and after a brief season at a local hotel they were taken to the rooms of the Michigan Stamp Club in G. A. R. Building.

After a short business session Mr. Carter introduced President Wilhelm who spoke on club matters, urging the recruiting of membership and the building of a greater interest in philately. He spoke upon the work of the A. P. S. and its splendid management.

Secretary H. A. Davis was also given a hearty welcome. Short talks were made by Mr. Griffin of the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club of Cleveland, Dr. Hoskins who had just returned from the Chicago convention of the Precancel Society, and Stedman Jackson of Buenos Ayres, Argentine. An auction sale concluded the meeting.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm and others took a boat ride to the mouth of Lake Erie on the Canadian side, and a very enjoyable day was spent.

The banquet Monday evening, August 20, was largely attended and a very interesting program was enjoyed by all. At the guest table were seated Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Stedman Jackson, John Kay, Alex. Livingston, Dr. Davis and son, and Dr. Hoskins. The latter acted as toastmaster and put the program through in fine form.

Four clubs participated in the reception and banquet, the Detroit Philatelic Society, Michigan Stamp Club, Wayne State Society, and the Border City Stamp Club of Windsor, Ont. Stamp talks were given by representatives of these four clubs, John Kay, Harry Carter, A. C. Butzen and W. Turner, each boosting his own respective club as the club to really belong to.

Pres. Wilhelm spoke of the activities of the A. P. S. and praised the Michigan Stamp Club for the publicity given philatelic matters. Addresses were also made by Dr. Davis, J. E. Guest, Stedman Jackson, Mrs. J. E. Guest and Dr. Hoskins. It was midnight before the party broke up, well satisfied with what had been seen and heard. Harry Carter had charge of the affair and is entitled to great praise for his efforts in making the banquet a success.

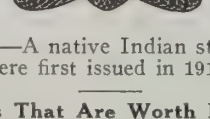
German South West Africa.—This is a large tract of territory bounded on the west by the Atlantic Ocean and on the south by the Cape of Good Hope. It has an area of 322,450 square miles and a population of about 185,000, of whom only some 5,000 are Europeans. German occupation dates from 1884. The first distinctive postage stamps for use here were not issued until 1897. During the World War the territory was captured by South African troops, surrendering on July 8, 1915. Since then the South African postage stamps have been used without surcharge.

Gerusalemme.—The Italian rendering of Jerusalem as shown on the stamps overprinted for use in that Consular office.

G. et D.—An overprint applied to many of the stamps of the French colony of Guadeloupe, being an abbreviation for "Guadeloupe et Dependances." Another form of this overprint is expressed as "G & D".

G. P. de M.—An overprint very extensively used in Mexico in 1916-17, being in many cases applied to stamps which had already been overprinted by the Constitutional authorities. It stands for "Gobierno Provisorio de Mexico" or Provisional Government of Mexico.



Orcha.—A native Indian state where stamps were first issued in 1914.

Stamps That Are Worth Nothing

A common fault with beginners is that they put too much rubbish into their collections. Things like cut-out postcard and envelope stamps, fiscals and other labels that are not postage stamps at all, are generally worth nothing. Equally valueless, and more offensive in appearance, are stamps which are dirty, heavily cancelled, or torn. They should go right down to the bottom of the waste-paper basket or into the fire. They want no tender mercy—get rid of them by prompt and ruthless destruction. Don't make your collection a slum. How many slum dwellers does your collection hold?—Junior Stamp Magazine.

Great Britain. It will be of interest to stampdom to learn that a country which has only issued one commemorative set since her postal existence started in 1840 has decided upon a second one. The Postmaster General of Great Britain has authorized a special issue in connection with the 9th Convention of the Universal Postal Union in London in 1929. The design has not yet been decided upon. Other sets in commemoration of similar conventions have been issued by Sweden and Spain.

Leeward Islands. A new set is in preparation for the Leeward Islands. The design will consist of twin seals showing the head of King George and the device of the public seal of the Presidency in which the stamps are issued. The denominations will be: ¼d, ½d, 1d, 1½d, 2d, 2½d, 3d, 6d, 1s, 2s, 5s, 10s, and £1. The above set is for Leeward Islands common. The presidential set consists of: ½d, 1d, 2d, 2½d, 3d, 6d, 1s, 2s6d, and 5s.

Dutch Indies. For the opening of the airmail service between four towns in the Indies, provisional airmail stamps are being prepared in Java, 10-12½c, 20-25c, and 30-35c. The permanent issue to supersede them is now being printed in Holland. Two special stamps will pay tribute to aviators who made the first flight, Amsterdam-Batavia. The 40 cents stamp for franking postcards will show Lieutenant Koppen, and the 75 cents stamp for letters (20 grammes or under) will portray pilot Van der Hoop.

Netherlands. Holland's charity stamps this year will be dedicated to Jean Pierre Minckelers. Minckelers was a naturalist, philosopher and physician, and is credited with the invention of gas lighting.

Approvals—Lost and Found

Do approvals ever get lost or is that only an excuse used by dishonest or thoughtless people? In considering the question, we must follow the mail from the time letters are posted by the sender until the approvals are in the hands of the sender again. It is claimed that the Post Office loses comparatively little mail. Therefore we can pass over that part of the approval hazards.

Now, in most cases, who accepts the mail from the postman? Usually it is the mother or wife. If a child is ever trusted with it, it is because the postman has found him thoroughly dependable. Maybe a child is more dependable than a good many adults. He feels important when he is trusted and is therefore very careful. But adults have so many things to think about. They are so weighed with numerous duties and cares, big and little, that they are not always as careful as they should be. Receiving the mail does seem like a small thing compared with other things—getting a good dinner or bathing the baby, for instance.

In considering what is done with the mail at this point we have to consider two pictures. First let's consider the home where the mail is put down anywhere. Mother may be telephoning when the postman rings. She says, "Oh, wait a minute please. My doorbell just rang." Returning to the telephone a few seconds later she remarks, "It was only the postman." Now what did she do with the mail? It may be in her apron pocket. Possibly she laid it on some table that she chanced to pass. Or it may get tucked behind the telephone. If mother is baking when the mail comes, there are still plenty of original places to tuck it and sometimes forget it until found again by her or some other member of the family.

The second picture is of the home where the same care is taken of the mail as is taken of the food. The postman rings. Whoever takes in the mail sorts it immediately and places each persons mail in a special place where that person will look for it upon returning home. The easiest way and probably as good as any, is to put each person's mail at his place at the table. There are disadvantages to this method however. If the members get home just as dinner is about to be served, there isn't time to take it away and attend to it then. It either gets tucked into pockets, etc., or the meal is turned into an orgy of letter reading. Another way is to put each person's mail on his own desk in his own room. If this is done, there must be one special place right in plain sight where the mail is always put. The disadvantage to this is that it makes more work for someone, probably mother, who has plenty to do anyway. Wouldn't it be fine if we could have a few pigeon holes put up somewhere near the door where the mail could be sorted up and left for the addressee?

You can easily see that the first way makes it very easy to lose mail, if not permanently, at least for a time. If this stage is safely passed, there is still a chance of loss in the next step. At this point the mail is in the hands of the addressee. What does he do with it? The same things may happen here as before. There are the careless and the careful receivers. The careless one puts it in a pocket and forgets it or puts it up behind or under a clock or some other handy article, hoping to think of it sometime when he can attend to it. But the careful receiver has some place where he puts unanswered mail as soon as he has finished examining its contents. He also attends to answering promptly. The sooner a letter is answered, the less chance there is of that letter joining the ranks of the "Lost and Found."—A. C. LEDUC.

CONTROL LETTERS

A control letter or number is placed on the lower margin of the sheet of certain British stamps (see list in Catalogue) in order to indicate that such sheets have been printed under a certain contract, or that they belong to a particular batch. The figure stands for the year and the letter for the order of rotation. There is not much philatelic interest in controls, except as they indicate the order of the printings, but many collectors take them, and some are quite rare.

A plate number, in modern colonial stamps, is placed on the marginal paper of sheets, usually in two or more positions, to indicate the plate from which the stamps were printed. In most cases the numbers are on a circular ground. Here again, the main importance on such items lies in the help they give in determining the order of the printings, though one plate may, of course, be used for several printings.

Serial numbers are usually printed in black on the marginal paper of the sheet. Where serial numbers are used each sheet is numbered in rotation as it is printed. These numbers sometimes help to indicate the printing from which a particular sheet comes, or the approximate extent of a printing. They are therefore of some interest to specialists. —Gibbons' Stamp Monthly.

Philatelists by Appointment to H. M. King George V

(Only address) Dept. 20, 391 Strand, London, W. C. 2, Eng.

Address of Hon. Robert S. Regar

DELIVERED BEFORE THE S. P. A. ANNUAL CONVENTION AT WASHINGTON, D. C., AUGUST 13

Reported by ALBERT E. GORHAM.

I am very grateful for the opportunity of appearing before this meeting of your Society as an official representative of that Department which is so intimately and vitally related to philatelic affairs, for the study and furtherance of the best interests of which, I take it, your organization stands pledged.

I am not aware of the facts which underlie the selection of the name reading "Society of Philatelic Americans," but I know that your members are not only good philatelists but choose also to be classed in the final analysis as "Good Americans." I further believe there is logic for such an interpretation.

Postage stamps, as I see it, are mute but convincing tokens of organized and representative government, a comprehensive study of which from the early days to the present time, if undertaken in the proper spirit, cannot fail to promote a high order of patriotism and a keener sense of the individual's obligation to his government.

It will not be my purpose in the few remarks which I shall make to delve into the mysteries and fine technical points of stamp collecting for, I am sure, with my limited personal experience along those lines that there would be little that I could say of interest to members and friends of this Society, all of whom are "professionals" in philatelic matters. I shall, therefore, consider philately more from the Departmental viewpoint, explaining briefly what the Department has been doing to further the interests of stamp collecting, with a few observations in regard to postal matters that may be of some interest.

The establishment of the Philatelic Agency in the Department for the sale of stamps for collection purposes late in 1921, free as it was of all formality and spectacular setting, as well as with little thought, it appears, even on the part of its staunchest exponents at that time, of the new and wide field for service that was before it, has served to create a new bond of friendship and better understanding between the Department and the vast army of stamp collectors throughout our country and the world that is most gratifying. The facilities of the Agency are free to collectors and dealers everywhere and every effort is being made to meet the requirements of the thousands of customers in a manner beyond every reasonable cause for criticism.

Before my appointment to my present position, I must confess that I had little idea as to the magnitude of stamp collecting and my thoughts in that regard were that stamp collectors confined their collections to canceled stamps. Naturally, it was a revelation when I learned that the sales of unused stamps to collectors or what you collectors usually term as "mint" stamps, through the Philatelic Agency were amounting to over $100,000 yearly. I have later learned that an untold multitude of stamp "addicts" have collections of unused stamps worth thousands of dollars, with others up into much higher figures. Thus, it will be seen that from the utilitarian standpoint alone of being a profitable source of revenue to the Government from the sale of stamps for collection purposes, for which the postal service is never required, the establishment of the Philatelic Agency would have been well justified, but a higher motive of rendering a needed service to that ever increasing number of stamp collectors was the dominant factor which contributed to the opening of the direct sales agency specializing in the requirements of collectors generally.

As an outgrowth of the operation of the Philatelic Agency, the Department has been able to take action of a helpful nature to the cause of stamp collecting. Thus, it was my happy privilege to recommend to the Postmaster General in 1926 that the Department contribute to the interests of philately by coöperating with the Exposition held at the Grand Central Palace, New York, N. Y. I am sure that many of you are aware of the good work performed by the Philatelic Agency at that Exhibition, which has brought many letters of commendation for the interest displayed by the Department. More recently, when the Midwestern Philatelic Exhibition was held in Cleveland, Ohio, I also recommended the establishment of a branch Philatelic Agency for the sale of stamped paper in connection with that event, and the highly commendable reports received by the Department by those who promoted, as well as from those who attended the Exhibition, are most convincing proof that collectors as a whole appreciate the efforts of the Department to foster an increasing interest in stamp collecting.

Today, the first day sale of a special issue of surcharged 2c and 5c stamps of the current series in connection with the Hawaiian Sesquicentennial Celebration, the Post Office Department, at the solicitation of your committee, has provided facilities so that these stamps may be procured right here on the floor of your convention. Mr. Herbert S. Chamberlin, the new Philatelic Agent, and his assistant, Mrs. Shaughnessy, are present and will be glad to accommodate those who wish to take advantage of this facility. You probably know that the Philatelic Agency at Washington, D. C., is the only place within the United States proper where these stamps will be for sale, either today or any other day. For the purpose of your Convention, a subagency has been established in your Con-

FIVE YEAR HONOR CLUB

Numbers 765 to 767

Dr. Geo. U. Pillmore, Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Rev. Peter Pfister, Paterson, N. J.
J. N. Stromberg, Chicago, Ill.

We are indebted to Eugene Klein of Philadelphia for the application of Dr. George U. Pillmore of Bryn Mawr, Pa., for membership in our Honor Club. This gives us the opportunity of not only thanking the applicant, but of expressing our appreciation to Mr. Klein for his many courtesies. Not only does he send in a large number of new subscriptions, but he is constantly ordering books, and all in all is extending the WEEKLY a large measure of coöperation.

We have also received an application for membership and check for $5 from Rev. Peter Pfister, who is associated with the Franciscan Monastery at Paterson, N. J., and we are grateful for his appreciation of our publication.

Mr. J. N. Stromberg, Chicago, becomes a five year subscriber and we are glad to welcome him to the ranks of those who declare their belief in the permanency of collecting. Mr. Stromberg had a famous collection of British West Indies over thirty years ago and later has gained a foremost position in the ranks of collectors of U. S. revenues. He is a past president of the Chicago Philatelic Society.

Air Mail Items

Mr. George H. Grinnell has submitted for inspection a strip of the 10c Lindbergh from the southeast corner of Plate No. 19001. The next to the last stamp in the bottom row, that is, the one immediately to the right of the lower plate number, shows a double transfer in the "0" of the left "10." Two of the inner lines are double, but it will take an exceedingly strong glass to note the variety.

Mr. Leslie G. Deinstadt reports further plates for use in connection with the new 5c air mail stamp. He has found a variety with border No. 19569. We hope to report these new plate numbers in full to date in our next number.

While discussing air mail, it may be of interest to note that the Postmaster General announced that in June last, fifteen thousand pounds more of air mail was carried than in May, while July increased five thousand pounds over June. It is expected that with the new air mail rates that August will show an increase of 25% to 35% over July, during which time 214,654 pounds of mail was carried.

The largest air mail carrying route is the one that runs from Chicago to San Francisco, which during July carried nearly 61 thousand pounds. The New York-Chicago comes second, with approximately 5 thousand pounds less. The third and fourth in the list are Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, with nearly 23 thousand pounds, and Chicago to Dallas, with slightly less than 15 thousand pounds. It will be of interest to note that only 91 pounds was carried between Detroit and Cleveland, during the first nineteen days of July, after which the service was discontinued. During the entire month of July only 5 pounds of mail was carried between Great Falls and Salt Lake City. As a result, the service was discontinued in July, but resumed on August 3rd.

1-Cent Precanceled Envelopes

We mentioned in this column a few weeks back, that there was a possibility of the new 1c envelope appearing precanceled. Under date of August 7th, postmasters were advised that the Department had made arrangements to supply precanceled 1c stamped envelopes to meet the requirements of mailers who have been issued permits to dispatch bulk matter of the third class, under the conditions specified in section 435½, Postal Laws and Regulations, as stated in the Postal Bulletin of June 13, 1928.

The precanceled envelopes will be furnished with printed return cards of patrons (special request) or unprinted when the purchasers desire to have return cards of special design printed thereon by local printers or for mailing without the return address of the sender. Precanceled 1-cent envelopes will not be furnished in "office request," and requisitions for such stock shall not be submitted.

Precanceled envelopes, both special request and unprinted, shall be ordered from the department and sold to the public in lots of 500 envelopes or multiples thereof of a given variety. As there will be no general public sale for 1-cent precanceled envelopes, postmasters will not be required to carry supplies thereof in post-office stock except as it may be found practicable and desirable to do so by the postmaster to meet the demands of local mailers who require large quantities of precanceled envelopes.

The envelopes will be furnished in sizes 5, 8 and 13, of standard low-back quality and the precanceling which will be in black, will be applied by the envelope manufacturers at the same time that the envelope receives the corner reply card. This cancellation will consist of three horizontal lines, the center line broken, so that the portrait of the stamp will show. Between the lines, we find the name of the city and state, and below the bottom line "(Sec. 435½, P. L. & R.)."

Belgium.—"Parcels of newspapers" provisionals.—Parcel Post adhesives of 1923-27 (S.G. Types 123-124) overprinted in black. "JOURNAUX—DAGBLADEN—1928," seventeen values from 10c to 20fr. Our Brussels correspondent, Mr. H. Hooreman, who shows us these, tells us that these provisionals for newspaper parcel post are on trial for a period of three months; as, however, the sales appear to be pretty good it is expected they will remain on issue for an indefinite time. The 1fr value is in a new shade of ultramarine, not yet found in the stamp without the overprint.—Stamp Collecting.

Bermuda.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of the ¼p on script watermark paper.

Brazil.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for note the 300 reis red and 500 reis ultramarine, type of A76, watermarked Casa da Moeda in large sans serif capitals as before. The 300 reis has three thick lines on both sides of the sheet in the margin, whereas the inscription at the top reading from left is "Casa Da Moeda Emissao de 1928 Ordem n. 188 Machina n. 43 EURICO BRANDAO."

Chile.—Our Buenos Aires friend, Mr. A. H. Davis, writes that Chile will shortly issue an air mail set which has been on order for some months.—Stamp Collecting.

Cochin.—A new provisional has been issued by this native state. The 2¼a yellow-green of the 1922 issue has been overprinted "One Anna" at the top and "Anchal & Revenue" at the foot in English characters and the value in Indian characters beneath "One Anna." Mr. R. Roberts furnishes the information.

Hungary.—Copies of the 8f green, 16f red and 32f blue, St. Stephen design, have been shown us by Whitfield King & Co.

Italian Somaliland.—The 50c brown and grey, current issue, has been overprinted "Somalia Italiana" in small sans serif capitals across the tunic of the King's uniform. The surcharge is in red in two lines. Mr. R. Roberts submits copies for chronicle.

Latvia.—Whitfield King & Co. report the 20san pink, watermarked swastika.

Liberia.—Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the 15c lilac, with a map of Africa in the centre. This stamp was chronicled some few weeks ago with the surcharge for official use, but it the first time we have seen the without the overprint.

Russia.—Tolstoy Commemora Next month two values are to be to commemorate the centenary birth of Leo Tolstoy. The one wi the patriarchal features of the writer and the other a reproduc the well known painting by Repin ing Tolstoy ploughing the field values are 10 and 28kop respe but the colours have yet to be upon. Our thanks to Mr. L. S for this interesting news.—Stam lecting.

Siam.—The following values new 1928 issue, line engraved have been received from Mr. R. R 2s lilac-brown, 3s blue-green, 5s 10s lilac-rose, 15s deep blue, 25s and orange, 50s orange and black stamps are the work of Waterlo Sons and are printed in sheets line machine perf. 12½.

Sudan.—We have received fro R. Roberts the 10m green and postage due stamp, Nile steamboa on the new multiple S.G. waterm paper. The mauve is rather a b shade than the previous issue.

STAMP NOTES AND NEWS

LAOUITES.—We have received a new ety of 4 piastres on 25 centiemes, ch is similar to the one previously is-, but the numeral "4" and the Arabic acters are very much larger.

ELGIAN CONGO.—A set of stamps has issued to commemorate the fiftieth versary of the discovery of the Con- by the famous African explorer, Sir M. Stanley. There are fifteen de- inations as follows:—5, 10, 20, 35, 40, centimes, 1 franc, 1fr60c, 1fr75c, 2 cs, 2fr75c, 3fr50c, 5, 10 and 20 cs; all stamps are of the same design show a very handsome portrait of explorer, at the top of the stamp is ribed "Congo Belge" and at the base gische Congo."

ANADA.—We are officially informed the sale of the Confederation and orical stamps was discontinued at end of last month.

OSTA RICA.—With further reference e note in our June Bulletin, we have received a supply of the Red Cross p, but we find that this has not been ionally overprinted, it is the 5c or- stamp of 1910 overprinted with a Cross and "5c." We are informed this stamp was issued as long ago 922, but to meet a shortage of the ostage stamps the remainder of these ps was put on sale and sold at 5c for ordinary postage, the quantity not very large and they were quickly out. The 5c on 15c purple stamp tly distributed is now entirely sold at the Post Office and stocks of the nt 5c green and 10c red stamps have been received and are on sale.

OMINICAN REPUBLIC.—A special 10c Post stamp has been issued for this try printed in blue showing a map ne Dominican Republic with Hayti, and Porto Rico connected by a d line denoting the air post route. he top of the stamp is a monoplane, ibed at the left "Correo" and at the "Aereo."

TONIA.—A Philatelic Exhibition was last month at Reval and a special p was issued for the occasion, the 10 s stamp of 1922, type 12 in our ogue, was printed in a new colour, and put on sale at the special Post e at the Exhibition. We are in- ed that not more than 50 copies sold to any one applicant.

ELAND.—The 10 aur red stamp of No. 87 in our catalogue, has been printed with an aeroplane device in for use on letters sent by air mail. are informed that this is the only mination which is to be issued.

DIA.—We have had sent us a por- of a sheet of the 1 anna on 1½ an- Service stamps, No. 257 in our cata- e, with the surcharge inverted. We are informed that only one sheet of 256 stamps has been discovered.

PERU.—Once more the 2c Tacna y Arica stamp has changed its color, this time from lilac to green. We are quite at a loss to understand the reason for the color of this stamp being changed so often, perhaps one of our subscribers can enlighten us. With further reference to the first issue of the 50 centavos mauve Air Post stamp, we are informed that local stamp collectors who usually bought anything they thought would appreciate in value have been caught napping, as none of them seem to have any of these stamps, with the exception of one collector who has seven unused copies and another collector who holds about twenty or thirty. It seems that the majority of these provisionals were sent to Iquitos and the various Stations on that route, where stamp collectors certainly do not abound.

POLAND.—Three new stamps have been issued, 25 groszy with portrait of General Joseph Bem; 50 groszy, portrait of Marshal Pilsudski; 1 zloty, portrait of President Moscicki. The 25 groszy is a commemorative stamp in honor of General Joseph Bem who took a prominent part in the Polish insurrection in 1831.

ST. VINCENT.—In a recent importation of stamps from this Colony the 1/- denomination arrived in a paler shade to those we have previously had.

TURKEY.—We have seen several labels issued by the Red Crescent Society and in reply to an enquiry we are informed on very good authority that these stamps are not a Government issue, but by arrangement with the Government on certain feast days and public holidays it is obligatory that all postal matter handed over the Post Office counters on these days bear a Red Crescent label over and above the prepaid postage. Without these labels on these particular days no letter will be accepted across the Post Office counters and all Post Office pillar boxes outside the Post Office are sealed up. The stamps can in no way be termed postage stamps, but simply Red Crescent labels and the proceeds of their sale evidently go wholly to the Red Crescent Society, in these circumstances we shall not import any, nor will they be included in our catalogue.—Whitfield King & Co.'s Bulletin.

MOVIES

Letters are received from readers telling of the reproduction of stamps on letters that are shown on the screen in the unfolding of different pictures. Too, other little philatelic touches are mentioned and occasionally there is some rather important development in this regard to record. A reader asks: "A recent movie of a German locale showed a scene with a professor surrounded by volumes of stamps in the midst of which he ordered a grown-up son from his home. Kindly inform me as to the title thereof and oblige." This is effective stage-craft and a home where stamps play so strategic a part is one that must remain in pleasant memory of the outcast.

vention Hall for the sale of these surcharged Hawaiian stamps. The new 5c Air Mail stamp will also be on sale.

In this connection let me extend to you an invitation to visit our Philatelic Agency, located in the New City Post Office Building adjacent to the Union Station, where I know you will be treated with the utmost courtesy whether you purchase or not.

The later development of first-day cover collecting through the friendly cooperation of postmasters under the authority and direction of the Department has now become one of the most fascinating and interesting types of collection, as well as one of profit to the dealers who specialize in the novelty. The Department has given ample notice to the public as new issues have become available, and established a definite and restricted "first day" of sale with a view of giving the necessary official touch to the initial sale day of new stamps, in order that authentic historical information may be available in conjunction with such collection. The aim is to restrict the "first day sale" to as small a number of post offices as possible to lighten the work of collectors who desire complete sets. Frequently the historical setting of a new stamp centers in a locality served by a very small post office of the third or fourth class where lack of proper facilities for the handling of thousands of first day covers, both in clerical force and post office equipment, places a tremendous burden on the postmaster.

In many cases the Department is unable to extend the temporary relief that is needed in such cases, with the result that in some few cases in the past collectors may have failed to have their orders filled exactly as desired. It will be of mutual interest to all concerned if the stamping of first day covers by the post office force are made as little exacting as possible with respect to the variety and arrangement of the stamps on the covers. It will materially aid the post office and contribute to more satisfactory results in general if collectors will refrain from all unreasonable requests in connection with their first day covers.

The establishment and extension of the Air Mail Service have contributed to a tremendously increased interest in the art of cover collecting. The magnitude of this type of first day mailings is well illustrated by the more than 200,000 covers that were carried by Colonel Lindbergh when, at his own request, he not long ago again flew the air mail on his old route from St. Louis to Chicago and return.

Special cachets have been furnished by the Department to indicate this first day flights and every facility of the Postal Service has been made available to serve the needs of collectors. I am sure that this policy adopted by the Department to meet the needs of stamp collectors to the fullest extent possible has been productive of beneficial results, serving to create better and more complete collections, thus broadening and adding renewed interest to stamp collecting generally.

I am sure that you Washington members of this Society who have had a direct and intimate contact with the Philatelic Agency can better appreciate the volume of work entailed on the Agency when a new issue is first offered for sale. Recently, when the new 5 cent Air Mail stamp was issued, approximately 7,000 remittances were received from all parts of the country, many of these accompanied by envelopes for first day covers, with the result that the digestion of several of the employees has been said to have become somewhat impaired through the absorption of so much tapioca in affixing stamps to first day covers.

I feel that the phenomenal increase in philatelic matters throughout the country in the last few years has in no small measure been due to the establishment of the Philatelic Agency and the publicity which has been given to the facilities which it offers to collectors. The opening of the Agency, furthermore, came at a most fortunate period with regard to new stamp issues, for never before in the history of the Postal Service has the Department provided so many new postage stamps, including regular and commemorative issues. Thus a fruitful field has been made available for the expansion of the art and business of stamp collecting, with which no previous period in history can compare.

Notwithstanding the long list of new stamp issues that have been provided in the last few years, it is probably unnecessary for me to call attention to the fact that each and every stamp has been provided to meet a definite postal need or to conform to some provision of law and without regard to any interest that centers in every new postal issue from the collectors' standpoint. The Department has zealously adhered to the policy and will continue to do so in the future, in order that there may be no cause for criticism that new stamps are being provided as a source of profitable revenue through sales to collectors.

MR. WEST WILL EXHIBIT

Mr. William West will exhibit a portion of his very wonderful collection of United States stamps at the meeting of the Philadelphia Stamp Club at the Grand Fraternity Building, 1632 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., on the fourth Tuesday, September 24, 1928.

BRITISH VIRGINS 1 1-2d 1927

By HARRY E. HUBER.

That the British Virgins alone of all the Federal Presidencies did not issue a 1½d stamp, following the institution of the war tax on letters, to the British Empire and the United States (effective Sept. 1, 1916, and Feb. 1, 1917) respectively, was due to the fact that the combined letter rate and war tax from the British Virgins was 2d, and only 1½d from the other islands. This 2d rate was still in effect in the British Virgins when by Order in Council of January 9, 1922, the letter rate from all Presidencies of the Leeward Islands Federation to the British Empire and the United States was made 2d, effective Feb. 1, 1922.

A 1½d stamp could have been added to the King's head and Presidential Seal series as issued June 15, 1922, to care for the foreign post card rate (raised from 1d to 1½d effective Feb. 1, 1922), but it was not until after the letter rate to the British Empire and the United States was lowered to 1½d by Statutory Rules and Orders of March 1, 1926, No. 5 of 1926, effective April 1, 1926, that a stamp of this denomination was authorised by Statutory Rules and Orders of October 8, 1926, No. 23 of 1926.

"Statutory Rules and Orders
1926—No. 23

The Stamp (Virgin Islands) Order, 1926, dated October 8, 1926, made by the Governor-in-Council under the provisions of the Leeward Islands General Stamp Act, 1890 (No. 3 of 1890), as amended by the Leeward Islands Stamp Act, 1902 (No. 10 of 1902).

At an Extraordinary meeting of the Executive Council of the Leeward Islands, at the Council Chamber, St. John's, Antigua,—the 8th day of October, 1926,

Whereas by an Order-in-Council made the 24th day of March, 1922, and published in the Leeward Islands Gazette No. 15 of the 30th March, 1922, special stamps of the value of ½d, 1d, 2d, 2½d, 3d, 5d, 6d, 1s, 2/6 and 5s were authorised to be used in the Presidency of the Virgin Islands;

And whereas it is expedient to add to the said values a stamp of the value of 1½d;

Now it is hereby ordered by the Governor-in-Council under the authority aforesaid as follows:—

1. Additional Virgin Islands stamp. On and after the first day of January, 1927, there shall be added to the several values of stamps fixed by the hereinbefore recited Order a new Virgin Islands stamp of the value of one penny and the half of another penny.

2. Provision for dies. The proper dies and other implements to be used in connection with the issue of the new stamp shall be provided accordingly.

3. Short title. This Order may be cited as the Stamp (Virgin Islands) Order, 1926.

Signed, E. D'A. TIBBITS,
Clerk of the Council."

The Crown Agents Bulletin for the third quarter of 1926 notified that 1½d stamps were on order, to be printed in red, and 1d stamps, in violet, instead of red as previously. These two varieties were advised in the Crown Agents Bulletin of October-December, 1926, as having been dispatched to Tortola, along with a fresh printing of the 2½d in blue instead of orange.

The foreign post card rate being 1½d, it was necessary that this denomination should be printed in red, and this of course required changing the color of the 1d (then in red of the original printing) to violet.

The 1½d being a new denomination in the series, a new duty plate was manufactured, and as impressed on the stamp, the figures and letter of "1½d" are in color on a colorless ground, instead of the reverse, as for all other denominations of the series.

With the return of 2½d as the foreign letter rate, effective April 1, 1926, it was in order for the 2½d to abandon its orange color and resume its former blue. The 3d of the British Virgins was never printed in blue (the foreign letter rate between Feb. 1, 1922, and March 31, 1926, inclusive, was 3d, the 3d on Roman CA yellow, issued June 15, 1922, being in sufficient supply.

These three varieties, 1d violet, 1½d red and 2½d blue (restored) were placed on sale at Roadtown, Tortola, on January 24, 1927. Only a very few of the 2½d orange remained and these exhausted during February, 1927. The remainders of the 1d red, however, were withdrawn and burned.

The stamps were printed from the original King's head and Presidential Seal keyplate No. 1, and sheets of all three denominations show double marginal lines, i. e., one for the keyplate and one for the duty plate impression. In the original printing of all denominations of the series, as issued June 15, 1922, only the keyplate was equipped with a marginal line. When the 2½d, changed in color from blue to orange, was issued Sept. 1, 1923, it, with the others of that printing (2d, 1s and 5s on script yellow), were from duty plates to which marginal lines had been added.

The 2½d blue of the reprinting is in deeper blue than the original ultramarine, and of course the double marginal line further distinguishes it (in sheet or pane form) from the first printing.

January 24, 1927. King George V and Presidential Seal. Postage Revenue.

509 7th N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

Line engraved and typographically printed by Messrs. De La Rue & Co., Ltd., London. Watermarked multiple Crown and script CA. Perforated comb 14. Keyplate No. 1. Double marginal lines.

The 2½d blue, script CA, of the Federal series, from plate 11, was issued at Tortola on March 7, 1927, and the 3d violet on yellow, script CA, plate 16, received on May 27th, was issued July 1, 1927. Subsequent to the issue of these two varieties, the Roman CA watermarked 2½d blue and 3d on yellow, plate 1, were withdrawn and destroyed.

The 6d of the British Virgins series was withdrawn from sale at the end of January, 1926, as the stock on hand was so damaged (i. e., stuck together, etc.) that it was practically impossible to find any suitable for collectors' needs. However, a fresh printing was not requisitioned until March, 1927, and in the Crown Agents Bulletin for the second quarter, it is mentioned as having been dispatched.

The stamps were received at Tortola on May 10th and issued May 12th, 1927. The color of the keyplate impression is dull red violet, instead of brown violet of the first printing, but the duty plate impression is much as before, bright red violet. It also has the double marginal line, which distinguishes it from the first printing, with a single line.

A. P. S. CONVENTION

My first installment was sent just before the banquet, which was all that could be desired in many respects. Dr. C. W. Hennan, Chicago, was an agreeable toast-master, and the menu was a gastronomical triumph. There were well over two hundred present, and good spirits prevailed. There were talks by different members, including President Wilhelm, Secretary Davis, Treasurer Elliott, Wm. C. Stone, and others. Mr. Arthur Hind was present and his philatelic associate, Mr. Kennett, had a few words to say. Some of the responses were apt and in general, enthusiasm was not lacking.

On Saturday, there were choice seats reserved for the delegates at the Military Tattoo, a spectacle that I have never seen equalled. It was a diversion that could not have been more acceptable. The Toronto hosts did all in their power to ensure a pleasant time and the consensus of opinion was that for a well-planned program the entertainment could not be improved upon. The friendly feeling between the U. S. and Canada has been deepened as a consequence of the convention, and I shall think of the occasion with a growing regard for Canada and its fine philatelists.

As for the transactions of the convention, I can only give my impressions of what was done. There was an outspoken demand on the part of some of the members that the society do more active work to justify its leadership, but just what to do was a question. of the fact that a quorum neces effect a change in the by-laws present, nothing was accomplished regard. However, the idea of exhibitions in different cities v vored, and it was ordered that th S. and the A. S. D. A. work ou that would achieve this result.

KEEP UP WITH UNCLE SAM!

WASHINGTON STAMP NEWS is a monthly publication which tells you about your Government's activities in lines which are of philatelic interest.

One feature alone is worth the subscription price. Each issue contains the current list of stamps which the Philatelic Agency has for sale to collectors. There is no better investment than U. S. stamps, and when you have a few dollars to salt away it will be very worth while to have the list right at hand. Then you can send in your order right away, without the delay which otherwise would be necessary while you write to Washington to find out what the Agency has to sell.

Another feature of great value to subscribers is the special bulletin service. When news of special importance comes along, instead of waiting for the next regular issue of the NEWS to publish it, a special bulletin is sent to subscribers at once. The thrills afforded by these special bulletins, which tell you about new stamps far in advance of the regular philatelic press, add very much to the pleasure your collecting gives you.

The subscription price is $1.00 per year. As a special inducement for you to subscribe, we offer your choice of one of the premiums listed below Free with a year's subscription:

1. The U. S. Government's publication, a 54-page book entitled "A Description of U. S. Postage Stamps and Postal Cards Issued by the Post Office Department from July 1, 1847, to December 31, 1927."

2. An air mail cover actually carried by Colonel Lindbergh on his commemorative return to the service on February 20, 1928, bearing the official horseshoe cancellation.

3. A Sesquicentennial stamped envelope mailed at the International Philatelic Exhibition in New York at the exact time that President Coolidge opened the show. This cover has both of the special cancels which the Government provided, and bears a label of description. A unique souvenir.

4. Uncle Sam's Baby. A first day cover of a block of four of our cheapest postage stamp, the ½c Hale, mailed on the day this stamp was issued, April 4, 1925.

Satisfaction guaranteed, or your dollar back.

S. P. A. Convention At Washington

A MOST ENJOYABLE MEETING HELD IN OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Reported by A. E. GORHAM.

The Thirty-fourth Annual Convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans was called to order by Albert E. Gorham, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, in the Ball Room of the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C.

He stated that all well regulated organizations should be opened with prayer, and the one designated for this duty was the Rev. Father Felix F. Kaup. The following telegram was read from him: 'Richmond, Va., Aug. 13: Please accept and convey my sincere regrets being unable to attend opening of Annual Convention. Cordial good wishes to all my fellow members." Upon request, the invocation was offered by Secretary William Lycett.

Chairman Gorham extended a brief address of welcome to which suitable response was made by the President, Major Guy W. A. Camp.

Chairman Gorham then introduced Hon. Robert S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster General, who delivered the address printed in the WEEKLY.

Chairman Gorham then introduced Hon. Alvin W. Hall, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, who responded with an address replete with details of vital interest concerning the manufacture of the postage and securities of the United States, and extended his invitation for a personally conducted tour, covering the inner workings of his immense establishment, which would conclude with a luncheon party in the sky parlor—the roof. Invitation to visit the Bureau accepted.

The chairman then introduced William A. Johnson, President of the Washington Philatelic Society, who welcomed the visitors in a creditable address on behalf of the Society which "meets fifty-two times a year". Response by President Camp, who related the fact that he had been one of the first members of the Washington Philatelic Society, and his visit here was in the nature of a home coming.

The chairman, on behalf of Branch 5, introduced James F. Duhamel, Vice President of both the Washington Philatelic Society and of Branch No. 5.

Mr. Duhamel said that the spot on and in which we were meeting was historical ground, and then outlined the important historical events concerning Washington and its environs.

Pres. Camp replied to the various greetings as follows:—"The kind words of welcome and the generous hospitality which you gentlemen have tendered to the S. P. A. have fallen upon the ears of those who have heard you with a joy and an appreciation that I fear I am ill fitted to adequately express. Strangers we came, but strangers no longer we are, for you have gathered us in and made us a part of your own community family, a gracious deed for which you have our sincere thanks.

As Mr. Duhamel has said, "We are on historic ground:" the site of the Kirkwood House, home of President Johnson, nearly every foot of which is reminiscent of those great events which have culminated in making this nation the foremost of any on the globe. In front of us is that broad pathway between the Capitol and the White House, over which have passed the greatest and most important cavalcades of the world. But a few blocks away is the building in which the Great Emancipator was ruthlessly slain (and the one in which he died); and on the right bank of the beautiful Potomac, below the city, peacefully slumbers the mortal remains of the Father of Our Country.

At every turn we are reminded of some significant event in our national history that fills us with pride, patriotism and enthusiasm. We see the stars and stripes waving proudly on every public building and we are deeply stirred at the significance of what that glorious symbol stands for. We are glad to be here. We are delighted at the opportunity of conducting our proceedings and deliberations amidst such entrancing and historical surroundings. And while we can but thank you with mere words for the cordiality with which you have welcomed us, so warm, so hearty, so genial, so sincere, yet methinks that the sentiments you have uttered will remain green in our memories for many years to come."

Chairman Gorham related that all of the elements of Philately were here represented, divided the subject into three component parts: the (1) Stamp; (2) great lights; and (3) working tools—the stamp itself being composed of three parts, three in one: the paper, the ink and the gum, and the one for the three (Hawaiian 2c and 5c, and 5c air mail) and so for the three great lights, the manufacturer (the Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing); the salesman (the Third Assistant Postmaster General)—with his branch philatelic agency, in charge of the 3: Superintendent, Stamp Division, P. O. D.; the Philatelic Agent and his able assistant (all three of whom were too modest to deliver addresses, but preferred to keep busy selling stamps during the continuance of the convention),—and the purchaser or collector, the Society of Philatelic Americans; and that as we also had the three working tools: the tongs, the hinge, and the glass (magnifying; sponge cup; and benzine cup), all was in readiness to proceed with the designs on the trestle board—the work of the convention, and therefore, he turned over the gavel of authority to President Camp.

The Convention was then officially called to order by the President, Major Guy W. A. Camp, who directed the Secretary to read the call of the convention.

The President announced Convention Committees, and appointed Albert E. Gorham, journal clerk (official reporter) of the convention.

The President read and submitted his Address and Report, which was a concise statement of his transactions, observations and recommendations for changes, particularly in the constitution, of interest and benefit.

Col. W. N. McKelvy, President of Branch No. 5, appeared at this time and was warmly welcomed by the President, and was accorded the floor; whereupon he welcomed the Convention to Washington, in a few well chosen words. He also asked for coöperation, all societies, Exhibition in 1932 in Washington. Mr. W. Hayden Collins submitted and read the Report of Committee on Election of Officers and Credentials, evidencing re-election of all officers and Mr. R. C. Bach as member of Board of Governors.

President Camp read and submitted his Report as Chairman of the Board of Governors, an analysis of three basic objects attained: (1) payment of all indebtedness of the society; (2) increase in membership; and (3) weeding out undesirables.

After some minor business had been transacted the convention adjourned to the following day.

The second day of the S.P.A. convention at Washington, D. C., was called to order by President Camp, who invited James F. Duhamel, vice-president of Branch 5, to preside temporarily.

Reports of the various officers were then presented. The report of the secretary showed a net gain of 304 members. The reports of the treasurer, international secretary, counterfeit detector, assistant librarian, historian, sales and exchange managers were submitted and accepted.

Telegrams of greetings and communications were received from various members and friends. President A. H. Wilhelm of the A.P.S. wired:—"Wish you a successful and constructive convention."

The following committee on resolutions was appointed:—Albert E. Gorham, Clifford W. Kissinger and Samuel Bennett. Cleveland, Ohio, was selected for the next convention seat. Recorder Bach of the Board of Governors stated that all legitimate claims against the society had been paid. The official auction was held at the Raleigh Hotel at 8 P. M., with M. Ohlman wielding the hammer.

The third and last day's session on August 15 was presided over by President Camp. A digest of the business transacted follows:—

An honorarium was given Sec. Gorham in lieu of convention expenses and for clerical assistance in compiling the 1929 Year Book.

The committee on resolutions recommended the presenting of engrossed resolutions to the P. O. Department and Bureau of Engraving for courtesies in establishing a branch agency supplied with the Hawaii commemorative stamps. The resolution was adopted.

Miss Helen Hussey secured the largest number of members during the year and Mr. Bach the second largest. As Miss Hussey is a daughter of the donor and Mr. Bach an official of the society, Albert E. Gorham received a $10 gold coin for obtaining the next largest number.

The total number of members and visitors in attendance was about 136.

Various courtesies were extended the delegates, including a personally conducted trip through the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. It concluded with a luncheon party on the roof. The Sightseeing Committee planned other trips to the Capitol, White House, Washington Monument, National Museum and Smithsonian Institution and other places of interest, including the Congressional Library.

12½% British Empire New Issue Service—Prospectus on request

Twentieth century mint British Colonials were never in stronger demand than today. As a whole there are no stamps that can equal them as regards standardized value—and they are truly the only stamps with a really world-wide demand. It is almost equally important that the quality of practically all of them can be judged by the beginner—it does not require years for you to become a connoisseur. You "are in the running" from the moment you commence to collect them—you do not have to take a back seat for anybody. Yet, your collection will be just as interesting as you wish to make it—and if you happen to take an interest in the investment or speculative possibilities of your stamps, you cannot use your money to better advantage. The Beginner or the Collector who is about to branch out will do well by taking these facts under consideration.

STAMP DAYS AT OLYMPI

FRED J. MELVILLE.

The opening day of the Daily graph Exhibition of Antiques and W of Art, was the occasion of a bril gathering of distinguished folk. Majesty the Queen paid a private before the formal opening and spe hour and a half examining the wonderful treasures displayed to pe tion in the great hall. Thanks to s did organisation, the great exhibition completed on the previous evening, for once a great exhibition was before the opening time.

The Queen was accompanied by Cynthia Colville and the Hon. G Chichester, and she was joined at exhibition by Princess Alice Counte Athlone.

The Opening Ceremony.—Just midday, Her Highness Princess Louise arrived to perform the op ceremony. She, too, made an exte survey of the exhibits. Among the ble philatelists who attended the op were the Earl of Gosford, Mr. and Anthony de Worms, Capt. R. F. A. co, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gilbert-L Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wedmore, Mr Mrs. J. B. Seymour, Mrs. Louis ertzhagen, Sir Alfred Robbins, Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Phi Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godden, Mr. Mrs. Charles Nissen, Mr. and Mr Allen, Mrs. J. S. Telfer, Mr. A. J. Mr. S. H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Mr. R. E. R. Dark-Francis, M H. Bigsby, Mr. A. L. Pemberton, M H. Harris, Mr. E. G. Harmer, Gravenor, and no doubt number others whom we failed to meet in crowd.

£8000 an inch.—At a lunc given to the committees and di guished visitors in the Addison Re rant after the opening ceremony, Charles Allom, who organised the markably fine display of "Period Roc which was one of the leading attrac of the exhibition, said that measurin the pictures in the exhibition, he covered that one was valued at £15 square inch. That might sound a but three of the postage stamps on were said to be worth £8,000 per sq inch. To those who dealt in curio and regarded art as their main inte this was a matter for pondering.

A POST OFFICE GOES CRUISING

DETROIT CAN BOAST OF THE ONLY FLOATING MAIL BOAT IN THE U. S. SERVICE

By HERMAN W. BOERS.

The above display lines are taken from the Detroit News, which published the story we now reprint. In the accompanying column is some information in regard to the floating post office taken from the A. P. S. journal for 1922. Fred Werth, a member of the Michigan Stamp Club, and cashier at the Detroit Free Press, very kindly procured the cut used in connection with this article.

MAIL BOAT IN MID-RIVER WITH DETROIT SKYLINE
(Cut made for the WEEKLY by courtesy Fred Werth.)

Detroit now can boast of the only United States postoffice afloat. Today, the C. F. Bielman, Jr., mail boat, which for many seasons has served the passing lake freighters on the Detroit River as a mail carrier, becomes in reality a floating postoffice.

Chris Connay, superintendent of the Detroit River station, a branch of the Detroit Postoffice, has moved his desk and mail assorting cases aboard the mail boat, which was remodeled at the beginning of the present navigation season, and hereafter mail will be sorted for the lake boats aboard the mail boat.

The mail boat will operate from the foot of Twelfth Street, where it will receive from trucks dispatched from the main Postoffice mail for delivery aboard the passing lake boats, and will deliver to the mail trucks mail posted from the freighters and other craft in the river.

The closing of the land quarters terminates 33 years of service of the little branch postoffice that has served steamship men and others on the waterfront.

The floating postoffice will serve a population of approximately 28,000 persons, Supt. Connay estimates. The service is continuous night and day from the opening of navigation in the Detroit River about April 15 to the close of navigation Dec. 15. About 600 lake freighters depend on the mail boat for their mail from shore and from other vessels, Mr. Connay estimates. The boat postoffice will handle during the navigation season approximately 1,150,000 pieces of mail, it is estimated.

During the 24 hours of each day the Marine letter carriers are at their task, the mail is sorted to the different boats by being placed in pigeon holes to await their arrival up or down the river.

The daily papers report the passage from the Soo, and upriver boats are reported from Lake Erie points. These skilled men, knowing the speeds of various boats, can time approximate time of passing. Most of the men engaged in this work have had previous experience in Marine work. Never do they permit a boat to pass without making delivery.

When a vessel appears upon the horizon, the tug steams out into mid-stream in the path of the oncoming ship, the carrier drops into the rowboat and drifts alongside, the big ship standing by throws a rope to the waiting mariner, who catches the tow and fastens it. A basket is then lowered from the big freighter, some 15 or 20 feet above the small mail boat. The outgoing mail is then taken from the basket and the delivery placed therein.

It often happens that two boats arrive at the same time, going or coming. In such case the rowboat will make one delivery while the tug will perform at the other, steaming alongside the freighter, while the operation is being executed.

The mail boat is the only carrier that can reach sailors at sea with important letters or parcels from relatives, business concerns, or carry letters and parcels from ships en route between ports. The mail boat operates 24 hours a day.

But in colourful splendour they were outdistanced by some of the Maharajahs, who admired Mr. Arthur Grimwood's early Indians, and quizzed at his "Scindes."

Stamp Lore.—Many were the stamp yarns re-heard at the exhibition. There was the story (we put it into a book 25 years ago, and it is true) of the would-be clever American youth who had a 15 cent United States with centre inverted, and took it to a dealer, complaining that he had sold him a bad stamp. The dealer exchanged it for a normal copy, and the youth, at a safe distance, called out, "Done yer again! I didn't buy that bad stamp from you but from another dealer!"

Mayfair.—The story of the Mayfair find cropped up in various versions, stimulated, no doubt, by the beautiful block of thirty Grenada 1862 1d greens in Mr. L. J. Gilbert-Lodge's exhibit. Other wonderful finds were recalled, and the "hope that springs eternal" filled the expansive breast of P.C. X?

The Bobby and the Bible.—He told us that his grandmother had a great Bible, one of those from which they read in the Churches. Indeed it came from Chiswick Church. Must have cost twenty pounds or more. Well, as a boy, about when he was nine, he found three whole sheets like Mr. H. C. V. Adam's sheet of penny reds, but in black.

—The sheets were rolled up when the embryo guardian of the peace found them, he told us, but he flattened them out and put them in the big Bible, which was a very sensible thing for a youngster of nine to do.

—The burden of the P.C.'s tale is that they may be there yet, but it was 25 years ago, which brings our hero's age to a modest 34. He is going to look up the old home, and see if the stamps are still there.

Well, here's hoping!

Straining at Gnats.—A tall fellow of military bearing, no doubt a retired officer who had seen service in Egypt or the Sudan, was quite sure he had sheets of the rare things Dr. William Byam was showing in Sudan stamps. It was not easy, and we may not have succeeded in explaining that Dr. Byam's copies of the pretty Camel stamps were very special ones with rare varieties of overprint. He thought that was straining at gnats, and preferred swallowing camels. — Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly.

EDITORIAL

AFTER leaving London, a trip was made through the Shakespeare country and finally Holyhead, Wales, was reached where we embarked for Dublin. In this city, the sign of a stamp shop was seen, but due to the exigencies of travel, it was impossible to try to establish any philatelic connections; and the same limitations applied to further progress through Ireland. However, one had the feeling that if one devoted time to philatelic investigation, there would have been no dearth of material. In fact, the most casual inquiry on the subject developed intelligent comment on stamp collecting.

THE impressions gained even on a hurried trip to some of the countries of Europe were such as to be heartening to the one who is interested in the growth of philately. The traveller who proceeds leisurely has an opportunity to attune himself to the philatelic customs of a country and so be in a position to gauge the inner workings of the pursuit. However, it is apparent at once that collecting is considered to be a recreation that long ago was divested of any dubious implication and that for years it has held a recognized place in the catalogue of intellectual activities. The non-collecting public in the countries that have been called the cradle of philately is better versed in stamps than the outsiders here. The fact that one is a dealer or collector there does not call forth the inquisition that sometimes follows such an announcement in this country. Time does tell a tale, and the mere fact that collecting got a foot-hold in Europe before it did here accounts for some of the difference. Other reasons, none of which are to the detriment of us, enter into the analysis. The European nations are compacter than the U. S., and what may be called the personal closeness of their people contributes to the facility with which they learn of any specialty. The isolation of many collectors in this country is not paralleled there, in many cases; and while we know that collecting is an individual pursuit, yet it has a social side and the contagion of example is responsible for the making of many new collectors.

SCOTT STAMP AND COIN CO.
1 WEST 47TH STREET NEW YORK, N. Y.

IT must be said that in the United States collecting is improving its position in the public mind, and we may look forward to the time when we shall be on a par with our friends overseas in this particular. The newspapers here are falling into line in their treatment of stamps in a news sense, and as a consequence they are dissipating the ignorance or indifference of the members of the public. One of the factors that has proved to be of greatest benefit is the Philatelic Agency at Washington. By its recognition of stamp collectors, it has added substantially to the thought of them in the minds of non-collectors. Publications that at one time gave scant attention to stamp news now give heed to the tidings of new issues and the quality of the publicity in the general press is now commendable, comparatively speaking; and the same observation applies to the quantity.

AT the convention of the American Philatelic Society at Toronto, among the suggestions made to increase the usefulness of the organization was one approving the stamp exhibition as we have come to understand it. The New York and Cleveland exhibitions were on a scale of magnitude that made them pre-eminent, but the thought held by some of the members is based on the idea of more exhibitions even though they be not of the scope of the two just named. Our correspondent at Toronto gave no particulars of measures adopted to bring forth the fruition of the plan, even though he did say that the society working in conjunction with the American Stamp Dealers' Association was ordered to propose a scheme by which such displays could be made in different cities as were deemed fitting. Abroad exhibitions and congresses are commonly held and at any given time, almost, particulars of affairs of the kind are to be found in the press. Not alone do occasions as cited give pleasure to collectors who are interested in them, but they exert a powerful moral influence on outsiders and they should be instituted oftener in this country.

IN conversation with Dr. Holland A. Davis, Denver, Colorado, secretary of the American Philatelic Society, some interesting facts concerning the society were mentioned. He said in explanation of the large number of members that have been dropped from the rolls for some years, not a few of the delinquents when asked to reconsider their action said that they had given up collecting; others replied that they were too busy to give any attention to stamps, and a small number felt that they merely did not care to renew their membership for reasons known to themselves. We suppose that the time will never come when there will not be defections from the ranks, but it is advisable to make a survey on the subject of these losses. It is not to be gainsaid that there are members who are not satisfied with what may be called the conservative attitude of the society. They feel that the organization has idle funds that could be used in furtherance of the philatelic weal, but it is not easy to devise practical plans for the wise expenditure of money. The society by its actions should reflect the majority sentiment, and if the policy of the national society is to engage in helpful work for collecting generally, due preliminary consideration must be given to ways and means. When the convention meets in Minneapolis next year, well-conceived plans might be submitted. One member has said in substance that it would be wiser for the society to offer prizes for the most practical and suitable plans for improving the status of philately through the efforts of the A. P. S. than for new members. There is logic in what he says although it must be admitted that if an organization does not increase in membership, ground is lost, since there are more collectors each year who are eligible for membership.

RECENTLY, we had a visit from that old Chicagoan, Mr. H. L. Lindquist, editor of the Collectors Club Philatelist, who has won his golden spurs in New York. As president of the Collectors Club, Mr. Lindquist occupies an exalted position and moreover, he is a good example of a working executive. There are indications that ambitious plans for the future are under way by the Collectors Club, and in the fullness of time, we shall look upon a real philatelic clubhouse in the leading city of the U. S., we verily believe. Years will elapse before the dream becomes reality, but that some day there will be an edifice devoted wholly to philately in that great city is not beyond the bounds of probability. Incidentally, the support of all those who knew the late J. Brace Chittenden personally is urged for the establishing of the memorial fund of $12,000 to $15,000, to stand in his name. The income from the fund is to be used in improving the great library that was a crowning triumph of Dr. Chittenden. As the committee says in a letter: "We are convinced that if our friend was with us today this is the form of Memorial that he would most appreciate." The least that we can do is to show our appreciation of loyalty of this great philatelist to cause and to certify to the respect we had for him. Mr. Charles J. lips, 10 West 86th Street, New Yor chairman of this committee, whose must be made light, in view of th spiring end that it would accom Checks should be drawn to the o "The J. ort dedications are becoming the and as a fore-runner of Con- Air Mail, the cachets serve their e most satisfactorily. Two years collectors with these dedication s in their albums will have a more te history of Air Mail develop- than as if they possessed the con- irst flight cachet alone, for these small airports will soon become the landing points on the CAM routes of the future. Col. Lindbergh's "Good Will" tour of last year is fast bearing fruit, and any town of 5,000 population or over without an Airport will soon become a backwoods affair!

On August 23-24-25, Zimmerman Airport, located at Selingsgrove, Pa., was dedicated with due ceremonies. The small cachet was a cleanly applied affair and reads, "Dedication Zimmerman Airport—August 23-24-25, 1928 — Selingsgrove, Pa." Mr. F. W. Wright was the sender of a cover from this point.

Dr. R. P. Brook kindly sends information regarding the dedication of the Rockville Centre Airport on Aug. 19th. In enclosing a cover he states that—"to publicly announce the dedication, about 200 covers were sent by Air Mail, the envelopes bearing a large triangular cachet. These went all over the U. S. and to many foreign countries. They could not be started on their way until Monday, Aug. 20th, as the village Post Office is closed all day Sunday."

On August 21st, Lansing, Mich., broke all records for the despatch of Air Mail, by a wide margin, when 350,000 letters, weighing 10 tons and carrying $17,500 worth of Air Mail stamps, were flown out of town in 18 planes. This huge mailing was from the Reo Motor Car Co. of Lansing, and covers went to every State in the Union. A wonderful tribute to the Air Mail Service and a record for other points to shoot at for a long time to come!

After January 1st, the Post Office Department will supply an embossed 5c Air Mail envelope for use by mailers. The bids for the envelopes are now in the hands of the P. O. D., and the successful bidder will be announced shortly.

"HILL BILLY," ONE MAN, STAMP COLLECTOR

SCAPPOOSE, ORE., Aug. 16, '28.

MY DEAR SIR:

I observe that you made amende honorable in issue of August 13 inst. for your former "errors" anent the authorship of One Man's Opinion from Los Angeles Record; nice fellow; when your Mister Severn returns from abroad you can advise him to tear up, un-read, a letter I wrote him upon this matter some weeks back.

If you are interested in freaks, oddities, errors, cancellations, special sur-charges et cetera I invite your philatelic attention to the reverse of page 483, on which you will discover a clipping from The Seattle Star, under the writing title of Hill Billy; I'm Hill Billy too; look at my mug in The Record; look at it in the Star; same darn homely mug; I require no more philatelic advertising; I am not seeking a job; but you are likely to get all mixed up with readers sending you clippings from various papers and various writing personalities attached thereto.

Next thing I suppose you will get one from the Tacoma Times, or the Spokane Press, or lord only kens whatsoever; but it is a nine to one shot, brother, that all of 'em will come back to poppa for acknowledgment of parentage; in short, sir, I am the only non-philatelic journalist in the world today who is effectively preaching the gospel of stamp collecting to a crazy world; and to make it right good I spend my own money for stamps—much of it foolishly; and I am a paid subscriber to your honorable sheet, and a regular reader thereof; when you get a retired police reporter to subscribe for reading matter you are travelling, brother, you sure are. But, kidding aside, my new interest in stamps, an interest brought to me by my boy of eleven, has come nearer getting me back to my own boyhood than any psychic impulse for 35 years; gee, brother, I dug up my old stuck down pages in the little old album, pages before a postmaster had a cancellation stamp, and the very smell of the sunflowers in a dusty Nebraska August overwhelmed the incense of these Oregon woods.

So that's how it is.

Fraternally,

HILL BILLY, One Man, stamp collector, not philatelist, thank God, NO!

Junior News Notes

By BEACH CONGER, JR.

Australia.—With airmail service in every State in Australia excepting Tasmania, the Postmaster-General is now considering issuing a special 3d stamp to prepay the supplementary postage. The airmail service in Australia is of great value in the country because of the far-flung towns and stretches of unpopulated districts which intervene, and is used more because it is practical than speedy.

Belgium.—This kingdom is to celebrate the return of Their Majesties from a tour of their realms in Africa with a new set of postage stamps. The values of 1c to 60c inclusive portray Lion of Waterloo, not depicted since the World War. King Albert's portrait appears on values from 75c to 10fr. The higher values, 25, 50 and 100 francs, feature their Majesties side by side. The stamps are designed by Mon. Montenez.

Chile.—Chile has already issued a second set of airmails of 11 values, which has been restricted to an issuance of 75,000 sets pending a definite series. This set is said to be merely for speculation, since it is the second set and of limited quantity. The stamps are the ordinary postage stamps now in use surcharged "Correo Aereo" and a condor in flight. Values are: 20 centavos orange and black; 25c blue and black; 30c bistre and black; 40c purple and black; 50c green and black; 1 peso green and black; 2 pesos carmine and black; 3 pesos on 5c blue; 5 pesos olive-green and black; 6 pesos on 10c blue and black; 10 pesos yellow and black.

Estonia.—Another philatelic exhibition! This time held in Reval, Estonia, and of course it necessitated a stamp. This one is the current 10 marka, only printed in grey instead of blue, and only sold to visitors of the exhibition.

Uruguay.—For use on airmail speeding across the Atlantic, Uruguay has issued its sixth set of airmails, designed by Mr. Scasso and lithographed by the Imprensa Nacional, seagull design only perforated. The set of 12 values comprises: 10c green, 20c orange, 30c deep blue, 38c green, 40c yellow, 50c violet, 76c red orange, 1 peso carmine, 1.14p dark blue, 1.52p yellow, 1.90p violet and 3.80 scarlet.

Rotary and Flat Bed Stamps

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

The junior collector is likely to have trouble in distinguishing stamps which are the product of the rotary press and those which are produced by the flat bed. For instance, the difference between Scott's Nos. 409 and 459 and Nos. 552 and 594. They both are similar in design but differ in methods of production. The flat bed stamps are printed from a steel engraved plate which is flat and rests horizontally on a flat bed press. Rotary stamps are printed from similar plates which are curved before being hardened, so that two plates fitting together form a cylinder, which revolves and produces a continuous strip. When the plate is curved, the steel is stretched, so that the rotary stamps are slightly larger than the flat bed varieties—the flat bed varieties measuring 18½mm wide by 22¼mm high, while the impressions from the rotary plates run from 19½ to 20mm wide and 23mm high. Stamps printed by the rotary press also show the lines somewhat clearer and not quite as heavy, resulting in the impression as a whole being somewhat softer. In the case of the mint stamp, it can be readily told because of the gum. The late rotaries show lines which break the gum, whereas the flat plates have smooth gum.

After one has handled a few copies, they readily become familiar with the impressions and can distinguish them without close inspection.

Postmaster-General New

By R. A. MOLL.

Postmaster-General New has done more for philately than any other Postmaster-General. He has established the Philatelic Agency at the City Post Office in Washington, improving the quality of our service. He has issued more commemoratives than any other Postmaster-General, and the designs of his stamps have been superb. He has issued the second two-colored stamp since 1875, with other than black as a center, namely, our 5c air mail stamp.

Inwardly, I suspect that some time or other during his life he has collected stamps. Would it not be fitting and nice if some of our stamp societies sent him votes of thanks for his accomplishments? If you are a member of some organization and think so too, send your secretary a clipping of this paragraph and the movement will be on its way.

Junior Dictionary

McKay Labels.—These are often confused with postage or revenue stamps by young collectors. The McKay labels show a picture of a sewing-machine surrounded by the inscription "McKay Sew. Mach. Co. License Stamp, Patd. Aug. 14, 1860." They were issued in the state of Massachusetts during and some time after the Civil War to certify that the royalty due on each pair of shoes, in the making of which the McKay machine was used, had been paid.

Narcotic. — U. S. documentary stamps with this surcharge indicate their use in connection with the collecting of taxes levied on narcotics.

Necessity Money.—A name applied to postage stamps used for small change in times of financial stress and scarcity of silver and copper. The stamps are often enclosed in cheap frames for protection in wear.

19-10-16.—These figures on Trinidad 1d red represent Oct. 19, 1916, the date of issue of the surcharged stamp. They are accompanied by a cross in red outlined with black. 100,000 were issued and all the proceeds of their sale went to the local Red Cross society.

The Mozambique Co.

By R. A. MOLL.

Many collectors believe Mozambique Co. to be one of the group of countries that sell cancelled-to-order stamps, but I am informed by Postmaster-General Eduardo Chambica that this Post Office does not supply cancelled stamps, so I believe this is a country well worth collecting. Its stamps of regular issue since 1918 have been most attractive, to say the least. Very few collectors have a good showing, especially of the high values, so I term this the "sleeper" country, and these stamps should be rising in price steadily from now on.

Mozambique Co. is a territory of 59,840 square miles. Its chief port and capital is Beira, thru which transit traffic to and from Northern and Southern Rhodesia, Nyasaland and Belgian Congo, which have to depend on it as their receiving and sending port, amounted to over $45,000,000 in 1925.

Under the Company's administration, the country on either side of the Beira Railway, which is 200 miles in length, has become well settled. The census population totals 305,166, of which 3,187 are whites.

The main products are sugar, maize, raw cotton, gold, silver, and ivory, with others in the making. This territory is developing at a rapid pace, and it is possible that we may see many more even finer stamps from here in the future, as it does not have to look for its chief revenue from stamps.

Miscellaneous Queries

How may De La Rue, Harrison, and Somerset House printings of stamps of Great Britain, King Edward, be distinguished?

See our Editor's book on The Stamps of Great Britain, 1911-1921, where these issues are fully described. (Price 3s 9d post-free from our Publishers).

What is meant by the typographic method of printing stamps? I dealt with the main methods of stamp printing on page 89 of the February G.S.M. (The reader who enquired regarding "surfaced printing" is also referred to these notes.)

"CONDOMINIUM"

What does the word "Condominium" mean? It means "joint rule," and in the stamp album we find it on the stamps of New Hebrides, which are governed jointly by Great Britain and France. In order that national honour may be satisfied, and both countries be treated on a strict equality, there are always two sets of stamps for the New Hebrides. Lately these have been similar in design, but while France puts the British Arms in the place of honour, Britain reciprocates the courtesy by placing the French Arms in a similar position. Formerly the French and British issues each had values expressed in their own currency, but now each set has both currencies shown.—Gibbons' Stamp Monthly.

Collecting and Investment

Collecting and investment are two quite different things, but many people who do not really collect for investment spend much more on their stamps than they would if they did not realise that they could get some of it back. That is well justified, but they should not expect to get all of it back, and have all their fun for nothing. In practice they seldom do, for in the event of a collection fortunately selling for more than it cost, it does not mean that each stamp sold singly fetched more than the price first paid, but that taken all round, the increases exceeded the decreases or the values that have not altered.—Junior Stamp Magazine.

tion to be held in Melbourne at the Town Hall, in October and November, 1928. The Sun News-Pictorial of Melbourne says:

"More than 100 designs were submitted. The first prize, a gold medal, was awarded to Mr. R. A. Harrison, of the Note Printing Branch, Fitzroy, for a design featuring the King's head. Mr. Harrison won the 1926 competition for the Canberra stamp.

The second award, a silver medal, was won by Mr. H. Perry, of Venus-street, Caulfield, a fellow-officer of Mr. Harrison, for a koala design.

Mr. E. N. Broad, Treen-avenue, Barnes, S. W. 13, England (King's head design), and Mr. E. M. Horne, Tyne-street, Gilberton, S. A. (kangaroo design), were placed equal for the third prize—a bronze medal.

Special bronze medals will be awarded Messrs. J. Trevor, Wintrath, Nar-nargoon, Victoria (cockatoo design); F. H. Burrell, Sixth-avenue, Joslin Adelaide (kangaroo and wheatfield), and H. W. Barr, Security Printing, Nasik-road, India (allegorical).

All the successful designs have been submitted to the P. M. G.'s Department, with a view to their possible adoption. The department will pay £25 to the originator of any design accepted."

J. P. S. HAPPENINGS

By FRED. J. MELVILLE.

New Hon. Secretary.—With a new Hon. Secretary installed in new offices the Junior Philatelic Society is making plans for extending its activities and increasing its membership. Mr. D. Aiken, the new secretary, took over his duties in midsummer and has put in a good deal of useful preparatory work before the new season commences. He is now prepared to receive applications for membership for the new season 1928-29, and prospective new members should enroll at once to get the fullest value for their first year's subscription. The annual subscription is 5s; the entrance fee, payable only by new members over 21 years of age, is also 5s. Mr. Aiken should be addressed at the new offices, 33 Fleet St., London, E. C. 4.

A Full Programme.—A splendid programme of meetings has been arranged for the coming season opening on Saturday, October 6th, at the Caxton Hall, Westminster. London members will have the additional attraction of special invitations to the London Stamp Exhibition in November, and to the Schoolboys' Exhibition during the Christmas holidays. The real juniors in years will have a number of opportunities for friendly rivalry for

1. The Stamp Collectors' Challenge Cup and 100 other prizes at the Schoolboys' Exhibition.
2. The Sefi-Pemberton Cup for the best essay by a boy.
3. The F. D. Walters Cup for an essay by a girl.
4. Silver and bronze medals, albums, stamps, etc., offered as prizes for juniors at the London Stamp Exhibition.

Particulars of any or all of these competitions can be had from the J. P. S. offices.

Schoolboys' Exhibitions.—Mr. Melville, in conjunction with the J. P. S., is organizing a special display of young collectors' competitive exhibits for the next Schoolboys' Exhibition, which will be held at the new Royal Horticultural Hall, which is three times the size of the old one. This popular exhibition was getting too cramped in the old hall, and many wonderful and attractive features had to be omitted last year for lack of space. This coming exhibition will be on a much larger scale, and the prospective young exhibitors will be delighted to know that their stamps will be displayed in the same way that the great rarities of the eminent collectors were shown at the Daily Telegraph exhibition at Olympia. Everyone agreed on that occasion that stamps had never been publicly displayed with such good effect. The Schoolboys' Exhibition will open on Saturday, December 29th, and remain open until Monday, January 7th.

REPORT OF THE OFFICIAL EXPERT

PHILA., PA., August 1, 1928.

To the President and Members of the American Philatelic Society:—

In my last year's report I stated that 900 stamps had been submitted to me for examination during the previous year. I remarked that this was greater than the usual number and that it took more of my time than I ever gave before. Apparently my office is considered an important one as I have an increase of over 100% to report to you.

During the last fiscal year,1880, stamps were sent to me for examination and classification. These were sent in 156 separate letters. While I kept no record of classification as to collectors and dealers using my department I believe about half the stamps were sent in by dealers. This is due to many dealers specializing in the United States stamps. These dealers are not familiar with foreign stamps, though in the course of business they are compelled to handle them even against their will.

As to new forgeries I have nothing to report. Thanks to watchfulness of American dealers practically nothing has come on the market. Even repaired stamps have not turned up in the quantities that they were known before.

Many stamps are sent in by collectors for classification, especially of United States stamps. The Bank Note issues are found to be as difficult as ever, and many collectors do not trust themselves to determine the types of the 1c and 10c stamps of the 1851-1857 issues. Collectors are urged to peruse the Ashbrook book on the 1c stamp published by the Scott Stamp & Coin Company. This book gives all the types and illustrates every characteristic in detail. It does not seem to be known that our well known Scott catalog gives concise descriptions of reprints in many countries, such as Bergedorf, Hamburg, etc. I most urgently ask the members to read the footnotes in the catalog which will solve many problems and save them the trouble of having to send their stamps away for opinion.

Respectfully submitted,
EUGENE KLEIN, Official Expert.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) LEXINGTON, MASS.

DEPARTMENT COVERS

I have recently acquired a small correspondence addressed to one of the Court Houses, and among them are a few of the Department stamps used on the entire official cover.

I offer the 3c Justice, which has brought as high as $32.00 at auction, on the entire cover at $15.00. The 3c Treasury from the same correspondence is to be had at $1.50. I note in the lot several 1c Treasury, a cover with a 1c and 2c, several 2c Justice, three 1c Justice on separate covers, as well as a single 15c Justice. Three 3c Navy from a further correspondence tied to three neat small covers are to be had at $6.00 each.

If you are looking for the Department stamps, unused or used, off cover, your want list is solicited. At the present time, I can furnish every priced listed variety, in mint condition and practically everything with the exception of the higher dollar States, in used condition. I also have a wonderful lot of cancellations for the specialist.

GENERAL ISSUES

If there is anything special that you desire to fill in the spaces of your general collection, either unused or used, in singles or blocks, on or off cover, I am likely to have it, or obtain it in the very near future. Important want lists which I am unable to fill in their entirety are kept on file and when the elusive variety comes to hand in one of the numerous collections or accumulations that I purchase from time to time, it is sent to the interested client.

I am in the market at all times to buy at highest cash prices United States properties of real importance, as well as choice individual items. Single stamps, however, cataloging under $5.00 each, are not likely to be of interest.

New Plates

Through the courtesy of Mr. C. R. Long, Acting Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, we are enabled to bring our list of postage stamp plates up to and including those issued to August 21st.

In this lot, which continues the list recently published, we find the Valley Forge varieties, together with all of the plates so far made for the new air mail stamps. It will be recalled that Nos. 19545-19552 were used on the varieties first placed on sale in Washington, but since then stamps from the later plates Nos. 19565-19580 are coming to hand one by one, and there is no doubt but printings from all of these plates are now available. The first of the 10c, 15c and 20c Special Handling varieties are listed for the first time.

Current Omissions

The Third Assistant Postmaster General announced under date of August 21st that the supply of the 2c Valley Forge Commemorative postage stamps is now exhausted, and that requisitions from postmasters hereafter for supplies of this stamp cannot be filled.

The same official also notified postmasters under date of August 17th that air mail stamps are good for the prepayment of registration fees on registered letters sent via air mail. They are also informed that air mail stamps are acceptable for not only prepayment of registry fee, but for the prepayment of postage on any registered article. In other words, postage on anything that goes via air mail may be paid for by air mail stamps.

Air mail stamps, however, cannot be used for the payment of postage or registration on registered mail that goes forward in the regular manner, in accordance with the third paragraph on Page 23 of the June, 1928, Postal Guide, wherein it is stated that the use of air mail stamps on other than air mail is not permissible.

If the postmaster in your city is endeavoring to prevent you from using the recently issued Hawaiian stamps upon mail, you might refer him to the Postal Bulletin of July 16th, wherein the use of these stamps on United States mail was authorized.

Speaking of the new Hawaiian stamps, many of the positions show wear and tear upon the plate during the overprinting so that numerous broken letters are noted. I have noticed varieties wherein the surcharge seems to read "1773" instead of "1778", and in one of the two cases, the mashed figure gave the date the appearance of "1828" instead of "1928". I do not believe any actual errors occurred in the set-up, but that these varieties were caused entirely by the unsatisfactory method of overprinting. One who studies our precanceled varieties will readily find similar types and breaks.

Mr. George H. Grinnell states that he has examined most of the 5c air mail plates carefully and finds a peculiarity on both the right and left pane of Plate No. 19548, which he has not noticed on the others. On this plate there are blue location lines which had not been properly erased at the time the plate was laid down. These are found horizontally across the upper portion of the stamp in the upper rows of the plate.

New Envelopes

At the time of writing these remarks, the Committee appointed by the Postmaster General to look into the new envelope contract and make recommendations as to award, has not made a report. They are making a further investigation, in view of the fact that the low bidders at this time are new contractors and quite naturally the ability to turn out a satisfactory article is equally as important as financial responsibility.

As previously mentioned, the Department has sixty days to award the contract which will give the contractors three months to enable them to start in production by January first.

Mr. H. Clay Reed reports two heretofore unrecorded varieties of the current circular die envelope. He has found the 1916 1c green, die A on white, size 9, high back, watermark 24. As this envelope is not on the schedule of varieties obtainable from the Post Office Department, Mr. Reed communicated with the person whose imprint appeared upon the envelope and was informed that sizes not on the schedule could be obtained in very large quantities by special order. This explains why sizes and varieties not heretofore listed on the official s have been found from time to tin

BATOUM: THE STAMPS OF THE BRITISH OCCUPATION

By DOUGLAS B. ARMSTRONG.

Not the least interesting of the special issues of postage stamps made under British military authority during the Great War, are those created by the Army of the Black Sea in temporary occupation of the famous oil port of Batoum. From an historical viewpoint they are noteworthy as the only war stamps associated with British intervention in Southern Russia, whilst philatelically they offer a fertile and fascinating field for acquisition and research.

Batoum, the terminus of the railway from Baku and Tiflis, and of the great pipe line from the Trans-Caucasian oil fields, is a town of some 30,000 inhabitants, situate in the extreme southeastern corner of the Black Sea, and normally engaged in the exportation of petroleum and manganese ore. In 1878 it was seized by Russia, but shortly after the Revolution of 1917 was re-occupied by Turkish troops, who remained in possession until December 1, 1918, when a British warship landed a detachment of troops. Within a month a local Council of Administration had been set-up and postal communication re-established with adjacent countries. The Russians, on evacuating Batoum, removed all stamps and post office fittings to Koutanis, so that during the Turkish regime, Ottoman stamps and postmarks were employed without further distinction.

In the early days of the British Occupation, letters were impressed with a rubber frank containing the inscription: "No stamps available—paid in cash," in a frame, with amount of postage added by hand, and initialled by the postmaster. There being no postmark at hand, a sealing stamp formerly used for insurance correspondence, was impressed on the envelopes.

Finally, arrangements were made to create a special issue of postage stamps for use in Batoum and the surrounding country under control of the Council of Administration. These stamps, in the design of an Aloe Tree in a circular frame, and inscribed "Batoum State," in Russian characters, were produced by lithography at the local branch Mint, in sheets of 198, made up from transfers in blocks of four (vide West End Philatelist, xvii., p. 102), the series comprising six denominations, in the following proportions:—

10K, blue,	51,482
50K, yellow,	206,120
1R, nut brown,	102,832
3R, lilac,	26,522
5R, brown,	20,922

The 5 kop. stamp was provided for use on postcards; the 10 kop. for printed matter; the 50 kop. for ordinary letter postage; the 1 rouble for registration; and the 5 rouble for parcels postage.

At first they were cancelled with a circular rubber stamp lettered in Russian, "Batoum Post and Telegraphs Department," with the date across the centre. Later, this was replaced by a metal obliterator bearing the single word "BATYM" only at the top, and central date as before.

Consequent on the falling value of the rouble it was found expedient to increase the rates of postage, to meet which a new stamp of 10 roubles was required. As it was known that supplies of former Russian stamps existed in private hands in Batoum, an order was issued that all such stamps must be brought to the post office, where they would be exchanged for the special issue, failing which they would be confiscated. In this way a sufficient supply was obtained to provide a provisional issue of 10 rouble stamps—the new value being surcharged on the old Imperialist type of Russia by means of rubber handstamps, at the Post Office, under the supervision of a Board composed of representatives of the British Army, the Council of Administration, and the Post and Telegraph Department.

These 10 roubles provisionals were issued on June 13th in the following numbers:—

2nd Provisional Issue

10R on 1 Kop. orange (imperf.)	2,350
10R on 3 Kop. carmine (imperf.)	3,600
10R on 5 Kop. lilac (perf.)	350
10R on 10/7 Kop. blue (perf.)	314

The surcharge on the 1 and 3 kopecs is known inverted and also sideways.

Later in the year, having dissolved the Council of Administration, the British military authorities took over entire control of the town and district of Batoum, including the Posts and Telegraphs, which were thenceforth administered by British officers, with the aid of native interpreters. This event was signalised by the issue of new postage stamps on November 10, 1919, in the "Aloe Tree" type, but including three additional denominations and overprinted with the words "BRITISH OCCUPATION" in two lines, in black. New lithographic stones were utilised for the production of this issue, made up of 432 impressions, and apparently transferred in strips of six. Some minor varieties, caused by defective type, such as "G" for "C," and inverted "C" for "O" may be found in the overprint. The error "CCUPATION" occurred on the 73rd stamp in a few sheets of the 5 roubles only.

3rd Issue, November 10th, 1919

5K, green	28,894
10K, blue	25,512
25K, orange	31,892
1R, light blue	48,161
2R, pink	366,723
3R, violet	257,904
5R, brown	263,789
7R, vermilion	57,118

Two further provisional surcharges were issued on November 27, 1919, handstamped on the Monarchist Russian types as before, but with the addition of the words "British Occupation," the 15 roubles value being required to meet the increased rate for registration:—

4th (Provisional) Issue, Nov. 27th, 1919

10R on 3 Kop., carmine	5,800
15R on 1 Kop., orange	1,200 in black
	1,400 in red

Early in the following year (1920) an agreement was entered into for the exchange of insured packets, etc., with the post office of Georgia, the fee being fixed at 50 roubles. A supply of that denomination was created by surcharging various of the former Russian stamps, as follows:—

5th (Provisional) Issue, June 12th, 1920

50R on 1 Kop., orange, imperf.	400
50R on 2 Kop., green, imperf.	300 (in red)
50R on 2 Kop., green, perf.	300 (in black)
50R on 3 Kop., carmine, perf.	200
50R on 4 Kop., rose, perf.	250
50R on 5 Kop., lilac, perf.	300
50R on 10 Kop., blue, perf.	180 (in red)
50R on 15 Kop., brown and blue, perf.	300

The 1 kop., 2 kop. (perf.), 4 kop. and 10 kop. of this series with inverted surcharge, are the rarest of all Batoum stamps.

The original rubber cachet used for impressing these surcharges quickly became worn, and was accordingly replaced by a metal handstamp engraved with the inscription in four, instead of five lines; the first being in the form of an arc.

6th (Provisional) Issue, Jan. 30th, 1919

R.50 R. on 2 Kop., green, imperf.	400
R.50 R. on 2 Kop., green, perf.	700
R.50 R. on 3 Kop., carmine, imperf.	359
R.50 R. on 3 Kop., carmine, perf.	691
R.50 R. on 4 Kop., rose, perf.	750
R.50 R. on 5 Kop., lilac, imperf.	120
R.50 R. on 5 Kop., lilac, perf.	920

The above surcharges were applied by native postmen under the direction of a Post Office Commission, and errors exist of the 50r on 3k imperf., 50r on 2k perf., and 50r on 4k with the surcharge inverted. These may likewise be found in the tête-bêche pairs.

On February, 1920, another provisional surcharge made its appearance, this time of the face value 25 roubles, the stamps having been acquired by re-purchase from local tradesmen. This surcharge was struck in both black and blue inks:—

Severn - Wylie - Jewett Co. Beverly, Mass. Portland, Me.

7th (Provisional) Issue, Feb. 21st, 1920

	Black.	Blue
25R on 5 Kop., lilac, perf.	2,000	1,900
25R on 10/17 Kop., blue, perf.	600	1,000
25R on 20/14 Kop., blue and red, perf.	900	1,000
25R on 25 Kop., green and purple, perf.	600	700
25R on 50 Kop., lilac and green, perf.	1,000	900

From 30 to 50 copies of each value exist with the surcharge inverted.

A new printing of the 15 roubles on 1 kop. provisional, surcharged in violet ink, was placed on sale on March 10, 1920, together with a 50 rouble surcharge on the 4 kop. "Romanoff" stamp of Russia, 1913:—

8th (Provisional) Issue, March 10th, 1920

15R on 1 Kop., orange, imperf, 1,100 (in red)
50R on 4 Kop., carmine, Romanoff 1,200 (in blue)

By this time the supply of old Russian stamps had been completely exhausted, so that for a further printing of 25 and 50 roubles provisionals recourse was had to the unsold remainder of the definitive series of December, 1919. A new copper handstamp with the value repeated in two lines was used for the 25r surcharge:—

9th (Provisional) Issue, April 1st, 1920

	Black.	Blue
25R on 5 Kop., green	2,180	1,980
25R on 25 Kop., orange	2,792	720
50R on 50 Kop., yellow	3,488	1,990

Subsequently, as a precaution against counterfeiting, a number of fine lines were cut through the numerals on the 50 roubles handstamp, and further printings were made from it on the old 50 kopecs stamp to the extent of 7,160 copies in black and 560 copies in blue.

In accordance with an Order No. 972, dated May 10, 1920, a new issue of stamps in the Aloe Tree type, overprinted "British Occupation" in two lines, was printed off in sheets of 308 specimens, built up from lithographic transfers in blocks of six (3x3), which was duly placed on sale on June 19, 1920, in the following numbers:—

10th Issue, June 19th, 1920

1R, red-brown	501,424
2R, ultramarine	201,432
3R, pink	200,816
5R, dark brown	203,280
7R, yellow	203,280
10R, green	202,972
15R, violet	102,256
25R, red	153,692
50R, blue	53,900

The only variety of importance in this issue is the substitution of the Russian letter "P" for "R" in "BRITISH" on the eighteenth stamp in the first row of the sheet.

These were the last stamps issued in Batoum, which was evacuated by the British forces on July 4, 1920, when the remaining stock of stamps was officially destroyed, together with the lithographic stones to prevent them from falling into the hands of the Bolsheviks.

Some scarce essays of the 25 x 50 roubles surcharges are known, of which not more than half a dozen examples are believed to exist, viz.:—25r on 10/7 kops., blue surcharged in both red and blue; 25r in red on 10 kops. blue, Aloe Tree type unissued; and 50r in red on 50 kop. yellow (Aloe Tree type), also unadopted.

It is noteworthy that specimens of all Batoum postage stamps were duly forwarded to the Berne Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, in compliance with the requirements of the Convention.—West End Philatelist.

STAMPS OF PALESTINE, 1918-1921

By M. J. FENSTER.

The late World War produced many new stamp issuing countries and the war also greatly increased the interest in stamp collecting. Quite a large number of countries having gained their independence or liberation from hostile races, started to issue stamps of their own.

Among the countries thus freed from the yoke of oppression was Palestine.

Previous to the capture of Jerusalem by the British Forces, the Holyland formed part of the Ottoman Empire. Under the domination of the latter country Turkish stamps were used in Palestine. So the inhabitants of Nazareth or Bethlehem, or any other small Biblical town, were practically compelled to send their letters through the inefficient postal service of the Turks and frank them with Turkish stamps. However, in the larger cities of Palestine, such as Jerusalem and Jaffa, the residents had the privilege of using the postal service and stamps of the Great European Powers of the Levant, who seemed more dependable to handle the mails than Turkey.

On August 9, 1917, British Troops entered Jerusalem and instituted an administration known as "Occupied Enemy Territory Administration." In order to stimulate the revival of trade for the civil population of Palestine the above military organization undertook to develop an adequate postal organization. On December 9, 1917, authority was given to print a supply of postage stamps for the civil population of southern Palestine.

The first supply of postage stamps were known as the E. E. F. (Egyptian Expeditionary Force) stamps. These were designed and printed by the Survey of Egypt at Cairo. They were used throughout the territory of Palestine that was under British Occupation, which comprised an area of about 11,000 square miles.

These E. E. F. stamps were simple in design. They came surface-printed in sheets of 120 (10x12) and watermarked Crown and G. R. (Royal Cipher). As the Survey Department of Egypt at that time did not possess a stamp perforating machine, the stamps came rouletted.

According to the Palestine News of August 1, 1918, the method of production was as follows:—"The printing plate is formed of a copper shell obtained by electro-galvanic deposit over a group of leaden matrices corresponding to the size and shape of the issued sheet of stamps backed with a filling of type metal and mounted upon a metal base. By this process the whole of the colored portion of the design is in relief and the white parts depressed on the plate. In the case of the E. E. F. stamps the plates were composed of 120 clichés grouped in ten horizontal rows of 12." No copies of the proofs were retained by the Survey Department. The denomination of the first issue was one piastre (5c U. S. money) and the color was deep blue. The stamps were issued ungummed. They were first put on sale on February 10, 1918, and the total number printed was 233,760.

Soon after the one piastre denomination was in use, a request was made for a stamp of a smaller denomination (5 milliemes) to be used for internal correspondence. So it was decided to surcharge the 1 piastre value with the new rate or denomination 5 milliemes. The color of the 1 piastre denomination being of deep blue seemed unsuitable for surcharging in black, so the original stamps were printed in a much lighter blue (ultramarine). The lithographic process was used in printing the new surcharged stamp. The first printing was on February 12, 1918, on ungummed paper, and the stamps were placed on sale on February 16, 1918. The color was ultramarine and 50,280 stamps were printed. A second supply of this surcharged stamp was printed on February 26, 1918, and placed on sale on March 5, 1918. This second printing was on gummed paper and the total number printed was 55,560 stamps. A third and final printing of this surcharged 5 milliemes stamp was made on March 12, 1918. It was issued on gummed paper and a total of 54,120 stamps were printed. On February 26, 1918, the 1 piastre deep blue stamp began to be printed in bright blue or ultramarine. This issue was printed on gummed paper and placed on sale on March 5, 1918. The total number of stamps printed were 338,880.

As trade in Palestine began to increase it was evident that the two denominations then in use were not sufficient for the needs of the postal requirements of the country.

Therefore, on July 16, 1918, there was placed on sale in the different postoffices of Palestine the first of a series of new stamps. This new series consisted of eleven values as follows:—

1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 milliemes, 1, 2, 5, 9, 10, 20 piastres. They were printed at Somerset House, London, England, and perforated 15x14. Each value was printed in sheets of 240 stamps. A large number of minor varieties and plate flaws may be found in this issue.

The Supreme Council of the Allied Powers on April 25, 1920, meeting at San Remo, gave to Great Britain a mandate for 25 years for Palestine with the object of establishing there a National Jewish Homeland. On July 1, of the same year, Great Britain appointed as High Commissioner for Palestine, Sir Herbert Samuel.

With the appointment of a High Commissioner, Civil Government took the place of the military administration. With this change of administration the status of Palestine became changed. The E. E. F. stamps then in use seemed out of place. For the latter stamps could be used in Syria and parts of Cilicia, so on

A Cover Bargain

I handle thousands of old U. S. original covers every year, with the more common varieties in predominance, of course. Many of us remember when the 3c 1851 were considered almost worthless even on cover, but all of us now know what specialists have done for that stamp.

I believe other stamps—now common—have good futures, but my safe and storage capacity seems to be taxed to the limit and so I am making an offer you can't lose on.

September 1, 1920, the then current stamps (E. E. F.) were surcharged with the word Palestine in three different languages, Arabic, English and Hebrew, in three lines in the order named. The Hebrew word for Palestine is followed by the initials of the two Hebrew words "Eretz Israel," meaning Land of Israel. The work of surcharging this issue was done at the Greek Orthodox Convent at Jerusalem. All the values were surcharged in black except the 1 piastre denomination which is in silver. As in previous issues there are a great many minor varieties, also many different shades. Of the 3 milliemes stamp of this issue one sheet was accidentally printed with the surcharge inverted. It was discovered at the Postoffice of Telaviv, Palestine, and about 190 stamps of this error were sold before it was noticed. While practically all stamps of this issue were perforated 15x14, some came perforated 14 all around, due to the fact that the 15x14 perforating machine was being repaired in August, 1920, necessitating the temporary use of a 14 gauge machine.

In October, 1921, a different type of surcharge appeared on the stamps of Palestine. This new trilingual surcharge was printed at Somerset House, London. The word Palestine being in heavy sans serif capitals and the whole surcharge appears neater than the previous issue. The shades are brighter and vary greatly from previous printings. Of considerable interest are the postmarks to be found on the stamps and covers especially on the unsurcharged stamps of the 1918 E. E. F. series. Many names of Biblical and Historical interest are to be found, such as Nazareth, Bethlehem, Jerusalem, etc. Also postmarks of territories unknown until the final drive of General Allenby's army. Then there are a great many cancellations showing Field Army and Traveling Postoffices. Also censor cancellations. Then there is the interesting cancellations of the "Occupied Enemy Territories Administration" and finally the town postmarks of Syria before the French mandate, used in Damascus, which is the oldest city of the world, Allepo and Beyrout, where is located a world renowned American University, all three cities using the E. E. F. stamps of Palestine at one time or another.

TWO UNIQUE COVERS

By A. E. GORHAM.

While I have, probably, one of the finest collections in the country of U. S. Contract Air Mail First Flights and Philippine air mails, I am just in receipt of two covers which I issued and which have been "through the mill" and are positively the limit, and being so unusual are really worth mentioning, and, possibly, illustrating.

Both are on my specially designed First Day Issue Hawaii air mail envelopes, prepared as souvenirs of the Convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans of Aug. 13-15, 1928, with oblong square illustrations of the White House, Washington (in red) and Administration Building, Honolulu (in blue), together with S. P. A. official seal (in red) with the blue and red stripes, indicating air mail service, extending across the 3½ inch by 6 inch face of the envelope from the illustrations to the edge, both marked (as required by Canadian Postoffice Officials): "Via Special Air Mail Flight Toronto-Windsor" and addressed: "VIA AIR MAIL TO TORONTO, CANADA,—FOR ALBERT E. GORHAM,—1240 8 ST., N. W.,—WASHINGTON, D. C., U. S. A. —VIA WINDSOR, ONTARIO, CANADA."

Cover No. 1, contains on face: "Canada Confederation 2c green stamp, postmarked Washington, D. C., Aug. 24, 1928, 12.30 A. M., and Toronto, Ont., Aug. 29, 1928, 10 A. M. Postal Term'l." Canada Confederation 3c red stamp, canceled VIA AIR MAIL and tied to cover with special cachet in red: "Golden Jubilee Flight Special AIR MAIL SERVICE Canadian National Exhibition TORONTO TO WINDSOR ONT. 1928" with airplane above and maple leaf—double triangle (triangle within triangle and C. N. E.). Block of four U. S. 2c red stamps, current issue, with overprint HAWAII 1778-1928, and tied to cover with Toronto block cancel containing "Canadian National Exhibition Toronto Aug. 24 to Sept. 8, 1928," and bars. The bottom bar of Washington "killer" No. "6" just barely ties (the block of four U. S. stamps surcharged Hawaii, 1778-1928) the upper left stamp of the block to the cover.

Cover No. 2, on face: Canada 2c green King George, untouched by postmark; Canada 1c orange King George, postmarked Toronto, Ont., Postal Term'l, Aug. 29, 1928, 10 A. M. Canada Confederation 1c orange-red tied to cover by above mentioned special cachet, and to the side "Via Air Mail" in red.

The White House, Washington, illustration is tied down by postmark, Washington, D. C., Aug. 24, 1928, 12.30 A. M. Block of four U. S. 5c blue current issue stamps, overprinted Hawaii—1778-1928, tied to cover with above mentioned Toronto block cancel.

The above mentioned covers both backstamped with following postmarks: Cleveland, Ohio, D. P. O., Aug. 25, 1928, 10 A. M.; Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 25, 1928, 7.30 P. M., with "killer" No. 1; Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29, 1928, 6.30 P. M., with "killer" No. 9, and Windsor, Ontario, Aug. 29, 1928, 12.30 P. M., with "killer" "Parcel Post Reaches Everywhere."

KEEP UP WITH UNCLE SAM!

WASHINGTON STAMP NEWS is a monthly publication which tells you about your Government's activities in lines which are of philatelic interest.

One feature alone is worth the subscription price. Each issue contains the current list of stamps which the Philatelic Agency has for sale to collectors. There is no better investment than U. S. stamps, and when you have a few dollars to salt away it will be very worth while to have the list right at hand. Then you can send in your order right away, without the delay which otherwise would be necessary while you write to Washington to find out what the Agency has to sell.

Another feature of great value to subscribers is the special bulletin service. When news of special importance comes along, instead of waiting for the next regular issue of the NEWS to publish it, a special bulletin is sent to subscribers at once. The thrills afforded by these special bulletins, which tell you about new stamps far in advance of the regular philatelic press, add very much to the pleasure your collecting gives you.

The subscription price is $1.00 per year. As a special inducement for you to subscribe, we offer your choice of one of the premiums listed below Free with a year's subscription:

1. The U. S. Government's publication, a 54-page book entitled "A Description of U. S. Postage Stamps and Postal Cards Issued by the Post Office Department from July 1, 1847, to December 31, 1927."

2. An air mail cover actually carried by Colonel Lindbergh on his commemorative return to the service on February 20, 1928, bearing the official horseshoe cancellation.

3. A Sesquicentennial stamped envelope mailed at the International Philatelic Exhibition in New York at the exact time that President Coolidge opened the show. This cover has both of the special cancels which the Government provided, and bears a label of description. A unique souvenir.

4. Uncle Sam's Baby. A first day cover of a block of four of our cheapest postage stamp, the ½c Hale, mailed on the day this stamp was issued, April 4, 1925.

Satisfaction guaranteed, or your dollar back.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

I have before me a report that additional service on CAM No. 18 is anticipated in the near future. The report states that the towns of Ashland, York, Seward and Aurora may be included in Air Mail service from the Lincoln spur. Date given for first flight is October 1st. NOT OFFICIAL! I am simply passing the report along to you so that if there is anything in it, you will not have cause to complain that no notice was given!

A number of collectors have taken me to task for "setting" the date of the New York-Montreal first flight as Sept. 1st! The American Press states in a special despatch to the New York "Tribune," under date of Sept. 1st—"that service on the New York-Montreal route has been postponed to Sept. 15th, due to non-arrival of the planes from the manufacturer. It is stated that the service will commence about Sept. 15th"! The Canadian P. O. D. has advised collectors that the Sept. 15th date is right and that the Southern flight will terminate at Albany. The "Tribune" article bears out my notice that service would start on Sept. 1st, and the Canadian P. O. D. circular is dated Aug. 21st, which would indicate that they were unaware of the delay until just two weeks before the flight was first announced! As my notice was written about Aug. 6th, you can judge for yourself how near correct I was AT THE TIME IT WAS WRITTEN!

In connection with the foregoing flight, I am advised by Mr. Milo C. Reynolds that the Postmaster at Burlington, Vt., is ready to co-operate with collectors in the handling of their mail on the flight.

Add to list of possible points for special cachet—Wilmington, Del. Oct. 6th, Dedication of Bellanca Field, Carbondale, Ill. Sept. 16th, Dedication of Airport.

From Berlin comes word that the Airship "Count Zeppelin" will carry Air Mail on her coming flight across the Atlantic. The rate for letters is 4 marks ($1.00) per 20 grams. Postcards will be carried for 2 marks. The postoffice at Friedrichshafen is already crowded with sacks of mail awaiting despatch on the first trip, although no date has yet been announced.

W. Irving Glover announces a reduction in the ship-to-shore rate on letters, effective Sept. 15th, from $1.00 per ½ oz. to 60c. Mr. Glover has been on the Pacific coast and while there was in consultation with Dollar Line officials regarding a ship-to-shore service from the Round the World liners in the near future.

Hyannis, Mass. dedicated its Airport on Sept. 7-8-9 with impressive exercises. Through the courtesy of the Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce, acting in unison with the Postmaster, a special cachet was applied to all Air Mail despatched on the above dates.

Read your Postal Bulletin carefully! It pays! Mr. D. E. Dickason reads HIS carefully and hops over a fast one! I am in possession of a cover from the First MOTORBUS-AIRPLANE service. In P. B. No. 14774 there appeared a small notice in the Star Route column to the effect that on Aug. 27th a service between Ardmore, Okla., and Oklahoma City would be inaugurated and that 1st Class Air Mail would be conveyed by busses to the latter city in time to connect with the Eastbound Plane. Stops were made at several intermediate points and Mr. Dickason informs me that he was fortunate enough to get a complete set of covers. No special cachet was used.

Co-operators the past week were—James Farish, A. A. Love, Anna M. Shafer, J. H. Brackett, C. E. Jandrue, Jr., Paul Schaeffer, J. P. Penning, Geo. H. Kieley, D. E. Dickason*, M. J. Friedman, Francis C. Ryan, Ross Shumaker, Chas. F. Jones, F. W. Wright*, John Hadley Cox, D. C. Holmes, John E. Faloon, E. W. Determann, Louis O. Dutcher, Victor M. Suarez.*

NOW is the time to write your Congressman that a special air mail stamp is wanted for the 25th anniversary of the First Successful Flight of a heavier than air machine. The date is in December, so get busy with your letters NOW.

WHEN ordering stamps write "As per advt. in MEKEEL'S".

PUBLICITY

A good many years ago, we posed as knowing something of advertising because Printers' Ink and other similar publications paid us for our stuff; and about 1898 or thereabouts, we ran each week a Department of Advertising in the WEEKLY. Consequently, we have long had an eye to windward for any observations on advertising as applicable to the stamp trade and now we have received an article on philatelic publicity that contains so many well conceived ideas and practical information that we cannot forbear speaking of it.

In Special Catalogue Number One, Fall and Winter, 1928-29, published by H. E. Harris & Company, Boston, under the head of "The Importance of Good Advertising," we find an article that is essentially sensible, and it must have been written by one who has studied advertising in its many different phases. It is only fair to run this study in its entirety rather than to select what may be the most striking periods in our estimation. We favor any legitimate means to make stamp dealers "advertising conscious" and we always have in mind one of our original remarks that Printers' Ink once gave prominence to: It is well to advertise but better to advertise well. Here is the Harris article:

"In Journal No. 25 we pointed out that half the stamp dealer's battle is waged on the frontier of supply, with the problem of finding attractive merchandise, and buying it at the right price.

Once this problem is solved, however, the dealer cannot too quickly turn to the other side of his battle—the frontier of demand — or the important problem of advertising.

Few things have retarded Philately so much as haphazard and ineffective advertising. The present rapid growth of the Great Hobby, in our opinion, has come about in spite of, rather than because of, the stamp advertising which is generally practiced.

Many dealers scarcely advertise at all. Others take space in the magazines, but crowd it to the rim with small type that is difficult and uninteresting to read. The average dealer is especially to be condemned for neglecting the most valuable field which he might command—namely, his own mailing list.

How many dealers regularly circularize their mailing lists with advertising matter that is properly illustrated and typographed, and effectively written?

In contrast with the stamp trade's backwardness, it is a revelation to see what most other lines of business are doing.

HAITIAN PICTORIALS, 1920

By HARRY E. HUBER.

When the Marines landed in Haiti in July and August, 1915, and the United States assumed the collection of the revenues, there was on hand a miscellaneous lot of postage stamps dating back to 1904, which were continued in use by the new administration without any control marking.

As stamps of the lower denominations were most used, and naturally first exhausted, those of higher values were surcharged down to 1c, 2c, 3c or 5c de gourde, as needed. Many of these had already been overprinted (and some surcharged), "GL. O. Z.—7 Fev. 1914". (General Oreste Zamor assumed the Presidency on February 7, 1914; was ousted by M. Davilmar Theodore on Nov. 7, 1914, and was among those slain in the prisons of Port au Prince, on July 27, 1915, by orders of President Vilbrun Guillaume Sam.) The overprint or surcharge was always handstamped, and at no time was the printing press used to provide temporary postage stamp issues.

But after almost five years of surcharging, the stock began to lower, and late in 1919, an order was placed with the American Bank Note Co. for a new series of postage stamps, the issue of which was authorised by an "arrete," or Executive Order of April 6, 1920. The design used for the 3c and 5c de gourde is representative of Agriculture, and for the 10c, 15c and 25c de gourde, of Commerce—the whole series having a face value of less than 12 cents U. S. currency, the gourde gold being equal to 20 cents U. S. currency. The 3c and 10c were issued April 9th, and the 5c, 15c and 25c on April 19th.

The stamps are horizontal rectangular in shape, measuring 26½ x 21½ mm., and were printed in single colors, from line engraved plates, on white wove unwatermarked paper, perforated single line 12. "American Bank Note Co." in small caps, appears under each stamp of the sheet, but there is no marginal inscription or plate number.

In the frame design, which is common to all five values, "Republique d'Haiti" conforms to the arched vignette opening. Numerals of value occupy the lower corners, and at the foot, in a single line, is "centimes de gourde." The lettering and numerals are colorless. Scrolls in the upper corners, and at the sides, complete the design.

The vignette on the 3c and 5c, representative of Agriculture, depicts an angel hovering over a cane field, in which two natives are laboring, one cutting cane, and the other ploughing. A mill appears in the background, and behind it the mountains.

On the 10c, 15c and 25c, Commerce is represented by a reclining female figure, facing the left, and holding in her right hand a caduceus. Casks and an anchor are at her feet. In the background is the sea and a sailing vessel over which the sun is rising.

The first printing comprised the following quantities:—

5c,	3,000,000
10c,	500,000
25c,	2,000,000

Die proofs exist on India paper, mounted on large cardboard sheets, but as the 5c, 10c and 25c are not in Postal Union colors, the necessary correction was made before actual printing proceeded.

3c blue (in the color of the issued 25c).
5c red (in the color of the issued 10c).
10c green (in the color of the issued 5c).
15c violet—as issued.
25c orange (in the color of the issued 3c).

WASHINGTON IN PRAYER AT VALLEY FORGE

By RAY B. GROVE.

The writer was recently in receipt of a cover bearing a Valley Forge stamp. Back of cover carried a sticker reading: —"The religious lie illustrated on the postage stamp carrying this letter was authorized by the present Postmaster General, who is reported to have said, when his attention was called to the matter, 'It is too late to re-write history now.' Why? The story of the hatchet * * * and similar tales, are quite apocryphal. Enc."

This cover contained a consignment from a dealer filling a want list. And it was a New York dealer too. Surely American Philately dare not sanction such Un-American propaganda.

There seems to be a tendency upon the part of some philatelists to disbelieve the incident of Washington in prayer at Valley Forge as recorded in American history.

We quote from the printed history of The Centennial and Memorial Association of Valley Forge, largely financed by the Patriotic Order Sons of America—this Valley Forge Association purchased Washington's Headquarters at Valley Forge and adjacent properties in the early Eighties, improved them and cared for them until taken over by the State of Pennsylvania in 1910.

The history was compiled by Henry J. Stager, for many years State Secretary of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and a Director and Vice-Regent of the Valley Forge Association from 1886 until 1910—the date of its dissolution.

We quote Mr. Stager's words:—

"Valley Forge naturally suggests the thought of Washington's prayer there in the days when his soul was tried to the utmost. Brueckner's picture of the great commander on his knees in the snow is one of the most popular ever painted to represent an Historic event.

The story of this worship upon the snow-clad hills comes to us from Isaac Potts, the owner of the Valley Mill, in whose comfortable home Washington made his headquarters after the week spent in the tent which is now preserved in the Valley Forge Museum of American History, which has been added to the Washington Memorial Chapel and buildings now partly completed. Accidentally, the miller came upon Washington at prayer, and heard his supplications for the cause which he represented and his suffering men. Deeply impressed with the religious fervor of this man of war, whose conduct was at such variance with that Society (Quakers) to which he belonged, and in which he was a preacher, Isaac Potts returned to the house which was through that episode, we believe, made memorable for all time as 'Washington's Headquarters.'

There he threw himself into a chair by the side of his wife.

'Hegh! Isaac!' said she, with tenderness; 'thee seems agitated; what's the matter?' 'Indeed, my dear,' quoth he, 'if I appear agitated, 'tis no more than what I am. I have seen this day what I never shall forget. Till now I have thought that a Christian and a soldier were characters incompatible; but if George Washington be not a man of God, I am mistaken, and still more shall I be disappointed if God do not through him perform some great thing for this country.'

For many years a great oak on the road near the Waterman monument was pointed out as the scene of this prayer. Wherever the prayer was offered, the Washington Memorial Chapel will be its lasting memorial. The thought of that prayer and all it meant in American history inspired the Rev. W. Herbert Burk with the idea of erecting upon the sacred ground of Valley Forge a chapel where the prayer of Washington might be continued by American patriots as long as the Nation shall endure. While the Chapel is far from completion (this was

WE were under the necessity of leaving London just before the opening of the Daily Telegraph exhibition of Antiques and Works of Art at Olympia on July 19th, but not before evidence was shown of the efficiency that culminated with brilliant results, judging from the many newspaper references to the exhibition. In the course of the descriptions, mention was made in many instances to the excellence of the relatively small but singularly select stamp display. The promoters of the exhibition in its philatelic aspect worked with fine effect and Messrs. Vallancey, Melville and Godden, not to mention others, have scored heavily for collecting through their unselfish endeavors. However, it is not alone to the philatelic fulfilment of the exhibition that we address ourselves, but to the conditions that make such a display possible. It was claimed that this showing of antiques was the most representative and extensive ever made and in the list of subjects, from armor to Sheffield Plate, philately had prominent place. There was a private view announced before the opening, at which celebrities expressed their appreciation of the display. The Olympia stamp showing was one of rarities, to which societies and collectors contributed, and among the exhibitors were some of the American collectors. The newspapers almost without exception carried accounts of the exhibition and many of the provincial papers followed the lead of the London press. Further, some of the writers who had assignments there incorporated into their text, small-talk on philately that was nicely balanced. There was more than a ripple of philatelic publicity as a consequence of the inclusion of stamp collecting in the exhibition; more truthfully a wave of advertising was the result.

PHILATELIC fields do not lie fallow in England and the ground is made productive constantly. No sooner was the congress, held a short time before in London, a thing of the past than a new achievement engaged the attention of collectors there. This spirit of enterprise bespeaks of an intelligent and aggressive belief in our pursuit by persons who are active proponents of philately. Too, there must be co-operation on the part of the workers who probably represent different cross-sections of collecting. London is the world's metropolis and in our opinion, the visitor who has an opportunity to fathom its depths in a philatelic sense will have the conviction that the city easily more than retains its ratio of greatness in a stamp survey. The influence of London must be felt throughout the country.

ONE of the best-known philatelists in the world is Mr. Fred J. Melville of London and his name is one of most familiar sound in the United States, although Mr. Melville has merely pecked at our eastern coast and has not traversed the country from coast to coast, as his illustrious confrere, Mr. Vallancey, has done. However, Mr. Melville knows more about the philatelic history of the United States from first to last than anyone else with whom we have conversed on the subject. His range of knowledge in this particular is astonishing and his mind is a teeming storehouse of information about us. All developments, from minor to major, are ticketed in his active mind and when it is felt that he knows his own country even better, if possible, he must be called a philatelic genius. We need not stop at this because the philatelic world is his oyster. It is almost impossible to enumerate his activities. He contributes a stamp column to one of the great London dailies and his literary work otherwise is of a volume to impress one and is of a character to merit all praise. As a lecturer he has made a reputation that will live and in all respects he can qualify as philately's messenger of good-will. Here we have a man entering his best years who has already made a record that will not be duplicated, we believe; and while his native strand certainly is to be felicitated in having him at hand as a constructive force, yet all the countries of the philatelic world are glad to call him citizen.

THE handsome English publication, Country Life, some time ago in a review of Donald B. MacMillan's "Etah and Beyond or Life Within 12 Degrees of the Pole," speaks of the following extract: "But have the Danes carried out their great scheme to issue postage stamps? A Greenland issue might easily solve the main difficulty of the Danish home office in carrying on the costly protection of the Eskimo from the ravages of disease." Thus postage stamps are flattered as a vehicle for charitable progress, but collectors are placed in the somewhat unenviable position of opposing this broadening of the scope of the stamp issue. The real object of the stamp is to pay postage and its use should be restricted to that purpose.

ON October 4th, 1928, the Chicago Philatelic Society will celebrate its one thousandth meeting with appropriate ceremonies. It seems only a short time ago when in 1907, the same society had a carnival night on the occasion of its five hundredth meeting. There is all reason for the members of this old society to make the thousandth meeting one for rejoicing when they may pledge anew their allegiance to their pursuit. A medal is in readiness for distribution to those who attend the festivities, which are to be of a varied character. It is announced that some of the great philatelists of the country will be present at the Germania Club from 2 P. M. in the afternoon to midnight to do honor to the society's achievement; and it is intimated that ambitious projects for the future of the society will be discussed at the time. Moreover, it is the intention to pay tribute to Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer, who is member No. 1, and who will come from Philadelphia at the invitation of the C. P. S. The committees having the meeting in charge are working to make the celebration one that is fitting in every respect and certainly the end that they would achieve is one that should be viewed with all favor. Incidentally, a heading of news of the forthcoming event in the WEEKLY of September 3rd, read, "Millenial Celebration," thereby perpetrating two mistakes. The meeting is not the thousandth celebration or millennial; the intention was to say, "Millenary Celebration."

CANADA is taking a leading place in aerial postal development, as announcements that come to hand plainly show, and we understand that the design of the new air mail stamp that is to be issued at Ottawa will be an appropriate one, although its details have not been divulged as yet.

THE receipt of several copies of the New York Herald of Paris, July 8th, is now made belatedly. The feature that attracts the philatelic eye on the pictorial pages is a large group picture, wit text, "Half Million Dollars in Stam collection of rare stamps worth amount was exhibited in London dealers from all over the world can the congress at the Royal Philatelic ety's headquarters in Devonshire p The picture shows sixteen persons, of whom are ladies and makes a fine ing group; they register philatelic tion" with a man holding a stamp tongs and with others poring over books, etc.

DEALER INJURED

From Mr. Ralph J. Taylor, Bron Y., we have received the following l "No doubt you have read in the papers of the horrible subway acc that took place in New York Cit August 24, 1928, in which fifteen pe were killed and 150 injured. A few ago I received the enclosed card Louis Weissman, an advertiser in paper. While looking through the World for Sept. 2nd, I came acro article describing the aftermath o subway wreck; and in the accou found the paragraph that I have p on the postal card. I am sure tha will be grieved to learn of the uni nate accident to Mr. Weissman for all, are we not brother philatelists s ing to the end of advancing our bel hobby." The following clipping tel own sad story: "Louis Weissman o 81 Nassau Street, collector for a s agent, with an internal injury that defied the X-ray, two children and a dependent upon him, and no promise he will ever be rehabilitated."

Since the postal card sent by Mr. lor shows the postmark of August and quotes prices on "window f packets, it is evident that Mr. Weiss is carrying on and while admiring fortitude we, on behalf of our rea extend him our sympathy.

WHY I COLLECT NORWAY

By W. Lloyd Johnson

READING in a recent number of the magazine a lament of a member who chose Sudan as his "pet" country, who after getting a "complete" collection together, lost all interest therein; it occurred to me that an account of my "pet" and the reasons that led to my choice, might be of some use to him and others. Many stand shivering on the brink, hesitating in making their plunge into specialism.

I find the greatest obstacle is the fear that they may choose the wrong country. There is no doubt that there is a great danger here, which might possibly cause the venturer to cease collecting, when he finds the country of his choice has, as it were, led him into a blind alley. Of course, if he is really keen on stamps, when he arrives at the "dead end" he will retrace his steps and try another road (country).

This was my experience, and it is in the hope of helping others to avoid my mistake that I offer these notes. Realising the futility of a general collection on a small cash basis, I arrived eventually at the decision that I must concentrate my expenditure on a single country. Following the advice given frequently in magazines, I chose a simple country, namely, Gibraltar.

This advice is wrong, absolutely, and though only offered to a beginner in specialism, I consider it the worst advice possible for anybody to follow, the reason being the great lack of variety, both of shades and design. To one fresh from a general collection, the lack of variety is felt with stunning force. The comparatively few additions destroy interest; the chance of a bargain is remote. So like our "Sudanese" collector I lost faith in specialism and collected haphazardly for a time. I was like a ship without a rudder, drifting aimlessly on what to me was practically an uncharted sea. I was like Micawber, "waiting for something to turn up."

Then I had a "brain wave." I would go to the other extreme and collect an expensive country, one with plenty of variety, so I chose Belgium. Here for a time I was happy until I had accumulated most of the ordinary varieties and shades. Trying to differentiate different printings by the shades is a fascinating task, but nearly hopeless with only used stamps. When one attempts a country like Belgium one feels there is much to be learned by studying her stamps, but I could make very little headway as I was not clever enough at finding things out for myself.

In the end, the inevitable feeling came that I was at the same dead end as when collecting Gibraltar, though the journey took longer and was, I think, decidedly more interesting. It was while considering what to do next that I stumbled on what I believe is the true secret of continued interest in the collection of a special country or group. It is this. Choose a country that has a big literature. Let that be the primary consideration. Next, if possible, one whose stamps have not yet boomed in price. Finally, one whose stamps appeal to you in design or absence of some defect which irritates you; as, for instance, perforations. I detest the slight variations of perfs. in some countries and would not specialise them on that account.

Applying these three rules I found that Norway filled them better than any other country that I was conversant with. I have read much about the stamps of Norway, including all articles translated from Norwegian by Mr. Benjamin Goodfellow, of Birkdale. I am thus able to find out new things about my stamps and obtain uncommon minor varieties at the price of the normal. Further, Norway contains no expensive rarities if we except the double foot variety of the first issue. Therefore, it is a comparatively cheap country to collect. There are no irritating minor perfs., being only one variation from the normal throughout all the issues. The only point where Norway fails is in the designs. These are for the most part crude, though the posthorn and crown design "seems to grow on one," and familiarity instead of breeding contempt, seems to bring an affection only realised by the constant companionship of old friends.

Norway also supplies the student with the finest material for the study of the gradual evolution of galvanic printing. There are no unnecessary issues, bar, perhaps, the Spitzbergen one, which can almost be forgiven, because it shows us, I think, the finest range of bright aniline colours in the whole range of philately.

With a country like this in which to specialise, there can be no "dead ends," no losing of interest. I have calculated that as far as my present knowledge goes, I have to get well over a thousand varieties in used only, without any attempt at plating or pairs and other multiples. Then, of course, everything can be repeated almost in mint. But, "sufficient for the day, etc.!"

This, then, is my ideal of a country for the beginner in specialism, and others as well as the beginner. I have never regretted my final choice, but do not run away with the idea that I am now a one country man! No fear! ! I turn to Belgium, Gibraltar, Grenada, and the others for a change and a relaxation from the arduous task of spotting minor varieties, and add to them as the opportunity occurs in the simple life fashion, which supplies a change and rest, after which, I turn to Norway with added zest.

Finally, never commence specialising without a good (the best) handbook on the country or group. It is no use a beginner expecting to find important points about stamps which are unknown. Even to the experienced it is a most difficult task and almost impossible from single specimens. Whole sheets, big blocks, etc., form the main field of original research. Far beyond the reach of the ordinary purse, worse luck!—Stamp Lover.

Our Junior Dictionary

Premieres Gravures. — A term applied to the first printing of the U. S. stamps of 1861 to distinguish from the later printing, in which small modifications of design and color were made.

Preussen. — The German equivalent for Prussia as shown on the stamps for that state.

Prince Edward Island. — An island situated in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Stamps were first issued on January 1st, 1861, and these special stamps were superseded by the general issue for Canada on July 1st, 1873.

Principaute de Monaco. — Found on the stamps of Monaco, i. e., "Principality of Monaco."

Printed Both Sides. — Errors upon which the design is shown on the backs as well as upon the face.

Printed Matter, Stamps for.—Stamps issued for use on newspapers and printed matter only.

Printing.—Various methods of printing are employed in the production of postage stamps: Embossing, Engraving, Lithography, Typography, and Type-set.

Printings. — Separate editions of the same stamp or stamps issued at different periods.

Prince Henry Issue. — A special set of stamps issued in Portugal in 1894 to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the birth of Prince Henry the Navigator.

Principaute de Trinidad. — The inscription on certain bogus stamps, issued in 1894, purporting to be an issue for the Principality of Trinidad. The stamps show a view of an island with a pleasure yacht in the foreground, and they were issued by an adventurer named Harden Hinckley, who posed for a time as Prince James I of Trinidad. He annexed, to his own satisfaction at any rate, the little islet of this name, which is situated about 50 miles from the coast of Brazil, and whose ownership was once the subject of a dispute between the governments of that country and Great Britain. The island is nothing but a barren, uninhabited rock, and the scheme of foisting these labels on stamp collectors was quite unsuccessful. It is said that Hinckley lost all his money in the venture, and soon afterwards committed suicide at a hotel in Texas.

Junior Chronicle

By BEACH CONGER, JR.

Hungary.—The new Hungarian commemoratives in memory of St. Stephen (not St. Etienne as stated last week by error) have arrived. They portray St. Stephen with the crown on his head. The values are 8f green, 16f orange, and 32f blue.

Liberia. — Four new stamps have been received from this African republic, the values being 5 cents blue, 10 cents olive, 15 cents purple, and $1.00 brown. The 10 cent value portrays the President of Liberia, Mr. Charles King, while the other three show the position of Liberia on a map of Africa. All values exist with Official Service surcharge.

Morocco.—A new charity set has appeared in Morocco, consisting of ten values, sold only in complete sets at double face value, face value being 14.85 Fr. The surplus goes to flood relief funds. The values and designs follow: 5c blue (Moorish fantasia), 25c orange-red (Moor plowing with a camel), 50c carmine (a caravan), 75 vermilion (walls of Marrakesh), 80c green (sheep grazing), 1fr ochre (gateway at Fez), 1.50fr blue (airplane view of Tangier), 2fr brown (airplane view of Casablanca), 3fr violet (an old wall at Rabat), 5fr black (fete in honour of New Sultan of Morocco). The set was announced in April, but so many philatelists sent in orders that the amount of sets ordered printed had to be increased, and the delay resulted.

Persia. — The current fiscal stamps have been surcharged for airmail use, since the provisionals issued last year have been used up. A permanent set is now in preparation. The surcharge consists of the words "Airmail" in Persian and French, an airplane, and the value in English—3krans orange-brown, 5kr dark brown, 1 toman violet, 2 tom. green and brown, 3 tom. green.

New Stamp Vending Machine

(Clipping from Billy Burr)

A new type stamp vending machine has been installed in the Los Angeles Post Office. This machine gives change. If a nickel is put in the slot, the purchaser will receive a two cent stamp and three cents change; for a quarter the purchaser will receive 12 cents worth of two cent stamps and 13 cents change. Postmaster O'Brian says he expects it to save waiting in line at a window.—From Los Angeles Times.

Condition is All-Important

The first essential, whether from the viewpoint of pleasure or profit, is the condition of your stamps. Like a garden, a stamp collection must be kept free from weeds. Remember that rare stamps are common in poor condition, and don't buy them. They are dear at one-tenth catalogue price. Don't think you can get a profit on a half-formed collection of two or three hundred or two or three thousand stamps gathered together singly, when you can see from our advertisement pages almost any month that two or three thousand all different, if you buy them together and thus reduce the dealer's cost of selling them (which you have to pay 2,000 times if you buy the same number of stamps one at a time) can be bought for thirty or forty shillings. Take your collection out of the rut, where all the common little valueless collections are. Get all the price lists our advertisers offer, and compare them. Then fix on one dealer, if you can, for your regular wants, for everybody gives most attention to a regular customer in any trade, while keeping a sharp eye on special offers, and catalogue prices.—Junior Stamp Magazine.

Schoolboy's Windfall

A twelve-year-old schoolboy in Newton Abbott, South Devon, Eng., has received £190 for a block of nine stamps.

This block, consisting of the finest Indian stamps to be printed, was found in the back of a large family Bible by a schoolboy, who offered them for sale at £1 each. Another boy in the school, named Henry John Watson, bought the stamps as a speculation and arranged for them to be sold by auction. The block was bought for £190 by an agent who had been instructed to secure them for a specialist in Indian stamps.

The block dates back to 1854, and is unique. There may be a few separate stamps, but so far as is known, there is no other block in existence.

When the block was placed in the sale catalogue, many dealers were frankly sceptical. The auctioneers themselves thought at first that the block was a reprint, but they were assured by an expert that it was genuine.

Provisional Issues

There is something about provisional issues that strongly appeals to the average collector. Usually they are surcharged stamps, and surcharges have a wide appeal, owing to the possibility of errors, and being short lived as a rule they have strong speculation possibilities. But to some collectors, especially those of the old school, they are anathema. It is always interesting to read another's viewpoint so that the following comments from the pen of the late Major E. B. Evans, caused by the appearance of the Cayman Islands provisionals of 1907-8, is enlightening. Writing in Gibbons Stamp Weekly in September, 1908, the gallant Major observed: "The whole case of course turns upon the question of unavoidable necessity. The belief of most people who know anything about the matter is that real necessity very seldom arises, and that with reasonable care it would never arise at all—well hardly ever! If it were once fully understood by all concerned, from Commissioners to Postmasters and Postmistresses, that running out of stamps was a thing that must not occur, and that provisional stamps were not to be issued under any circumstances whatsoever, all this nonsense would be put to a stop at once. Of course opportunities have been afforded by the action of higher authorities in allowing little places like the Cayman Islands to have separate stamps of their own! in a climate like that of the West Indies it is impossible to keep on hand stocks of stamps sufficient for several years' consumption, consequently the stock of a low value is always at the mercy of a speculator. But a Postmaster can protect his stock if he finds it running low by refusing to sell large quantities at a time to any one person—as is often done in the case of these precious provisionals—and, in one of these insignificant little places, if there were no stamps at all on hand for a week or two, very little inconvenience would be caused, and if it were understood that, if the stamps ran out, postage was to be received in cash and the letters marked 'paid,' stamps would never run out. The remedy for the Cayman Islands disease is to withdraw altogether the privilege of having special stamps, which has been so disgracefully abused, and which need never have been granted, and let the inhabitants revert to the use of the stamps of Jamaica, which I suppose they used down to 1900, if indeed they required stamps at all."—Philatelic Opinion.

CURIOSITIES OF JAMAI

The result was that some other denominations were presse the service, and illegally mutilated duty for others. The two-pence is quartered and used as ½d, halve used as 1d, both passed untaxed. possible that other denominations similarly treated, but the extant ev of today is that of the covers men So great became the abuse, that necessary for the Postmaster by in the Jamaica Tribune of 28th A 1862, to direct attention to the fa the 1d stamp was the only one aut and would be recognised when u bisected state, all others would be as unpaid. PUBLICITY

Automobile advertising has grown magnificent beyond description. Moving picture advertising encircles the earth. A ginger ale company spends a fortune on prestige-building radio programs. Other industries, through aggressive modern advertising, have made millions of dollars from such insignificant and trivial commodities as shaving soaps, a new kind of cigarette, magazines, candy bars. . . .

Stamp dealers err in thinking themselves in competition only with other stamp dealers; in feeling that their advertising is a success if it equals or eclipses a rival's. A great part of the dealer's competition comes from outside and totally different lines—from automobiles, books, moving pictures, magazines — in fact, from every luxury or commodity which attracts, with elaborate and impelling sales campaigns, the amusement and recreation dollars of the consumer.

Dealers must look alive, then, and fight hard on the frontier of demand. Naturally we do not mean that the stamp trade should make a big rush on space in the Saturday Evening Post, at $6,500 a page! Nor yet that dealers should strive to produce expensive catalogues with five-color illustrations and a morocco binding! But we do mean—and most emphatically —that it is insufficient for a dealer merely to outclass a few of his trade competitors and feel that he has done his duty, or even done well, in stamp advertising. The dealer should try, to the limit of his ability, to produce advertisements which compare favorably with those issued by other lines of business.

This can be done—not by splurging in a wasteful or spendthrift fashion—but by following a few simple rules. First of all, of course, the dealer's prices must be reasonable.

Second, a natural but near-sighted economy must be conscientiously avoided. When a little more money spent on a circular or advertisement will produce a great many more sales, it is false economy to cut down on the cost of the advertisement. Other lines of business have known for a long time—but the stamp trade has still to learn—an important fact: that you must spend money to make money.

Third, with as much or as little money as he wishes to spend, let the dealer be thoroughly modern in his advertising. Illustrations should be used whenever practicable. A page should have adequate margins. Type should not be too small, or set too close together. And the cheapest grades of paper are generally to be avoided.

WHEN ordering stamps write "As per advt. in MEKEEL'S".

Fourth, as the stamp business is chiefly conducted by mail, a dealer cannot give too much attention to his mailing list. It should be built up by steady, well-executed advertising; kept in efficient shape by checking returns; and regularly circularized with attractive price lists or circulars. For that is the way not only to make consistent profits and satisfied customers, but to put the stamp trade on a higher level of commercial recognition and prestige.

Finally, the stamp business ought to be guided not only by what is going on in the way of internal competition, but also by developments in other lines of business, by that enormous, outside competition which—even though it has thousands of dollars to spend for advertising and prestige—must not be permitted to relegate so worthy and enjoyable a hobby as Philately to a place in the shade."

written in 1911), it is already so rich with memorials of the heroic dead as to win from Mr. Wilfred Powell, the British Consul, the title of 'the American Westminster.'

While we may not be able to point out the very spot where Isaac Potts found Washington at prayer, we can point to the tabernacle of our American Moses, which he used not only here at Valley Forge, but at many places during the long struggle for American independence. In one end of Washington's marquee are the webbing and iron hooks from which the curtain hung which made a part of the tent his most private quarters. This formed the sleeping apartment of Washington, and here he retired to meditate upon the problems which confronted him, and here, as under the woodland bower, he went to his God for guidance and support.

Miss Frances B. Lovell, a descendant of Betty Lewis, the only sister of General George Washington, has loaned to the Valley Forge Museum of American History at Valley Forge, the flag which floated over General Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge during the memorable encampment. The flag is a light blue silk jack with thirteen stars, the blue faded and the stars yellow with age. It is thirty-six inches long and twenty-eight inches wide. The heading is of home-spun linen, with three eyelets worked with thread. The stars are six-pointed, double stitched, and the silk back of them has been cut out to show the stars of both sides. The stars are not arranged in a circle, but on lines following the crossed of the British flag, etc., etc."

DEPARTMENT COVERS

I have recently acquired a small correspondence addressed to one of the Court Houses, and among them are a few of the Department stamps used on the entire official cover.

I offer the 3c Justice, which has brought as high as $52.00 at auction, on the entire cover at $15.00. The 3c Treasury from the same correspondence is to be had at $1.50. I note in the lot several 1c Treasury, a cover with a 1c and 2c, several 2c Justice, three 1c Justice on separate covers, as well as a single 15c Justice. Three 3c Navy from a further correspondence tied to three neat small covers are to be had at $6.00 each.

If you are looking for the Department stamps, unused or used, off cover, your want list is solicited. At the present time, I can furnish every priced listed variety, in mint condition and practically everything with the exception of the higher dollar States, in used condition. I also have a wonderful lot of cancellations for the specialist.

GENERAL ISSUES

If there is anything special that you desire to fill in the spaces of your general collection, either unused or used, in singles or blocks, on or off cover, I am likely to have it, or obtain it in the very near future. Important want lists which I am unable to fill in their entirety are kept on file and when the elusive variety comes to hand in one of the numerous collections or accumulations that I purchase from time to time, it is sent to the interested client.

I am in the market at all times to buy at highest cash prices United States properties of real importance, as well as choice individual items. Single stamps, however, cataloging under $5.00 each, are not likely to be of interest.

Current 11c In New Shade

The 11c peacock blue, perforated 11, with portrait of Hayes, has been known for some time in two very distinct shades.

The early printing was in a dark color, whereas several months later, the variety appeared in a new shade much lighter than the first printing.

Mr. William J. Gould now shows me a used strip of this variety in a color resembling a green more than blue and while I have not seen the stamp unused with full gum, the strip submitted does not have the appearance of a changeling. It is quite likely that an entire printing was made in this greenish shade.

Registered Mail

The Postmaster General under date of August 29th amends the postal laws and regulations, so that in the future all correspondence or other business relating wholly to matters concerning the domestic registry system is to be conducted through the office of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, while those relating to international registry system will be conducted through the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General. Postmasters in the Postal Bulletin of September 4th are advised accordingly.

30c Justice On Cover

High value Department stamps are seldom met with on cover and it is only in the case of heavy packages or large envelopes that the more desirable denominations are to be found. Mr. H. M. Konwiser has just shown me a most interesting cover showing the 30c Justice officially used from Washington to Little Rock. I recall that a similar variety was in the Ackerman Collection, but I know of no others. To date, the 90c as far as I can learn has never been discovered used on the entire cover.

1916, 1c Postage Due

There has been some question as to the existence of the 1916 1c postage due, perforated 10 and printed on unwatermark paper. Those familiar with our late issues well realize that there is no doubt as to the existence of this variety. The question was discussed quite carefully a few years back when the variety had not been seen, but at that time several correspondents sent copies and a strips of three complete with plate bers and sheet margins were noted time. Many of the larger and mo portant collections of United States contain this stamp, which is printed light shade, peculiar to the 2-cent same issue on unwatermarked There is not the slightest doubt ab variety existing.

Italy.—Commemorating Turin Exhibition and 4th centenary of Emmanuel Philibert: — Effigy of Emmanuel Philibert, standing in full armour—20c chestnut and ultramarine, 25c red and grey-green, 30c grey-green and marone, 5l violet and grey-green. Emmanuel Philibert on horseback. 11.25 blue and black, 20l violet and deep green.—Stamp Collecting.

Jugoslavia.—Our Special Correspondent, Mr. E. Arkhangelsky, informs us that, in consequence of the temporary exhaustion of the 50 paras and 1 dinar values, the local post office at Ercegnovi put on sale the 25+25p green and 50+50p brown stamps of the Danube Floods series for twelve days, July 21st to August 2nd, for ordinary postage purposes. Full supplies of the regular 50p and 1 din. adhesives have now reached Ercegnovi from the General Post Office, Belgrade.

Croatia-Slavia feud.—Three years ago it was intended to mark the tenth centenary of the foundation of the Croatian kingdom by the issue of a special set of commemorative stamps. For political reasons, however, the idea was shelved, but we learn that it has now been decided to issue three values of the abandoned set with a surcharge in aid of a fund for a commemorative church, to be erected at Duvno. The values, colours, subjects, and quantities are as follows:—50+50p green (Basilica of Duvno), 2,500,000; 1di+50p red (King Tomislaw), 2,500,000, and 3di+1di blue (Kings Alexander and Tomislaw), 1,000,000.—Stamp Collecting.

Malta.—"Postage and Revenue" provisionals. — We announced, last month, the impending issue of the existing postage adhesives overprinted "Postage and Revenue," and we are now authoritatively informed that all values of the current set will appear with this overprint.

They will include the new 1d light brown and 1½d red, forecast in S.C. January 21st, but not yet on issue, and which are to be on sale with the overprint before (if at all) they are released without it.—Stamp Collecting.

Netherlands.—Whitfield King & Co. send for note the 40c vermilion and 75c green Air Post stamps. They are square in shape and bear the name of the country at the top with the figures of value in the lower left corner. "Luchtpost" is at the base. Each stamp pictures the Air pilot in a different position.

Spain.—Barcelona and Seville Exhibitions, 1929.—Our Amiens correspondents tell us that some modifications have taken place in the commemorative stamp scheme since the first essays were submitted. As now arranged, there will be five types, comprising the following subjects:—

(c) Aeroplane.

(d) Exhibition allegory.

(e) General view of exhibition buildings.

There will also be an Express Delivery commemorative, all the stamps being from designs by Spanish artists and printed at the Madrid Mint.—Stamp Collecting.

Switzerland. — Impending.— Change of colour. Current pictorial type. 10fr steel-green.

Juventute series, 1928-29. — The subjects of the "Pro Juventute" stamps to be issued on December 1st, for use until the end of January or later, are as follows:—5c, Arms of Lausanne; 10c, Arms of Winterthur; 20c, Arms of St. Gall; 30c, Portrait of Henri Dunant (originator of the Red Cross).—Stamp Collecting.

Uruguay. — Mr. R. Roberts has shown us three values in the Olympic Games commemorative set. They are inscribed "1924-1928" and are of the following values and shades: 2c purple, 5c red and 8c ultramarine.

Wallis & Futuna. — Necessity for Stamps. It is interesting to note a statement in La Quinzaine Philatelique that the service of the single boat which visits Wallis & Futuna Islands is irregular, depending upon the quantity of copra and other merchandise to be exported. Generally the letters are collected once in from five to eight weeks. The postal agency does not pay postal orders. Only one European is in residence apart from a few Catholic Missionaries. — Philatelic Magazine.

U. S. CIVIL WAR REVENUES

A FURTHER DISCUSSION OF THE RARER INVERTED HEADS AMPLIFYING MY NOTES OF JANUARY 3, 1927

By HENRY L. DEAN, 239 Windsor Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THOSE readers of MEKEEL'S interested in the beautiful revenues produced during the Civil War period by the firm of Butler & Carpenter and their successor, Joseph R. Carpenter, have doubtless filed or will recall the notes appearing in the January 3 and January 17, 1927 issues dealing individually in considerable detail with each of the twenty-one Inverts. The discussion at that time was prompted by the obvious neglect of any serious consideration of these stamps by the compilers of the Standard catalogue for better than a quarter of a century and consequently a desire to help develop a logical consistent price tabulation based on the relative rarity of these stamps and to eliminate those paper varieties in the Proprietaries listed for years but never as yet seen by collectors. I am therefore disturbed somewhat by the advance sheets for the edition of this fall since I believe the 1928 catalogue reasonably reflects the relative merits of the first ten rarities of the invert group and any radical moves that tend to disturb the present price consistency will surely, if persisted in, result in the chaos of the past twenty-five years.

It seems superfluous to reiterate that these ten stamps compare better than favorably in point of rarity with any of the first line postage items of the world and being obtainable only by collectors of fair means it is easily understood how occasional sales can be consummated at figures diverging perhaps widely from the catalogue but I do not believe that the highest sales price ever previously recorded and probably surrounded by considerations unknown to the cataloguer should necessarily be taken as an unfailing criterion or a sound guide to the future.

Now in the thought that revenue students will appreciate basic information never published and otherwise not available I propose to deal individually at such length as seems necessary with each of the first ten inverts in my list of January 3 of last year (extract below) since nothing has arisen to alter the conclusions then reached after two decades of research. Possibly, however, a few historical notes may first prove interesting.

No invert collections of the late 90's warrant special mention but the successive dispersal between 1897 and 1911 of the fine properties of Messrs. Jos. Leavy, H. E. Deats, J. S. Dionian, J. E. Burton, W. F. Morgan, Dr. W. C. Bowers, J. R. Stanton and others enabled Mr. Clarence Eagle to form the first absolutely complete assemblage of these rarities. Shown at the 1913 International Exhibition at New York they were subsequently sold intact by Mr. E. Stern while another complete lot exhibited by Mr. A. Ballard was sold by the Scott Co. some time later to the same collector. Also shown at the time was the fine collection of Mr. Henry Gibson which only lacked the 4c Proprietary invert and the Unpunched $1.00 Blue and Black, this property being placed intact by Mr. W. H. Colson and remarketed by him in 1926 when it was broken up. Apart from these three outstanding and contemporaneous groups, there was a grand lot from a Boston collection sold by Colson to Stern in 1916 and dispersed, the W. N. Washburn collection sold by J. C. Morgenthau & Co. in 1918, an assemblage lacking only the 20c Second Issue and the 4c Proprietary

I handle thousands of old U. S. original covers every year, with the more common varieties in predominance, of course. Many of us remember when the 3c 1851 were considered almost worthless even on cover, but all of us now know what specialists have done for that stamp.

I believe other stamps—now common—have good futures, but my safe and storage capacity seems to be taxed to the limit and so I am making an offer you can't lose on.

JUST FACTS

Early in June I sold a large part of the largest, most interesting and most complete collection of 5 and 10c stamps of the 1847 issue that has ever been made.

This collection contained about 1,200 of the 5c stamps and over 400 of the 10c, including all the 200 positions on the 10c plate, many of them used on covers.

This collection also contained what is undoubtedly the finest and most complete lot of cancellations and postmarks on the 1847 issue ever gotten together, including the most nearly complete lot of 5c and 10c stamps and covers showing railway, steamboat and steamship use, beside more covers showing the use of these stamps to and from foreign countries than ever before were present in one collection.

In other respects this sale also is one of the most remarkable in the history of philately for the price paid sets a mark never before reached in specialized U. S. Never before has any part of any collection containing only two major varieties of United States regular issue postage stamps been sold outright to a single purchaser for anything like the sum paid down for only a part of this 1847 collection.

The sale was not made to a dealer, but the stamps were purchased by a collector and there were no re-purchase commitments of any kind. To this collector my most sincere congratulations are extended. To other collectors let me suggest an appointment to examine over $20,000 worth of other 1847s, including many wonderful pieces not obtainable elsewhere. Fine old U. S. before 1890 are my bread and butter.

Through a systematic recording of the cancellations or other prominent features of the better stamps in the above and other important properties and listing the buyers when transfers have been made the writer has found it is a simple matter to account for a goodly percentage of the copies in existence and the current discussion should eliminate the possibility of any future controversy concerning quantities such as cropped out some few years back when one of the rarities was sold.

4c Proprietary (Violet)

Justly regarded as the rarest of the rare there are four copies of this stamp definitely known and in thirty years the entire lot has only been spread over five collectors, Eagle having had all of the first three specimens, originally securing one from Deats. The history of the fourth copy which turned up some five or six years ago is extremely interesting, and in view of the recent death of Dr. George Hetrich, one of the earlier and foremost collectors of our M. & M. stamps, I now feel at liberty to repeat below in its entirety a letter taken from my file of correspondence with him.

"I will give you the facts concerning the 4c Invert of which I have very vivid recollections and know where they came from. About 1900, I had the permission to go to an old drug store owned by P. M. Ziegler, 526 Penn St., Reading, Pa., and I removed what I at that time thought were all the private and general issue revenue stamps on patent medicine packages. I selected for my collection one of the perfect copies of each variety, the remainder I threw carelessly in a cigar box which was packed to overflowing and placed aside. About 5 years afterwards I entered the same drug store, when one of the clerks, who had started collecting, showed me a 4c invert which he assured me he got from a package in the store. Acting different from most collectors I told him he had a great rarity and he should write to the several big dealers for offers, which he did and eventually sold the copy for $100. or $125. to C. E. Hussman & Co., of St. Louis. This copy had 2 perfs. missing and if by this time it has not been repaired can easily be traced. They were corner perforations that were missing. About 1921 or 1922 an antique dealer from Reading came to my house to see some antiques that I had for sale when he told me that there were so many calls from patrons for stamps, if I had any that I did not care for, he would like to buy them. I showed him this box of revenues, and, after dickering he bought them. He discovered another 4c Invert and sold it to Eugene Klein for $250. Klein sold it to the Economist Stamp Co. for $1,500, and the last party sold it to a collector for $2,500. Wouldn't that jar you?"

As a matter of information the Deats copy sold for $44.00 in 1900, Eagle being the buyer and this likewise being damaged I am inclined to believe it is the specimen which he later exchanged with Ballard when the latter owned two imperforate pairs of the 3c Playing Cards, and both parties desired to present the strongest possible front at the 1913 Exhibition.

The catalogue figure of $3,000. was evidently arrived at by considerin latest transaction, for all list pric adjusted by the publishers to carry count of 20%, but stamps of the cl ter of the one under discussion can be rated from any list. The pri quote the late B. L. Drew, "is mined by the strength of the des possession and the necessary pecu accompaniments." Personally I a complete accord with the current for while there is no likelihood wh of any transfers of the stamp, a top is established which should act as a to temper untoward advances in th ser rarities of the invert group.

Sevard's Twinkles

To the A. W. Shaw Company, Chicago, Ill., belongs the honor of having issued the first Business Reply Envelope 4c value. That's SYSTEM for you.

Often we have spoken of the postmarks found during this Philatelecene Period of glacial glances towards our erosive remarks on common stamps, and one enthusiast begs specialization. We find fifteen general classes of postmarks now in use, falling into three major classes, thus: machine cancels, handstamps and that third—at which the congregation heaves a soughing sigh—lastly, the desiderata and conglomerate, known at once as OTHERS. The machine cancels today are largely confined to two makes, or types, the Universal and the International. A description of neither is thought necessary, as probably 53% of the machine marks are Universals and 30% Internationals. The balance, or 17%, is divided into eight different types of dies. Of the handstamps, the nine bar grid is commonest and the numeral handstamp next. The handstamp grid is confined mostly to third class postoffices, whereas the numeral handstamp is largely a supplementary postal marking for unwieldy envelopes and parcels in the larger postoffices and also for regular cancels in the smaller offices. The fourth class postmark is a handstamp with four parallel bars, and is not a common cancel when compared to the ones named. Then there are the R. M. S. handstamps, which, altho common, are favorites for specialism as to routes. This all lends itself to those famous statistical tabulations for speculation with spectacles.

Current Postal Markings
Machine Marks:—Internationals, 28%; Universals, 39%; 20mm 6 line fall, 7%; 20mm 7 line, 5%; 20mm 6 line rise, 3%; others, 1%; total, 83%.
Handstamps: — Grids, 7%; Duplex Numbers, 4%; 31mm Regulations, 1%; RMS, 1%; others, 1%; total, 14%.
Other Cancels:—3%.
Grand total, 100%.

We might further divide each class into its characteristic types. Thus the International has the common town mark with town above, dating as usual and year below. This town is type A. The Beverly, Mass., town is Type A International, as well as Appleton, Wis., Ashland, Ohio, Freeport, Ill., Richmond, Ind., Parkersburg, West Va., Ishpeming, Mich., Winona, Minn., Tonowanda, N. Y., Clinton, Iowa, Meadville, Penna. Of the International Machines, about 73% have town A townmarks.

In the larger cities, a die number is added after the town name. This die number characteristic makes for a type B town. Of the International Machines, about 20% have Town B townmarks.

THIS LEAVES ABOUT 7% TO CLASSIFY INTO OTHERS AS THE STATION MARKS IN NEW YORK CITY, BROOKLYN AND DIE LETTERS OF BOSTON AND CAMBRIDGE, MASS., SHOW.

Thus we go on and on, never daunting in our intrepid design to overwhelm the dastard and defiant statistics which calumniate us as brash entrepreneurs into the demesnes of philately. Grandmamma, what big inlays you have!

And nowadays, when the cool of wintry nights draws you closer in, and the crackling of the hearth fires lends to your heart a feeling of warmth and security, you look about you for an understanding friend, some taggled bit of comradeship, some mutual sense of

British Colonials and the 1929 Season

The Scott Co. report a record demand for the 1929 cat., which means more collectors, and an active fall season. Price changes as indicated by the advance sheets show careful discrimination. The better grade Colonials have advanced, while the average are unchanged. This is as it should be. The collector who completes 20th Century Colonials must bear in mind that there are about 6000 major varieties, and with present demand the scarce items will be more difficult to acquire. I hold one of the largest and best balanced stocks of these popular stamps in the country, and offer collectors prompt and reliable service, and every possible co-operation to secure their needs. Want lists filled, prices quoted. Let me know your requirements. It will pay you to investigate this bonafide offer of modern philatelic merchandising.

selfish content. You perhaps will pat the dog in palliative mood, and stroke his sleek and shining coat, wondering if there isn't just a little bit of happiness that you can share to do all about you. There isn't much to do but sit back in your dreams and clash your furtive imaginations with the crass realities of what might have been? Like a bedraggled Villon, feeling only the personality of welling thoughts, you look into the smoke and think, like he—"If I Were King". Even so, your gritting teeth yield you nothing, your provocative determination to live again, to start afresh, to have all anew, is nothing but a vapid dream that wafts itself away like a cottony cloud of fleeting ghosts. Ah! you have left behind you the path whereby you could have gained an eminence, you have loitered and let the others pass, you have squandered the only free thing God gave you—Time!—and now you sit and dream—so slowly you think it—If I Were King? Well,—be a King, an Emperor, a Caesar—rule your domains cloaked in the royal purple of your office. Call forth your minions of perforation and watermark, your tributary satraps of shades and shadows, your reeves of cancel and precancel, hail them all within your lighted halls of blazoned shields, and to him who first cries, "A boon, A boon, my liege", send him for a new Scott's Catalogue.

It is a pleasant surprise, indeed, to see that Scott's are now giving us a complete listing of the different printings of these very popular stamps. This is bound to further increase the interest—and to create many new collectors of Irish. This will mean a heavy demand during the coming season—quite apart from the purchases to be made by collectors who now will find that their collections are far from complete.
The hitherto unlisted varieties will bear the brunt of the onslaught, and I particularly believe that the high values of the two Thom printings are excellent inevestments at the present prices. The numbers and cat. prices are taken from Scott's 1929 advance sheets:—

Enquiries for anything in 19th or 20th century British Colonials invited. My stock of twentieth century British Colonials alone has a market value running way into six figures—figured on a very conservative basis, and with no freak varieties or stamps of doubtful value to bolster these figures. In other words, an active stock—consisting of stamps in choice condition. Collectors should not overlook the advantages in buying from such a property—unquestionably the most valuable stock of modern British Colonials ever brought together.

THE DURBAN EXHIBITION

By STEPHEN G. RICH.

I have received the list of awards at Durban, and from it I copy the following list of Americans winning prizes:

Gold Medal	A. F. Lichtenstein, New York	Cape of Good Hope
Gold Medal	H. Lagerloef, New York	Newfoundland
Gold Medal	H. Lagerloef, New York	Hongkong
Gold Medal	H. Lagerloef, New York	Bolivia
Silver Medal	S. G. Rich, Verona, N. J.	U. S. A. 1919-21, 1c, 2c and 3c
Gold Medal	Dr. C. W. Hennan, Chicago	Proofs and Essays
Oxidized Silver Medal	J. Schmerl, San Francisco	U. S. Precancels
Silver Medal	Stamp Collectors Magazine, N. Y. City.

Every American award is the highest award in its class and section. The following is from the Natal Mercury:

In spite of the many counter attractions at present offering in Durban, there is no lack of public interest in the International Philatelic Exhibition which is on view at Messrs. Shaw Bros'. Wool Mart on the Esplanade.

The opening ceremony was performed last Monday afternoon by Mr. Walter Madeley, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, since when there has been a steady stream of visitors to see what is undoubtedly one of the most unique collections of stamps which has ever been grouped together under one roof south of the Line. It is in fact the first international exhibition of its kind ever held in South Africa.

The daily average attendance so far has been between 750 and 800 people. The responsible committee are very well pleased at this display of interest because, besides philately having a limited appeal, the fact that the Agricultural Show and Motor Olympia synchonise with the exhibition, naturally lessens the number of visitors. All through the day people are found arriving in ones and twos, but it is at night that the attendance is the heaviest. Between 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. is generally the slack period when the hall is deserted save for officials and stall-holders.

Many rare collections are to be seen, the most noteworthy being those of Messrs. E. J. Lee, of Stoke D'Abernon, England, and A. F. Lichtenstein, of New York, both of whom are collectors of world-wide repute. Mr. Lee, who brought his collection personally, is exhibiting about 30 volumes of Uruguayan issues and other stamps of the same country, all of which have been insured for no less a sum than £16,500. Mr. Lichtenstein's collection is also a costly one, and contains a block of four Cape triangular stamps with a woodblock error valued at £700.

The total value of the stamps on the exhibition runs into a considerable sum as can be gauged from the fact that they are insured for £100,000.

Most of the largest stamp dealers in the world have erected stalls at this unique show, and there is also a fully equipped Post Office for the convenience of visitors. In addition to these facilities there is a refreshment room.

APPROVALS

The question asked most by collectors is, what is the best way to add to my collection. Some prefer to buy only attractive sets, others only want lists, and then there comes the great majority who prefer to receive selections on approval that they may, at their leisure, pick and choose the stamps that appeal to them.

Our selections, arranged by countries or groups, have answered the question for many. Why not give them a trial?

All stamps are properly classified according to Scott's catalogue. All 19th Century are priced at 50% Discount and the balance according to condition and scarcity.

For advanced collectors willing to spend $25.00 or more at a time we can submit selections mounted in Scott's Loose Leaf Albums.

45,000 to 50,000 varieties always in stock.

THE COLLECTORS CLUB, NEW YORK

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS, 10 W. 86 St., N. Y. City, Chairman of the Membership Committee.

The Collectors Club of New York City was incorporated in 1896 and now consists of nearly 700 members, comprising the most important stamp collectors of the world. The particular business and objects of the Club are:—

The maintenance of reading and assembly rooms; the promotion of social intercourse among its members; the encouragement of the best interests of Philately by mutual improvement in, and the dissemination of, literary and historical knowledge relating thereto, by all proper means. The classes of members are as follows:—Honorary, life, resident, and non-resident.

The Honorary members are confined to a few Philatelists who have rendered eminent services to Philately. They are as follows:—United States—C. L. Pack, G. H. Worthington, J. N. Luff. Great Britain—The Earl of Crawford and E. D. Bacon. Germany—Prof. Dr. Carl Lindenberg. Italy—Dr. E. Diena.

Life members pay a fee of $300.00.

Resident members comprise those who reside within a radius of 30 miles from the Club. They pay an entrance fee of $25.00 and annual dues of $25.00.

Non-resident members (those living more than 30 miles from the Club) pay annual dues of $5.00 each only.

The Association for Stamp Exhibitions (subscription only $2.00 per year) was organized by Club members in 1913 and carried to a successful conclusion the New York Exhibitions of 1913 and 1926. The Association is still maintained to further Stamp Exhibitions in any part of the World.

The Collectors Club is situated at 51 West 48th St., New York, only a few minutes wark from Fifth Avenue and the Sixth Avenue Elevated, where it owns the finest and most complete Philatelic Library in the world. This great library was started by Hiram E. Deats and J. S. Rich. Then T. E. Steinway bought and presented to the Club the greatest continental library formed by Judge V. Suppantschitsh, and many valuable gifts have come from numerous benefactors. The Library now contains nearly 4000 bound volumes and between forty and fifty thousand magazines in all languages.

All members receive the Collectors Club Philatelist free of charge. This alone is well worth the small sum of $5.00 per annum of non-resident members. This journal is not only the largest and most important one published, but is now issuing with each number translations of selected countries from Dr. Munk's great work, "Kohl Briefmarken Handbuch", the English rights of which have been secured by Club members.

Regular meetings of the Club are held at 8 P. M. on the first and third Wednesday in each month from October to June. At these meetings many of the finest collections in the United States are shown for the benefit of the members. Arrangements have also been made by which all Local Stamp Clubs are asked to share in Saturday afternoon shows and exhibitions.

Inter-Club visits are a feature of our program. Each session many of the members visit nearby Clubs and in return the Club receives visits from the members of such Clubs and on each occasion many interesting collections are shown and explained to the spread of knowledge and of good fellowship.

In memory of our beloved Librarian, a fund has been started termed the "J. Brace Chittenden Memorial Fund". The capital will be invested and the interest only will be used for the binding of books in the Library and the purchase of new books. We all feel that this form of memorial is the one that would most appeal to our beloved friend, and donations will be gratefully received.

One of the most important objects of the Collectors Club is the publication of works on Philately. The following have been distributed: The 1873-83 Issue of Mexico, J. B. Chittenden (Price $1.00); Victoria, The Half Length Portraits and the Two Pence Queen Enthroned, C. L. Pack (Price $5.00); Mexico, Issues 1856-1868, S. Chapman (Price $20.00).

In Preparation: British Columbia and Vancouver Island, H. C. Hitt, and Canada, by a committee of leading philatelists in the United States and Canada.

To every true Philatelist animated by a spirit of co-operation helpfulness, a most cordial invitation is extended to join the Collectors Club. I shall be happy to send our Year Book, List of Members, and application form for membership, to Philatelists desirous of joining and by so doing helping to put Philately on a higher level in the Americas.

EDITORIAL

THE following letter on the subject of a stamp that possesses some elements of mystery in the minds of many collectors has the floor; and the intimate details divulged by Mr. Lewis will be given close attention. This letter tells the story: "Referring to Mr. Bartels' comments on the Advance Sheets in a recent article in the WEEKLY, particularly on United States No. 216a, the 5c 1888, indigo on pinkish paper: It appears that I was responsible for the distribution of this item and perhaps it would be well to have a statement of fact for the record. Some thirty years ago I bought a small lot of stamps which had been accumulated by a mail order house, which included an irregular block of ten or twelve stamps of the five cent blue Garfield on pink paper, either seven in the top row and five in the bottom row, or six and four respectively. I marketed these stamps by trading or selling, starting in at fifty cents a stamp and finally reaching five dollars a stamp for the last three or four specimens that were marketed by Mr. W. N. Howe a well-known collector in Portland at that time. The specimen reserved for my collection has the top margin of the sheet, with a straight edge and guide-line on the left, it being the northwest stamp of the northeast pane. One of these stamps was in the F. O. Conant collection which was sold by Mr. B. L. Drew and I think that there is one still in a collection in Brunswick, Maine, but I know nothing of the final destination of the other copies. It seems to me that it would be well for any collector having one of these single specimens to report same and thus establish some kind of reasonable price for same. I have always thought that the catalogue price of $25 was a buying, rather than a selling price. I shall be pleased to show my specimen to Mr. Bartels when next in New York. I was not especially interested in pairs or blocks at that time and am quite sure that I disposed of only single specimens. Yours truly, Chas. R. Lewis, A. P. S. No. 849, P. O. Box 372, Portland, Maine." When Mr. John N. Luff wrote of this stamp he said, many years ago that he had been shown this variety by Mr. F. O. Conant of Portland, Maine; and that the paper appeared to be too evenly colored to be the result of accident. In fact, the "stamp presented a generally satisfactory appearance." Mr. Conant said that his stamp was one of a lot of ten or fifteen that was purchased at the Portland post office by a collector of that city and that among the stamps was a pair with top margin, with color showing evenly on the strip. The full history of the why and wherefore of this pink paper variety would be a real contribution to our postal history. If it were an experimental issue, the philatelic validity of the stamp was established by its sale at the Portland office.

FROM Mr. Adelbert Porter, South Pasadena, California, secretary of the Pasadena Stamp Club, we have received the following letter, the original of which was addressed to the Honorable Harry S. New, Postmaster General: "The collecting of postage stamps long passed from a small boy's pastime to first place in the number of collectors and to rank with art and books, in a collecting sense. It is more than a hobby; its educational importance deserves for it a place in the school curriculum. No other subject combines so many branches of study as that of postage stamps. The collector learns geography, history, governmental procedure, coinages and thrift. The post office department has done more than any other single factor in popularizing philately. Beginning with the Columbian Exposition in 1893, the many commemorative stamps as well as the different memorial issues have stimulated interest in philately and have been of educational value. The Pasadena Stamp Club desires to call attention to an issue of stamps that would have a great educational value: that of the Presidents, beginning with Washington, one cent; Adams, two cents; Jefferson, three cents, etc. Such an issue would have an admitted historical value. These stamps should be larger in size than the regular issue and be bi-colored and attractive in appearance. We also suggest that this issue be on sale continuously but sold only when called for. This limited sale would give the P. O. D. and philatelists a fairly accurate estimate of the number of stamp collectors, as well as of their value to the department."

THE foregoing letter to Mr. New contains certain observations that hold the eye. While we cannot say that the subject of a presidential set as outlined has not been broached heretofore, the idea is one that has an appeal to some collectors. As for becoming a reality, the suggestion has no favorable chance at present. We know that the department continues to be in receipt of so many requests for special stamp issues that it is confronted with a condition that is worrisome. The latitude that the department allowed for a time in the issuance of commemoratives has become restricted by force of circumstances. The source of the money supply for special stamps is a consideration. Of course the influences in a Congressional sense that are brought to bear in favor of extra issues have their bearing; and at times, they may be irresistible, even though the cause for celebration is somewhat localized or at least is not of deep general interest throughout the country. To be given serious ear officially the presidential set would have to have strong backing, indeed.

CERTAIN of the statements made in the letter of the Pasadena Stamp Club are arresting and one that the number of adherents to philately entitle it to first place in the catalogue of pursuits we shall not quarrel with. We hope that such is the case; and there is some warrant for the assertion. It may be sufficient to say that stamp collecting is growing faster than any other pursuit that we know of and it will not be long before what for the sake of comparison may be called organized philately will reap the benefits of this increasing strength. We are sure that the Philatelic Agency at Washington has been made aware of the advance of collecting interest by the larger sales as time goes on and that its mailing list is beginning to be something in the way of a census of collectors, particularly in this country. Reverting to commemoratives, we suppose that the Chicago show in 1933, will be recognized officially by something in the way of a special issue since it was in 1893, if we except the 1876 Centennial envelopes, that the first celebration stamps burst on us in all their glory, as glorifying the Chicago World's Fair.

DURING our absence, Mr. K. Baumann, Roselle Park, New Jersey, wrote under date of August 1, 1928, to send us a photograph of a block of ten, consisting of two rows of five stamps, bottom of pane, of the 5c New York, unused, with sheet margins at right, left and bottom. Mr. Baumann said that the block was found in an old writing desk and that the finder sold it for $1.25. The block was then resold for $20 and finally came into the hands of a New York dealer, as Mr. Baumann wrote. Now, we have recently seen the paragraph published that a block of ten of the New Yorks has changed hands at the price of $4,000; and this must be the self-same block whose picture was sent in by our correspondent. It is well for stamp folks to examine old writing desks whenever they have the opportunity, as they have stored finds in the past and no doubt will continue to yield stamp treasure now and then, in the future.

Roger C. Hackett of the History partment of the Bosse High Sc Evansville, Ind., wrote recently to General Post Office of Sweden to se information in regard to the postal tem of the island of St. Bartholon The following reply was received f the office of the Director General of Swedish Post Office Department:—

"At the time when the island wa Swedish colony, there was no post-of According to a pronouncement by E. J. A. Helleday, reviser at the S dish General Post-Office, who was on said island. The letters, addressed Sweden either were delivered to masters of the ships, calling at the isl or with money for stamps they w transmitted by smaller boats to one the English islands in the neighbourh Then the letters with English stamps them have been forwarded to their tinations."

Mr. Hackett comments upon the c munication as follows:—

"The English islands in the neighb hood of St. Bartholomew are St. Ch topher, Nevis, Antigua, and Montser It would appear from the above le that letters addressed to Sweden and paid with stamps of the first issues any of these islands had their origin, in the island of the stamp, but in Swedish island of St. Bartholomew. establish that such letters were sent o inally from St. Bartholomew, it would necessary to show that they were ma not later than 1878, when the island sold to France. The date of mail might be ascertained either by the p mark, official markings on the envelo or by the contents of the letter, if th were no doubts as to the genuiner thereof. It would be absolutely nec sary to call in the evidence of the let itself before it could be proved conc sively that its cover had its origin in Swedish colony.

St. Bartholomew, which has an area only eight square miles and a populat of only 3,000, now uses the stamps Guadeloupe, of which it is a dependenc w did you like your Hyannis cov-I am going to take the credit for up the design and putting the across, and just to show you that an do the same job in Your local-have prevailed upon the Air Meet ittee at Wilmington, Del., to apply ial cachet to all Air Mail (only) s despatched on October 6th from ca Field Dedication at that point. l word came today (Sept. 10) that ould apply the cachet and possibly a mail plane take the load from ngton to the nearest point on CAM 19 for onward despatch. My figure for philatelic mail was 1,000 letters, so get busy and send your covers to Wilmington, Del., care of the Air Meet Committee, 1300 du Pont Bldg., all properly addressed and stamped for Air Mail. Let's see how many thousand covers we can load them up with!

I received word from Mr. C. A. Hartwig, too late for publication, that a special cachet has been finally decided upon for the National Air Race Meet at Los Angeles, Cal., on Sept. 8-16th.

Through the kindness of Francis J. Bradley, I am in receipt of a cover from the Canastota, N. Y. Airport Dedication of August 28th. Miss Earhart attended and spoke to the crowd. Between five and six thousand letters were sent off by special plane to Utica, where connection was made with the Albany-Buffalo route.

Winston-Salem, N. C., had an Air Meet on Sept. 1st, but no cachet was used on Air Mail.

Sunbury, Pa., dedicated Wesley L. Smith Airport on Sept. 1-2-3, and used a very nice cachet on Air Mail on those dates. Red Creek, N. Y., also dedicated an Airport on Sept. 3rd, and applied a nice cachet, as well.

Covers carried on the Eastward trip of the S. S. Ile de France, have been received back here, but no cachet was used! At $1.00 per half ounce, it does seem as if the P. O. D. could have spent 80c for a rubber stamp, just to give us a run for our money! What is needed in the Department is a collector-adviser, for the Philatelist spends a nice sum with Uncle Sam each year, and is entitled to all the cachets he can apply!

The American Air Mail Catalogue for 1929 is now in the process of being edited, and any collectors who have anything unusual in the contract routes are asked to send the information to Mr. L. B. Gatchell, 41 Grand Blvd., Binghamton, N. Y., who is preparing this section. Now don't go and write Mr. Gatchell a lot of piffle that will cause him unnecessary work, but if you have something entirely out of the ordinary, by all means send the information to him.

San Jose, Calif., will soon be placed on the Air Mail route, and the San Jose Philatelic Club has prepared a special cachet for use at that time, whether or not an official cachet is forthcoming. Dr. C. F. Barnes advises me that the Club is ready to receive covers, properly stamped and addressed for despatch on the First Trip, at any time, and as the city may be placed on the route at short notice, it would be advisable to get your covers into the Club's hands at an early date.

Coöperators this week were:—Harold G. Burwick, Glen M. Kidder, E. J. Newcomer, Forest A. Black, Dr. C. F. Barnes, C. A. Hartwig, Wm. Esselen, Jr., Francis J. Bradley, F. W. Wright*, Todd Fagan, Douglas Harwood, C. A. Forster, Chas. G. Riess, M. J. Friedman and Clarence Montgomery.*

I am advised that Col. Lindbergh will attend the Legion National Convention at San Antonio, Oct. 8-12. Will someone in that locality please check this and let us know at once if a special cachet is to be used? Thanks!

Mr. Victor M. Suarez informs me that on Aug. 20th an experimental Air Mail flight was accomplished from Tampico to Merida in the airplane "Cuidad de Tampico." On the return trip of Aug. 23rd, a quantity of mail was likewise given service. The line will soon be a permanent one, but no official date has yet been announced, and Vera Cruz, Minatitlan, Villahermosa and Cuidad del Carmen will be included when permanent service is made

Mr. W. S. Dochterman writes that 48,246 pieces of Air Mail was the record set by Des Moines on Aug. 10th, the first anniversary of the Air Mail at that point. Quite a bunch of mail, wasn't it?

Clipping from Albany, N. Y., paper states that New York-Montreal route will not start until about Oct. 1st. Mr. L. O. Dutcher sends the information.

Since writing the paragraph regarding American Legion Convention, I have received word from Mr. E. C. Cantrell that a big time is being cooked up for San Antonio on Oct. 9th, with a special cachet and everything. They are trying to get Lindy to attend and fly the mail on that day. TRY AND GET HIM! Anyone who wants covers sent out on the above date can send them to Mr. Cantrell at P. O. Box 1267, San Antonio, Tex.—BUT have them ready to mail and don't expect Mr. Cantrell to do the work for you. Covers must be STAMPED AND ADDRESSED—no money orders or letters to answer. Show Mr. Cantrell that you appreciate his offer to handle your covers for you by being a real coöperator yourself. I certainly appreciate Mr. Cantrell's offer to help readers in this matter and hereby elect him CO-OPERATOR No. 1!

From the amount of dope coming out from various quarters on the S. S. Ile de France and her catapult, it begins to look as if there is something very strange going on. If collusion can be shown, or is suspected, between the clerks handling mail on this steamer and those on board, it behooves us all to watch our step.

PHILATELY DOWN TO DATE

(Cleveland "Plain Dealer"—Durward Short.)

When the government established the philatelic agency in the postoffice department in 1921 it probably had no idea how much work it would find to do. Some of its many activities were outlined by the third assistant postmaster general before an annual convention of stamp collectors at Philadelphia a few days ago.

Of all the hobbies of childhood that live to or through maturity, that of collecting postage stamps seems in a class by itself. One is never too young to embrace it and never too old to enjoy it.

The philatelic agency acts as connecting link between collectors and the largest dealer in unused stamps in the world; that is, of course, the government of the United States. It distributes to collectors annually stickers worth more than $100,000. More important still, it arranges with postmasters in various parts of the country to furnish canceled stamps particularly desired for one reason or another.

A present big demand exists for "first day covers" which, if a layman interprets it right, means envelopes bearing canceled stamps and marks showing they went through the mail on the first day those particular stamps were available. Two hundred thousand such first-day mailings were carried by Lindbergh when at his own request he flew his old route from St. Louis to Chicago.

Collectors notify the department what they want and the postmasters, under orders, fill the order as accurately as possible. Seven thousand such orders with remittances were received on the occasion of a recent new air mail issue.

These are aspects of philately that young collectors of a previous generation never dreamed of. Uncle Sam, stamp dealer, would be a good legend for the shingle.

Junior News Notes

By BEACH CONGER, JR.

Afghanistan.—Ever since Afghanistan's existence postally, letters inside the country itself only have been carried in payment of postage by the government's stamps, foreign letters being franked by Indian stamps by the Afghan agent at Peshawar. Now the new issue of stamps has been recognized by the Universal Postal Union as prepayment of postage on letters to all countries which are members. The design of the stamp, which is perforated and inscribed in native and French wording, is the 16 pointed star of Kabul, with a small mosque inset. The values are 2 puli blue, 10p green, 25p carmine, 40p ultramarine, 50p red, and 2 rupees orange. The latter stamp is for parcel post purposes.

Spain.—The International Expositions to be held next year at Seville and Barcelona are to be commemorated postally, and the Post Office has approved the designs for six stamps, the values of which have not yet been decided upon. The first portrays King Alfonso and a view of Barcelona, second, a caravel upon a view of Seville, third, an airplane in flight over a map of Spain, probably for airmail purposes. The fourth design is a reproduction of the poster advertising the exposition, the fifth, a general view of the exposition when open to the public, and the sixth, for express delivery, a buck in motion.

Uruguay.—One of the proudest republics in South America at the present time is Uruguay. Their team won the football matches at the Olympic games, thus establishing themselves again as world champs. The design shows a pair of goal posts with the ball just going over, the whole design illuminated by rays of the sun. Below is the inscription "Juegos Olimpicos—Colombes—Amsterdam." On the sides appear the dates 1924-1928, indicating the second successive world title belonging to Uruguay. The values are 2 centesimos purple, 5c red and 8c blue. Commemorative stamps were also issued in 1924 by Uruguay because of the Olympic victory.

Stamps and Medicine

The first doctor to be represented on the postage stamps of his country is Dr. Kaczkowski, Surgeon-General of the Polish army in 1831, whose portrait appears upon three varieties of stamps issued by the Polish post office in honour of the Fourth International Congress of Military Medicine and Pharmacy which met in Warsaw in July, 1927. Although there is no precedent for a doctor's stamp, several have been issued for the furtherance of medical science. New South Wales and Victoria put on sale stamps commemorative of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, to be purchased at a premium in aid of local funds. They were of 1s and 2s 6d value, and were available for postage at 1d and 2½d respectively, the balance going towards the erection of a home for consumptives. The former represented an angel ministering to the sick, and were inscribed: "But the greatest of these is Charity." The latter bore a portrait of Queen Victoria surmounted by the word "Charity," and others depicted a mother nursing her child. Belgium, Holland, and Luxemburg have issued anti-tuberculosis stamps at various times. The Queen of the Belgians was herself responsible for the issues on behalf of the National Anti-Consumption League in 1910, which bore the picture of St. Martin sharing his cloak with a beggar. On a later issue appears the Cross of Lorraine, the badge of the League, and the inscription "Pro Tuberculatis Belli," indicating as its object the treatment of soldiers who contracted tuberculosis through war service. Another issue is about to be made in the Free City of Danzig, where six years ago a former issue of the stamps bore an allegorical design representing St. Michael slaying the dragon. For the Amsterdam Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Holland some twenty years ago issued stamps of various values displaying the figure of Hygeia; and the Luxemburg issue of 1925 depicts a hospital nurse bending over a patient.—Junior Stamp Magazine.

Haiti, 35c Cafe, 1928

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Feb. 6, 1928.—Line-engraved and recess-printed by American Bank Note Co. of New York Unwatermarked. Perforated single line 12. 35c de g green (Café).

Early in 1927 an order was given to the American Bank Note Co. of New York to prepare a design for a new denomination, 35 centimes de gourde (7 cents U. S. currency), for use on registered letters to all countries subscribing to the Pan American Postal Convention, to which the domestic rate of postage applies, i.e., 10c de g plus 25c de g for registration.

The stamps were received from New York in January, 1928, but were withheld from issue until February 6th, the day of Colonel Lindbergh's arrival from Santo Domingo City, in "The Spirit of St. Louis."

The design, which is most pleasing and effective, is patterned after the Egyptian International Cotton Congress stamps (issued January 25, 1927) and depicts two branches of the coffee tree, one with leaves and blossoms, and the other with leaves and berries, inscribed in small coloured caps, "Cafe." On a scroll across the top of the stamp, in two lines of colourless caps, is "Republique d'Haiti —Postes," while at the foot, in a straight line, is "centimes de gourde." Colourless denominational numerals appear on shields of scroll work at the sides.

First day covers bear, in black, the ordinary single lined circle (27mm) cancellation of "Port au Prince, Haiti," with the date in three lines, "6—FEV—28" in the centre, and also the special marking in red to commemorate the visit of Colonel Lindbergh, in the form of a large outline plane, whose greatest dimensions are 39mm horizontally across the wings (which are inscribed "LINDBERGH"), and 35mm diagonally, along the body. The letters (registered) were backstamped at Port au Prince (6—FEV —28), and on arrival at Pittsburgh (Feb. 15, 1928).

In issuing this stamp Haiti draws attention to its principal export commodity, i.e., coffee. In 1923-24 coffee constituted 73% of the total value of Haitian exports, and not only did France purchase 80% of the entire coffee crop, but she also purchased approximately half of the second most important Haitian export, i.e., raw cotton. Coffee dominates the entire economic situation of Haiti, and a disaster to that industry cannot fail to demoralise its entire commercial life. In 1923-24 coffee exports totalled 29,402,200 kilos, valued at Gds. 51,808,880; the total exports in that year being valued at Gds. 70,881,610. In 1924-25 the coffee exports totalled 30,767,100 kilos. (Gds. 76,999,495), and in 1925-26, 35,683,690 kilos. (Gds. 81,621,600). Port au Prince is the principal point of exit for coffee, followed by Petit Goave and Jacmel.—Philatelic Magazine.

O. N. F. Castellorizo.—This surcharge on certain French and French Levant stamps means "Occupation Navale Francaise" and "Castellorizo" the island where the stamps were used.

ON THE SIDE—

THE Associated Press dispatch of proposed Zeppelin flights from many to Lakehurst, New Jersey and turn has created no little interest in project in its philatelic aspect. The of one dollar a letter and 50c a po card from here to any European cou will prevail.

The Junior

James Thomson would encourage the juniors and train them in the way they should go, for he discovered that, amid their enthusiasm and youthful energy, it was a

"Delightful task! to rear the tender thought
To teach the young idea, how to shoot"; and with his assertion those who have mingled with the younger generation will heartily agree.

The Specialist

The specialist is not forgotten, and we find Dryden reminding us that "Errors like straws upon the surface flow," and the great rarity of some of these can be appreciated when Pope exclaims "Fine by defect"!—a state of things which cannot be understood by non-collectors.

At times the discovery of some unusual colouring calls forth an exclamation of gratification, especially when hitherto it has been a "shade unperceived, so softening into shade," with which beautiful expression Thomson speaks on this matter. So we find that specialising strengthens the powers of observation and enlivens the mind, exactly as John Trumbull puts it,

"But optics sharp it needs, I ween,
To see what is not to be seen!"

The Auction

What collector, full of hopeful ambition, being present at the Ferrari sale could not have said with Thomas Gray, "Visions of Glory, spare my aching sight!"? and as the unique British Guiana was offered many "British Mariners" felt the thrill of expectation singing through them, as over the whole assembly there fell a "silence deep as death, and the boldest held his breath, for a while" just as Thomas Campbell said 150 years ago.

And what of the unsuccessful bidders? We may well imagine their envious malice, remembering Thomas Dekker's regretful

"And though mine arm should conquer twenty worlds There's a lean fellow beats all conquerors!"

Aerosemy

For romance and high adventure, the domain of the air would seem to hold a wealth untold, and from the aerophilatelist's standpoint there is much to be said. From the days of the fabled Icarus, mankind has found that

"There's something in a flying horse, There's something in a huge balloon," and many have found that "something" which Wordsworth speaks of, as they pursued their hobby of collecting the world's air mail emissions. Alexander Pope hazards a prophecy concerning one of Britain's famous birdmen:

"And you, brave Cobham! To the latest breath Shall feel your ruling passion strong in death!"

Perhaps the Anti-Aeroplane League would be flattered by Thomas Moore's phrase in his "Paradise and the Peri,"

"But the trail of the serpent is over them all,"

which seems to neatly sum up their attitude towards the newest terror which has been added to those already borne by mankind!

New and Old Issues

And now another theme, equally controversial but also aptly dealt with. The financial aspect of the hobby has concerned collectors for some time, but whatever our opinion on the matter, we cannot deny the investment value of new issues, which, as Herrick states:

"Each thing his turn do hold;
New things succeed as former things grow old."

Every philatelist has experienced that envious feeling which inevitably is present when some older collector displays the rarities which he in his youth had purchased for as many pence or shillings as they are worth pounds to-day. In this case vain regrets are useless, but the lesson of Byron's words should be taken to heart when he tells us that "The best of prophets of the future is the past."

The Forger

While speaking of the financial inducements of philately, what of the forger who, for the gain of "filthy lucre," desecrates some noble classic by imitating it? His finer feelings may revolt against such base practice, but, as Tennyson says,

"The jingling of the guinea helps the hurt that honour feels."

Here is a picture of him, drawn by the pen of John Milton, as he gazes upon a mint triangular Cape and his counterfeit side by side:

"Abashed the devil stood.
And felt how awful goodness is, and saw
Virtue in her shape how lovely."

It is questionable whether the cheated philatelist will agree with Samuel Butler (in "Hudibras",) who opines that

"Doubtless the pleasure is as great
Of being cheated as to cheat."

A forgery in one's collection may lay undiscovered for a length of time, but even the mildest of men, finding his most treasured specimen a counterfeit, would indeed be "Beholding Heaven and feeling Hell"—to quote Moore again, and turning away feel that an experience of this kind would "Shake the saintship of an anchorite," as remarked by Lord Byron. Perhaps James Thomson would have expressed his attitude, "Sighed, and looked unutterable things."

History, Art, and Beauty

Daniel Defoe speaks of commemorative issues which have little point and doubtful authenticity as bearing likenesses of

"Great families of yesterday we show
And lords, whose parents were the Lord knows who."

"'Tis midnight, but small thought have I of sleep," might well be Coleridge's description of the ardent philatelist who, to use Thomson's words, views his penny blacks, and in admiration exclaims,

"Loveliness, needs not the foreign aid of ornament
But is, when unadorned, adorned the most."

"Ever charming, ever new," sings John Dyer, and he was right, as everyone who has been imbued with the true spirit will concur, for does not the sum total of our hobby's peerless excellence lie wrapt in John Keats's everlasting words:

"A thing of beauty is a joy for ever;
Its loveliness increases; it will never pass into nothingness"?

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) LEXINGTON, MASS.

WHITE CROWS

Did you ever see one? Well, they are very rare but do exist—offsprings from the well known Black Crows—so called errors of color. I recall as a boy such a bird in Virginia attracted lots of attention, neighbors came miles to see it.

An error always attracts attention, whether out in the world or in the stamp album, and the one of most interest to the philatelist is the inverted center. Even the non-philatelist is attracted.

Trains have been running on tracks for years but not until 1901, when the Pan American Buffalo issue appeared, did tracks start running on trains. About that time around fifty copies of the 2c red and black were found in the Brooklyn Post Office with inverted center. Some few others must have been found elsewhere, for they come in two shades. Less than sixty in all are believed to exist—that leaves about fifty available in singles. Of these, possibly eighty per cent are somewhat off center, leaving but a few in fine condition. Only when one of the larger collections are broken does such a variety become available. This year Scott very properly prices this error No. 295a at $1200.00 and copies have changed hands around this figure. I have at present a very fine copy with full gum available at $1000.00.

Here is a stamp that you can always look upon with pleasure, one that has always marched forward in price and one that adds a financial dignity to any collection. What else do you require in United States?

As I have mentioned many times before, the rare and unusual in the way of U. S. issues generally pass through my hands. If you buy or sell, write—

Washington Notes

The new Hawaiian stamps have been bringing several times face at retail and many are under the impression that the supply at the Philatelic Agency has long since become exhausted.

On September tenth, when these notes are being written, there is still a fair quantity on hand, but they are not as nicely centered as those first distributed. As a matter of fact, the entire original lot would be classed as poor, but the Agency has naturally sent out the finest sheets first and is now getting down to those which are somewhat off center. It is their intentions of distributing all that they have received from the Bureau, and will not destroy the poorly centered varieties, as is usually the case.

The contract for new envelopes, mentioned in this column last week, will be opened on Monday, September 17th, and as all details have been discussed with the contractors, it is expected that the Postmaster General will be in a position to make the award within twenty-four hours after the bids are opened. As soon as the award has been made, the Post Office will arrange to have the Philadelphia mint cut a die for the new Air Mail envelope. It is not generally known, but the dies for all of the envelopes for some years back have been made in Philadelphia.

In the Chronicle for September 10th, mention was made that Size 9 envelopes of the 1c variety had been discovered and that they were not on the schedule of those available to the general user. Inquiry has been made at Washington relative to the conditions under which special envelopes are prepared and issued. We are informed that in the case of Size 9, which is the size used for the 2-cent envelope, in lots of a million or more they have turned out the same variety in the 1-cent denomination. For instance, such concerns as he National Geographic Society, the American Red Cross and others buy one or two million envelopes at a time and ask for these sizes with the special stamp. Their requests have been complied with by the Department, but it has not found the general demand sufficient to place these upon the schedule.

For a time, it was expected that the Air Mail envelope would be available before the end of the year. In view of the fact that there are other serious contenders for the envelope contract, the new variety will not be turned out until January first or later, as it would hardly be fair to expect the present contractor to proceed with this new variety when his contract has less than four months to run. Of course, if the Middle West Supply Company are so fortunate as to receive the new award, they no doubt will endeavor to turn out the air mail envelope promptly.

Air Mail Stamps

With the new routes being established to Mexico, which in turn will go through South America, extra postage in advance of the amount charged for letters in the United States will be collected. For instance, the postage via Air Mail to Mexico on the new route inaugurated October first, will be 20 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof. There is a possibility of this being increased as the route becomes longer, and reaches other countries farther away. It would not be surprising if a series of Air Mail stamps in several denominations appeared during the coming year, uniform in size with the current 5-cent, which has given so much satisfaction. The stamp is large and because of the two colors is readily noted by the clerk assorting the mail. We are still looking for an inverted center, but as yet, the variety has not appeared.

Albania.—Two new surcharges have been submitted by Whitfield King & Co. The 10q carmine has been overprinted for use as 1q, while the 25q blue is to be used as a 5q. Both are of the 1927 types.

French Morocco.—Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the long awaited Charity Air stamps foretold some six months ago. Values and views are as follows: 5c blue: A "fantasia"; 25c red-orange: Native labourer with camel and ass; 50c red: View of Safi; 75c red-brown: Ramparts at Marrakech; 80c bronze-green: Sheep at pasture at Azrou; 1fr orange: Old gate at Fez; 1fr 50 blue: Aerial view of Tangiers; 2fr brown: Aerial view of Casablanca; 3fr violet: Storks on the old wall of Rabot, and 5fr grey-black: A fête in honour of the new Sultan. The object of the series is to assist in the swelling of the Flood Relief Fund and unlike most air stamps very little prominence is given to the aerial features, the wings and wheels with the small words "Postes Avion" being the only significant points.

Netherlands.—We learn from the Philatelic Magazine that the 40c red air stamp recently issued bears the likeness of Lieut. Koppen, while the 75c gre the same issue pictures Van der H The former is the famous Dutch air while Van der Hoop was the pilo the first trip to the Dutch Indies. men are seen in the cabins of machines.

(#2) 3c Proprietary (Violet)

The best information appears to justify the retention of this stamp as the second rarest invert, but I must correct a contemporary writer who states, "there are only about four or probably five existing" and defends the proposed catalogue listing of $2,500. There are positively six and probably at least two others, so instead of sharing in the wonderment as to why the price was lowered last year I would appreciate a logical reason for its contemplated level. I had the last specimen that came on the market, from the Slater collection in 1927, and am unbiased when I quote from my article of almost two years ago to the effect that it is "only slightly rarer, if any, than the 15c brown and black," and I certainly would not have the temerity to quote a $1,000. differential between the two stamps. The last previous example was from the original Gibson collection, which was dispersed in 1926 by Mr. Colson, and sold for $1500., which figure, published in 1927, was the basis for the current round figure list of $2,000., allowing for the regular 20% discount. Of course any discussion of selling price on these rarities is purely academic and is best answered by the pronouncement of Mr. Drew, but the point I wish to emphasize is that the 3c should be not over $500. list better than the 15c and should be more than $500. under the 4c.

(#3) 15c Brown and Black

This stamp was absolutely unknown to collectors until the very late 90's (3 copies in 1899) and was the last invert to be listed although today the writer can accurately identify seven items of which he has had four for examination. It has always proven impossible, however, to ascertain the original sources of any of these specimens, with the exception of a single and poorly centered example found in New York City and sold by Mr. P. G. Doane, and where most of the earlier possessors of the stamps have passed on the history of the finds cannot now be recorded. Two copies only have changed hands in the past ten years, which fact is interesting to note as three different specimens of the 3c Proprietary have been on the market since the summer of 1925 and while I feel that there are probably one or two more 15c lying in dormant and obscure collections the present list appears to harmonize with the balance of the group. The last sale was the fine copy from the Lapham collection in 1926, the purchaser incidentally having previously been able to secure both the 3c and 4c Proprietary.

(#4) $2.50 Claret and Black

As it was the contemporaneous comments on prices, as revealed by the Advance sheets, that prompted the present dissertation, I must take exception to the statement that this stamp "certainly should have been increased." It is a large stamp and very attractive but serious collectors of the invert group desire a specimen of each value, paying no premium for the beauty of any one, with the result that in these few stamps at least rarity is the only true guide to a sound listing. Of the $2.50 I can definitely account for nine copies, one of which just came to light in the South during the year and I am reasonably confident that one collection and perhaps two that I have not yet inspected will reveal them. In the face of this evidence I cannot reconcile an advance in price for such action would bring the stamp too close to the 15c and likewise too far away from items almost equally desirable, i.e., the 20c Blue and Black and the 2c Proprietary. I consider the current list of $1,000. accurate enough for practical purposes, although an unused full O. G. example, such as that from the collection of Dr. Bowers, could not be interpreted as coming under the price limitations for a used specimen and was rated individually. The doctor disposed of this beauty just twenty years ago, hence its earlier lineage cannot be positively determined, but it is probably the copy, and incidentally the only stamp found in the mass of proofs belonging to Mr. H. Chapman and sold by J. W. Scott in 1899.

(#5) $1.00 Blue and Black, Unpunched

Here is the one stamp in the list of which no one can speak with any assurance concerning numbers since there are about 85 punched and repaired specimens, a large proportion of which will defy detection under ordinary examination. Of one thing only is there any certainty and that is no perfect copy has changed hands since the first Ballard collection was disposed of and exact data is lacking as to the number of specimens which he held, although there were several. Eagle certainly had at least one example and I have personally seen two others that will stand the test of benzine that the stamp should always be subjected to before purchase. Both of these are in collections of long standing and a few similar accumulations made before the big find of these inverts in the N. Y. Custom House may easily bring forth another good stamp of which I will hazard an opinion that there are likely about ten altogether. This makes the real thing as rare as the $2.50 but the list price must be much lower owing to the depressing influence of the expertly repaired items that sell at low figures and satisfy the bulk of collectors. Still I believe that in the interest of preserving a balanced catalogue the price could be placed at $600.

5 Cent Air Mail Stamp

Mr. H. M. Southgate recently visited the Bureau of Engraving & Printing, and after investigation, has obtained much information which will be of especial interest to plate number collectors.

In the case of the new 5c air mail stamp he calls attention to the twelve plates made for the borders and twelve for the centers which have been listed in this column heretofore. We are told that the Bureau first prints the border and that a flat bed press prints normally at one operation from four different plates. After this printing, the sheets are dried, examined and put into the store room, an average of 2,200 sheets per day per press having been printed.

Four center plates are likewise used on each flat bed press and the sheets with the printed borders are taken from the store rooms as required without regard to the order of condition. Due to the necessity of careful registration, so that the center will fall accurately within the frame, the second printing in blue is a slower process and a press averages but 1,700 sheets per day.

Owing to the short time available for preparing these stamps, all twelve borders and twelve center plates were put to press as soon as finished and in groups of four to a press. Six presses were, therefore, required. From the way the stamps are found in the original packages, the grouping of plates on each of the six presses can be ascertained. When the plates are put on the press, they are locked into positions and not removed until the order is finished or until a plate shows signs of deterioration, when a new plate is substituted. Original grouping of the plates were as follows, the number indicating the last two figures of the plate number, as the first three figures are "195" throughout. The letters given are merely designations of the presses and are not official letters adopted at the Bureau.

Red Borders

Press A—49, 50, 51 & 52
Press B—65, 66, 68 & 69
Press C—67, 70, 71 & 72

Blue Centers

Press D—45, 46, 47 & 48
Press E—73, 74, 76 & 77
Press F—75, 58, 79 & 80

The first plates completed were, no doubt, the lower four numbers, for both borders and centers in combinations of these plates were those first put on sale at the Philatelic Agency. Sixteen combinations of these numbers have been found.

The next group that have been located are from the B press combined with D; then A press with E; and C press with E. Combinations with C and D; and A and F also have been showing up, but are few in numbers, but so far we have not found combinations of B or C with F. These we can look for later.

Mr. Southgate states that theoretically all combinations should be equally common, but there no doubt will be some much more difficult to find than others. All border plates have averaged about 25,000 impressions per plate and no doubt the plates for the blue center will average about the same.

As all of these presses have been in operation simultaneously and the stock is delivered to the store room indiscriminately, it is likely that every combination will sooner or later be found, in which case there will be 144 different varieties. If one considers collecting both the left and right plates showing the word "TOP" in red and in blue respectively, there will be 288 for the complete collection.

Up to the present time, Mr. Southgate has located 56 combinations from the left pane and 50 from the right pane with a total of 77 different rights and lefts.

Business Reply Cards and New Postage Due Stamps

Under date of September 14th, the Postal Bulletin devotes nearly two pages to the Business Reply Cards and letters wherein postage is paid by the firm receiving the communication. Such circular postals and letters are now being used quite extensively by business houses in accordance with the Act of May 29. 1928, which went into effect July 1, 1928. The Bulletin describes further regulations which become effective October 1st. The charges are 1 cent in excess of the regular postage, that is 2 cents is collected on postal cards and 3c on the normal letter.

The collection of postage on this class of mail is by means of the postage due stamps, so that the increased use of the 3c postage due will no doubt be brought about.

However, in the case of quantities being returned at one time, postage due stamps of the highest denomination available are to be used for the purpose, so that we may look for the high denominations to be quite common in the future and it would not be surprising if postage due stamps in denominations of $1, $2 and $5 appear in the not far distant future.

Advertising

Chambers of Commerce and other business associations are taking advantage of the air mail service to advertise their city. Through the courtesy of Mr. C. F. Jones, I have just received an air mail letter, in which the wide-awake Chamber of Commerce of Montrose, Colorado, uses a postal marking reading, "First Air Mail Flight from Western Colorado Sponsored by Chamber of Commerce in Montrose—Gateway to American Alps—Tues., Sep. 11, 1928, 12 Noon."

At the Aeronautical Exposition at Los Angeles from September 8th to 16th, where the National Air Races took place, special circular markings in magenta

TWO SCARCE STAMPS

Supplies in dealers' hands of the 5c 1902 imperforate are now practically exhausted —this means that this stamp is due for a rise in the near future. We can quote mint singles $7.00, pairs $14.75, blocks $29.75, also mint plate block of 6, $47.00.

The 3c 1908 on Blue paper is another very scarce and much underpriced stamp. We can offer fine unused singles for $19.50 and a fine block for $80.00.

Match and Medicine stamps — those United States revenues, which our government printed in private designs to suit the diversified fancies of hundreds of manufacturers of matches and of patent medicines —are fast gaining in popularity. Their many colors, shapes and sizes present variety of design that no group of stamps can equal.

I am one of the few dealers who pretend to keep a stock of them and I do not hesitate to say that they are much underpriced by Scott. Catalogue prices have not been changed in years, while all other United States issues have soared in price. Yet they are government issued revenues!

New general selections are now ready to send to regular customers or those who send reference (a bank and two stamp dealers preferred).

U. S. CIVIL WAR REVENUES

A FURTHER DISCUSSION OF THE RARER INVERTED HEADS AMPLIFYING MY NOTES OF JANUARY 3, 1927

By Henry L. Dean, 239 Windsor Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

(#6) 20c Blue and Black

As I have previously had occasion to point out, this rarity was never appraised at anything approaching its real worth until very recent years, when I believe Mr. Elliott Perry was the first to draw public attention to it, the list then advancing from $80.00 to $500 between 1924 and 1926. From the beginning of the century it had remained at $17.50 to $25.00 for fifteen years, thus placing the few copies that arose within the reach of all U. S. collectors of the period, and it may be possible that an example or two have thus drifted into old and relatively unimportant collections that are still buried. There is more likelihood, however, of Eagle having gathered in all that came to his attention, as his cost marks on several of them still indicate, and I do know that the large collections of J. R. Stanton and W. N. Washburn lacked this item although both had the 25c, and the former the 15c and $2.50 as well.

Certainly the only copies changing hands for many years past were the three from the White, Ackerman, and Lapham collections in 1925 and 1926, all of these having been originally used in N. Y. C., and canceled March 30, 1872. I have examined three others as well, these being without visible cancellation, although two of them have the appearance of being cleaned. Three others that I have located bring my total to nine, or the same as the $2.50, but I have reason to believe that a continuation of my search will reveal the whereabouts of three more.

Reviewing all of the circumstances, therefore, I cannot advocate any changes in the respective listings of the $2.50 and the 20c, especially so in view of the volcanic price upheaval in the case of the latter while the list of the $2.50 has already been doubled in the past five years.

While fully appreciating the great rarity and desirability of this stamp I have long felt that an entirely disproportionate glamor has been built around it, but this condition is probably largely due to incorrectly placing it on a price parity with both the 15c and $2.50 just ten years ago. Of the ten copies which I personally know about, two are uncanceled (one O. G.), four are beautiful sound specimens, one is cut by a circular die, and the magnificent Washburn copy sold in 1918, and resold from the Hurd collection this year, is now badly torn. There is likewise a creased spec one damaged at the side, and one v badly faded head concerning whose ent locations I am not informed which with two others which I am dent will eventually appear, make a of at least fifteen.

Concerning the present price I feel that it is a trifle high, i.e., in tion to its immediate neighbors i group of rare inverts, but the enthu over the years, especially on the pa those recalling the jump from $40. $500.00 list is not easily dissipated its effects are to be noted in sales p

(#8) 2c Proprietary (Green

The history of this little item whi date has only been found on Gree per parallels that of the 20c second in that it has long been unappre and correspondingly undervalued though it is most certainly better the 25c and probably as time goes o prove to be fully as rare as the 2 $2.50. Today I know positively of seven specimens of which I have five and owned the last two that on the market, in fact it was the sa my last copy at $440.00, when th was $200.00 that accounts for the pr catalogue of $500.00. The stamp slightly thin, otherwise I should held it for at least $750.00, at whic ure a sale could be very easily con mated today. Two of the known e ples are uncanceled and my present is O. G. All are characterised by r dull heads.

(#9) $1.00 Green and Black

As it was the proposed advance o most 80% in the list of this stamp partially induced me to set forth facts on these inverts I wish to say if rarity is to be the guide to an or catalogue of them the new rating r sents too sharp an increase and doe harmonize with several others.

regular intervals for the past twenty-five years, and I rather expect to see a few more although they develop at points far removed from the source where the stamps were applied.

Three specimens at least are known with extra vertical or diagonal perforations, such copies being decidedly interesting varieties and formerly much sought after on all the regular issues, as well as on inverts, by the earlier specialists.

Mention of these extra perforation varieties prompts the writer to digress for the moment and to observe that they occur on all the issues of 1862 to 1881, and have been personally seen on the 1c, 2c, 5c, 10c, 30c, and 70c inverts, the $200.00 second issue and the 2c P. H. Drake & Co. Noted by Mr. E. B. Sterling, the first serious student of varieties of our revenues, his price list of 1888 invariably quoted levels for these extra perforation varieties in excess of those for the normal stamps. Years later a very wealthy collector carried the specialization of these stamps to such a degree as to absorb practically all supplies, and while they are still very closely held the discerning collector can occasionally pick them up today and usually at levels below those which their scarcity should justify.

Concerning the eleven remaining inverts in the list there seems to be no point in discussing them in detail as they are all obtainable within a reasonable time, but do require some patience on the part of the collector, and especially so if fine condition only is desired. Still the person without some fair degree of patience and still more enthusiasm should never start a collection of revenues, i.e., if action is desired and the expectation is to gather more than a representative lot of singles or unless such a field is simply regarded as one of the branches of U. S. to be regularly attempted by the filler of album spaces.

I trust, however, that this dissertation on the first ten rarities will be generally interesting and perhaps helpful to some, but will be pleased to hear from any readers to whom various questions may be suggested or from present holders of any of these stamps now unknown to me. I am likewise always glad to have any of these varieties submitted for inspection or for notation of cancellation, or to see anything rare in the general revenue line that would provide an item for discussion in a further article on these interesting stamps that were produced solely for stampic purposes.

A REVIEW OF SCOTT'S ADVANCE SHEETS ON IRISH FREE STATE

By Thos. C. E. Hunter, A.P.S., No. 3097.

My congratulations to our philatelic godfathers on the new arrangement of the stamps of this popular country, as shown on pages 834-837 of their 1929 Advance Sheets. The arrangement and necessary additions will not fail to please most of the collectors of these interesting varieties. The make-up is more methodical than any I have yet seen.

The revised quotations seem reasonable, considering the market on the "other side" although No. 37 Thoms 5/- seems a little underpriced at $20.00. Thoms 10 pence used seems also underpriced about a dollar.

The minor varieties are all well handled. The notes before No. 59 Harrison Coils are excellent, as no one could be confused with this printing after glancing at the middle "e" of "Eireann," and a similar note could well be used either before or after Harrison Coils, No. 19 to 20 as follows: Letter "i" of "Rialtar" is always lower than the "R" or "a". These two memos will assist the student in correctly placing these coil varieties.

Perhaps the hardest placings are the "R over S" and "R over Se" varieties of both Dollard and Thoms printings. The easiest way I find is to note that the down stroke of the last "r" in "Rialtar" must be to the left of the apex of the "A" underneath it and not to the right or on top of the letter. This, however, is digressing from the main subject.

May I offer for Scott's consideration the relisting of Nos. 77, 78 and 79, Dublin Castle or Government printing. There are three types widely differing both in setting and values—First setting had the figures "1922" close together and known as the "Narrow setting"—5mm. Next came the "Composite" setting when, as noted in the footnote after these numbers, Scott states, were narrow date and wide date "se tenant." These should be collected in pairs or blocks. Then the 3rd, or present setting, when the date was widened to 6mm same as the original Thoms and known as the "Parallel spacing." These later printings are in bright glossy ink, and can be easily distinguished from Thoms Nos. 56-58. The 2/6 and 10/- of this setting is rare on the Perfect R and Perfect S plates, respectively.

I submit these changes to Mr. John Luff for inclusion at the earliest date same as the settings of South West Africa are listed.

There is no doubt in my mind that the new arrangement so admirably laid out will stimulate interest in this "New Country," and serve to make even more popular the various emissions. Having studied them since their inception I would be glad to help anyone with advice through the columns of Mekeel's Weekly by answering any questions asked.

Anyhow I am delighted with Irish "as it now is."

REASONS FOR CHANGING THE DESIGNS

Of the Stamped Envelopes Beginning With the New Envelope Contract January 1, 1929, Respectfully Submitted to the Post Office Department by H. Clay Reed, Newark, Delaware.

The present designs have been in continuous use since 1916. If they are continued thru the coming contract, up to the end of 1932, they will have been in use for 16 years, a longer period than any set of envelope designs has been continued. Previous sets of designs have been used for the following periods:

1857-1861—4 years.
1861-1870—9 years.
1870-1874—4 years.
1874-1887—13 years. Previous designs re-engraved. New 5c design added 1875. New 2c designs October, 1883, November, 1883, 1884. New 4c, 1883.
1887-1899—12 years.
1899-1903—4 years.
1903-1907—4 years.
1907-1916—9 years.
1916-

New designs were adopted in 1922 for adhesive postage stamps, resulting in greatly increased interest in stamps by young and old. If the Post Office Department is sympathetic toward stamp collecting, as stimulating public and individual interest in history, geography, and general culture, this favorable attitude should extend impartially to both stamped envelopes and adhesive stamps, since they are essentially identical in character.

If new designs be adopted at the beginning of the new contract, January 1, 1929, dies can be engraved at the expense of the contractor (if my construction of paragraph 19 of the "Proposals and Specifications" is correct). Any expense involved in preparing new designs would be met many times over by the sale of envelopes to collectors thruout the world.

Aside from the above general considerations, it is suggested that a different portrait or design be used for each denomination of envelope stamps, as is the case with adhesive postage stamps. Disregarding the collector's concern with distinctive designs, at present one-cent envelope stamps of green color may be confused, by those who handle envelopes, with the four-cent stamps, of identical design, printed in black. This is especially true of envelopes of colored paper, and applies with equal force to the two-cent envelope stamps of red, which are of exactly the same design as the one-and-one-half cent stamps of brown.

H. Clay Reed.

DESIGN OF CANADA AIR STAMP

(Hamilton "Spectator,"—H. A. Kiehl)

The new aerial mail stamp is the first regular stamp to be issued billingually in Canada, although a special issue on the Confederation Jubilee was in the two languages. The new five-cent stamp, the post office department announced to-day, will be ready for issue at all city post offices September 21, and at the other post offices as soon thereafter as possible.

The stamp will be printed in sepia and will bear a design as follows: Map of Canada on a globe with two female figures joining hands over a panel bearing the word "Air," at the top of an airplane; at the bottom figures 5, with the word "cents" between. This special air mail stamp will be used to prepay all classes of air mail at the rate of 5 cents for the first ounce, and 10 cents for each additional ounce, for conveyance over the following air-mail routes: Montreal-Toronto daily, except Sunday. Montreal-Albany, U. S. A., and over any air-mail route in the United States.

I have recently purchased a fine and very valuable collection of United States stamps formed in the last 20 years by a New Jersey collector. I have mounted this in four large Oriel Albums and can show it to local collectors by appointment at the address below.

I can only give a brief resume of a few lines in this collection:

1847, 5c, 6 unused, 3 pairs and 27 used.
10c, 3 unused, 1 pair and 24 used.
1851, 1c, Types 1A and 1B, pair and 6 singles.
1c, Type II, 19 unused, 99 used (3 cracked plates).
1c, Type IV, large number, including blocks of 6 and 9.
3c, 188 unused, hundreds used.
5c, 1 unused, used 2 strips of 3, pair and 19 singles.
10c and 12c, grand lot, all types in singles, pairs and blocks.
24c, superb unused, wide margin.

The 1857 issue is a grand lot, including superb centered block of 12, unused, 12c.

1861-67, 5c buff, 2 unused (1 has full gum), 15 used.
3c scarlet, finest centered I have seen.

The later issues are just as fine, especially the 1869.

The collection is also noteworthy for the number of unused strips of 3 to 6 stamps with imprint and plate numbers. These are much rarer in the early issues than has been supposed. In a sheet of 100 you can get 25 of the popular blocks of four, but only two strips with imprint. Think this over! ! ! The plate numbers also show the order in which the many shades were issued.

Selections of any group, unused or used, will gladly be sent on approval at very moderate prices to collectors known to me or after usual references.

SEEN AND HEARD—

Have received from J. V. Van Volkenbergh of Denver, Colo., a letter from the Montrose (Colo.) Press describing a first flight between Montrose and Pueblo. It came in an envelope bearing a first airmail flight cachet from Montrose, under date of Sept. 1. Another cover was also sent by Raymond R. Robbins of Colorado Springs.

We are indebted to Hans Lagerloef of New York City for a catalog issued by the Swedish Government and covering the donations made to the Postal Museum in Stockholm by Mr. Lagerloef. The book is added to our library with thanks. A fine page half-tone picture of Mr. Lagerloef occupies a prominent place in the catalog. A list of the exhibits made at the Durban Exhibition has been mailed this book. He secured two gold medals for Newfoundland and one long in Class 6, and a gold medal for Malta in Class 8.

CONGRATULATIONS and well wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Meyer of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Meyer and Miss Dorothy Haslam of Philadelphia, Pa., were married Sept. 1, with Miss Mrs. Max F. Bier as attendants. Mr. Meyer is proprietor of the Cortlandt Stamp Co., and the event may really be called a philatelic wedding. A host of friends will wish the newly wedded pair great happiness.

We have received from Harry W. Lacy, Jr., a newspaper clipping giving some particulars of the first meeting of the Peninsular Philatelic Society for the season. This society is one of the clubs promoted by the Y. M. C. A. of San Mateo County, California. Any boy in San Mateo, Burlingame, or vicinity who is interested in stamp collecting will be welcome at any of the weekly meetings held Thursday evening at the San Mateo Union High School.

The new stamps for the Canal Zone have been issued, but will not be on sale until October 1, for the 2c and 3c and October 3 for the 1c. Clipping from Harry Leonard.

CLIPPING is at hand from John J. Hoffman taken from the Albany Evening News. It gives us the information that a new paper called the Journal has appeared in Missouri, honor being William Howard Taft, a 16-year-old student and distant relative of Chief Justice Willard Howard Taft. The paper is described as being 8 pages, four by six, and contains news, editorials and advertisements.

STAT trade magazine is issued monthly by the Pickering Lumber Co., Kansas City, Mo. In the July number is a fine tribute to stamp collecting and to the father who appreciates the schooling a boy can get from stamp collecting. Clipping from Dr. T. O. Perrin. Philip H. Chase sends us a similar clipping which was taken from the Cooperweld Magazine. A certain syndicate is evidently putting out a number of publications under different titles, but with similar contents.

OUR valued contributor, Harry E. Huber is on his way to Newfoundland. Doubtless our subscribers will profit by his explorations into the postal conditions of the island through subsequent numbers of the WEEKLY.

WE are indebted to A. Brown, Jr., for one of the best philatelic features that has appeared in the press for many a day. It is a "Gasoline Alley" cartoon from the Sunday News of New York. It occupies a full page and is devoted to a pictorial trip around the world based on stamps. Twelve good-sized pictures are shown in colors and the educational features of stamp collecting are well presented. Similar clippings from other papers are at hand from Robert E. Dunlop, Wendell I. Gray, M. P. Ganey and M. F. Gerkin.

IF you need a pricelist of airpost covers, stamps and first day covers, write the Berkshire Exchange, Cummington, Mass. It will prove of value to the specialist.

THE report of J. E. Guest, Sales Mgr. of the A. P. S., made to the Convention at Toronto showed total sales effected for the fiscal year of $80,266.00, or a gain of over $19,000.00 above previous fiscal year. In the several years Mr. Guest has managed this department, total sales have been in excess of $350,000.00. His goal for the current fiscal year is $100,000.00. Truly a wonderful record.

NEW AIR MAIL SOCIETY

By R. J. SCHWARZ.

The National Air Mail Society of Chicago, had its first regular meeting on September 12. The most important business of the evening was to decide on the provisions of a constitution as submitted by R. J. Schwarz, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Interesting points in this document are that there is to be but one class of membership, everyone receiving equal benefits; that there are to be no honorary memberships; that there is to be a Sales Department exclusively for air mail stamps and covers; and that permanent headquarters are to be maintained in Chicago.

President E. O. Howle gave a talk on "Our First Air Mail Route." He explained that the first route in the U. S. was started on May 15, 1918, by the War Department between Washington, Philadelphia, and New York, the country's three most important centers during the War. The postage rate was 24c a half ounce and included special delivery service at destination. The latter fact accounts for the numbers by hand or by numbering machine found on all these early covers since that was the method of keeping check of special delivery mail. On July 15, 1918, the air mail rate was reduced to 16c an ounce and 6c for each additional ounce; this still included special delivery service.

On August 12 of that year the Post Office Department took over the service entirely, receiving 17 planes from the War Department. On that date a new landing field was opened at College Field, Md., and many important officials were present to witness the christening of the first plane operated by the Post Office Department. Mr. Howle was present at this event and sent two covers by the plane. He says that these are the only two covers of which he knows in the hands of collectors.

On December 16, 1918, the rate was reduced to 6c an ounce without the special delivery service; and this rate continued in effect until July 19, 1919, the last flight over our first air mail route. On this last flight a special 2c rate was put into effect.

A full copy of each of these talks given at the meetings twice a month is presented to each member to be kept in his album with the corresponding covers or to be filed away as useful information. In addition photostatic copies of newspaper clippings and pictures telling of the flight are furnished to members at a low cost. Clippings and data regarding flights on which talks are to be given are requested from members to be loaned for the information contained and, are then returned by the secretary. The next lecture will be on Route C. A. M. 1, and lectures on C. A. M. 2 and 3 are in preparation.

The Headquarters of the American Air Mail Society of Chicago, are in Rm. 1627, 159 N. State St., Chicago, Ill.

EDITORIAL

A CORRESPONDENT in Ottowa, Canada, sends us the following communication from the postal department, dated September 15, 1928: "Postmasters are informed that a 5c Canadian air mail postage stamp is now being printed and will be ready for issue at city post offices on the 21st of September, 1928, and at other post offices as soon thereafter as possible. The stamp will be printed in sepia and will bear a design as follows:—Map of Canada on a globe with two female figures joining hands over a panel bearing the word, 'air'; and at the top an airplane; at the bottom figures 5 with the word 'cents' between. This special stamp should be used to prepay all classes of air mail at the rate of 5 cents for the first ounce and 10 cents for each additional ounce for conveyance over the following air mail routes: Montreal-Toronto; Montreal-Albany, U. S. A., and over any mail route in the United States."

IN the Chicago Sunday Tribune for September 16th, the artist, King, who has immortalized "Gasoline Alley" by his pictures gracefully drawn and teeming with human interest, for so many years, commends himself to stamp collectors by devoting his page to the philatelic theme. The page is philately unrelieved, and the twelve pictures comprise a series that become worthy of note for a fanciful and sentimental treatment of our subject. The first panel represents Uncle Walt and Skeezix looking over the stamp album. Walt says that he has collected stamps for many a year and that in imagination, one may travel all over the world through their suggestions and learn something about each place through the stamps. Skeezix wants to go on the trip. They start in one of Columbus' ships pictured on the 3c Columbian and turn over a few pages and land in Bosnia and Herzegovina, now part of Jugo-Slavia. The little boy says that he cannot pronounce Herzegovina. Then a jump to Bulgaria is made and Canada is next with the new 20c on which Skeezix can see a train, a man on horseback, a dog team and a ship, "all at once," but the airplane should not have been slighted. China is identified by a "Chinese junk boat" and Germany on the 2 mark air mail provides the object that "looks like a thunder bird," according to the lad. The 4 filler Hungary shows the harvesters working by hand and the 25c Liberia pictures a beast that frightens Skeezix, who wants to go elsewhere. They skip to Norway with its polar bear looking at the airplane; and then for a change they make Nyassa with its giraffe. A short cut is taken through Ukrainia with its windmill back to the alley in time for dinner. Uncle Walt and Skeezix serve only as auxiliaries in the pictures which have an imaginative quality that is delightful; and it is apparent that King is a collector at heart. The reveries are such as to make one realize that the stamp album furnishes a travel tour that for interest and comfort cannot be matched.

THE pictures by King are a feature of many newspapers published in this country and Canada, a fact that means that this effective handling of philately will be seen by millions of readers under favorable conditions. There is enough suggestion in the page to inspire a desire on the part of a percentage of readers to inquire into the subject portrayed by the colored panels. Here we have coöperation from a compelling source and we think that this endorsement of collecting will have its effect. Already we have received the page from several readers. Mr. H. G. Bliven of Brooklyn saw it in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat while en route to the west. Mr. John P. Eames, Northboro, Mass., sends it from the Worcester Sunday Telegram, and others have forwarded the page. We expect a dozen other copies in the course of the next few days.

MR. VERNE A. LEMOYNE, Paris, writes: "I read the account of your visits to the stamp Bourse here, which was a good statement. I have been to this Bourse for many, many years, as I am in Paris half the time, and agree with you that the frequenters of the Bourse are as varied in character as possible. You will find good and bad in any city, and it is not wise to say that this Bourse is any better or worse than any other group of collectors, free to come and go. Now, as for getting rare stamps at low prices, it is not often that one does although there are stories of wonderful coups. Only if rarities get into the hands of collectors who do not know their value is it likely that a great bargain is gained; and that is not often because knowledge of stamps is well distributed in Paris and many other cities on the continent.

THE following letter has been received from Mr. L. A. Wardour of Washington: "The estimate of the number of stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers required for the four year period, beginning January 1, 1929, is 12,800,000,000; and the Post Office Department recently rejected the bids of three contractors for the supply because the bids did not comply with the specifications. New bids were invited and they will be opened on September 17, 1928, and a decision made as soon thereafter as possible. It is always possible that when a new contract is entered into there will be a change in design, and while the present envelopes seem to be generally acceptable, new types would have the flavor of novelty." Early in September, the department told of the expiration of the present envelope contract at the end of the year, but Mr. Wardour's observations on new varieties is interesting in the light of the suggestions of Mr. H. Clay Reed to the Postmaster General, as published elsewhere.

IN one of the newspapers under the head of New York correspondence, we find in a list of "some unique New York organizations," one called "Sanitary Postage association." Visions of a band of bearded sages holding communion in secret chambers bent on research in the Sanitary Fair issues give way to the sober thought that perhaps lickless stamps of some kind are the object of this organized attention. Too, a writer in a paper says that stamp collecting could be included among the political issues by a candidate with safety as it would not start religious, race or economic controversy. The voter could "take it or leave it." We may have this quotation somewhat involved as we trust to memory in repeating it.

A READER says: "In my travels in Minnesota, several years ago, I bought up Norse-American when the Stamp Agency no longer sold them. At one town, the postmistress told me that a collector there had bought several sheets of each value, and I went to see him, but he would not sell unless he 'doubled his money.' This was too for me then, but I have just ret from his town with two sheets of t and one of the 2c for which I pai man, who is now older (and I w over three times face as he wa longer content to double his money moral of this little tale is that he your paper, I find, and in conseq knows a thing or two." As we said we do not speak of these stam their price relation because of co changes in quotations, and those want to follow the trend of these st should see the advertising column real interest in these attractive st supplemented by a speculative appea is felt by some collectors account an active market in them.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

Official figures covering the increase in Air Mail since August 1st disclose that the total poundage for the month of August amounted to 418,821, an increase of 95% plus, over July and just short of 100% over June figures. C.A.M. No. 18 lead in volume, with C.A.M. No. 17 second.

The Post Office Department has warned Philadelphia, under date of Sept. 8th, to make the landing field safe, or be taken off the Air Mail route.

Speaking of Philadelphia, how many of you "got in" on an entirely new First Trip over C.A.M. No. 19, when daytime service was inaugurated between New York and Philadelphia on Sept. 1st? This service was announced in the Postal Bulletin and got by pretty nearly everybody! The plane leaves New York (Hadley Field) at 5.00 A.M., arriving in Philadelphia 5.35 A.M. Returning, leaves Philadelphia at 8.30 P.M. and arrives at Hadley Field in 35 minutes—9.05 P.M. No special cachet was used, but covers from the trip are really a part of the First Trip collection.

The Second Assistant P. M. Gen., Mr. W. Irving Glover, writes that the cachet used at Uniontown, Pa., August 23rd, about which I asked for information in the Sept. 8th issue, was unauthorized and unofficial. Likewise the cachets used at Sunbury, Pa., on Sept. 1, 2 and 3.

Bridgeport, Conn., will dedicate an Airport on Oct. 12th. No information as to a special cachet yet. If one is used, it probably will be applied by the Chamber of Commerce.

The cachet used for the National Air Races at Los Angeles, was a corker and impressions were clear and clean. The design was attractive and small, well drawn and a welcome addition to any collection of this class of covers. I note several different colors were used during the week, with no attempt made to hurry the job of applying the cachet.

Montrose, Colo., dedicated an Airport on Sept. 11th, a plane being utilized in carrying the mail collected at Montrose up to Pueblo. The flight and ceremonies were under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Montrose. Covers that went by plane to Pueblo bear the Montrose cachet and are cancelled on the face "Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 11th, 3 P.M., 1928." An innovation in local cachets appears on this bunch of covers, for the C. of C. state the time of the flight—12 noon—in their cachet.

Approximately 1,600 covers arrived from France on the First Trip of the S. S. Ile de France. The first return trip, New York-Paris, carried about 2,400 covers. These refer to the covers given special Air service, of course.

And in connection with the above service, we understand that due to the loss of the plane, there will be a discontinuance of service, temporarily at least and possibly for some time to come.

Quite a list of coöperators this week. The Mexico-New York route caused many to send clippings covering the announcement, as well as Airport dedication announcements. The list includes—Raymond R. Robbins, Ellen Godfrey, Anna M. Schafer, Clarence Montgomery, Charles Boyer, Charles A. Forster, R. O. Briggs, Frank Murphy, J. P. Penning*, Charles F. Jones*, Merle C. Debben*, O. H. Phinney*, E. C. Cantrell, C. C. Beals, W. J. Kotab, W. S. Dochterman, W. Irving Glover, Todd Fagan, Mrs. H. W. Haupt, Rev. Joseph Dreyer, William Orr, Gordon H. Crouch, Dr. T. O. Perrin, Donald Levy, Albert N. Brown, Glenn M. Kidder, Buell A. French.*

Collectors who sent their covers to the P. M. at Youngstown, O., for resumption of service, have a nice experimental flight on hand if the cancellation reads Sept. 3rd. To test the field, a plane landed at Youngstown and picked up what mail was ready, and Mr. J. P. Penning states that some of the covers that had accumulated in the Youngstown P. O. were sent out on this trip. The regular service was resumed on Sept. 10th, and a special cachet was applied to mail in the hands of the contractor, Mr. Clifford Ball.

In connection with the announcement last week in regard to San Jose, Calif., I neglected to state that covers, properly addressed and STAMPED, ready for despatch, can be sent to the Secretary of the Philatelic Club of San Jose, Dr. C. F. Barnes, 85 East San Antonio St., San Jose, Calif. As The Philatelic Club have prepared a special cachet to be used when the service begins, you will be assured of something on your cover, although it is probable that the POD will recognize the event, when it takes place.

I have just received a cover from a correspondent in Costa Rica bearing a special cachet, used for a few hours only, in celebration of the arrival of the Mexican aviator, Col. Roberto Fierro, in Costa Rica.

Newport, Vt., held an Air Meet and Dedication on Sept. 15th. Covers sent to that point bear a cachet reading, "Flown by courtesy of Vt. Airways Corp." in two lines.

Keene, N. H., held an Air Meet on the two days, Sept. 21 and 22. Covers were given a special cachet. Details next week.

The second annual Radio and Aero Exposition will be held in Boston during the week of Oct. 1st to 6th. A special cachet will be used at the Show during the week, similar to the one used last year. You can send your covers to the Colonial Air Transport, Inc., 80 Federal Street, Boston, with proper instructions for dispatching. No covers will be mailed that are empty, unsealed, unstamped or otherwise undesirable. The New Air Mail stamps are now on sale pretty generally and if you are unable to secure them, use an ordinary 5c stamp. The contractor has too much to do, without buying stamps for you, so send your covers properly stamped and stuffed, ready to go!

1. 1. 17.—This date represents Jan. 1, 1917, and is found on Bahamas 1d Red Cross stamp. It was supposed that this would be the date on which the issue should be sold, but delays in printing and shipping resulted in their delivery at Nassau five months later, in May.

Patzcuaro.—A province in Mexico where provisional stamps were said to have been issued during the revolutionary period, 1867-8. The stamps are catalogued with reserve, their authenticity being questioned.

Particular.—This word is found overprinted on certain official stamps of Nicaragua on which the word OFICIAL has been barred out. The meaning of the word is "particular" or "special" in English, but its special service has not been indicated and the stamps were used for ordinary postage.

Italy.—A new commemorative set from Italy has appeared on the fourth centenary of the birth of Prince Emmanuel Philibert of Savoy. It was he who drove the French out of the duchy and converted it into a peaceful and prosperous state, second only to Venice. The portrait by Giulio of Milan is shown on the 20 cent. chestnut and ultramarine, 25 cent. red and grey-green, 30 cent. green and maroon, and 5 lire violet and grey-green. The statue showing him on horseback and in full armor, which was erected in 1838 at Turin, is the design of the 1.25 lira blue and black, and the 20 lire violet and deep green. The stamps are printed by the Government Bank Note Office and watermarked crown device. According to rumors, a set commemorating the tenth anniversary of the victory at Piave is to appear. A set commemorating this event appeared in 1921 on the third anniversary.

Jamaica.—According to the annual report of the Jamaica Philatelic Society, changes are near at hand for the current values. The design of the ½d stamp was altered early in the year, and there is reason to believe that the King's head will appear on the 1 and 1½d values soon. The Jamaicans evidently have seen the current set long enough and wish to gaze upon other scenes.

Belgium.—This year's charity stamps are to be issued for the benefit of the national committee for the campaign against tuberculosis. Pictures of the six most famous cathedrals, executed by Mon. De Bast are to appear on the set. They are: Notre Dame de Tournai, Notre Dame D'Anvers, Sainte Gudulé de Bruxelles, Saint Sauveur de Bruges, Saint Bavon de Gand, and Saint Rombaut de Malines. This series promises to be a very artistic one.

France.—Earlier this year a set featuring the famous historical buildings and monuments of France was announced, and designs were submitted and approved. The first of this set, the 3fr, will be issued the last of August. It portrays the facade of the war-scarred Cathedral of Rheims, designed by M. Verecque and line engraved.

Gold Coast.—On August 1st, the long-awaited new issue, printed by Messrs. Harrison & Sons of London, of ten values appeared. The design shows the head of King George and a vignette of the Castle of Christiansborg. Paper is watermarked with Script C.A. The values are: ½d green; 1d brown; 1½d red; 2d grey; 2½d orange; 3d blue; 6d lilac and black; 1s red-orange and black; 2s violet and black, and 5s green and carmine.

Hungary.—From 997 to 1038 A.D. St. Etienne, first king of the Magyars, ruled over Hungary. On August 1st a set of three values was issued in commemoration of the first king, and will remain in circulation for two months. The stamps themselves have not reached us at present.

Russia.—Another famous penman receives homage by the way of postage stamps this month. He is Leo Tolstoy. On the 100th anniversary of his birth, September 10th, two stamps will be issued, the 10 kopeks showing a modern portrait of the writer, and the 28 kopeks Repins painting of Tolstoy at the plow.

CORREOS ANDORRA

By PERCY A. HILL.

Inasmuch as there is now a set of stamps for Andorra, being surch. CORREOS ANDORRA on the current Spanish set to the 10 ptas and including the Special Delivery, the following remarks may be of interest to readers of MEKEEL'S, relative to Andorra.

Andorra is a wedge-shaped country, 20 miles by some 25, lying in the Pyrnees, between France and Spain. It has a population of about 6,400, who wring a living from its rocky hills and valley, and which is eked out by smuggling. A package of cigarettes costing 20 centimes in the valley of Andorra costs 80 centimes outside, which gives a good start in carrying on the contraband. The chief town is Andorra la Veille or old, with San Julian de Loria. Sta Colona, and in the northern part, where everyone is looked upon as a spy, lies Llivia. This is a Spanish town in France. Away back in the XVII century Spain lost a war to France and the treaty called for the delivery of 33 villages. Later the King "rued back" the treaty claiming that Llivia was a town and not a village, so for 250 years it has paid tribute and has its post carried by Spain, altho technically it is in France. It has 600 people and three posts of customs officers, two French and one Spanish.

This extremely old settled valley dates its political structure much further back than either Spain or France for that matter. San Marino has its own stamps, but Andorra was hoary with age before San Marino existed. Even today it smacks of the medieval with its old churches and towers loopholed for archers, its pig and goatskins for wine, its strings of pack mules bearing the celebrated diamond hitch, which was probably where this hitch came from originally, its unique dress, speech and customs, for blunderbuss and knife still settle controversies.

Like the neighboring province of the Basques it has its rights and fueros that go back to ancient times. Charlemagne recognized its freedom for services rendered him in the field. Louis le Debonaire had the Andorrans fight with him against the Moors, and later they fought Louis himself. Napoleon looked it over, "It is a political curiosity" he said, "It must be preserved." It has maintained itself as a political entity for more years than either of its great neighbors; Spain to which it is attached and France with which it also has communication.

For almost a thousand years it has given tribute to the Bishop of Urgel in Spain, but it pays few taxes to anyone. Each of the six cantons annually elects four councillors and these twenty-four choose a president. The salary is only nominal and they receive feed for their horses when the council is in session. The only things required of their budget is a few slates to repair the roof of their massive council-hall at intervals.

There is, however, a fine road that leads up the valley of the Valira River, but for the most part the valley is sterile, the hills rocky and the trails obscure. The Andorrans are of a strong and independent type, tenacious of their rights and dignity. Nearly all receive an office during their lifetime and they never relinquish the title, hence one could easily raise a regiment of brigadier-generals amongst the 6,400 population. The motto of this little quasi-republic is Domus Concilii, Sedes Justicia.

IN BRIEF—

WE are informed that a stamp society will soon be organized in Madison, Wisconsin, where there are a number of real collectors.

THE Scott Stamp & Coin Company announces that the 1928 editions of the International Junior Postage Stamp Album and the Modern Postage Stamp Album are now ready.

IT looks as though the American-Mexico air route will become a reality on October 1st; and we now take the story of successful negotiations between the two countries seriously.

THE Postmark issued by the Springfield, Ill., post office pictures a parcel post patron telling the clerk that he is sending some ice cream to his aunt in Panama because it's terribly hot down there.

HERE is a notice that should have had place several months ago. Under date of June 10, 1928, Mr. G. F. Fisher, 36 East 72nd Street, New York, writes: "A book of Norway and Sweden which I had on approval from Mr. James of London was recently stolen from me. Value, thirty-three pounds. Any publicity you could give which might aid in the recovery of the stamps if offered for sale would be appreciated." We regret the delay in spreading the news.

A RECORD has been established by Mr. L. E. James, Washington, D. C., who sends a batch of clippings to the number of twenty-eight on stamps and allied subjects.

MR. ALBERT MARION, Indianapolis, Indiana, says that he has had a letter returned to him that he sent to Siam over a year ago, which contained some U. S. stamps for exchange with a collector there, which "are welcomed home."

ANYONE with half an eye can see that hundreds of local societies will be established in the aggregate during the coming season. Even the small towns will be able to support a stamp society during the busy days that are in the offing.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) LEXINGTON, MASS.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL

I have recently acquired the 1857-1869 portion of a wonderful collection of used United States singles. This collector has been accumulating these stamps for upward of twenty years and some time back weeded out the varieties that were not in first-class condition and which were unimportant. In the little collection which I now own, particular stress has been laid on condition and cancellation.

I note, for instance, forty-two copies of the 1857 24-cent, each in either a different shade or with an odd cancellation. There are nine copies of the 10c August, six being in pairs. There are numerous 5c browns, 10c greens, and 30c oranges.

Among the 1869 issue, I note several denominations used in Japan, and upward of thirty or forty copies of the 15c showing bumble-bee postmarks, red British transits, towns in different colors, etc.

These have been mounted into several approval books and will be submitted to the serious collector.

If there is anything else that you are looking for in the way of United States Issues, either used or unused, including blocks, I am likely to have them.

Philippines

Mr. Walter Brugmann writes that the new postage due stamps of the Philippine Islands, which were placed on sale at the Bureau of Insular Affairs at Washington, on July 10th, had not been placed on sale in the Philippines up to August 18th, the day of his letter. He, therefore, questions as to whether these can be considered issued stamps when they have not appeared in the country for which they were printed. Local collectors are much disappointed that they should have been placed on sale here previous to their appearance in the Islands, so that as a matter of fact stamps mailed privately from this point have reached the Philippine collectors, ahead of any sales in the Islands.

Canal Zone

Under date of September 6th the Executive Department of the Panama Canal Zone issued a notice sent by the Director of Posts addressed to all postmasters, stating that a permanent issue of 1c and 2c Canal Zone stamps bearing likenesses of General W. C. Gorgas and General G. W. Goethals respectively, will be placed on sale early in October. The 2c stamp which will be printed in red and which has been designed and engraved by the Bureau of Engraving & Printing will be available on October first. The 1c stamp in green will not be placed on sale the first day, but will be held until October third, which is the anniversary of the birth of General Gorgas, whose portrait appears on the stamp, the General having been born on October 3, 1854.

The U. S. 1c and 2c stamps surcharged "Canal Zone" will be continued in circulation until further notice and will be offered by the post office clerks to all patrons, unless the new issue is specifically requested.

A supply of the new stamps will be sent to all postmasters in the Zone without requisition under date of September 29th.

Postmasters are especially cautioned, however, not to make any sales of the new stamps before 8.00 A. M. on the days specified above.

Mr. R. S. Carter kindly sends the above notice for our attention and states that the local papers carried notices to the effect that the present issue of the 1c and 2c stamp would be discontinued, but the above circular shows that this is erroneous.

NEW STAMPED PAPER CONTRACT

Postmaster General New today awarded to the International Envelope Corporation of New York the contract for furnishing the Post Office Department with 12,800,000,000 stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers for the four-year period beginning January 1, 1929.

The award was made as a result of a readvertisement for bids, the first bids, opened August 7, having been rejected. As a result of the rejection of the original bids and the calling for new ones the government will have saved $2,124,000, the difference between the low bids of the September 17 and the low bid of the August 7 opening.

The accepted bid of the International Envelope Corporation was $13,209,739.70. The same company in August bid $15,-333,061.79.

Only three bidders contended for the contract, the other two being the Middle West Supply Company of Dayton, Ohio, holders of the present contract, and the United States Paper Goods Company of Cincinnati.

Each of the bidders made considerable reduction over their previous bids. It was estimated that under the present contract, in existence until January 1, 1929, it would have cost the government more than $20,000,000 for the same quantity of envelopes and wrappers.

Since 1907, with the exception of a short period of a few months, the contract for furnishing stamped envelopes has been in the hands of the Middle West Supply Company of Dayton, Ohio, under the name, in earlier years, of the Mercantile Corporation.

"THERE IS NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN"

GORDON H. CROUCH.

"Once upon a time in the days when Philatelic Publications were scarcer than they are now, we used on the days upon which our Magazine came into our hands, to at once glance at the Answers to Correspondents. One of the most frequent enquiries was to this effect, 'Shall I collect so-and-so?' The reply of the Editor as was to be expected, generally authorized the enquirer to collect whatsoever he pleased; and we used to wonder why the applicant could not do this without asking others for advice.

But this question assumes now-a-days, a more important character than it did of old; the more we undertake to do, the less is our chance of being able to do it well. We know from sad experience that when one, who for years, has quietly collected stamps, first sees the collections of some of our Philatelic Magnates, our primary impressions of delight, are very quickly followed by a feeling of discouragement, and his second thought is that if this is to be stamp collecting, he is not in the race at all, and may as well retire at once.

He is only too apt to look with ungrateful contempt upon his modest album which has afforded him many hours amusement. This is of course foolish, and if the disconsolate one would at once abandon the idea of obtaining the unobtainable, and, on the other hand, resolve to search diligently for those interesting minor varieties, which may often be had for but a small outlay, and the trouble—or rather charm—of searching diligently for them, then he might soon get together a collection which philatelic stars of even the first magnitude, would be glad to pick over.

Looking at the multiplicity of new issues and new values, is it not probable that many of us will shortly be obliged to content ourselves with collecting stamps of some particular country or group? Every year it becomes more difficult to get together a collection of obsolete stamps; every year the new emissions to be looked after becomes more numerous, and one's labours become more arduous."

The above is not a modern wail of anguish dealing with the prolific floods of new issues which have been inundating the stamp world since 1914! It is just an extract taken from the Philatelic Record of London, dated December, 1879. What would Mr. Pemberton think of conditions to-day, I wonder?

Doesn't this prove that man is always the same, always complaining and criticising on the slightest provocation? After all, isn't the "conclusion of the whole matter" reached by altering the old quotation to read,—"collect what you like, how you like, and when you like"?

Some rather pretty shields here. No. 6 is perhaps the most common, as well as being one of the prettiest. It comes in black also, and probably in blue, or a bluish black, as most of these designs of the period are in several colors, and I have made no actual record of all colors, meaning on these designs which appear on these 2c 1883 stamps. No. 10 is also rather common. There are several designs quite similar to No. 10, some being from Utica, N. Y.

When you removed your Civil War "Patriotics" from the accumulation of old covers you have, I suppose you thought most of the fun was gone from the lot, yet there is something of interest left if you have any luck at all. Listen to what I saw in Toronto.

At the A. P. S. Convention right after the Banquet was over, a request was made by the Committee, that Members fetch in some of their collections to show to the gathering. Soon little groups were in evidence, and the variety of subjects was large and unusual. Not knowing which way to turn, I followed the crowd, and found myself at the group hovering round Mr. H. C. Flierl, who had a large volume of covers before him, though I could not see what was in his book from my point of disadvantage owing to the earlier arrivals, so I hung round waiting for a look.

The sotto voice remarks were highly unintelligible—one man remarked to another "Why that's only five miles from home," while another said ". . . and it was totally destroyed by fire in 1893, I was at that fire myself."

"Now what kind of a collection would that be," says I to myself?

So I stood round waiting to get into the front row, or at least near enough to see what this was. It was a large volume of Old U. S. covers each wearing the return address of some hotel. Many were very handsome, some picturing the hotel itself, while others had appropriate remarks in favor of the traveller resting there for as long a stay as he could make. Some gave views of the hostelry, generally calling it the "new" hotel. They surely made an interesting collection, and if you start such a collection you will soon become much interested in it.

There is a growing sentiment toward saving these old covers with unusual return addresses. Many pretty college return addresses are found. This too, applies to those used by some business firms, they often appearing in neat designs in color, and these things to which we formerly paid a mere passing glance are now sought by the collector who has a historic taste, or a liking for the pretty designs that sometimes come his way.

Railroads and steamships frequently used a small colored design with a picture of the Steamship or Locomotive embossed, colorless; and these are very handsome in some cases, and the Ship Lines and R. R. Routes are welcome adjuncts to the periods of those early days, and enter happily into a collection of '51s, or '69s, etc.

Banks as a rule used the return address on their envelopes; but they were not so well pleased with their buildings apparently as the schools, colleges and hotels, for we seldom see any pretty banks depicted in the "Returns." Generally the return was a conservative heading, all in printed form, with the "If not delivered in ..... days, etc.," and that alone. Not much for the collector who craves the odd and fanciful creations.

The old Charter Oak used by a well known insurance company was beautifully designed, and is well worth keeping in its somber gray, which covers the entire face of the cover. Another well known one is the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. design which is also in a

Supplies in dealers' hands of the 5c 1902 imperforate are now practically exhausted—this means that this stamp is due for a rise in the near future. We can quote mint singles $7.00, pairs $14.75, blocks $29.75, also mint plate block of 6, $47.00.

The 3c 1908 on Blue paper is another very scarce and much underpriced stamp. We can offer fine unused singles for $19.50 and a fine block for $80.00.

pale printing all over the face of the cover, and shows Chinese subjects, with much lettering. There are many of these soft lithographs, and they are skilfully designed, and very interesting when you have say ten or more to enter as a collection.

After the Civil War certain business firms adopted a portion of the old patriotic designs in the return address, and you will probably notice this if you secure such covers. One candy company used the earth with the flag atop, and a drum mfg. company of Westfield, Mass., used a figure of Liberty.

The embossed envelopes form a nice collection also. One of the commonest patriotics is the little eagle enclosed in a circle of dots, with rays extending from the wings, the design being much like the reverse side of the old "Quarter," and the size is about the same as the quarter. Then there is the Scott, and various flags embossed without color. Colleges and Hotels used the embossed returns, as did many business firms, and they should make a neat collection by themselves.

Telegraph companies used various returns. They make an interesting side line collection. I have one that I like particularly as it is rather historic as well as being an interesting one to look at closely. It is the "Franklin Telegraph Co." At top left is Mr. Franklin sitting on the edge of a little sand bank, right hand lying loosely in his lap just as the photographer placed it apparently, while from his left hand rises a rather sluggish string, which eventually reaches a kite high up among some billowy black clouds. A couple of little lightning flashes are playing round the kite, and Franklin is just sitting there with a happy smile on his face, everything being harmonious and serene—a truly pastoral picture.

Express Returns are of much interest, and they are generally in color to add interest to the collection. They probably exceed in number the Telegraph Co. "Returns," meaning in early covers. The Adams Co. furnished a large variety of these from various parts of the U. S. A.

So you see, you had better give your old accumulation of covers another search before you swap them for whatever you have in mind, as there is plenty of interest if you go in for the various things which are not a minor variety in the stamp itself, or some fanciful postal marking.

I had a card handed me once with a list of the various side lines that this collector was saving, it had three columns of fine print listing what he desired. As this was merely in adhesive stamps, when we come to add cancellations, and then add the various forms of cover collecting, it is no wonder that stamp collecting is getting to be the prize form of amusement among those who have the collecting spirit in any way developed.

Non collecting friends who have returned from "trips" across the "pond" often tell of seeing tourists studying the various stamp collections on display in certain cities, and they marvel at the folks who leave their tourist party for "just a minute" whenever a stamp shop looms up in their line of travel. No tourist party ought to allow stamp collectors to travel with them! And no real collector wants to travel with a party—"aint it the truth?"

NOTES FROM THE FAR EAST

By Percy A. Hill, Munoz, P. I.

Two Philippine Post Dues are here but to date have not been released to the public. Possibly by end of the month will be sold over the counter. My article in Mekeel's of August 2nd, 1926, still bears out my contention in reference to the Madrid-Manila air-mails. The holders demand ten times face and still have considerable stock. If it were not an air-mail issue I should recommend that they hold it some thirty years? ?

From China I hear that after the printing plant is removed from Peking to Nanking—the new capital—an issue will be put out commemorating the Nationalist successes. There are about ten coil machines installed here since last February, selling the 2 centavo stamp in coils, two for five cents. This is the only Philippine coil stamp. Stamps supplied by the Government thru Washington and machines by a private party.

The Chang-Tso-Lin sets surch. SINKIANG were only on sale one day in Pekin to authenticate them. A few days after the Sinkiang Government changed hands to the Nationalists by the assassination of the governor. They should be the scarcest of all. The C-T-L surch. KIRIN are still being sold (July 29th) at P. O.'s there (Manchuria) by request.

WAYNE STAMP SOCIETY, DETROIT

Now that the summer is on the wane the days are getting shorter. Cooler evenings are setting in, the great outdoors has had its days. Mr. "Fall" is now ready to beckon you to the indoors. Outdoor sports, bridge, cards, social gatherings from now on. While everyone to their hobby, as the saying goes, "A man without a hobby is like a pump without a handle." Well, the stamp collectors always are with a handle. They handle the stamp situation well. The stamp collector who sticks to collecting during the summer months profits by it. He gets in on issues that may bring a profitable result while the collector who passes up collecting in the summer must hustle up to catch the collector who stuck to it.

The Wayne Stamp Society, composed principally of members residing on the east side, from a small beginning has grown to a club of about 100. Here are also many collectors, members of the Michigan Stamp Club. For several years they met at the old Fairview hall. Since that the new St. Clair Community building has been put up and the Society has been given the use of this building.—Mack Avenue Enterprise.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

News arrives that causes a shudder to run through our entire collection! We slipped — and slipped badly! Just imagine, a new route opened and no one was there! Miami-Havana flight took place on Sept. 15th, and the plane carried 344 lbs. of mail out of Miami, 1,040 lbs. out of Key West, a total of 1,384 lbs. and not a single cover aboard! D——! Well, here is the story. Mr. George T. Street sends a cover and newspaper clipping, which states that the first flight took place on the above date, the plane leaving Miami at 9 A. M. A stop was made at Key West and the landing took place in Havana at 1.35 P. M. No official cachet was used at Miami, as the New York mail was transferred direct to the plane, not passing through the Miami P. O. The mail leaving New York on the 3.00 P. M. train goes through to Key West as heretofore, but mail leaving on the 7 P. M. train is routed through Miami and given service by plane to Cuba. Passengers are carried over this route, the planes having a seating capacity for eight, and a schedule goes into effect on Dec. 15th, that will give Miami and Havana direct service. This route is the fore-runner of a complete service from the U. S. through the West Indies and back up the Central American coast to Mexico City, connecting there with the Mexico-U. S. route.

I have received a number of letters from collectors who have sent covers to Postmasters at points where Airport and Air Meet cachets were possible, and the covers have been returned with the statement that no OFFICIAL cachet will be used or is known. For your information —and I thought that all Air Mail cover collectors were familiar with this fact— the Post Office Department does NOT give official recognition to these affairs, confining themselves to contract routes, and in a few cases, very special flights where cachets are used. Consequently, NEVER SEND YOUR COVERS TO THE LOCAL POSTMASTER for the Airport Dedication cachets. Send them to the local Chamber of Commerce, or the American Legion. By so doing, you will relieve the postmasters of considerable work in returning your covers, with explanations, as well as insure yourself of getting any cachet that is to be used.

The Postmaster at New York sends me the official record of the number of covers carried on the First Trip from Paris to New York by the S. S. Ile de France that was given the special Air Service, and the number carried back to France on the first Eastbound trip. New York to Paris, 657 letters and 856 other pieces, including prints, etc. Paris to New York, 1,606 pieces. In the "Postal Bulletin" under date of Sept. 20th, there appears a notice suspending the ship-to-shore service temporarily, probably due to loss of plane on the last trip to France, and inability to secure a substitute in time to resume service on the next two trips of the vessel.

Sharon, Pa., held dedication services for an Airport on Sept. 22nd, and covers carry an UNOFFICIAL cachet, oval in design and reading "Shenango Valley Aviation Meet, Sept. 22, 1928, Sharon, Pa."

Here is a most peculiar Airport Dedication cachet! Typewritten across the stamp "Carbondale, Illinois, Airport Dedication, September 16, 1928", in three lines. This is the first one I have received of this character and it certainly is a novelty, to say the least!

Mr. C. A. Hartwig writes that another Lindbergh cover was made during the recent National Air Races held at Los Angeles. On Sept. 10th, Lieut. Williams, a member of the Army squad flying under the euphonious appellation of the THREE MUSKETEERS, crashed and was seriously injured during the manœuvers on that date. He died on Sept. 11th, and a special order was forthcoming from the Army Air Corps Headquarters at Mines Field, dated Sept. 12th, appointing Col. Lindbergh his successor. During the balance of the week, the Colonel acted in Lieut. Williams stead, thereby giving the public a complete set of new thrills, and collectors a new set of Lindbergh covers.

By the time you have read these lines, the two big events of October 1st, will be history and I trust that you were successful in getting your covers through to Mexico City and way stations, as well as Montreal, Quebec and Toronto. If your name is on the Canadian Post Office's mailing list, you probably were aware of the Toronto-Montreal extension, through the bulletin sent you. Burlington and Poughkeepsie were left out in the cold,

The coöperator list this week is a long one and the many clippings, letters, covers and information received are appreciated by collectors throughout the country, I can assure you. Paul P. Wentz, A. L. H. Kirkwood*, H. C. Carpenter*, E. Strasser, E. C. Cantrell, George T. Street*, Buel A. French, C. E. Jandrue, Jr., F. O. Nelson, J. W. Barta, L. O. Dutcher, Wm. Esselen, Jr., A. C. Henderson, C. A. Hartwig*, Harold K. Frederick*, John B. Jackson, Lloyd H. McEwen, John W. Stanton, C. A. Forster, Billy Burr*, Jos. Glenczewski, Francis C. Ryan, C. S. George*, John Thomas*, Henry F. Kohr, J. J. Lipsey, L. B. Gatchell.*

Mr. H. C. Carpenter sends a Cincinnati "Airace" cover from that point, dated Sept. 22nd and 23rd, the cachet being in the form of a rainbow. NOT OFFICIAL.

Another novelty has been received from Mr. H. K. Frederick, the cover carrying a cachet that reads "First Nonstop Pickup From The Ground While Plane Is In Full Flight, etc., etc." The cachet is square and was applied by the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce, Chillicothe, Mo. The event was the successful attempt of B. M. Tuxhorn, inventor and pilot, to pick up a sack of mail without landing his plane. Mr. Tuxhorn made two trips to St. Joseph, Mo., with mail picked up in this manner, the letters being forwarded from that point by Air Mail. Mr. Harry F. Kohr sent in the newspaper account of the affair.

Mr. C. F. Jandrue, Jr., has presented me with still another novelty, this time an Ile de France cover, mailed Sept. 3rd, AT SEA, and shot from the vessel in the plane on the same date, arriving in Boston ON THE SAME DATE! Can you beat that for service? Mr. Jandrue states that "luck was with me and it was a long chance," but he certainly must have worked fast to get the covers through!

On Sept. 24th, a marker was to be dedicated to the memory of W. C. (Billy) Robinson at his grave in Grinnell, Ia. Billy was one of the pioneer Air Mail pilots of the country, holding, it is believed, the second Government license ever issued. Back in 1914, he carried out a flight under the auspices of the Des Moines Capital, taking mail from Des Moines to Chicago via Kentland, Indiana. Starting his flight October 17th, he was delayed by fog, finally arriving in Chicago. A special cachet was applied on Sept. 24th, to Air Mail which read "Dedication of Memorial for Billy Robinson, Grinnell, Ia., September 24, 1928, Second Authorized Government Air Pilot, 1914." I am indebted to Mr. C. S. George for the above facts and a cover from the affair.

We may illustrate the cachet to be used Oct. 9th, at San Antonio, Texas, for the "Record Air Mail Flight," that is being sponsored by the San Antonio Chapter of the N. A. A. during the American Legion Convention. Through the courtesy of Mr. E. C. Cantrell.

Mr. J. J. Lipsey advises that on Aug. 1st, the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce applied a special cache[t] Air Mail reading "First Flight Unde[r] Rate, Pikes Peak, Colo. Springs, [Aug.] 1st." 1,590 letters were carried f[rom] Colo. Springs to Denver, and 200 [were] sent out to Pueblo. Not very many [cov]ers to the latter point, that is certain

Lansdowne Field, Greenville, [Ohio] was dedicated on Sept. 23rd, covers b[ear]ing a four line cachet. This field [was] named after the commanding officer [of] the Shenandoah, who met death [while] in the discharge of his duties on [the] vessel.

The new 5c Canadian Air Mail st[amp] was issued on Sept. 21st, and is most [at]tractive. The color is a shade of br[own] the design, an upper portion of a gl[obe] showing the Dominion, two female f[ig]ures clasping hands, an airplane in fl[ight] and other details. The color will [not] take cancellations well, as covers re[-]ceived so far have been conspicuous [by] the fact that the cancels completely [ob]merge the stamp.

New Approval Books

From the Estate of a recently deceased Newark collector—I have bought a number of collections of countries in which he specialized during the last twenty years. This collector only bought early 19th Century stamps and selected them very carefully for condition. The following are now arranged and priced very reasonably:—

SWEDEN
Three books. The 1855 skbco. are a fine lot and include 3s green (2), 6s grey and brown (9), 8s orange and yellow (12), 24s red (7). The 1858-66 issues are a grand lot, very many shades in each value, both unused and used.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA
A good lot of early issues and later issues all well represented both unused and used up to 1890.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE
Two books. The triangular are a fine lot, used, unused and pairs. Several fine Woodblocks of both values, and a good book of the issues 1864-1890.

INDIA
Three books. The 1854-55 are a fine lot, many unused blocks of four. Fine pair with side margin of the rare ½a red, 26 copies of the 4a red and blue, including pairs with blue wavy line and pair with the 5½mm between the stamps.
The 1855-59 are also a fine lot and include two unused 2a green and other uncommon varieties.

VICTORIA
Four books. All issues to 1890 are strongly represented in choice copies. A number of pairs and strips. Many rare watermarks, roulettes, etc. Two of the scarce 5/- yellow (unused and used), etc., etc.

URUGUAY
Three books. Nice lot of early issues, large margins and scarce cancellations. This country is well represented up to the issues of 1906.

BRAZIL
Three books. A very fine lot of 1843 (Bull's Eyes) and nice pairs and blocks in the issues of 1844-46 and 1850-54. Good book of Don Pedro Issues.

SWITZERLAND
Three strong books specially good in the Cantonals, including Basle (2), Zurich 4 rp. (2), 6 rp. (6), Vand 5c (4). Many Orts-Poste and Poste Locale. A grand lot of the "Rayon" issue 1850-52, and a book full to "silk thread" issues.

DEATH OF BISHOP J. C. HARTZELL

By William Lycett.

You may be interested in knowing that Bishop J. C. Hartzell, retired Bishop of Africa, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who died September 6, aged 86, was an ardent collector of stamps, specializing in Africa after his election to the bishopric in 1896. He was a friend of mine, and his predecessor, William Taylor, was also an acquaintance. Thirty years ago my source of supply of Liberia stamps was Bishop Taylor's son, Ross, and they were not cancelled to order either. For many years my collection was mounted in the albums, discarded by Bishop Hartzell when he began collecting Africa only, and later many an African good stamp came from the Bishop. In his work in Africa, he often acted in a government diplomatic capacity, and once was plenipotentiary for Liberia to Great Britain and the United States, at which time he was instrumental in saving Liberia from foreign aggression.

As a recent issue of The Christian Advocate of New York, says, "Civil governors recognized his superior quality and treated him with unusual respect. Diligent in his business, he did not hesitate to stand before kings. The Portuguese monarch entertained him at his private table with the German Kaiser, and granted him special concessions for Methodist activity in Angola and Inhambane." Just a little story to show what friends he had: Once, while at my home as a guest, he brought his African collection with him. He had the later 19th century stamps of the various South African colonies practically complete in mint condition. Looking at the ten and twenty-five pound stamps, I remarked: "Do you know, Bishop, if you had put the same amount of money in unused United States stamps, it would have been a much better financial investment?" He replied, "How do you know I put any money in them?" to which I replied, "I hardly thought you got them for nothing." "Well, I did; Cecil Rhodes gave me those stamps, and more besides."

The Bishop was at one time a member of the S. P. A., but honorably resigned for lack of time as he advanced in years. And I will incidentally tell you that he was not the only Bishop of the Methodist Church interested in stamps either.

CLEVELAND COLLECTOR PASSES AWAY

I regret to report the death of Henry J. Larsen, of Cleveland, Ohio. This occurred Wednesday, Sept. 26, 1928. Mr. Larsen was about 71 years of age, and a resident of Cleveland for many years, being Member No. 163 in the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club, and No. 4145 in the American Philatelic Society.

He attended many Conventions of the A. P. S., including the recent one at Toronto.

While not a deep student of philately, Mr. Larsen loved his stamps, and in turn he was loved by all his good friends, and his cheery smile and unfailing good will, will be missed by many.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Larsen's family.—W. G. Whittaker.

EDITORIAL

WHEN one can say with sincerity that the impending stamp season is to be the most active and prosperous ever known, if indications are not wholly misread, one records the announcement most cheerfully. It is usually the case with successful enterprises that each twelve-months' business shows a gain over the preceding year's aggregate; and so it is natural that the institution of collecting exhibit the same condition. A growth of interest in stamps due to an augmented number of collectors makes a profitable season a certainty; and it must follow that the publicity that collecting has been receiving will bring many recruits to philately's standard. We think that those who are interested in the development of philately may indulge in a bit of back-slapping on the eve of the new season.

A SURGE of satisfaction that was felt upon seeing the words, "The Postage Stamp" by Dr. Frank Crane, in the newspapers carrying the doctor's syndicated essays was succeeded by one of disappointment at the treatment accorded the subject. He merely uses the stamp as an object-lesson as for instance, it needs a good licking first of all. The text reads somewhat like a sublimated study of the postage stamp by Josh Billings. With the exercise of imagination, the result would have been different. With a sentimental touch, a great picture could have been painted, as stamps are a panorama of the world.

MR. NORMAN B. ELDREDGE relates the following interesting story: "I had a piece of good fortune a week ago. In looking over the effects of an aunt, I found a large Bible, which opened at a page where reposed a block of twenty-two of the one cent U. S. of 1861, unused, and of fine color, even though the centering was not very good. The stamps had gum and make a nice addition to my collection." We always have hopes of turning up similar things in old books, because once we did find a few three cent, 1869, in a dictionary at a book-store; and we bought the volume for 25c or so. Did we call the seller's attention to the stamps? To our shame, no, but some months later when we went to the west side to make peace with the bookman, there was a For Rent sign on the window and the neighbors did not know where he had gone; and no trace was found of him subsequently. However, we did penance of some kind and removed the sting of conscience.

RECENTLY, a friend brought a lot of nearly two hundred stamps, all three cents of 1857-60, 1861 and 1869, respectively, to us for examination that he had torn off envelopes that he had just found in a store-room. It is to be noticed that in this lot of letters, there was not a single 1c or rather strip of three of the 1c. Over 100 of the 3c, 1861, produced just six really fine copies, not one of which was superb, and excepting several very fine 3c, 1857-60, and one magnificent 3c, 1869, there was not a full catalogue stamp in the assortment. The "over catalogue" U. S. comes about once in a hundred, in the case of stamps that do not depend for added value on their cancellations. We know that collectors find prices on U. S. puzzling, but after all, it may be said that they are based on the fruits of experience, as a rule.

IN connection with the foregoing remarks, we make room for the following quotation: "Used United States stamps in fine condition, especially the earlier issues, in fact all prior to 1890, stamps priced from about 20c to several dollars each, are getting very scarce and dealers' stocks throughout New York, as well as in other cities, are strikingly short of this class of material. There is an abundance of the same stamps in average or good condition, but very little that is fine. For exceptional copies full catalogue and more is often asked, while the general run can be bought at 50 per cent. discount and less. It has been predicted in high places that prices in the catalogue must rise to meet the situation. Therefore, those who take advantage of the present prices will have nothing to regret." This is a fair review of the subject and its findings may be applied to conditions as they exist at present, although it is interesting to find that the paragraph is taken from a number of the old Philatelic Gazette dated in the year 1912.

A READER, Mr. George A. Emory, St. Louis, says that "last year I was in Monrovia, Liberia, for a few hours and found the postmaster (or his assistant) eager enough to sell stamps. I should judge that the postal needs of the country are not extensive and it seems to be accepted as a matter of course that the greater demand for issues is wholly philatelic. I did not have time to get any news of particular interest to collectors, but I do not find Liberia any more 'benighted' than certain other countries that make no secret of 'collectors first'." We should like to have further observations from Mr. Emory.

THE following criticism was received from Mr. F. W. Bohle, Oakland, California, soon after the new air mail stamp appeared: "I am an engraver by profession and cannot say that I favor the design or size of the new 5c air mail stamp. The size of the stamp is too much of the label variety; perhaps a quarter-inch less in height would have been more appropriate. The border in red is all right but the blue I find all wrong. We are advertising 'air mail'. It seems to me that the beacon light shows far more prominently than the air plane, which, indeed, could not have been engraved smaller. I have received several letters on which the stamps are lightly canceled but it takes little ink to cover entire 'air plane' and leave the beacon light still showing. Take off the large beacon light, insert a fine large air plane in center (more like No. 610) and you have a design advertising air mail. The beacon light could remain but its size and position would have to be changed."

MR. GRANT L. JONES of Minneapolis, Minnesota, writes a sharp letter to say that in many respects the prices on United States Stamps are preposterous. He does not object to elevation of them, but to their misleading character, and he says that catalogue quotations are meaningless. He cites an experience that he had with one stamp: "I get around the country and call on dealers when I have the chance. I was in need of a fine 12c of 1869 and had to pay $5.00 for a suitable specimen; the stamp is catalogued at $3.50. When fair copies cost one-half catalogue, why should a perfect copy bring $5.00? Mr. Jones has more to say and we can understand his contention. While a price of half-catalogue might be assumed in view of the condition of a stamp, what is there to indicate a price of double catalogue, let us say? Mr. Jones is speaking of straight stamps and not those that have an added value through their cancellations. If he will read his catalogue he will find that the prices quoted are for specimens in good condition and "in most instances extra fine copies bring far higher prices." Even so, there is a further restriction that "good condition" in early U. S. is not on a par with "specimens from countries where more care is taken in perfor... and lighter cancellations are u... LONG THE LINE

MR. GRANT BULKLEY, Rochester, New York, says that according to ie newspapers an air line from New ork to Buffalo by way of Binghamton, . Y., is in view.

N one of Gluyas Williams' comic strips, "Snapshots of a Boy Getting ressed," one of the slow-motion pic-ures has the boy putting on his shoes hile looking through his stamp collec-on.

N the Chicago Tribune's column, "Do you remember way back when," a orrespondent harks back to the time hen boys collected tobacco tags as they d postage stamps. It is no feat of emory to recall those days and prob-bly we have a copy somewhere of the ag World, published in 1886 or 1887, at contained stamp news as well as that f its specialty.

MR. J. MAX GOLDING, Chicago, has been elected as vice-chairman f air mail extension board for the U. by the Civil Air Corps International nstitute in U. S. A.; and because of s knowledge of "expanding relations" ith Mexico he has been elected as one f the commissioners to Mexico.

FROM Mr. C. S. George, Grinnell, Iowa, we have received the special r mail impression: "Dedication of lemorial For Billy Robinson, Grinnell, owa, September 24, 1928, Second Au-norized Government Air Pilot, 1914."

A VISIT from Mr. O. J. Olson, St. Paul, Minnesota, discloses the fact at Mr. Olson again is giving attention o his fine collections, after a period of omparative philatelic inaction. Wel-ome to our midst, say we.

HERE are a few lines that read well: "The pioneer postman had to travel hrough trackless forests, was sworn to ehave civilly, and to blaze a path, by harking trees, for the guidance of trav-llers who might follow him."

N a recent novel we read that "a man may collect stamps and still be a an." This astounding bit of informa-on will cheer many a heart-sick soul ho will now whoop with joy.

COLLECTING BY EXCHANGING—SOME EXPERIENCES

By Percy A. Hill.

I have often wondered what kind of a collection of stamps a chap could get together by merely exchanging with others. Of course I am not saying that it could not be done, or at least some kind of a collection made. But such a collection would never be worthy of meriting more than a leather medal at best. From experience I have found the art of exchanging to be x— the unknown quantity. In my earlier days of chasing the elusive adhesive I was stung and re-stung so often that I swore off after the manner of Omar the Tentmaker, but being an ardent collector of personal covers, I swore on again, being of the genus homo anyway.

I once exchanged duplicates with a fellow in the near-millionaire class, and after exhausting some reams of paper and a pound of stamps found that he was—near. On the other hand a lone washerwoman in Peru supplied me with some rare pieces. An Indian from Karachi wrote me once offering exchanges, and not knowing him from Adam or Ghandi, I bundled up a lot of Neurope and sent him. He came back at me bewailing the fact that I had only sent him "the commonest very" and enclosing a few good Persians, which was rendering good for evil. Naturally I made up for my faux pas by swapping him good values to our mutual satisfaction.

Another would-be financier sent me some "scarce imperforates" from which he had carefully clipped the perforations, and was deeply grieved when I did not add these priceless gems to my collection. A European once sent me a set of fakes so evident that a blind man could feel them with his stick. In exchange he said I "must"—using the imperative—send him nothing that catalogued less than 300 francs. I sang with joy at that chap and only hope he got my letter properly translated into Esperanto. Again there was the lady from "down under" in Australia who sent me a bulky parcel upon which I paid fifty-eight cents postage due. I was under the impression it was a Xmas surprise packet and paid sight unseen by a messenger. The 2,300 Australians were of about ten kinds gleaned with great labor from the common herd and were to be exchanged against ten complete current sets with a value of fifty dollars. Again I swore off collecting and wondered how that astute lady acquired my address that I might pay the return of her package of—Oh well, used postage stamps. I don't think she was a plump lady, anyway.

Another, a Russian, sent me six stamps with a catalog value of twelve cents, Scott money, and wanted the low-down on incubators. I sent him the information to the best of my ability and have often wondered if he wanted to hatch out stamps or merely boil them. Another dusky gent from Travancore offered me by postcard 300 of the one and two chuckram stamps of that district in exchange for a first class camera. I expect he wanted to set up as a photographer, anyhow, he was no true philatelist.

Then again was the chap who used a high-class letterhead and offered charming prices for some high values purchased at the Postoffice, and I fell again, both philatelically and financially, and then of him—no more. He has the stamps and I the experience. Cost, twenty dollars.

Speaking in general there is nothing to be gained by exchanging stamps except in rare cases when one runs across an honest and conscientious individual, and he may be a fat man at that. They say the best risk, philatelically speaking, is a fat man, so that we may expect that a snapshot will be the best form of introduction. The amount of hard cash spent in postage and registration and effort, would, if properly invested, bring much better stuff and more desirable items than the common junk one gets in exchanges.

As I say, not being infallible, I often fall, but the sole excuse is that I collect covers personally addressed, even more elusive than stamps. A collector who prides himself on immaculate condition, will of course accumulate a lot of duplicates in his career. From these he can salvage the best items and full sets and sell to a dealer for what he can get. The junk—and there are 10,000 varieties of this—can be given away on the quiet to the kiddies, as a quasi-criminal action.

One of the greatest philatelic crimes in the decalogue is that of the dealer who, desirous of extending business, gets the names of Club members or Philatelic societies and sends these surprised gents a fine collection of one hundred different Germany or Hungary at a bargain. The indignant addressee sends these back indignantly. But he is not thru with it. By the next mail they are the pleased recipients of a missive claiming that as they did not include the set of Mozambique or Brazil they owe the dealer $9.58, which he would be pleased to receive in U. S. Currency. As the inclosures only existed in the imagination of the dealer most chaps register a red-hot comeback. The best way is to simply ignore these Wallingfords and let it go at that. I shall not publish a list of these dealers, or short-dealers, as it might cause them embarrassment, but I will head a subscription to give them a brick house—a brick at a time—by mail C. O. D.

Experience has shown me that if a collection is to be built it needs responsible dealers and responsible collectors, the one with the goods and the others with the cash. But if one is not particular he can patch up a kind of a collection by exchanging, which was the fashion of our grandfathers years ago before the business became modernized. His collection will be open at both ends as well as in the middle. He may get an odd value of a set, but the page will remain odd, till he buys or steals the balance, or if he is a peaceable and optimistic gent, he can watch and pray.

Part of the exchange problem has now been taken up by more efficient agencies. Without either boosting or knocking any, I would like to call attention to the service rendered by those dealers in new issues. I notice at times there are quite a few who work themselves into a passion about percentages charged for this service. While they may have a slight reason about values costing over $5.00 I would like them to do as I did, before new issues came into vogue.

I found that in trying to get issues to the two shilling value that it cost me in postage, draft-costs, registration and return postage just about what it costs me now for the issues themselves. Furthermore, postmasters and agents often returned remittances in case a "scarce or speculative" issue was sold out. It takes special agents to often locate these, who are due a commission, all of which cannot be attended to by the lone collector. If anyone disbelieves this statement, he has one course open. He can try it himself. And as Confucius says, experience is the surest and most bitter of teachers.

DEATH OF SUMNER GARY

O. S. Hart informs us by wire of the death of Sumner Gary. No particulars are at hand, and the news of Mr. Gary's death will come as a severe shock to his many friends, who have known him as an ardent stamp collector. For many years he has been a member of the A.P.S. He collected U. S. postage unused and also had a nice lot of U. S. revenues. Mr. Gary resided at Riverside, Ill., and his funeral took place at Akron, Ohio, September 25.

Junior News Items

By Beach Conger, Jr.

Albania.—Ahmed Zogu, former president of Albania, has been crowned King of his small mountain country. This event seems to forecast a new issue for the newest crowned head of Europe. Supplies of the 1 and 5 qind have been running low and the 10 and 25 qind have been surcharged 1 and 5 respectively to take care of the demand. Undoubtedly the administration is waiting until most of the other values are used up before they put a new set on the market.

Ecuador. — To commemorate the opening of a new railroad track from Quito to Cayambe in Ecuador, the Post Office Department surcharged several current values with the inscription "Frril. Norte-Julio 8 de 1928 Est Cayambe." The surcharge was red, and new values were placed on each stamp. As the complete issue, said to be 4,500 was sold out the first day, we cannot give any more information at present.

French Colonies.—On September 24th, a new value appeared in several of the French Colonial Post Offices, the 1.10Fr. 20 all told were supplied. The 30 centimes stamp of Gabon, Guinea, Guiana, Mauritania, Senegal and Sudan were issued according to the color scheme of the U. P. U., as were the 15c Madagascar, 45c Senegal, 75c Oubangi and Tchad, 1Fr Guiana, Madagascar and Togo. Current values ceased to circulate on that date.

Italy.—The Italian Post Office has announced two new commemorative sets. The first commemorates the 4th centenary of the birth of Emanuele Filiberto, and the second the Victory of Vittorio in 1918. The former consists of 6 values. The 20, 25, 30 cent. and 5 lire show the profile of Filiberto. The 1.25 and 20 lire portray him on horseback. The second set consists of 4 values, 50 and 75 cent., 1.75 and 10 lire, and shows an allegory of the victory.

Colman & Law

A firm of booksellers and druggists of Gonzales, Texas, who issued 5c and 10c stamps in that town in 1861, these labels being used for local postage until they were replaced by the general issue for the Confederate States.

Cayman Islands

A group of three small islands (Grand Cayman, Little Cayman and Cayman Brac) in the Caribbean Sea under the government of Jamaica, from which they are about 200 miles distant. They have a total area of 225 square miles and a population of about 6,000. The islands were discovered by Columbus in 1494 and named "Las Tortugas" by him on account of the numbers of turtles found there. Turtle fishing is still the staple industry of the islanders. Prior to 1900 this small group managed without its own postage stamps, but in that year special ½d and 1d values were issued, and these were followed by a more extensive set in the year 1901.

Junior Dictionary

Printer's Waste.—A term sometimes applied to errors and freaks in postage stamps which may reasonably be suspected of having become circulated by more or less illegitimate means.

Prir. — An overprint shown on certain Iceland stamps issued in 1897. The first letter is not a true "p" but a Saxon letter signifying "th". The whole word means "three."

Private Perforations. — Applied to imperforate stamps unofficially as a matter of private convenience in separating the labels one from the other. The varieties most frequently met with are those made in the United States by various concerns for use in the coil machines of different patterns.

Private Stamps.—Issued by private individuals or societies, with official sanction, and recognized by the Governments of the countries in which they appear as having proper franking power within certain specified limits. Instances may be found in the private stamps for Civilian Rifle Clubs issued in Portugal, and the stamp issued by Senor Duro in Spain in 1881.

Pro Combattenti. — An overprint or inscription shown on various stamps issued in San Marino in 1918 meaning literally "for the troops." The stamps were sold at a premium over their postal value, the extra amount being devoted to a special fund in connection with the Italian Red Cross.

HERE AND THERE—

We have received a clipping from the Worcester Telegram of Sept. 15, which consists of a letter from Fred Schiller from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Frank L. Coes of Worcester, portraying the tragedy that lurks in the ice wilderness of the Arctic, and the gallantry of the men who venture forth in frail airplanes so that the great natural phenomena may be photographed. Mr. Schiller writes an interesting story, which we would be glad to reprint had we the space. We have mentioned him before as residing at Fairbanks, the world's farthest north city. Point Barrow, mentioned in the letter, is the world's farthest north post-office.

The address of Ward R. Chapin, Detroit, Mich., has been changed to 3684 Concord Avenue. Correspondents will please note.

We learn from a Fairfield, Iowa, paper that Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Spielman were recently in a serious automobile accident when their car was hurled fifty feet, thrown completely over endwise and yet landed on its wheels headed in the opposite direction. Mr. and Mrs. Spielman were both painfully bruised, and fortunate indeed in escaping serious injury. Many who attended the Cleveland Exhibition will remember the great interest they evidenced in the exhibits.

Morris J. Babis, 277 S. 63 St., Philadelphia, Pa., is sending out a special list of sets and single stamps. It has some thirty-two pages and will be sent to any address on request.

WASHINGTON IN PRAYER

By A. T. Witbeck.

I have just read Mr. Ray B. Grove's ticle on Washington at Valley Forge published in the issue of the 17th. No living person knows whether ashington was a religious man, except om hearsay or from contemporary his- ians. Naturally the latter would be best authority. An American histo- n contemporary with Washington ght be to some extent warped in his lgment, but a British one undoubtedly uld not. May I then be permitted to ote from "An Historical, Geographical, mmercial and Philosophical View of American United States," etc., by W. nterbotham, London, 1795.

Mr. Winterbotham, writing as he s a little earlier, in 1791, of Washing- 's Inauguration (Vol. I, page 590, last ragraph), says:

"Several circumstances concurred to der the scene of his inauguration un- ually solemn—the presence of the be- ed Father and Deliverer of his coun- —the impressions of gratitude for his t services—the vast concourse of ctators — the devout fervency with ich he repeated the oath, and the rev- ntial manner in which he bowed to s the sacred volume—(Italics mine). the bottom of page 591 he has the lowing note: "'It seemed, from a nber of witnesses', said a spectator of scene, 'to be a solemn appeal to ven and earth at once. Upon the ject of this great and good man, I y, perhaps, be an enthusiast'," etc. t is highly improbable that Washing- ton just "got religion", therefore, isn't it fair to assume that if he was so fervent in 1789 that it is probable that he was just as religious in 1777, or 1747 for that matter.

I think that Mr. Grove should furnish the stamp collecting world with the name of the author of the matter mentioned. This person either should be made to prove his statement, which is very doubtful if he be able to do so, or all good collectors should endeavor to throw their business elsewhere, until such time as this traducer should learn not to mix his personal opinion with business.

A $6000 A YEAR GIFT

Our stamp magazine, Gibbons' Stamp Monthly, is a house-organ, that is to say it carries advertisements of our goods and of the many attractive things we have to offer in stamps.

We realize, however, that collectors don't want their stamp reading to be concerned with the activities of our firm, so each issue of the magazine contains about 20 pages of interesting and independent articles, news, new issue chronicle, market hints, "juniors" section, etc., etc.

We lose about $6000 a year on the magazine and are glad to do so, as it brings us many friends.

We should like to add YOUR name to their number. The subscription is 75 cents a year, post-free, (16 months for a dollar bill). A specimen number will be sent free to any enquirer.

NEW CANADA AIRMAIL STAMP

Canada has just issued the 5c airmail stamp recently announced in our columns. It is printed in a handsome shade of brown and is oblong rectangular in shape. It is fully as attractive in form and workmanship as our 5c airmail stamp notwithstanding the fact that ours is printed in two colors. An airplane is shown over the globe and two winged messengers are pictured. We are indebted to Henry A. Kiehl and Stanley Gregory for specimens. Mr. Gregory's stamp comes in the form of a first day cover, the date being September 21.

1869—6c, a magnificent unused block with full gum which may well be the finest block of this stamp in existence. No larger unsevered block is known to me.

1871—24c purple, horizontal pair, full o. g. (Worthington collection).

1875—2c vermilion, block of four, o. g. deep shade, clear impression.

1875—5c Taylor, block of four, O. G.

1888—90c purple, block of 12, lightly cancelled.

Treasury Dept.—7c Stanton, "SPECIMEN", block of more than 20 with imprint and plate number.

Treasury Dept.—2c Jackson, "SPECIMEN", block of more than 40 with imprint and plate number.

Interior Dept.—2c Jackson, same remarks, "SPECIMEN".

Justice Dept.—2c Jackson, similar block of 30, "SPECIMEN".

War Dept.—1873, 1c block of four, full o. g.—the real thing.

War Dept.—1873, 3c, strip of six o. g. with imprint and plate number.

Agriculture 1879—1c soft paper, block with imprint.

COVERS

1847—5c used with pair and single 10c on cover to China. This is the only cover bearing 1847 stamps used to any place in Asia that I've ever heard of.

1847—10c, strip of three on cover from Peru to Mexico via Panama with postmark of Panama and San Francisco Steamship. Believed to be unique.

1847—10c, tied to envelope with black town postmark and used with 3c and pair of 1c 1857 to make 15c (5 times 3c). The only 10c 1847 used with stamps of any other general issue known to me.

1847—10c, six single copies used together.

1847—5c, used with 1c 1851 and both tied to envelope with greenish town postmark. Only one I've ever seen.

1847—5c, eight single copies used together.

1847—5c, used with 1c and 3c 1857 to make 9c rate (3 times 3c). Philadelphia to New York. If it isn't unique it should be.

1847—5c, tied to cover with Philadelphia postmark and cancelled with blue 5 in circle.

1847—10c, on cover to Cape Breton and tied with an extremely rare New York postmark. (Have seen only two other '47 covers with this postmark.)

1851-56—5c, beauty used to France and tied with black N. O. postmark dated 1857.

1857-60—1c plate 11, used on news band.

1857-60—5c red brown type I on cover to Nova Scotia, grid canc., Philadelphia octagonal postmark.

1857-60—3c used with pair of 1c, common types to Hong Kong.

1863—24c used with two Black Jacks making 28c rate to some place with a German name in Hessen-Cassel. From La Paz in Ill. Too bad it wasn't from La Paz in Bol. U. S. on covers from Bolivia are so intriguing!

1861—5c red brown used with 10c and 30c to make 45c rate to Singapore.

1862—10c used with pair of 5c to Guatemala, "by favour of Panama R. R. Co."

1869—6c used from Lansing, Mich., to Bay City. One of those towns used a mighty pretty eight-rayed flower to cancel the stamp.

1869—1c used with two 12c making a 25c rate to Rosario, way down south in the Argentine. Feb. to May, 1870—a long journey in those years.

1871—24c purple used with pair of 10c equals 44c postage on cover to India. Mark of Sea Post Office on back.

1871—1c pair with pair of 3c and 6c pair makes 20c, which equals a pair of 10c rates on this cover from Yokohama, Japan. If you've ever seen a cover from Japan with three different U. S. stamps on it, you've seen more than I'll admit to.

1896—Japan 5c No. 77 tied to cover with Foo Chow 1c green from China to New York via Yokohama and San Fran. The Chinese war canoe on the Foo Chow sticker alone is worth the price of admission and no extra charge for the Shanghai postmark.

1869—pairs, strips, blocks and covers enough to make another ad or two, not to mention cancellations.

Don't pretend to carry the biggest stock in the world but always have good things that are seldom obtainable. If I don't know you I want to know something about you; if we're already acquainted, just drop me a line now and then and I'll try to make you glad of it.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) LEXINGTON, MASS.

IT IS A PLEASURE

to announce that I have recently acquired one of the finest lots of used early United States Issues from 1847 to 1869 inclusive, that has ever come into my possession. My special fondness for the mint copy has usually resulted in the finer things in this line coming my way, but here of late, I have had the opportunity of purchasing a used collection gotten together during the last fifteen to twenty years. The nicest part about the purchase is the fact that the owner several years back felt that his accumulations were a little too large and weeded out the items of less importance and those of secondary condition. As a result, the lot obtained is nearly 100 per cent fine. This collector was not satisfied with one or two stamps of a kind, but went in for anywheres from twenty to fifty copies and these are in different shades with different cancellations.

I especially note upward of fifty magnificent used copies of the 1857 24c showing red, blue and black cancellations. There are three pairs of the 10c August, one of which is lightly cancelled "Paid" used on part of cover with a copy of the 1c September. While there are not many of the grilled issues, there are several magnificent specimens, including the finest used 90c that I have ever seen.

The 1869 issue from 1c to 90c is a wonderful lot and of the 10c, which happened to be a favorite with the collector, there are numerous cancellations that are generally picked up one at a time. I note two used in Japan, one with a French Steamer postmark, one cancelled with the well-known bumble-bee, several stars of different designs in black and blue, two with the foreign mail cancellations usually found on the later issues, numerous flowers, shields, town cancellations, crosses, etc., in red, black, blue and green. There is also a strip of four, something very unusual. The reissue is complete in magnificent singles lightly cancelled.

I would also again call your attention to my wonderful stock of mint varieties, in both used and unused condition.

Envelope News

Under date of September 18th the Postmaster General awarded to the International Envelope Corporation of New York the contract for furnishing the Post Office Department with 12,800,000,000 stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers for the four-year period beginning January 1, 1929.

It will be recalled that the original bids for envelopes were thrown out due to slight discrepancies and when the new bids were opened on September 17th, it was found that material reduction had been made by those firms submitting quotations. In the final bids the successful contractors, which are subsidiaries of the International Paper Company, quoted around $100,000 less than the present contractors, the Middle West Supply Company, who have been supplying our envelopes for a period of twenty years, with the exception of a short period of a few months. The present contract calls for an expenditure in excess of $13,000,000 and as it is a substantial saving over the prevailing prices, it would not be surprising if in time the Department found it advisable to cut the stamped envelope prices to the public. In view of the change, it is not likely that the air mail envelope will be ready by January first, as had been expected. It is the Department's intentions of having the die completed as soon as possible and after the new firm starts its production the air mail envelope will appear in due time.

It is quite probable that the new contractor will erect a plant in Dayton, the location of the present contractors, for the manufacture of these envelopes. Dayton is a centrally located point and has satisfactory railroad connections with all sections of the country, so that envelopes may be shipped efficiently, anywhere desired.

The present contractors have started to turn out the precancelled stamped envelopes recently described and the first that have been noted without the corner imprints are those placed on sale at the Philadelphia Post Office. Precancel collectors of entire envelopes will find that some of the varieties now appearing are likely to be scarce as the watermark will change under the new contract. The engraved dies, however, will not change at that time, for it would take some months to engrave the necessary new dies, so that the new contractors will start their deliveries with envelopes produced in the prevailing designs.

Under date of September 20th Mr. R. S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster General, instructed all postmasters to return to Washington the dies used for overprinting the new value 1½c upon t old 1c envelopes, stating that there do not appear to be any further need f their use. On their arrival in Washin ton, they no doubt, will be checked a destroyed, as was the case with the pr vious 2c dies.

Hawaiian Surcharges

When the numerous varieties of ove print of the Hawaiian surcharges we noted it was assumed that the defec were due to broken or worn types, but now learn from Mr. A. W. Hall, Direc or of the Bureau of Engraving a Printing, that this is not the case. H states that this condition is not due broken letters occurring after the plat had been used for a length of time. T plates for the overprinting, which we made by the Government Printing Offic were perfect when received, and wh again examined on September 21st th were still found to be in first class co dition, with no broken or incorrect lette

Mr. Hall states that the surchargi was done on the rotary press on mois ened paper and the overprinting was a plied while the paper and the plate prin ing ink were still wet. The type at tim filled up with the wet plate printing in and in such cases did not give sha letters or figures. The Director ca attention to the fact that the ink us for precancelling rotary work does n give the same sharp print as when us for surcharging surface printed d work.

The orders for these stamps contin to be received in great numbers at t Philatelic Agency, and those on hand present are more than sufficient to use all of the supplies on hand with the po sible exception of a few that are bad off center. If the applicant is not sati fied with this, it is suggested that h not place his order, as it will be impo sible to supply satisfactory copies. It not the intention of the Department issue a further supply.

At the present time, the Agency from two to three weeks behind in the work and it is impossible to add new i experienced help on these special occ sions where the demand is much greate than normal. Every effort is being mad to complete the orders as soon as pos sible and realizing what the Agency i doing for us, it is suggested that com plaining letters not be addressed to th Department. The Air Mail stamp havin been issued about the same time is als bringing to hand numerous orders whic swell the volume.

Air Mail Increases

The sale of the new 5-cent air mai stamp throughout the country has bee enormous and the reason will readily b seen when it is noted in the remarks o the Postmaster General given out o September 10th wherein statement i made that during August when the rat was 5 cents, the amount of mail in creased 95% over the month of July when the rate was 10 cents. Compare with June the increase was just shor of 100%, and compared with May it wa in excess of this amount.

SPECIAL

1928, 5c Air Mail carmine and blue (No. 648), very fine used, blocks of 4 .12

M. HERBERT & CO., 87 Nassau St., New York

With the new time saving schedule wherein coast to coast trips will be made in twenty-four hours, it is expected that the use of the air mail will be greatly increased. The transcontinental air mail route when first established was regarded as a superlative marvel of speed. The time for carrying a letter from New York to San Francisco was approximately 36 hours. When the beaconed airways and other improvements were developed, this was cut to 33 hours. Recently the schedule has called for 31 hours, but it was found that this did not fit in with the business hours at either terminus.

The Post Office Department is now about prepared to shorten the distance to 24 hours, which will clip off an entire business day from the delivery period for transcontinental mail. A new type of plane capable of 145 miles an hour is to be used on this new service. Under the new schedule an air mail letter from New York will be delivered in San Francisco almost as quickly as a normal letter by train to Boston.

Air Mail Fields are being dedicated weekly in some part of the country so that the time is not far distant when almost every city of any size will be a stopping point for the air mail service. Mr. Erwin Strasser kindly sends a cover from the Lansdowne Field, which was dedicated in Greenville, Ohio, on September 23rd, at which time a special marking was used.

Current Shades

In a recent Chronicle, it was stated that used copies had been seen of the current 11c Hayes in a greenish shade. We are now thoroughly convinced that there is no possibility of this variety being a changling, as mint blocks have been submitted by Messrs. Arthur R. Davis and W. M. Potts. Mr. Davis described this shade as a Paris green and states that it is on sale at his local office. So far, there has been noted three distinct shade varieties of this stamp, ranging from the blue, which first appeared when the stamp was issued, then the light blue and now the green, which is certainly worthy of catalog rank.

The 2-cent Valley Forge has been noted in the normal shade, as well as in a very dark lake. Mr. Davis now submits a block in a lighter shade, which he describes as "strawberry." Two or more shades have been noted in all denominations from ½c to 50c inclusive, in addition to the $5, which comes in two very distinct colors. As yet, I have noticed no difference of importance in the case of the $1 and $2.

25c Imperforate Horizontally

We had the pleasure of announcing the discovery several months back of the 25-cent green, Niagara Falls, imperforate horizontally and perforated 11 vertically, which Scott now describes in the Advance Sheets as No. 568-A.

At the time, other than noting two vertical strips of three, we were unable to obtain much information. It is now learned that a block of about twenty was found in the Atlanta, Georgia, post office during 1927, and that this was broken up into pairs and strips, with the exception of one block of four which bears plate No. 14063 on the right, showing that the variety comes from one of the right panes. We are most pleased to be able to report these details, for the place where the few errors which occur, are located, is always of interest.

Argentine Republic.—Mr. R. Roberts advises that a new 5c stamp has been issued in commemoration of the centenary of peace between the Empire of Brazil and the United Provinces of the River Platte. The stamp is oblong in shape and watermarked multiple suns RA in centre. A 12c blue, similar to the 5c, is to be issued, but as yet is not ready to be placed on sale.

"A new series is in preparation to replace the present ordinary stamps of the Houyoux type, 1c to 50c, and 10fr, 25fr, 50fr, and 100fr.

"An aviation series of four stamps representing La Plage Ostende, La Rade and le Steen at Antwerp, La Citadelle de Namur, and the Belfry of Mons, with machine flying overhead. No prices stated for these last stamps. A 1fr railway or parcel post stamp has been issued."

"Parcels of Newspapers" provisionals.—According to the Amiens Echo, there has been a second printing of the "Journaux-Dagbladen 1928" provisionals, owing to the unexpected demand from stamp dealers. The quantity of the second printing appears to be small; it does not seem necessary for us to give the actual figures.—Stamp Collecting.

Bolivia.—The "competition" mentioned in our June 16th issue has been won by Messrs. Perkins, Bacon & Co., Ltd., who have contracted to supply for the sum of £733 6s 8d, including freight and insurance charges to Mollendo, the following:—

4,000,000 5c green (Condor of the Andes).
3,000,000 10c slate (President Hernando Siles).
4,000,000 15c red (Map of Bolivia).

Meanwhile three provisionals are reported, viz.:—15c on 20c blue, 7,000; 15c on 24c violet, 350,000; 15c on 50c orange, 193,000.—Stamp Collecting.

Chamba State.—The following values of the stamps of India, Nasik printing, have been surcharged for use in this state: 3 pies grey, ½a green, 2a purple, 3a blue, 4a olive, 8a magenta, 12a claret and 1R brown and green. Also the ½a green, 2a purple, 4a olive and 12a claret bear the additional surcharge "Service."

France.—Joan of Arc Commemoratives.—From several sources it is learnt that France contemplates issuing a series commemorating the 500th anniversary of the inauguration of Joan of Arc's campaign to liberate France in 1429.—Philatelic Magazine.

French Colonies.—Stamp Collecting supplies the information noted below: A new definitive denomination, 1fr 10c, will appear for the following Colonies on September 24th:—Cameroons, Congo, Dahomey, Gaboon, Guiana, Guinea, Ivory Coast, Madagascar, Martinique, Mauritania, Oceanic Settlements, Oubangui, Réunion, St. Pierre Miquelon, Senegal, Somali Coast, Sudan, Tchad, Togo, Wallis and Futuna Islands.

More color changes.—The same date is decreed to witness stamps in new colors for the following:—Gaboon, 30c; Guiana, 30c, 1fr; Guinea, 30c; Madagascar, 15c, 1fr; Mauritania, 30c; Oubangui, 75c; Senegal, 30c, 45c; Sudan, 30c; Tchad, 75c; Togo, 1fr.

New Guinea.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of the 6p, in pale yellow bistre, same design as before. They are the work of the Commonwealth Treasury at Melbourne.

South West Africa.—We have received from Mr. R. Roberts the 6p grey postage due stamp with the surcharge "S.W.A." overprinted on the top of th new type stamp, which has "South Afri ca" at the top and "Suidafrika" at th bottom. Mr. Roberts is also informe that the 3p in this type has appeared.

CATALOGUE COMMENT

By Charles A. Weiller.

May I, since it appears to be "open season" for this sort of comment, make a few remarks concerning the advance sheets of Scott's 1929 catalogue, in regards to two of the U. S. Colonies? I do not profess to know as much as some of the other learned philatelists who have commented on the U. S. Stamps, but believe that I do know a little about what I am now writing. The first I want to take up is the Canal Zone.

Canal Zone

What appears to be the hardest stamps to obtain, both from the standpoint of the collector and the dealer, are the so-called "picture stamps" of the Canal Zone, and which are numbered in the catalogue No. 48 to 56 inclusive. To make a little rhyme with the word "inclusive," I would say that they are very "elusive." Not only "elusive," but they are practically impossible to obtain (and particularly in superb condition). Try the dealers; they have very few, and hardly any of them has a complete stock of all the above mentioned numbers. These stamps were first issued by Panama and then some of them were surcharged for the Canal Zone. The Panama stamps, which were issued in far greater numbers than the surcharged Canal Zone, are still "easy" to obtain, yet the new advance sheets price the Canal Zone, in many instances, lower than the Panama stamps. Panama issued more than Canal Zone, of this set, and hence the numbers given in the chart below are not in regular order. Here is the story:—

Denomination.	Canal Zone No. & Price.		Panama No. & Price
1c,	No. 48	$ .30	No. 205	$ .12
2c,	No. 49	.30	No. 206	.25
5c,	No. 50	.40	No. 209	.40
10c,	No. 51	.60	No. 210	.75
12c,	No. 52	.60	No. 214	2.00
15c,	No. 53	.70	No. 215	2.25
24c,	No. 54	1.00	No. 216	2.50
50c,	No. 55	8.00	No. 218	8.00
1b,	No. 56	12.50	No. 219	13.50

Now the question is:—Wherefor the difference? The demand and supply which are usually governing factors in settling the price of a stamp in the catalogue, points out, surely, that the Canal Zone should be much higher than the Panama stamps, of these same issues. Can any one of your readers furnish any information as to the number of the Canal Zone stamps that were issued for this set? I know, personally, that dealers (and I am not a dealer) can get all the Panama stamps they want for their requirements, and the requirements of collectors, but it is practically impossible for them to obtain a supply of the Canal Zone stamps. I know that some of these Canal Zone stamps of this issue are offered to dealers, in small quantities, at double the catalogue price. It appears that the above prices, the difference, is "just one of those things," but I believe it is one that should be corrected, and that collectors should help Scott in setting the prices for the advance sheets. There are a number of them that do so, dealers only, I think, but the collector:—the one who tries to get them, writing to one company after another, and receiving replies that "we do not have it in stock," are ones who can materially help the compilers of the catalogue in arriving at the correct prices for stamps. If no one has certain stamps, they should be advanced, as that means that there are no more on the market.

Now, a little more, on this colony, but along a little different line. Scott tells us that the second issue of United States stamps that were surcharged "Canal Zone," were surcharged with two different types of surcharge. They do not say that all of them were surcharged in the two different types, but in a footnote at the bottom of the tabulation of the issue, they give the ones that had each kind of surcharge:—which were surcharged with the type showing the "Flat A" and which with the "Pointed A." I have tried everywhere to obtain the ½c, number 66, and the 1½c, number 68 in the "Pointed A" type, but have been unable to obtain them. I am always told that they were never issued that way. Who is correct? Have any of your readers any authentic information on this subject? I would pay good prices for these two stamps.

In the catalogue, the different surcharges are usually listed by different numbers, or at least an "a" number, but Scott does not see fit to do this with a United States Colony. They should have different numbers, as they are as important, and more so, than many other surcharges that appear in the catalogue and are given numbers. This same statement holds good for the issue of Postage Dues that had, also, two different types of surcharges, and I would certainly like to obtain the 1c, number 114, with the "Flat A" surcharge. It just isn't on the market at all. In cases like this, the stamps should have different numbers and be priced differently.

Philippines

The dollar values of the Philippine issues of 1899 and 1903-04, have always been scarce stamps, and the prices given in the advance sheets are not nearly what they should be in comparison to the scarcity of these stamps, the desirability and the demand. I am herewith below giving you the prices of them for the 1928 catalogue, and the 1929 advance sheets:—

1899 Value.	1928.	1929.
$1.00 Type 1	$15.00	$17.50	No. 223
$1.00 Type 2	30.00	30.00	No. 223a
$2.00	20.00	22.50	No. 224
$5.00	30.00	35.00	No. 225

1903-04 Value.	1928.	1929.
$1.00	$13.50	$15.00	No. 237
$2.00	30.00	35.00	No. 238
$5.00	37.50	45.00	No. 239

All the above prices are for unus stamps. I am herewith giving some figur taken from "The Postal Issues of t Philippines," by F. L. Palmer, U. Army, retired, and published by J. Bartels Co. in 1912. This major w an authority on the stamps of the Phili pines, and you can take his data to correct. In the first place, bear in mi that in the issue of 1899, the $1.00 wi the Type 1 and Type 2 came in the sa sheet, and therefore it is impossible separate the number of each in the stati tics given below. However, I believe am safe in saying in not more than 20 of the whole number of the dollar val were in the Type 2. It is very scarc and if you want one, be prepared to p full catalogue and over. In fact, pract cally all of the above stamps in supe condition, unused, bring close to full ca alogue. From now on I am using da from the book mentioned above, but co densing it for printing purposes.

On Sept. 8, 1906, the surcharged stamp of the Philippines became obsolete, an through an Executive order of Jan. 1907, a committee was organized to re ommend a disposition of the surcharge stamps that were still on hand in th Post Offices. Notice was given to th public that they would be on sale unt the destruction of them, which was to b on Feb. 13-14, 1907. A member of th committee, realizing the value of suc information to the future generations carefully took note of the number tha were destroyed, and subtracting that fro the number that had been received i Manila, which was an official record determined exactly how many were avail able for collectors.

Using the numbers given in the tabl above, I now advise the number receive at Manila, and the number destroyed:—

Scarce Early U.S.
AT BARGAIN PRICES

The weakest spots in most collections of United States stamps started in recent years may be those of the issues of 1861-67-69. For those who wish to improve the value and appearance of their collection, we have superb copies of almost every number at prices ranging from ⅛ of catalog to ten times the list prices.

For those who have only empty spaces for most of these issues, we have what we call "Educator" copies. They are clean and presentable, but not perfect as to details of centering, perforations, etc. Their value, we believe, lies in familiarizing the beginner with stamps which in superb condition cost more than he can afford to pay. Of these we offer two popular issues, those of 1861-62 and of 1869, as follows:

1861-62		Cat.	Net
No. 63.	1c Blue	.75	.25

You can practically depend upon the above figures. Why such low prices for these stamps considering their demand and the very small supply? Bear in mind that the above numbers were for the used and unused together, and some of them were undoubtedly used. Now figure the number available in mint stamps.

For the interest of anyone who may be a collector of these stamps, I am below giving you some numbers of other surcharged stamps of the islands that were only few in number. This number given below takes into consideration the number received at the islands and the number destroyed. I am not giving all dates, but just the number available:—

WITH THE MAGNIFYING-GLASS

By T. C. Gray.

Madeira.—Curved-label perfs. (12½), overprinted with name of island: 5 and 100 reis, as in Portugal. Straight-label, only the 15 and 80 reis, with the same characteristics as before.

Portuguese Indies.—Here we find a plethora of types of the locally engraved (Goa) stamps. They may be best tabulated thus:—

1871: REIS in Roman capitals. 33 lines in background, 4 dashes as side-ornaments.
1871-2: REIS in block sans serifs, 44 lines, 5 dots as side-ornaments.
1872: Die I (worn) re-issued, lines of background consequently thicker.
1874: The 10 and 20r of above with smaller figures of value.
1875: Die II (worn) re-issued, 10, 15 (new value), and 20r smaller figures.
1877: Die IV: Background, 33 lines; in these last two the "V" of "Servico" is barred, resembling an inverted "A." Later, Dies III and IV, 10 reis, with star added above and bar below value.

This completes the varieties of this type for the present, and we come to the 1882-3 "Crown" series; perf. 12½ and 13½, two types of orb at the top of the crown are to be observed. The first is quite plain, while the second shows a distinct circle at the crosspiece. The first types were re-issued in 1883 in the new currency, 1½ and 6 reis, Die IV, with star and bar; and 1½, 4½, and 6r in Die V, with white oval round background, star and bar also.

St. Thomas and Prince Island.—Crown type (ordinary paper only). There are two varieties of the 5 reis black, two of the 10 reis, grey-green, two of the 50 reis blue, all perf. 12½. Figures and "REIS" practically touching the upper and lower lines of value-label in I, quite clear of them in II.

Roumania.—Here a number of small varieties are to be found, beginning with the 20 paras red of the Prince Couza type of 1865. The oval containing the head does not touch the inside frame in one variety, but does so in the other. The "I" of "Deci" in the former is disproportionately high, while it is normal in the latter. The same value of the Prince Charles (1866-7) is found in three varieties, the top upright of the Greek key-pattern immediately under the value-figure being under "0" of 20 in A, under the "2" in B, while the very much scarcer C type is determined by the addition of a small ball immediately to the left of the before-mentioned upright, and occurring (roughly) between "2" and "0". Follows the somewhat similar type of 1868, changed currency. Here the 2 bani is to be watched, distance of the top of the head from the pearled circle being so much closer in one as to constitute a distinct variety from that with head further removed; both common.

The local impressions from M. Hulot's Paris plates, 1879, provide, in the 11, 11½ perfs., slight varieties in the 15 and 50 bani, as follows: 15b has no serifs to "1" in A, distinct ones in B; 50b has very small squat crossbar to "5" in A, longer and tapering in B.

Over 50 years' issues follow without variety worthy of comment, but the 1923-26 labels show the 2, 3, and 5 lei each in two distinct types of figures of value; a thin "2" and a very much thicker one; ball to upper limb of "3," no ball to same; and short crossbar with thin down-stroke to "5," longer bar and thicker stroke. All these three are easy of distinction, besides which the word "LEI" in the first two also differs, particularly as to the "L."

Russia.—Carefully examine all copies of the 3 kopeck black and green of 1868-71 on horizontally laid paper. The background of the normal variety is made up of small figures 3 in design, but an error, where it is composed of small V's (the groundwork of the 5 kopecks) makes a comparatively scarce variety, while the 1 kopeck black and orange with inverted background is very rare. The succeeding 1875-9 series comprises a 7 and 8 kopecks of exactly similar colours (carmine and grey), the only difference being the figures of value, which, being small, might easily cause the two separate values to be taken for one. Here also is to be found the 20k orange and blue, where the "T" of the lowest inscription has its trunk extended over the top bar, giving it the appearance of a cross. Inverted background to the 2k and inverted centres to the 10 and 20k are remarkably scarce items.

The first (1883) issue under Czar Alexander III has no thunderbolts across the posthorns placed beneath the embossed eagle, but these were added to the stamps issued in 1890-2. A few sporadic inverted centres or backgrounds are known, but are very, very elusive.—Australian Stamp Journal.

HALF CATALOGUE

I am breaking up an old and fine collection of postage stamps only, issues from 1840 to 1910. The bulk of the stamps are unused, and the collection has been remounted in between 50 and 60 of my well known approval books.

I am pricing this collection now and nearly all the stamps from 1880 to 1910 are priced at half catalogue and less. In very many cases the older issues are also priced half catalogue, only a very few choice copies of early issues being priced as high as 60% of current catalogue.

Many rare and uncommon stamps are included and the whole collection has a catalogue value of over $50,000.00.

The following new books are now ready, and others will be announced as I finish pricing them:—

No. 1. Great Britain, includes Nos. 13, 18, 21, 23a, 77, 91, 92, 124, 142. Antigua and Australia.
No. 2. Bahamas. Barbados Nos. 5a, 9, 19, 27, 31, 34, 43, 48, 69c, all unused. Bermuda. British Guiana 18—5 copies, 19—3 copies, 24—4 copies, etc.
No. 3. British Guiana, a grand lot of unused and used, Nos. 27 to 71 inclusive.
No. 4. British Guiana from No. 72. British Honduras and Canada to No. 32.
No. 5. Canada from No. 32 to 101.
No. 6. Canada Nos. 101 to 309. Ceylon Nos. 49 to 150. Cape of Good Hope Nos. 1 to 4.
No. 7. Ceylon Nos. 150 to 224. Cyprus, Dominica and Gambia.
No. 8. Gibraltar, Gold Coast, Grenada, Hong Kong to No. 27.
No. 9. Hong Kong Nos. 30 to 118, and India.

UNIQUE ADVERTISING

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Theodore Presser & Company, Philadelphia's largest distributors of sheet music, have recently placed in their Chestnut Street window, a map of the world, about two feet wide. Upon each country there has been placed a stamp issued by that nation, which has been taken from a letter addressed to the firm, ordering sheet music. In cases where the location of the country upon the map is too small to permit of the mounting of the stamp, it is placed in the margin and connected with its proper place on the map by means of a red line. In the neighborhood of a hundred different stamps are shown and the advertisement attracts considerable attention. It is not only proving a good advertisement for the manufacturer, but is incidentally bringing stamps to the fore-front. Such a scheme could, no doubt, be used to advantage by many firms doing an international business.

OPENING OF THE NEW AIR MAIL ROUTE, CHICAGO TO MEXICO

By Martin J. Rauscher, Chicago, Ill.

October 1st, 1928, the Foreign Air Mail Route, Chicago to Mexico, was officially inaugurated by the Mexican Consul, Honorable Luis Lupian, G., of Chicago.

Seven Consuls representing as many different Latin-American countries were present. Captain Benjamin B. Lipsner, First Superintendent of U. S. Air Mail in 1918, Mr. Paul Richter, Chairman of the International Board, and Mr. J. Max Golding, Vice-Chairman of the International Board and Commissioner for Mexico, had made all preparations for the inauguration of this new route.

Among the distinguished guests were Captain Walter von Etzdorf, President of the German Sport Flyers' Club; Wm. D. Saltiel, City Attorney; Cosme Hinojosa, Jr., Chancellor of Mexican Consulate, representing his father, Cosme Hinojosa, Postmaster General of Mexico; Captain Royal N. Allen, President of the Commercial Aircraft Association of Illinois; John J. Enright, Superintendent of Air Mail, representing A. C. Lueder, Postmaster of Chicago; R. W. Ireland, General Manager of the National Air Transport, and Thos. Wolfe, Jr., District Manager of the National Air Transport. Also three Mexican flyers carrying mail from Mexico to the United States, two Canadian flyers, two German flyers and others. The Chicago Aero Philatelic Society, of which every member held an invitation, was represented by the President, J. Max Golding, M. A. Vogel and Chas. B. Molloy, Directors, and about 20 members.

Letters were sent to the President of Mexico by Mayor Thompson, Hon. Luis Lupian, G., Captain B. B. Lipsner and J. Max Golding. Letters were also sent to the Postmaster General and to other Postmasters and American business firms in Mexico. Some letters were addressed to Hon. Harry S. New, Postmaster General of the United States; Mr. Irving Glover, 1st Assistant Postmaster General; Arthur C. Lueder, Postmaster of Chicago; Wm. H. Conkling, Postmaster of Springfield, Ill.; W. A. Steiger, and other prominent collectors in Springfield. Some to Rudolph Brauer, Superintendent Division 6, U. S. Mail; B. F. Myers, General Traffic Agent; W. A. Devine, Postmaster of Madison, Wis.; G. Ohnhaus, and other collectors in Madison. There were about 200 others from all over the country.

All these letters were cancelled with a very attractive special cachet which depicted Uncle Sam shaking hands with Mexico across the Rio Grande and an airplane flying into Mexico and marked "Chicago to Mexico—October 1, 1928."

Photographs were taken at the Air Mail Field when Pilot C. C. Melton received the mail and of the honored guests and moving pictures were taken when the mail was put into the pouch. The cars going to and from the Airport were escorted with motor police. Every Chicago newspaper showed the pictures and articles that were written concerning this epochal event.

A total of about 350 letters with the special cachet applied were all that was carried.

MR. WEST EXHIBITS

By Philip H. Ward, Jr.

The members and visitors at the meeting of the Philadelphia Stamp Club, on September 25th, had the pleasure of viewing the very wonderful collection of United States, gotten together by Mr. William West, during the last three years. Mr. West has practically everything in the way of singles, and has a very wonderful lot of blocks and covers. Condition is of prime importance throughout, and those in attendance enjoyed viewing such things as the 1847 5-cent in blocks and 10-cent in strip of four, several of the August issues, all of the inverted centers, including a very fine 30-cent of 1869 from the Ackerman Collection. In the twentieth century issues, the collection includes practically everything in mint blocks.

Mr. Clarence W. Brazer has kindly consented to exhibit at the Club, on Tuesday, October 23rd. All interested are invited to be present. Mr. Brazer has gotten together one of the finest collections of U. S. proofs now in the hands of a collector and the exhibit is looked forward to with great interest.

EDITORIAL

CHICAGO is celebrating an occasion that justifies a pause in its busy life for a day. On October 4th, the one thousandth meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society will be held with interesting ceremonies, which are made possible by the presence of a number of distinguished visitors and a host of local collectors. An exhibition, deserving the description, small but select, an auction sale, a bourse and a banquet at the Germania Club are the features planned to make the meeting an impressive one. Old members of the C. P. S., which was organized in October, 1886, will be in attendance, and tribute will be paid to them. A special medal will be given to each of those attending the banquet; and signal honor will be shown to P. M. Wolsieffer, formerly of Chicago, who holds the first membership in the society. Mr. Wolsieffer has been the most faithful worker that the C. P. S. has ever known, and it was due to his efforts that the society was established on so firm a foundation. Even after his departure from Chicago to Philadelphia, evidences have not been lacking that he will never forget the organization on which he had lavished so much attention. In its gratitude the Chicago Philatelic Society will present to Mr. Wolsieffer one of the special medals in gold to mark his ascendancy into the special class of Honorary Life Members, where as Number One, he will ever be in the thoughts of those who have carried on the work that he began so well forty-two years ago.

THE following memorial has come from Bill Bloss, Los Angeles, California: "My heart is sore to-night, as I share my grief with the hundred of friends who will lament the passing of August Roterberg, the eminent dealer specialist in Latin-American stamps. A. Roterberg passed away at his home in Pasadena on the evening of September 23rd, after a lingering illness of many months. As one of my dearest friends, I probably knew Gus better than most of his many friends and correspondents, and his passing leaves a void that can never be filled. A student of his specialties, a kindly man versed in the psychology of man, a square dealer to his fellows, he leaves the world with his house in order and in peace. Truly, philately has suffered a severe loss in his passing. Mr. Roterberg is survived by his wife, son, Fred Roterberg, and daughter, Mrs. Walter Parker, and four grandchildren." Mr. Bloss speaks truly, and Mr. Roterberg's death comes as a shock particularly to his friends in Chicago, where he spent so many years and where he will be sincerely mourned. His philatelic scholarship was well known and his human qualities were greatly admired. His association with Chicago collectors will be remembered as the happiest of contacts by those of us who remain and whose thoughts followed him to California, where for a time he improved so noticeably in health. As a dealer, he did much to advance the merits of South and Central American issues in a collecting sense. His work in these stamps was congenial for he had an affection for them, although it is not to be said that he did not like all stamps. His business, while not large in volume, perhaps, was one that was carried on in a way to satisfy the most exacting correspondents, as Mr. Roterberg, himself, gave attention to all the details and it may be said that to him, stamps were at once a vocation and an avocation.

MR. G. M. ZIEGLER, New York, writes: "I was interested in the article on Andorra in the issue of October 1st, and having got to the borders of the 'tiny republic' on a trip to France last year, I heard something about its history. This was before the issue of surcharged Spain for the country, but I learned something of its political estate. It is true that it has paid a tribute of about two hundred dollars a year to the Spanish Bishop of Urgel, who is said to hold the only temporal rights in Europe, but similarly, it pays about the same sum to a bureau in Paris, that to some extent administers Andorran Affairs. The independence of the country is due to the fact that since mediæval times both Spain and France have had invested rights in Andorra, and this balancing of claims assures the liberty of Andorra."

THE following letter has come from Mr. H. M. Brehm, Appleton, Wisconsin: "I am the recipient of a recent cover that was mailed to me as a registered letter, franked with a 2c stamp and three of the 5c on the new Hawaiian commemorative series. The postal clerk here not knowing of the Hawaiian stamps took them for precanceled and finding that the letter had originated in Fairfield, Iowa, levied 15c postage due, writing on the envelope, 'Due 15c account cannot use precanceled stamps at any other post office than of issue.' I do not know just how well postal clerks are supposed to be posted on stamps newly issued, but do not suppose that very many of them have attempted to collect postage due on this kind of franking." Two other readers have written to say that the postal clerks have questioned the propriety of the use of the Hawaiians on mail in this country. One is not surprised that there is some misunderstanding on the subject of the employment of these surcharges, and a similar situation prevails as that of years ago, when the use of Philippine and Puerto Rico surcharges on U. S. stamps was allowed in our country. The postal clerks should have their attention called definitely to the present circumstances of the legitimate use of the Hawaiians by collectors here; and we predict that as time passes, steps will be taken to inform the employees of the service unmistakably in cases of the kind.

A READER sends a clipping that is unidentified as to its source telling of a battered old lock, fashioned by hand, bearing the inscription, "General Post Office U. S. America-1798" that has been placed in the Smithsonian Institute. The relic was sent to the department by Rufus B. Smyer, postmaster at Birmingham, Alabama, according to the account, who got it from a locksmith, who, in turn, traded a new lock for it when he saw it in the possession of an old negro. No doubt, this lock was used to secure the door of a local post office in the south.

MR. ALFRED E. FRITZ, Chicago, has handed in a copy of "Rogers' Priced Catalogue of the Market Values, May 2d, 1892, of the Postage Stamps of the United States, 'Government Issues'." The little book sold for one dollar and was arranged by Mr. Rogers, who called himself a stamp broker, and who incidentally was connected with the great International Exhibit at New York in 1926, thirty-four years after his compilation was published. Mr. Rogers gives prices for unsevered pairs of the imperforate stamps, "the way in which so many collectors prefer to collect them." His closing sentence in the preface reads: "Complete your U. S. Postage Stamp Collection as quickly as possible, if you do not desire in the coming five years to pay much higher prices. By higher prices, I mean from 50 to 100% higher than they are priced today." Mr. Rogers' outlook was not unduly roseate and time confirmed his judgment. He priced a pair of unused 10c of 1847 at $11.50, while in used condition, the quotation was $4.00. An unused pair of 5c of 1851 was appraised $20, and used at $10.00. The 12c, 18 in pair was $2.00, and the single imperforate 24c unused, $25. The 1869 inverted centers were given these modest figures: 15c, $60; 24c, $65; and 30c, $75. The of high or dollar values, State Department, were priced at $60. These quotations are taken at random from little book, which has blank spaces prices current in the three years following, 1893, 1894 and 1895.

WHILE on the subject of changes prices, we shall dispose of a price list that was issued, judging from context, about 1880, by Edwards, P & Co., P. O. Box 384, Chicago, While the name is printed, "Peek," properly it should have been Peeke; and the '80's the firm was a flourishing c under the direction of Mr. Peeke. the section devoted to single stamps, following prices of U. S. are given: 1847, eight cents; 1c and 2c Executed used, four and six cents, respectively. Further, a discount of 10% was allowed on orders over one dollar. As Mr. L. Wilbur, who forwards the list, says "Is it not reasonable to suppose that a half-century from now, the prices of many stamps will show the same ratio of advance?"

Any combination of first day issue covers with unused is permissible, single FDC with unused block or plate block, block on FDC with unused single, etc.

The service charge is in addition to the face value of the new stamp. A first day cover of a new 2c stamp costs 22c; of a new 5c stamp, 25c; etc. A first day cover of a block of four of a 2c stamp costs 38c; of a 5c stamp, 50c; etc. A first day cover of a single and an unused single of a new 2c stamp cost 29c; first day cover of a single and an unused block of four of a new 5c stamp cost 55c; etc.

FIRST FLIGHT AIR MAIL COVERS

- ☐ A. Two covers (one from each terminus) of each new contract air mail route.
- ☐ B. One cover from each city on each route.
- ☐ BA. Covers as in "A" with addition of one cover each way from each city where plane stops en route.
- ☐ BB. Each city to each other city on each route. "Complete coverage." This provides 12 covers on a route of four cities, 20 on a route of five, 30 on a route of six, etc.
- ☐ D. One cover from each city of each new contract air mail route, mailed direct to patron.

The charge for first flight contract air mail covers is 25c each for classes A, B, BA, and BB. These covers are addressed to persons in the various cities on the new route, and then sent back to me for distribution to patrons. By this plan the covers are assured of back-stamps of cities on the new route, thus showing that they were actually flown on the route.

The charge for covers of class "D" service is 20c per cover. They are mailed direct to you, one from each city of each new route. We guarantee that they will reach you and replace any that are lost en route, but do not guarantee that they will receive backstamps.

All covers are franked with picked copies of air mail stamps, perforated on four sides. We do not use straight edged stamps. All are guaranteed to have the Government first flight cancellations.

EXPERIENCES OF A NEW STAMP DEALER

By R. A. Moll.

These are some importing experiences that have become mine during the past year, and may be of some help to new stamp dealers.

After buying about $25 worth of Congo from the Brussels P. O., $20 of which was clear profit to them; I sent them eight letters, each having a complete Congo Air Mail set thereon, and asked them to please forward them to the capitol city of Congo, for mailing to me.

Very shortly they were returned with a long letter in French, so I decided to cross the Brussels P. O. off my list. And mind you, half the stamps they did send were so badly off-centered that the perforations cut into the stamps.

Cuba comes next. I knew they had a bad habit of sending a goodly portion of straight-edged stamps, so I plainly stated when sending for Cuban regular and Lindy Air Mails to please kindly send only perforated-on-four sides stamps; but they did not, so I returned them, reminding them of my request, and they returned them to me with a long letter in advanced Spanish. No. 2 crossed off my list.

Next I sent to the Stamp Agent in Monrovia, Liberia, for the new 1928 Liberian set, and there were enough creased and torn to make the lot a loss; so I'll not send to this gentleman again.

Amsterdam sent two good lots, but just received the New Curacao set and it's a loss from creases, before trying to sell the good ones. Postage and Registration on one lot from here amounted to over 50c U. S. Current, and it didn't weigh 2 ozs. So an X for this P. O.

I've sent to quite a number of English Colonial Postmasters, and always received superbly conditioned stamps, prompt service, and most courteous replies. I often wondered why so many dealers made a specialty of English Colonies, and now I know. It's because you always get your money's worth fro an English Colonial Postmaster.

Why not drop the unsatisfactory, "Ji ping," unfair P. O.? If we all would, wouldn't be long before all P. O.'s wou model after the English system, and ou troubles would be over. You get you money's worth from the Philatelic Age cy in Washington, but they can take lesson in courtesy from any English C lonial Postmaster; and after all courte goes a long way in helping to sell ar article.

WINNIPESAUKEE R. P. O.

By F. F. Persans.

(We are very pleased to have Mr. Persans ad this information to that already published our columns in regard to the floating P. O. Detroit River. It will dim the lustre of D troit's glory in this direction, but Mr. Boe will take it good-naturedly.—W. O. W.)

I noticed your article in one of th September numbers regarding the onl floating P. O. in the U. S. on the De troit River. For your edification, not following:

In August of 1926, I visited the Whit Mountain section of the N. E. state While at Laconia, N. H., I boarded th good ship, "Uncle Sam," which take mail from the trains at that point an distributes same to the various islan and shore dwellers of Lake Winnipesau kee, at the same time collecting outgoin mail, taking care of registers, M. O.'s insured mail, etc., etc.

The captain of this boat is a U. S Postmaster and he has a clerk and assis tant to take care of such matters as sell ing stamps, cancelling mail and bagging same for the north and south bound trains.

Would you not say that this comes un der the category of a floating Post Of fice? The killer for mail matter on thi boat is an R. M. G. cancel. Enclosed herewith a copy of same.

This boat has been in service for some years, I was told, and was at time the only boat of its kind in the States.

The same cachet was applied to Air Mail posted at the Show, as was used last year. I attended the opening day and was informed by Geo. H. Kieley, Supt. of Air Mail, that about 35 lbs. of mail would go out that evening. A large number of planes were on exhibition and attracted a vast amount of interest. The Colonial Air Transport, Inc., operators of CAM No. 1, had a nicely fitted out display of Air Mail stamps, photographs and posters. A number of Boston collectors were availing themselves of the opportunity to purchase Air Mail stamps and dispatch their covers in the Post Office booth. The cachet was applied by the Colonial and covers turned over to the Post Office, for dispatch.

Speedboats are to be used to convey the Air Mail from the Oakland, Calif., Airport to San Francisco, early in November. A canal has been constructed, and this service will speed up delivery of the Transcontinental mail about half an hour. This about completes the circle. We have had motorcycle, bus, and now speedboat service, not to mention submarine and pony express. What next?

Covers received from Council Bluffs postmarked September 28th, at 12.30 P. M., and supposedly picked up by the special stop of the Air Mail planes did not bear any special cachet. We understood that the Chamber of Commerce was going to make a big day of it, but apparently the plans fell through, so far as the philatelist was concerned.

Possible cachet at Philadelphia during Aircraft Show, Nov. 3rd to 10th? Show is being sponsored by the Aero Club of Philadelphia, and we hope some of our Quaker City readers get after them.

Also, how about Chicago? Big Air Show there Dec. 1-8, and our Chicago friends should be on the job. I'll bet they ARE and will break loose most any day with the details.

Cleveland, Ohio, will have been 10 years an Air Mail port on October 17th, and we understand an attempt is being made to secure a cachet, although it is doubtful that it will be forthcoming.

Just as I was putting the finishing touches to the Column for the week, along comes the Montreal-Albany flock of covers, sent by a number of coöperators. It was a most successful flight from all angles, and in conversation with a representative of the contractor, I was told that one of the heaviest mails ever transported in the East, made the journey. As only the Montreal covers have arrived back, I am unable to state how much of a variety was shown in the cachets. The one used at Montreal measures about 1½ x 2 in., and depicts a winged Globe, resting on a frame in which appear the words "First Flight—Air Mail Service—Montreal-Albany-Canada—U. S. A.—Premiere Depeche Aerienne," spread over five lines.

American Press news articles stated that the northbound Mexico City-Laredo plane was so heavily loaded that great difficulty was encountered in getting the plane off the ground. Hope our covers are nicely tucked away in the plane and that they will arrive in good shape. We are anxious to see what they have applied for a cachet.

Bring in your list or send it in; there are four competent stamp people here to find the stamps for you; if we have it, we'll dig, if not, we'll advise you when it shows up.
And "the stuff" is here also. Years of want list work tells—what to buy and stock.
Of course a lot of it, especially the less popular countries, is hard to find. The weekly purchase of a fair sized collection helps out here.

Chahi

The value in which most of the Persian stamps issued since 1885 are expressed. Prior to that date the coin was spelled "shahi," this being the English spelling, transliterated from the Persian. "Chahi" is the French spelling to accompany the French inscriptions. A chahi is the twentieth part of a kran and is worth about ½c in American money.

Brain Teaser Contest

We had no fewer than sixty-four entries in our latest brain teaser contest and it has been quite difficult to select the one to whom the 1929 Scott's Catalog should be sent. Nearly all the entries were perfect. Some failed upon one item alone, while others failed in giving the complete list of Presidents found on U. S. stamps.

It was necessary for us to be somewhat arbitrary in the selection of the winner and we were compelled to take into consideration not only correctness of replies but the descriptive matter, neatness in preparation, and general excellence of the entry. The honor of first place goes to Doak Blassingame, 1217 W. Gandy St., Denison, Texas. His entry was as follows:—

A. I am unable to find any European stamp issued in 1914 bearing the picture of an airplane, and therefore believe that "1914" was intended to be "1915." In 1915 Austria issued a set of five semi-postal stamps, one of which, the 35h and 3h ultramarine, bore the picture of an airplane in flight. This, I suppose, is the stamp referred to.

(2.) Q. What country's stamp shows the ship "The Olive Blossom"?

A. "The Olive Blossom," the ship from which the West Indian island of Barbados was first sighted, appears on a stamp issued by that country in 1906. The stamp has always been a great favorite with collectors because of its beautiful coloring.

(3.) Q. On what stamp is Victoria Falls portrayed?

A. The 1905 issue of Rhodesia has for its central design a picture of Victoria Falls. They are located on the Zambesi River, and surpass our own Niagara in height, although not in grandeur.

A. The picture of President McKinley appears twice on U. S. stamps: first, on the 5c Louisiana Purchase, issue of 1904; and second, on the current 7c black.

A. Mount Ararat, the famed peak upon which Noah's Ark is supposed to have landed after the Deluge, is depicted on the 25,000 ruble stamp issued by Armenia in 1921.

(6.) Q. What U. S. stamp pictures a foreign ruler?

A. The 5c Columbian Issue of 1893 pictures Queen Isabella, ruler of Castile and Leon in Columbus' time. Her picture also appears on the 8c, 10c, 15c, $1, $3, and $4.

(7.) Q. Name three famous women who appear on U. S. stamps?

A. Isabella of Castile and Leon, Martha Washington, Pocahontas. Isabella's picture appears on the stamps listed under the answer to Question 6. Martha Washington appears on the 8c stamp of 1902 and also on the 4c of our current set. A portrait of Pocahontas is found on the 5c Jamestown Exposition Issue.

(8.) Q. On how many U. S. stamps does Niagara Falls appear?

A. Niagara Falls appears on two United States stamps: first, on the 5c Pan-American Issue; and second, on the 25c of the set we are now using.

(9.) Q. What presidents have had their pictures on U. S. stamps?

By Frederick Wall.

Science and Esperanto have already en honoured philatelically by the So-et authorities, and now, with the Tol-oi Centenary Celebrations, comes the rn of Literature. Two stamps are to issued this month on the 100th anni-rsary of this writer's birth: one, of 14 pecks value, bearing his portrait; the ıer, a 28 kopeck, showing him plough-g upon his farm with the primeval, nd-made, Russian two-horse plough or oka." This picture is from a well-own painting by I. Répin and figured, identally, upon the postcards issued in 98 to celebrate his literary jubilee.

It is no exaggeration to say that Tol-oi was one of the most remarkable and traordinary men of the last century. e was born a nobleman. At an early e he was orphaned, and left in care a beloved aunt. He went to the uni-rsity at Kazan, but left without gradu-ng. He joined the Artillery, and for ne years led a gay, idle, dissolute life. At the end of the Crimean Campaign, kened by the scenes of bloodshed and im warfare he had witnessed, he left e Army, married, settled at his country sidence at Yasnaya Polyana, and occu-d himself with writing novels and aring a large family.

Then, in later midle age, already fa-us as the author of "Anna Karénina," War and Peace," and other novels ich are still enjoyed to-day, he aban-ned literature and found his avoca-n in religious philosophy.

This was no sudden change. In the diary of his early manhood we see the germ of his later reasoning, morality and philosophy. His new creed was Simplicity, a Utopian Socialism. He became a vegetarian, and banned both alcohol and tobacco. He decided to divide his estate among his peasants, but, on reconsideration, apportioned it instead amongst his family, an act which left his domestic status unchanged. He worked in his fields with the humblest of his labourers. He did his share of the housework and all manner of menial tasks. He lit his own fire in the top attic wherein he worked, allowing no one to infringe his creed by doing for him what he could well do himself.

In youth, though always a great sportsman, he had been rather weakly—in his diary he is constantly complaining of being unwell, and for many years he imagined himself to be consumptive, as one of his brothers had died of that disease—but the spartan life of his later years preserved him wonderfully, so that, at the age of seventy, his bicycle was still his chief method of conveyance, and he could still enjoy without undue fatigue several hours of hard tennis.

His literary works are nearly all in part autobiographical. In many of them we are able to detect some portion of his life or character. In "Resurrection" he is Neklúdoff, the man who gives all his estates to the poor. In "Anna Karénina" he is both Wronsky and Levine, for his own love affair is said to be the model on which he based that of Levine and Kitty.

Tolstoi is quite readable, so perhaps these two Russian stamps will serve to re-arouse interest in his works.—Gibbons' Stamp Monthly.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
Lexington, Mass.

to announce that I have recently acquired one of the finest lots of used early United States Issues from 1847 to 1869 inclusive, that has ever come into my possession. My special fondness for the mint copy has usually resulted in the finer things in this line coming my way, but here of late, I have had the opportunity of purchasing a used collection gotten together during the last fifteen to twenty years. The nicest part about the purchase is the fact that the owner several years back felt that his accumulations were a little too large and weeded out the items of less importance and those of secondary condition. As a result, the lot obtained is nearly 100 per cent fine. This collector was not satisfied with one or two stamps of a kind, but went in for anywheres from twenty to fifty copies and these are in different shades with different cancellations.

I especially note upward of fifty magnificent used copies of the 1857 24c showing red, blue and black cancellations. There are three pairs of the 10c August, one of which is lightly cancelled "Paid" used on part of cover with a copy of the 1c September. While there are not many of the grilled issues, there are several magnificent specimens, including the finest used 90c that I have ever seen.

The 1869 issue from 1c to 90c is a wonderful lot and of the 10c, which happened to be a favorite with the collector, there are numerous cancellations that are generally picked up one at a time. I note two used in Japan, one with a French Steamer postmark, one cancelled with the well-known bumble-bee, several stars of different designs in black and blue, two with the foreign mail cancellations usually found on the later issues, numerous flowers, shields, town cancellations, crosses, etc., in red, black, blue and green. There is also a strip of four, something very unusual. The reissue is complete in magnificent singles lightly cancelled.

I would also again call your attention to my wonderful stock of mint varieties, in both used and unused condition.

Washington Notes

A communication sent out to postmasters under date of September 24th, by Mr. R. S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster General, should be of interest to all stamp collectors, in view of the fact that heretofore postal clerks have refused to permit air mail stamps being used on communications between points where there was no air mail service.

This new regulation permits the use of air mail stamps in payment of all postage where full air mail rates are paid, irrespective of the fact that the letter or package may not actually be carried through the air. The order reads as follows:

"When matter is prepared for dispatch as air mail, air-mail stamps may be used to pay not only the postage, but any fee that may be chargeable thereon for special services, such as special delivery, registry, insured and C. O. D.

When postage on letters is prepaid, at the air-mail rate, with special air mail stamps and for some reason the letters cannot be carried by airplane, the letters should, in such cases, be dispatched by regular mail instead, without question as to the stamps.

In some cases matter is prepared as air mail and fully prepaid at the rate for such mail, although addressed for local delivery or to some place not served by an air-mail route. This is done for advertising or philatelic purposes or for some other attention-attracting reason, and in cases where the matter is fully prepaid at the air-mail rate there is no objection thereto. The use of air-mail stamps to pay postage on matter at less than the air-mail rate is not permissible."

The Postmaster General announced under date of September 27th, that Mr. Joseph Stewart, Executive Assistant to the Postmaster General, would attend meetings of the Commission of Studies of the Universal Postal Union in Paris.

Mr. Stewart represents the United States in this Commission, which will take up for consideration and recommendation to the Congress meeting in London next year, the numerous propositions submitted by the postal administrations of the world.

Air mail rates and regulations will be one of the most important questions to be considered at the Paris meeting. Among other questions will be revision of international postage rates, conditions of mailability and transit rates, etc.

Transit Postmarks

Mr. Eugene Klein has recently shown me a cover without stamps, posted from Nashville, Tenn., May 8, 1846, addressed to New Orleans, which contains a transit marking of unusual interest. This marking, which is applied in black, is elliptical in shape, with bric-a-bac around the edges. Within we find in white letters with black background, "From Steam-Boat, Tennessee, W. T. Yeatman, Master."

Mr. Klein has located a further cover not noted heretofore, consisting of a 3c 1861, addressed to Providence and tied to the cover with a red circular marking reading, "Steamer Perry." As there are no notations on the envelope, nor no communication enclosed, it is not known from what point this cover originated.

Unusual Postmark

Mr. A. W. Bork has sent for inspection an impression from a cancellor, which he states is being used at Prescott, Arizona, on registered communications. It represents a "Smoki Snake Dancer" holding two snakes, one in his mouth and the other in his hand. Mr. Bork writes:

"I suppose that you have heard of the Hopi Indian Snake Dance, which is a prayer for rain. Well, this is one of the dancers in a pageant given here in Prescott each year, which authentically reproduces these dances. We have also used a man riding a bucking bronco to cancel registered mail, as we have a big rodeo here each Fourth of July."

Brazil.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the 10,000 reis claret, type of A72, engraved and watermarked large stars multiple with letters Casa da Moeda between. The perforation is 11½.

Germany.—We are informed by Arns & Schrott that the new Zeppelin airpost stamps have appeared and were put on sale September 20. These stamps were issued in connection with the American air flight of the new airship "Graf Zeppelin." There are two values, two and four marks, the same size and form as the large German picture mark values. They are printed on white paper with net watermark in sheets of fifty copies and are engraved. The design shows an airship in transit between America and the Continent. This is t first postal issue in philatelic histo made especially for the American-Co nental Trans-Atlantic service.

Greece.—1929 Programme.—Acco ing to the Morning Post two new co memorative sets are to be issued in 19 One set will commemorate the Centena of the Greek P. O., founded by Ca d'Istra at Aegina (at that time capita in 1829. The second set is in memo of the formation of the Greek State a the termination of the War of Indepe dence.

We also learn that the sale of the Na arino issue will discontinue at the end this year.—Philatelic Magazine.

Hungary.—Whitfield King & C advise that they have received the 2 fill blue with the new watermark.

Italy.—More Commemoratives! Er manuel Philibert, Duke of Savoy, is t reason for Italy's latest stamps. Two d signs have so far appeared, one showi a full length portrait of the Duke in a mour and the other showing him in a mour on horseback. The latter is reproduction of the statue in St. Charl Place, Turin. The stamps are unfort nately not well produced and Dr. Emil Diena, the leading Italian philatelist hin self says: "I hardly think you will co sider these productions as works of ar You are entitled to expect better of th country." The values already issue are: Portrait: 20c, brown and ultram rine; 30c, green and brown-red; 25 carmine and green. Statue: 1125c, blu and black; 20l, violet and black. Fou more values are to complete the set an these will also commemorate the 10t Anniversary of the victory of the Gre War by symbolising Victory as applica ble to both the Duke's campaigns and th recent world struggle. These values are 50 and 75 cent and 1175c and 10 lire.—Philatelic Magazine.

Latvia.—Mr. George H. Jaeger send for chronicle copies of the 15 san. wit the new swastika watermark and the 3 san. blue also on the new watermarke paper. The former appeared on the 11t of September, while the 30c was issue two days later. Mr. Jaeger further ad vises that the so-called Invalids stamp were obsolete on the 25th of September.

igeria.—Mr. A. E. Hopkins writes: ave just received the current 2d K. rinted in deep chocolate on unsur- d paper exactly the same colour as just obsolete 1d K.G. of the Gold t. This rather looks as if the 2d rown on surfaced paper will be e, as it has only had a life of a few ths."—Stamp Collecting.

am.—Whitfield King & Co. have for chronicle the 1 baht blue and , in the new 1928 set. The stamp upright oblong shape and carries the rait of the King in an oval. Our espondent also writes that the fol- ng values have also been received: black and orange, and 50s yellow- n and black, both in the King's d design, 2 baht carmine and sepia, t green and black, 5 baht purple and -brown, 10 baht olive and puce, 20 blue-green and brown, and 40 baht and sepia all in the larger size de- noted above.

MARKET IN MODERN COLONIALS

By "Philatelia."

Obsolete v. Current.—The article, in a provincial newspaper, where it was stated dogmatically that the only stamps worth collecting, from a financial viewpoint, were fine Classic Rarities and current British Colonials, has already been referred to in this magazine. Anyone who has studied values of stamps from year to year knows that the vast majority of obsolete stamps rise in price progressively, and the current stamps keep stationary in unused state, and tend to get commoner in used condition, as long as they remain current. This is where the speculation in buying unused stamps comes in, a small minority may suddenly go out of use after a very short life, but the vast majority tend to remain current. As long as they are current, or even if they become obsolete yet plentiful, they may show a small loss to the collector if he sells them on the open market.

Obsolete Colonials that have, or are becoming, scarce, generally make a finer investment, as increase in value is fairly certain, whereas some of the Scripts now in use, may easily continue for another 10 years in use, whilst the modern collector likes to see his stamps go up quickly!

Of course it is easy to point to a large number of Colonial stamps during the last 25 years that had short lives, and which turned out very scarce on withdrawal, but we must remember that a variety of events caused frequent changes during this period, but there is no reason to suppose that equally rapid changes will occur during the next 25 years. During this period three different watermarks were brought into general use, a Sovereign passed away, several colour schemes were tried and a World War caused numerous changes, such as overprinting, provisionals, experimental papers, etc.

It is not to be expected that such a concatenation of events will occur very often, and with a veto by the Secretary for the Colonies on frequent changes of stamp design, we may expect a much more tranquil period as regards Colonial stamps, until some new watermark or other startling change is brought about.

Obsolete Scripts.—As is only to be expected from their short life those scripts that have already become obsolete are turning out very good, and it is these that are worth concentrating on. A writer in the last P.M. spoke of the investment value and interest in used scripts. Those that have become or are about to become obsolete are well worth acquiring in used state, as generally speaking their life has been short.

The majority of scripts already obsolete are those that have been unobtrusively withdrawn as redundant, and many of them are very good and have already been the subject of comment in these notes. These stamps are also mostly better used than mint owing to their short life, but current scripts cannot be equally recommended from a financial viewpoint as they will tend to get commoner.

Certain items such as 4d, 5d, and other withdrawn values of the Leeward Is. series are particularly worth while picking up in used state at present. Owing to the notice received most dealers will have imported supplies in time and such items as the 5d may be far rarer used than mint.

The two stamps in the Leeward group that ran out before it was known they were being withdrawn, are of course, relatively, the best, these are the 5d duty of Montserrat and Virgin Is., which are quite scarce mint or used.

Speaking of scarce used scripts as a whole, a recent writer in the P.M. said: "There is only one really rare script," and then went on to enumerate two, the 15/- St. Helena and the 10/- St. Kitts Tercentenary. To these might have been added such items as Malta 10/- 1st script, Gibraltar 8/- script, Kenya 50ru script, Cyprus 45pi script. All these will cost a good deal of money in either state and all except the last named are rarer used than mint.

Relative Value of Mint and Used.—It does not follow that because a high value is five times as rare used than mint, that it is worth that times as much or even very much more; generally speaking, even if it is ten times or more rarer in the postmarked condition it may be worth only a very small fraction more in market value.

The reason for this is that many very high value stamps of small countries or colonies would be almost if not quite unknown postally used if it were not for the demands of philatelists, as they are issued principally for fiscal purposes. A number, however, are specially used on registered letters to satisfy the somewhat limited demands of collectors, but if the demand was greater more would be used and postmarked to level off the price difference. As long as a stamp will fetch slightly more in used state, it pays to get it used. Copies also that have lost some of their gum and value as mint specimens, may be sent through the post and reappear as "superb postally used" examples.

It seems rather anomalous that very high duties which could never be needed for purely postal purposes, are sent through the post to satisfy the demands of collectors, although the majority still prefer to collect such stamps in mint state. Amongst the lesser of the high values, collectors interested in getting everything used will find such stamps as Kenya 2s50c and 7s50c particularly hard to get in used state.

Many collectors of used Colonials would, however, prefer to get the stamps of the medium values and Colonies that are actually being used commercially and which can usually be bought cheaper than mint specimens. There does not seem much object in excluding a country or colony because it does really use its stamps for postal requirements. Relatively, they should prove just as good financially as the others, provided fine copies are secured at reasonable prices. —Philatelic Magazine.

TWO BEAUTIFUL BOOKS

Some of our subscribers have never known the artistic beauty and general worthwhileness of the books issued by the Severn-Wylie-Jewett Co. In order to introduce our productions we offer two at a bargain price.

Our book on the stamps of Denmark is by B. W. H. Poole. It is handsomely printed and fully illustrated. It has a deckled edge cover bearing an enlarged picture of the 5 kroner stamp showing the fine Post Office building at Copenhagen and printed in the color of the stamp. There is a distinct individuality to the book.

The other book is "Range Tales" by Edwin B. Hill. It contains seventeen sketches of a philatelic nature yet marked by the atmosphere of the western country. The illustrations are appropriate to the contents. The book is well printed and the cover is also deckled edged.

These two books are listed at 40c. You may have them both for 25c post free, to make you acquainted with our publications. Address Beverly Office.

OUR AIR MAIL DEPARTMENT

MEL GANSER in Gossip.

While the highly esteemed MEKEEL'S WEEKLY were a bit slow to give air mail collectors a column "all to our ownselves," when they did come to it and thus recognize the importance of this phase of collecting they put on one of the best columns that is being written, if not the very best, being edited by Frederick D. Markee. We have been particularly attracted by his item in the issue of Sept. 3rd, which has to do with the multiplicity of souvenir covers as against those with a strictly official designation or cachet on the face of the covers. He tells it this wise:

"That low, rumbling noise that you have been hearing lately is not thunder, Big Berthas or an elephant's digestive apparatus in operation, but the muttering of air mail cover collectors who are trying to decide just how far they want to follow these new airport dedications! The way the cachets are coming in lately, the mutterings will increase in volume until they either terminate in song—or cussing!"

Bear with us while we mutter a bit.

As one who has the air cover collecting game deeply at heart we are inclined to believe these special and unauthorized covers are being overdone. Full well can we appreciate the local pride of a collector or when a nearby airport is dedicated, but it must be remembered that this has only a local significance, unless it is tied up with a regular mail route. We have been inclined to agree with the postal authorities who have taken the stand that they cannot authorize a special cancellation for these dedications. Usually, however, this is overcome by local interests by adopting a stamp of their own and oft-times complaisant postmasters coöperate in allowing the use of these markings. We are inclined to believe if this practice becomes too flagrant the department at Washington will find it necessary to compel a strict compliance with the rule that permits no marking of any kind on the face of an envelope except a return card and the address. Mind you, all our objection to this is mild, almost indifferent, but we do have in mind the growing number of collectors who are taking up air mail (and remember that every new collector increases the value of the other fellow's collection) and who may become just a bit weary trying to keep up with the procession of these souvenir covers, which usually come out on short notice and then are held closely in a few hands at a price out of proportion to the regular and authorized government cancellations.

Do we expect to get by with the above without a protest from some one? We do not. Even at that we may be all wrong. Who knows? Be that as it may, it does add zest to the game by interjecting a little discussion now and then, and at that we get more fun out of it than discussing the presidential candidates.

By FREDERICK D. MARKEE, 40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

An item in "Air Transportation" states that the Chicago-Atlanta service may begin operations the latter part of the month (October). Officials of the contract company have recently completed a survey of the route with a view to beginning operations on a daylight schedule.

Lima, Peru and Telar, Honduras, were connected by Air Mail service on September 13th, thereby completing another link in the Central-South America route.

Possible cachet points—Cleburn, Tex. — American Legion Con. — Nov. 10-11. Philadelphia, Pa.—Aircraft Show—Nov. 3-10. Chicago, Ill. — Aircraft Show — Dec. 1-9. Amarillo, Tex.—Airport Dedication — Nov. (?). Washington, D. C. — Int. Aero. Conference — Dec. 12-14. Kitty Hawk, N. C.—25th Anniversary of the Airplane, December 17th.

Coffeyville, Kan., applied a cachet to Air Mail covers in celebration of the dedication of their Airport, Sept. 26th. Not Official.

Early establishment of the Omaha-Kansas City route seems to be indicated by the announcement from Washington that bids for the lighting of the route will be opened Oct. 22nd.

News items received recently state that the official dedication of the Newark Airport has been postponed until next Spring, although transfer of the Air Mail service will be completed as soon as possible. I was informed by one of the pilots that considerable work remained to be done before planes could find dry land to alight on.

It begins to look as if collectors will have to agitate a new ruling regarding the backstamping of Air Mail covers. Just why the Department fails to backstamp covers intended for Air Mail service, when they are given only train service, remains a mystery. As preferred mail—as well as higher priced—it seems reasonable to ask that the Department backstamp any Air Mail, regardless of whether or not it arrived at destination by plane or rail. Covers sent to Albany for the Airport Dedication, "For Despatch via Air Mail," received train service. No backstamp. Other cases are constantly coming to light and if the support of Air Mail cover collectors is desired, the Department must make some change in their backstamping rule.

The special cachet used at Freeport, N. Y., was applied by the Airport officials to envelopes distributed among the spectators in case they wished to send souvenirs to friends. Mr. W. R. Humphrey sends a cover bearing the cachet and states that out of about 1000 envelopes distributed as above, only a hundred and fifty or so were actually mailed. Not Official.

The Postmaster at Omaha advises me that no stop of the Eastbound mail plane occurred on September 18th at Council Bluffs.

The Albany Air Meet came off on schedule time, but was carried over to October 7th on account of bad weather on the 6th. An addition of this date was made to the special cachet used and Mr. Charles G. Riess states that very few covers received service on that date.

Coöperators this week were—Buel A. French*, Fred Kruger, Burt Williams, Frank Murphy, Wm. J. Prinzing*, Anna M. Schafer, Glenn M. Kidder, A. W. Armstrong, Douglas Harwood, W. R. Humphrey, Harry A. *****

Mr. Douglas Harwood writes that there is a possible chance of a cachet at Bridgeport, Conn., on the dedication date of the Airport. As this date is not positively fixed as yet, covers may be sent to Mr. Robert A. Crosby, Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce, 99 Broad Street, Bridgeport, Conn., with proper instructions and if a cachet is used, Mr. Crosby will see that it is applied to your covers.

Covers received from the New York-Montreal-Albany flight were exceptionally clean and attractive, it being evident that extra pains were taken to assure collectors of desirable cancellations and cachets. The New York covers in particular, are above the average in this way, the face cancels being lightly applied and well placed. My 'round trippers went through in perfect shape—hope yours did!

As expected, the Mexican covers continue to dribble in each day, first one lot and then another. Press reports all stated that a 24-hour delay occurred in the arrival of mail at the border, due to the various celebrations held along the route. Well, off hand, we would say that they are running true to form down there. What are a few hours, more or less, to a Mexican? The Mexican cachet looks like two geese flying, one East and the other, West. Most covers received were far from clean, poorly cancelled and nothing to brag about. I note an error in one bunch, the face cancel reading "1 Oct. 27" instead of "1 Oct. 28." Other covers received on the same mail—registered—bear the proper date.

I have recently been shown a cover that is purported to have been carried by Wilmer Stultz in the "Friendship" when that ship crossed the Atlantic. Face-cancelled Trespassy and bearing several Newfoundland stamps, it also carries an English postage stamp and London cancel. Five days elapse between cancels. An effort is being made to get further information, as it was supposed that no mail was carried in the Friendship.

The Wilmington, Del., dedication of Bellanca Field came through as scheduled and covers received carry a large cachet, poorly designed and applied. I have seen several covers that were sent to Wilmington several weeks ago and returned about September 26th, with a much smaller cachet than that used on October 6th. Evidently the first design was too small and a new rubber stamp was made up for the official opening date. The first cachet was about one-third the size of the latter.

The Post Office Department has called for bids to be opened October 15th, for carrying the U. S. mail by air between Miami, Fla., and Nassau, Bahamas, for a term of ten years to begin not later than six months after awarding contract. The trip will be made one way, three times a week. Maximum mail load which may be required is 800 pounds. Approximate mileage is given as 187 miles. A bond of $25,000 is required with bid.

New Stamps Mailed to You as Issued at 25% Over Face

For those of you who wish to keep your collection of U. S. blocks up to date and are willing to pay for being relieved of the trouble of keeping track of new issues, we offer this service.

At a charge of 25% over face, plus postage, with a minimum charge of 10c per block, we will mail you as issued mint blocks of four of all U. S. postage stamps. This means that a block of four of any denomination from 1c to 10c will cost you face value plus 10c. Stamps above the ten-cent will cost 25% over face value.

A deposit of $2.00 or more, depending upon how soon you want to be called upon for additional deposit, is required. When your credit balance drops below $1.00, an additional deposit of $20.00 or more must be sent. If at any time your credit balance is not enough to cover new stamps issued, additional deposit will be required before new stamps are sent.

EXHIBITION IN MELBOURNE

One need not be a philatelist to find interest in postage stamps, and to be charmed by their infinite variety. The exhibition will be a picture show for the non-collector, a display of stamps from the countries of the world that issue them a medley of designs and shapes and colors. It is estimated that stamps to the value of nearly £1,000,000 will be shown. One collection alone, which reached Melbourne last week, is insured for £30,000. Its owner lives in America. Mr. Alfred Lichtenstein, of New York, is one of the world's leading philatelists. Several of the stamps in his collection are valued at £500 each. Probably he will exhibit his celebrated pair of Post Office, Mauritius stamps, which are worth £1,500 each. This "species," to borrow a naturalist's term, has never been seen in Australia.

Another very notable exhibit will consist of Mr. Henry Harvey's Victorian stamps, mounted in 20 volumes, and the most complete of its kind; it is valued at £20,000. The most valuable stamp of our State, issued in the old Colonial days, is the "half-length Queen Victoria, twopence," with the face-value omitted; it is worth about £500. Not more than two dozen copies exist, probably fewer.

At the October exhibition, of course, fine collections of Australian Colonial stamps and Commonwealth issues will be displayed. They will include Mr. P. Malone's collection of Tasmanians, awarded a gold medal at New York in 1926, and are at Durban this year. Another "gold medal" collection to be exhibited consists of South Australian stamps. Very notable Commonwealth collections are those owned by Mr. A. A. Rosenblum, editor of the Victorian Philatelic Record, and Mr. J. R. Purves, respectively. There will be shown, also, fine collections of the stamps of New Guinea of Pacific Islands, of the United States and South American and European countries. Air mail stamps, in much favor will be exhibited—and here is romance again. — Sydney, Australia, Morning Herald.

PUBLICATIONS PROMISED

As indicating the activity in the philatelic world, no fewer than three new weekly stamp papers are to enter the lists in a short time, according to announcements that have reached us. Mr. E. B. Power, New York, has plans well matured for a weekly, and Mr. George W. Linn, Columbus, Ohio, who for many years has had an ambition to run a weekly is soliciting support for his venture. As for the third publication, news of it reaches us in a roundabout way and if rumor may be given credit, a semi-weekly is a possibility. Here we have evidence of the growth of philately, and we are pleased to have more company.

SEEN AND HEARD—

WE have received from H. E. Harris & Co., Boston, Mass., the firm's "Bi-Monthly Journal" for October-November. It is a substantial publication of 68 pages and offers a wide variety of sets, collections and single stamps. A copy may be had for the asking.

ON October 3-6, an Aircraft Exposition was held at Albany, N. Y. We have received a cover from Walter C. Ritter, bearing postmark of October 3, and an Aircraft Exposition cachet in the lower left. We do not know the length of time the letter was in the air.

A PHILATELIC exhibition is scheduled for St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 16-19. It will be held in the Vinoy Park Hotel under the auspices of the St. Petersburg Stamp Club. Practically the entire mezzanine floor of this beautiful hotel will be turned over to the exhibits. Edward M. Fisher is president of the local club, and A. C. Anderson is chairman of the publicity committee.

GEORGE T. BUSH, Bellefonte, Pa., who took an active part in the Toronto A. P. S. session is arranging for a lake trip to Minneapolis next year. Members of the A. P. S. and their friends can board the steamer at convenient points and several days of genuine philatelic pleasure will be affored the party en route to Duluth and Minneapolis. Interested parties will please write Mr. Bush.

WE extract the following from a letter just at hand from Philip R. Hough:—"I have an old stampless letter dated Nov. 16, 1815, which I believe is from the island of St. Bartholomew althouhg written 'St. Barts'. The letter speaks of its being one day's sail from St. Croix. In the upper right-hand corner is the pen and red ink notation 'Ship 32,' and also a rubber stamp impression in capital letters SHIP. In the lower left-hand corner is a circular rubber stamp impression also in red ink 'New Haven, Ct. Dec. 12.' There is also the name of a ship and ship's captain which has been partially obliterated. The letter is directed to Maine, and it was no doubt placed in the hands of the ship captain, who upon arriving in New Haven deposited it in the post-office for delivery."

THE Kiwanis Club at Bellefonte, Pa., was recently addressed by George T. Bush. He gave an interesting account of the Toronto convention, and in doing so made the members of the club acquainted with philately and what it represents. Mr. Bush believes there should be more publicity of this kind.

K. BAUMANN very kindly sends us a newspaper picture of the new German airmail stamps which have already been described. The illustration is not good enough for us to reproduce.

THE fall convention of the Maine Association of Philatelic Clubs will be held at the Wooster House, Hallowell, Maine, Saturday, October 27, at 2 P. M. The committee in charge has arranged a very attractive program, including an exhibition, private auction, etc., including one of the Wooster's famous dinners. All stamp collectors residing in Maine are cordially invited to meet with us. Plan to bring your collection and get acquainted with other collectors. Further information may be obtained from Reuel W. Smith, Pres., 78 Main St., Auburn, Maine, or Abbott B. Cragin, Secretary, Waterville, Maine.

DETROIT was well represented at the big celebration held by the Chicago Philatelic Society. Herman W. Boers informs us that Harry Carter, Alex. Livingstone, Horace Hartwell, Charles Brisley and Karl Koslowski made up the Detroit Delegation. Mr. Boers also states that Henry Fritz, secretary of the Wayne Stamp Society, has just located a cover with a strip of five 1857 No. 8 imperforate, beautifully cancelled. An additional stamp was pasted on t cover.

THE 2c Canal Zone with Goethal's p ture was issued October 1 and fi day covers are at hand from Har Leonard, Emile Mizrahi, C. C. Lafler a the Canal Zone Stamp Co. Several our correspondents announce the 1c appearing October 3. We are very gra ful for the courtesies extended.

WE are informed by Thomas Hube that a new stamp club has been c ganized in East St. Louis, Ill., a now has eighteen members. Mr. Hube has recently organized another club Granite City, Ill., with thirteen membe John Shearer is president and Russ Miller secretary-treasurer of the latt club, which will meet at the Y. M. C. building the second and fourth Tuesd of each month. We compliment Mr. H bert upon his genuine good work f philately.

WE have received from Edgar C. Ca trell and Karl Huhndorff, Sr., gree ings from San Antonio, Tex. Th arrived in the form of airmail covers wi a cachet inscribed as follows:—"Amer can Legion 10th National Conventio Record Airmail Flight from San Anton Oct. 9, 1928. Sponsored by San Anton Chapter National Aeronautic Assn." is a striking design and there are tv colors, one blue and the other purp There is no back stamping indicating t end of the airmail flight, but there is question in regard to the flight being assured fact. Our Portland office also grateful to Mr. Cantrell for a spec men cover.

APPLETON, Wisconsin, is using novel design as a canceller upon registered mail. It is a represent tion of an apple with the letters TO in outline in the middle of the desig We are indebted to H. M. Brehm for cover.

HALF CATALOGUE

Sevard's Twinkles

We have another 2c current stamp so badly off center that it bears a plate number. This is our third, including a horizontal coil stamp. If these get any commoner, Mamma will have a lot of junk when Gabriel twists his tongue to a Reveille on that ventilator of his'n.

Are you collecting numbers on the current stamps? Maybe you have done it for the 2c brown and got up to 56, or on the 2c 1890 and got up to 62? Collecting them these days is difficult. We find quite a few duplex numeral handstamps coming along without numbers. In studying Browning's poetry, Rabbi Ben Ezra, The Statue and the Bust, Andrea del Sarto, you realized that his trick was a paradoxical turn to enhance his message. But numeral handstamps without numbers is a paradox without any percentage.

Many have written us about colored machine cancels and we believe that they mean colored machine postal markings. We have catalogued some 26 colored machine postal markings, but unfortunately we have only one as a cancel. Anyway we were glad to hear from so many who notice the odd cancels even on the current stamps.

THESE COMMON THINGS! TIME WAS WHEN A LITTLE SALOON OFF SEVENTH AVENUE IN THE FORTIES DREW FORTH PIQUANT REMONSTRANCE FROM THE PINAFORES, BUT TODAY, SWANK BETTY DROPS THE PRICE OF A BOSCAWEN TO SIP THE NEBULOUS NECTAR OF A CHRISTMAS TREE. YOU SHOULD BE THAT OLD.

Of the Type C permits, one should find 82% of them Standards. The Type C permits are used quite similarly to the meters, or Type E permits, but the Standards are "non-metering" machines. The distinction must be borne in mind in collecting permits, as the regulations assist one little when it comes to actual collecting. Of course, the Type C permits have a host of sub types which run the gamut of do-re-me-fa-sol, but the Chicago Mike of the bunch is the Standard.

And of the Standards, about 89% are of the 2c value. Each user of the Standard is furnished with printing dies with interchangeable type blocks showing three values, 1½c, 2c and 4c. With the meters, this is not the case, for a user will show a different meter for each value.

Further, in the meter, the different values are almost always in colors similar to those on stamps of equal value, thus the 1c is in green, the 1½c, brown, 2c red, 3c violet. In the Standard, the 2c is in red. Other values are nearly always in red or black. Thus, except for the 2c value, it is the rule to find colored meters, and exceptional to find Type C Standards, other than in red or black. Of the 2c Standard Type C permits, we find the heaviest user to be George Borgfeldt and Co., New York City, Permit 56, and next, Permit 33, Milwaukee, the Electric Light and Railway Company. The initial cost of these machines is low. Did you ever stop to consider the initial cost of a Chevvie? The initials are F. O. B.

CANAL ZONE

The second stamp of the new Canal Zone issue, the one cent green, was used for the first time on October 3, 1928, and it is a handsome production. The portrait of Dr. Gorgas is shown on the stamp, which is almost the best example of tasteful design that has been seen for some time. The 2c of the issue was available on October 1st.

EDITORIAL

THE first day use of the new Canal Zone, 2c claret, was October 1st; and we thank several correspondents who have favored us with covers postmarked on that day. The portrait of the genius, Goethals, whose monuments are the banks of the Panama Canal, is on the stamp, which is of pleasing appearance and provides a relief from the line of surcharges.

UNDER date of October 8, 1928, Mr. B. F. Myers, of the air mail service, Chicago, sent the announcement: "Effective October 15, 1928, San Jose, California, will be embraced for supply on route C. A. M. 8 (Seattle-Los Angeles). A special cancellation will be furnished for use on the Air Mail covers dispatched from San Jose on the first flight." The suggestion is made that first flight covers be sent to the postmaster at San Jose, but manifestly the information comes too late to be of service to collectors.

MR. ALLAN P. VESTAL, Indianapolis, Indiana, forwards the following interesting particulars that appear on a Western Union telegraph blank that was sent to him under date of October 8th, as follows: "Don't phone 904 Fletcher Trust Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind. Many stamp collectors and dealers have expressed their desire to secure mail carried by the Graf Zeppelin. Western Union has made it possible for each one interested to receive the envelope and stamp mailed from abroad and carried by the Zeppelin. For further details communicate with Mr. Pickett, at our office, 18 North Meridian St., Riley 4321. Western Union Telegraph Co." Mr. Vestal adds: "The price of the letter is $3.50, which the Western Union remits. The stamp collectors will help finance the trip if many of them respond." It is evident that collectors are recognized as a factor in enterprises of this kind and that their influence in a material way is worth cultivating.

THE one thousandth meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society was celebrated on October 4th, according to the somewhat elaborate program that was planned. The attendance of members and others from a distance made the occasion one whose success exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic Chicagoans. Indeed, numerically, the showing was comparable to that of a national convention. The exercises lasted from noon to midnight, and the exhibition of the Lichtenstein and the Hind rarities was an impressive feature. An auction sale held by Mr. B. L. Voorhees was the main attraction of the afternoon, and in the evening the banquet was held. The guest of honor was Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer, Philadelphia, who as Member Number One, held court, meeting his old friends and greeting others. He was given a certificate nominating him as Honorary Life Member Number One, and also a gold medal certifying to that effect. The token was in the form of the bronze medal distributed at the dinner, and after the gold piece had been presented to him, he surprised C. E. Severn by giving him a similar medal in gold, inscribed Honorary Life Member Number Two. The banquet was under the direction of Dr. C. W. Hennan, and was marked by interesting responses from Mr. Wolsieffer and the following distinguished guests: Messrs. Alfred Lichtenstein, Charles J. Phillips, G. Mosler, V. M. Rotnem, Hugh M. Clark, Alvin Good, Edward M. Rosenthal and others. As a rule, the speakers took the opportunity to pay deserved tribute to Mr. Wolsieffer, who worked so faithfully through the years to first establish and then advance the Chicago Philatelic Society when he was a resident of Chicago. The presence of Mr. C. J. Gadsden, the first secretary of the society, and incidentally, the first librarian of the American Philatelic Society added to the sentiment of the meeting. One of the speakers in reviewing the philatelic situation mentioned the availability of Mr. G. Mosler, of Cincinnati, as president of the American Philatelic Society next year at the expiration of the term of President Wilhelm; and in effect, Dr. C. W. Hennan, A. Boehm and C. F. Mann, all of Chicago, were nominated at the Board of Vice-Presidents. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Hind for showing a wonderful selection of rarities, and Mr. Lichtenstein was complimented for bringing his famous Swiss. A number of the visitors spent several days in Chicago among their friends. It is but fair to say that those who had the arrangements for the meeting in charge are to be credited with having scored heavily.

A READER in San Antonio, Texas, writes: "The 10th National Convention of the American Legion is made the occasion for a 'Record Air Mail Flight' from this city on October 9th. The flight is sponsored by the San Antonio chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, and a special cachet will record this information." We have received covers in conformity with this description from Mr. Edgar C. Cantrell and Mr. Raymond V. Bahr of Springfield, Ill.

WE are pleased to have the ideas of Mr. Carlos Gallando Vega, San Juan, Porto Rico, on any philatelic subject, as his interest in all the problems that affect our pursuit is sincere. In following letter, he dwells upon a q tion that while not new, is one on wh there is a variance of opinion: "V often, I have to overcome suspicions the part of collectors as to the genu ness of stamps that we offer them believe that the same thing happens many dealers, due to the fact that though the existence of forgeries o certain stamp is made known, yet method of detecting them is not as wi advertised as it should be. This is m particularly true with the general lector than the specialist. As special tion means a very limited field, relati speaking, the specialist has a be chance of familiarizing himself t larger extent with the issues of country or countries that appeal to than the general collector whose w scope will not allow him to gain same degree of knowledge within a g en time. I believe that it would b very good plan to give full informat as to the forgeries when it is availa and the means by which their charac may be determined. Then the distri tor of the forgeries could be boycot and his sphere of action restricted. you think the suggestion a proper c please submit this matter to your re ers." While it is not to be said that old fear-thought regarding forgeries disappeared, yet it is not so general pronounced even in the minds of in

1000TH MEETING OF C. P. S. AN OUTSTANDING EVENT

By R. J. Schwarz.

Did you ever experience the wonderful sensation of feeling that you were getting your money's worth? The best way to describe the 1,000th meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society is by that question.

The first impression on entering the pretentious Germania Club in which the affair was held was that a society able to organize a gathering in such surroundings must be very solid, indeed. So much for the effect; but what gave emphasis to this effect?

The meeting started at 2.00 P. M., Thursday, October 4th, and during the early part of the afternoon there was a reception by the officers, an auction, a stamp bourse, which hummed like a bee hive, and an exhibition of rarities such as is seldom displayed outside of the great philatelic exhibitions. The chief exhibits were by Mr. A. F. Lichtenstein of New York, and Mr. Arthur Hind of Utica, N. Y.

At 6.30, the climax of the day's events, the banquet. The brilliantly illuminated and spacious banquet hall was completely filled with festively bedecked, round tables. At each place was a large envelope bearing the name of a ticket holder and enclosing a program, and on each of these was a small brown envelope, which was heavy out of proportion to its size—it contained the bronze medal struck off especially for the occasion, and everyone present received one. To meet, see, and hear the philatelic luminaries present was worth any effort to attend.

The minutes of the first meeting of the C. P. S. on October 8, 1886, were read by C. R. Gadsden, a founder of the Society. Mr. C. E. Severn was to read the minutes of the 500th meeting, but he gave way to P. M. Wolsieffer, member No. 1 of the Society, and P. M. read the rather lengthy report of that event which clearly showed the great development of the C. P. S. as compared with the previously read document. Tom Hunter, who is right there when pep is wanted, made a motion that everybody rise in deference to Mr. Wolsieffer, and one would have to go far to see greater genuine reverence displayed by any group. Then Doc. Hennan had a stack of congratulations, but since everybody was longing to attack the savory viands, he gave way to public opinion. The food was excellent. After coffee everybody suddenly got the autograph fever, and justly so, for when would one again get the opportunity to meet so many luminaries in one place?

Mr. Wolsieffer was the first speaker on the program. He spoke in a general way of his happy relations with the Society. Following him Mr. Severn in his fine delivery gave a very stirring speech lauding the work of the "Grand Old Man" of the C. P. S., Mr. Wolsieffer, and presented him with a parchment scroll making him Honorary Member No. 1 of the Society, and a solid gold medal commemorating this event.

Mr. Charles J. Phillips, formerly the manager of Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., of London, but now located in his own business in New York, gave a talk which well illustrated his unequalled and varied philatelic experience. He stated that there was probably no club outside of the Royal Philatelic Society of London which could boast of having held 1,000 consecutive meetings. He told the famous story of how Stanley Gibbons received his start with the large bag of Cape of Good Hope triangles purchased of some sailors for a few shillings, and how Mr. Gibbons was persuaded to raise the price of the few color error triangles he found to 5 shillings each (look them up in the catalogue for yourself). He told of how postmaster Lord Derby called him to view a complete unused roll of Mulready envelopes, and an unused sheet of 1840 Penny Blacks, which had been just returned from Dublin where they had been sent in 1840 to be distributed as samples to the various Irish postmasters, but had been placed in a cupboard and forgotten. Consequently they were as fresh and bright as when put away. How he found five unused sheets of 4c gray France, which contained the rare tete beche pairs, and one of which even had one row imperforate between; also how he was brought a lot of New Brunswick on original covers containing many bisects which were all absorbing stories. He narrated how in 1907 in writing an article on the stamps of Montenegro he was troubled by the perforations found on these stamps, and on writing to the Government Printing Office in Vienna, Austria, where the stamps had been printed, he was informed that it used indiscriminately some 720 perforating machines, some of which were in use 40 years, thus making it a hopeless task to attempt to classify all the perforations. One of Mr. Phillips' most interesting anecdotes was that King George ordered his firm, Stanley Gibbons, to cancel all sendings of stamps when the Great War broke out, since war work would consume all his energies and time, but that at the end of six months the king sent a message commanding them to send a selection to Buckingham Palace each Tuesday, since he needed relaxation, and for that reason would devote a couple of hours each week to his stamps. We suggest that if he has not already done so, Mr. Phillips write a book of his philatelic experiences, which should be some of the most interesting and popular ever written.

Mr. Alfred F. Lichtenstein, of New York, followed with a short talk in which he described how his father kept one unused copy of the 15c 1869 issue out of a sheet of these found with center inverted. When the sheet was taken to the post office for redemption because of the defect the clerk told them it was unnecessary to turn the stamps in because nobody would ever notice the defect, and so eventually all but the one stamp were used up. Since there were many members of the A. P. S. present at the meeting, Mr. Lichtenstein nominated Mr. A. Mosler of Cincinnati, who was present and who is now Recorder of Vice-Presidents of the A. P. S., as the next president of that organization, which is to hold a convention in Minneapolis next summer. The motion was seconded from the floor.

Mr. Victor Rotnem of Minneapolis next suggested that since a great deal of responsibility fell on the Board of Vice-Presidents of the A. P. S. that responsible men be nominated, and he named A. F. Boehm, C. F. Mann, and Dr. C. W. Hennan, all very active members in the C. P. S.

The greatest event in Chicago's philatelic circles was concluded by Dr. Hennan, who suggested a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Arthur Hind for the exhibition of some of his rarities at the meeting, and by introducing some of the distinguished guests among whom were Mr. Good, who was secretary to Mr. Worthington, and was largely instrumental in getting together the famous Worthington collection, and Mr. Hugh Clark, who explained how prices are arrived at in Scott's catalogue, and beseeched everyone to inform him when prices are not right, but only if it can be proved what the prices should or ought to be. Mr. Clark closed with, "It is my aim to make the catalogue as correct as possible."

And so a great philatelic event became part of outstanding history.

Proof.—An impression taken from a die or plate, complete or incomplete, of a stamp design subsequently issued for use. The impressions taken by the engraver during the progress of his work, or from the completed die, are known as die-proofs, while early or trial impressions from a plate are known as plate-proofs.

Provincia de Cauca.—Shown on the two stamps issued in Cauca, Colombia, 1892, regarding which there are serious doubts as to their authenticity. The inscription means "Province of Cauca."

Provincie Modonesi. — (Modenese Provinces).—Shown on the stamps of Modena issued under the authority of the provisional government in 1859.

Junior News Release

By Beach Conger, Jr.

Argentine.—In 1914 the United States Post Office was preparing to issue a stamp commemorating 100 years of peace with Great Britain. Unfortunately the war intervened, and the stamp was not issued. But last month Argentine commemorated the 100th anniversary of peace with Brazil by issuing two stamps, 5 cent red and 12 cent blue. The design shows the arms of both nations in ovals surrounded by palm branches and the dates 1828-1928. Below is the inscription: "27 de Augusto-Centenario de la Convencion de Paz Argentino-Brasilera." If the nations signing the Kellogg Peace Treaty should all issue a set commemorating the fact, it would assist world peace to a high degree.

Bolivia.—A set of airmail stamps for use in Bolivia has been already printed in La Paz, according to reports. It consists of 10, 20 and 35 centavos. Ecuador has a set in preparation consisting of two values, 20c and 1 sucre. The South American countries seem to have made great progress in airmail, as far as stamps are concerned.

Roumania.—A new set of official airmail stamps has been prepared for use on the Bucharest-Temesovar, Galatz-Jassy and Czernowitz lines. It consists of the 1 leu brown, 2 lei blue and 5 lei carmine.

Cook Islands

The Cook or Hervey Islands are a group of six islands and nine islets s uated in the Pacific Ocean about 15 miles northeast of New Zealand. Stamps were first issued February 29, 1892.

ANSDOWNE, PA., STAMP CLUB

By George M. Emery.

(Most of the matter which appears in the EEKLY requires some editing, but here is article which is inserted just as sent in, d we consider it a model of its kind. We all be very willing to give other stamp ubs similar consideration if the work is done ywhere near as well as Mr. Emery has done i.—Ed.)

The Landsdowne, Pa., Stamp Club, nich now has a membership of more an 30, has completed arrangements for third annual exhibition, which will be ld in the offices of the Lansdowne Bank d Trust Company, Lansdowne, Pa., ov. 30 and Dec. 1. Lansdowne is a burb of Philadelphia.

The Lansdowne Club, originally organ-ed by Mrs. Mary G. Cook, has grown pidly in membership and influence and w aspires to take its place among the ding stamp clubs of the United States. draws its members from Delaware unty, Pa., and other parts of the wide-read suburban section which surrounds e city of Philadelphia.

A unique feature of the Club's exhibi-n this year is the fact that every mem-r of the Club will exhibit, and the sses have been so arranged that every llection will be entitled to consideration the awards.

By urging that every member exhibit or a part of his or her collection, the ub officers feel that a greater interest ll be displayed in the exhibit and a eater feeling of co-operation will be couraged among the members. It is o expected that many new members to e Club will be attracted by the display. The exhibition plans comprehend a ore elaborate showing this year than any of the previous exhibits, and it is e belief of the Club officials that many eresting and valuable collections which e majority of its members are known to ssess will be shown. A number of ecially constructed glass frames similar those used by the large metropolitan mp clubs are being prepared by the nsdowne Club for the exhibit.

The exhibition program is divided into e following classes: 1. United States d Possessions; 2. Great Britain and lonies other than Class 3; 3. British rth America; 4. Europe; 5. Asia; Africa; 7. South America; 8. Cen-l America; 9. Proofs; 10. Cancella-ns; 11. Specialties; 12. Covers; 13. niors; 14. Special for outside guests; Grand prize for the best exhibit in show; not open to guests.

Three prizes will be awarded to the nners in each class with the exception class 15. These prizes are in the m of specially engraved certificates different colors.

The officers of the Lansdowne Stamp ub include Dr. F. E. Locy, president; C. Hays, vice president; Robert H. omson, secretary and treasurer; Ed-rd E. Meacham, exchange manager; B. Maris, Justus Sinexon, Jr., and W. Brazer, membership committee. . Hays is chairman of the exhibition mmittee.

For the coming winter and spring, the nsdowne Club has mapped out an ensive program of business and enter-tnment. This program embraces a mber of exhibitions and lectures by owners of notable collections in Phila-phia and vicinity, together with sev-l stamp auctions and Competition ghts open only to Club members.

The Lansdowne Club recently altered constitution to provide for club meet-s twice a month instead of once a nth as originally arranged. This was nd necessary to keep pace with the erest displayed in stamp collecting by members and others affiliated with the ub.

Some of the more noteworthy exhibits t will be displayed at the Club's forth-ming third annual show embrace the ensive collection of United States oofs and essays belonging to Mr. azer, the collection of unused United tes stamps owned by Mr. Hays, the lection of battleship cancellations and mail covers belonging to Dr. Locy, collection of United States cancella-ns on the bank note issues got together George M. Emery, and many others.

For over seventy years we have been building up the finest range of stamp albums, philatelic accessories, and books on the hobby, that it is possible to produce.

OFF-SIDE—

THE Philatelic Agency said when sending the new Hawaiians (under date of Oct. 11th): "The Hawaiian issue of 2c and 5c stamps was comparatively small in number. The inclosed are not well centered, but they represent the best that can now be furnished from the limited supply remaining on hand."

MR. J. ROSENBERG, Berlin, Germany, was in Chicago recently where he called on dealers with a line of wholesale offerings.

THE last instalment of Advance Sheets of the new catalogue have appeared, indicating that the completed catalogue will soon be here, just as the season gets under way.

MR. HARRY E. KLOTZBACH, Buffalo, N. Y., favors us with the special cachet, air mail: "Dedication, Donald Woodward Airport, LeRoy, N. Y., Oct. 12, 1928."

MR. A. HIPPCHEN, Chicago, has removed to his former address, 118 N. LaSalle Street, where he established his business, and from where he moved while the building was being refitted.

MR. J. V. YEGGE, DeWitt, Iowa, calls attention to fact that the morning and the afternoon of philately were present at the 1,000th meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society in the persons of "A. M." Taylor, DeWitt, Iowa, and "P. M." Wolsieffer, Philadelphia.

THE first issue of the U. S. Stamp News has been received from Mr. P. A. Chapman, Geneva, Ill., who writes that he intends to make his small sheet of special interest to the younger collectors; and we hope that he fulfills his ambition.

AN announcement has been received of the opening on October 1, 1928, of the Euclid Stamp Shoppe, Inc., at Cleveland, Ohio, and judging from the interesting circular advertising the new company, a real addition has been made to Cleveland's commercial field.

WE notice in an Australian newspaper that "in connection with the West Australian centenary celebrations next year, the Federal Ministry has approved a suggestion that a special commemorative stamp should be issued."

MR. SHIRLEY E. MOISANT, Kankakee, Ill., once a philatelic publisher and stamp dealer and now editor of Association News, an insurance paper, is referred to by a contemporary of his paper in these glowing words: "Shirley E. Moisant, secretary of the Illinois Association of Insurance Agents, crack golfer at Kankakee, Ill., editor, publisher, politician and moral uplifter is getting out a crackerjack house organ for the Illinois Association."

THE meeting of the Denver, Colorado, Stamp Club to be held November 13th, will have as its subject, "Air Mail Stamps and Covers," and will be at the Studio of Chas. A. Nast, 827 Sixteenth Street.

MR. H. P. BOYCE of Wakefield, Mass., submits the following query: "Concerning the new 5c air mail stamp issued August 1st, which would you consider the real first day cover: 1. A cover mailed in Washington on July 25th with two of the new 5c stamps for one ounce, or 2. A cover mailed August 1 with only one new 5c stamp affixed?" That ought to be easy to answer, but it is not and we prefer to ask the judgment of some Solomon for the verdict.

SPURIOUS ILE DE FRANCE CACHET

By Henry C. DeWitt, Jr.

(We have been shown by Mr. DeWitt the two exhibits referred to in this article. His description is so accurate that we do not think it necessary to illustrate them. The misspelled name of the pilot is of itself a sufficient difference between the genuine and the forgery for no one to be deceived.—W. O. W.)

When the S. S. Ile de France sailed from Le Havre, August 8, 1928, there was aboard the ship but one rubber stamp from which the special cachet was imprinted on a majority of the letters Lt. Demougeot carried with him on his flight into the port of New York, August 13th. Reports as to the number of pieces actually flown vary, 1,600 to 1,800 covers seems about the correct number. This cachet was applied by the postal authority aboard the ship and from those the writer has seen, is on only about half of the letters.

Exhibit No. 1 is a photostatic copy of this cachet which was printed in a brownish black ink. So far the writer has not seen this cachet on covers other than those posted aboard the ship.

As to the history of this rubber stamp, I quote from a letter from Henry Villar, Purser of the Ile de France: "Only one rubber stamp has been used for the first trip August 8 to August 23, and destroyed at sea on August 23rd."

Exhibit No. 2 is a photostatic copy of the cachet on a cover recently received from a dealer, a casual glance will show that it differs from No. 1. The type faces, size and spacing is different, the accents are not the same, the color of the ink is greenish black, and most strange of all, the pilot's name is misspelled "DEMOUGEUT."

That the cachet shown in Exhibit No. 2 is spurious is the opinion which is concurred in by all to whom the originals have been submitted.

IT'S COMING

It gives me great pleasure to state that I will have a most important announcement to make within the next two weeks, of the purchase of a collection of unusual proportions, containing a magnificent lot of fine items.

In the meantime, want lists are desired from the really interested collector who is desirous of obtaining the choice United States item, either mint or used, single or block.

At the present time, I have an unusually fine lot of mint singles and lightly cancelled used copies of the more desirable earlier issues, including those with odd and unusual cancellations.

I am always in the market to buy choice items and especially desire the rare and choice piece in the way of covers, mint blocks, errors, or the like. Not only postal adhesives, but Carriers, Departments and Revenues are desired.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES AND VARIETIES

The chronicle of United States is edited by PHILIP H. WARD, JR., P. O. Box 2175, Middle City Station, Phila., Pa., who will also be pleased to pass on oddities and varieties of all U. "Old Stamps Not Recognized"

I have recently been shown a cover posted in Philadelphia, and bearing postmark of that city, dated August 15, 1863, wherein a 3c issue of 1857 was placed upon the cover and addressed to Long Branch, N. J. The Philadelphia postmark appears upon the cover, together with "DUE 3" in black ink, possibly from the same ink pad. In addition, the stamp is tied to the cover in a two-line stamp reading, "Old Stamps Not Recognized." This is the first time that such a marking on a Philadelphia cover has been noted.

Bloods Local on Blue

There has recently been noted an unlisted local, namely, the Bloods envelope on blue laid paper, in Type III. The envelope measures 6¼" by 3⅜", and is addressed to Philadelphia, bearing postmark of May 10, 1856. Immediately upon acquiring this item it was shown to the Dean of the collectors of local stamps, Mr. Henry W. Needham, and he advises that this is the second cover of this uncatalogued variety to come to his attention.

Mr. Lawrence E. Mason confirms the information, and states that the first copy which was in the Ferrari Collection, was somewhat smaller in size than this one. The Ferrari copy passed to Mr. Mason, then to Senator Ackerman, and has recently been acquired by a third collector.

This new copy comes from a collection where it has remained, possibly unappreciated, for many years.

Odd Postmark

Mr. H. M. Brehm has sent a registered cover from Appleton, Wisconsin, wherein the stamps are cancelled in a most unusual manner. The marking which is in black, and measuring about seven-eighths of an inch across, is in the shape of an apple and shows in the center in white letters, "TON," the combination forming the name of the city using the killer "Appleton."

Canal Zone

Through the courtesy of Mr. R. S. Carter, we are able to report the appearance on October first of the new 2c Canal Zone stamp showing an excellent portrait of General Goethals.

The first-day cover shows cancellation of October 1st, 8.30 A. M., and no doubt, since that time the 1c stamp recently chronicled, has appeared, but there has not been sufficient time elapsed, at this writing, to enable the variety to reach this country.

Belgium.—Whitfield King & Co., and Mr. R. Roberts have shown us the Orval Abbey Restoration set of stamps. Values are 5c+5c red, 25c+5c violet, 35c+10c green, 60c+15c brown, 1fr75c +25c blue, 2fr+40c purple, 3fr+1fr orange, 5fr+5fr claret and 10fr+10fr sepia. The first two values are surfaced printed and most hideously executed with a gold overprint ORVAL in block letters. The other seven values are line engraved and of three designs, Sculptor Monk, Duchess Mathilda, and a view of Orval.

Estonia.—We have received from George H. Jaeger specimens of the new set with design of triple heraldic lic inscribed "Eesti" with value. There w be no fewer than thirteen values in t design, ranging from 1 to 60s. Thr high values of 1, 3 and 5kr will ha another design.

Italy.—Whitfield King & Co. infor us that the 5 lire violet and green, sa type as the 20c, in the Emanuele Fi berto series, has been placed on sale.

Latvia-Lettland. — We are advis by George H. Jaeger that the War I valid stamps of Latvia of 1923 with st charge in blue cross and supplementa value 1 - 10, 2 - 10, and 4 - 10 santimi, which 200,000 sets were printed, we obsolete from Sept. 25.

Liberia.—Whitfield King & Co. r port that they have received the brown, map design.

Roumania.—Whitfield King & C advise of the appearance of the 25 ba grey, watermarked wavy lines, Kin Michael design.

Uruguay.—Mr. R. Roberts sends f chronicle a set of three values of stam issued to commemorate the inauguratio of the monument of General Garzo These were engraved by Messrs. Wate low & Sons, Ltd., and are imperfora and of the following values: 2c red, green and 8c blue. Mr. Roberts advis that only 7,500 sets were printed in sma panes of four stamps. They were a parently only on sale for a few hou and there was a mad scramble for ther but the most serious casualties were few torn clothes and lost buttons.

TWO BEAUTIFUL BOOKS

Some of our subscribers have never known the artistic beauty and general worthwhileness of the books issued by the Severn-Wylie-Jewett Co. In order to introduce our productions we offer two at a bargain price.

Our book on the stamps of Denmark is by B. W. H. Poole. It is handsomely printed and fully illustrated. It has a deckled edge cover bearing an enlarged picture of the 5 kroner stamp showing the fine Post Office building at Copenhagen and printed in the color of the stamp. There is a distinct individuality to the book.

The other book is "Range Tales" by Edwin B. Hill. It contains seventeen sketches of a philatelic nature yet marked by the atmosphere of the western country. The illustrations are appropriate to the contents. The book is well printed and the cover is also deckled edged.

These two books are listed at 40c. You may have them both for 25c post free, to make you acquainted with our publications. Address Beverly Office.

STAMP NOTES AND NEWS

Albania.—Two sets of stamps have been issued to commemorate the change of Government. The stamps are a new republican issue not yet put on sale, one set consisting of denominations from 1 qindar to 1 franc is overprinted "Kutjim Kombetar Kushtetuese 25.8.28" to commemorate the new Constitution; the other set consisting of denominations from 1 qindar to 2 francs is overprinted "Mbretnia Shqiptare, Zog I, 1.IX.1928" and commemorates the Coronation of the King on September 1st. The first set is sold at a premium of 25% and the other at double face value, but for what purpose these premiums are charged, we have no information. We have not seen any of the stamps, and it is stated that only 2,500 sets of the Coronation stamps have been issued.

Argentina.—Two new stamps have been issued to commemorate the centenary of the signing of the preliminary peace terms between the Empire of Brazil and the United Provinces of the River Plate. The denominations and colours are 5c red and 12c blue, both stamps are of the same design, dated "1828-1928" and show the Arms of the two Republics of Argentina and Brazil. At the base of the stamps is inscribed "27 de Agosto Centenario de la Convencion de Paz Argentino-Brasilena." The 5c was issued on August 27th, the date of the signing of the Peace terms, and the 12c on the 29th. We understand the issue is a limited one and that the supply is likely to last only about a month. Nearly all the stamps are poorly centred.

Belgium.—A special set of stamps has been issued to augment a fund for the restoration of Orval Abbey. There are nine denominations, 5c+5c, 25c+5c, 30c+10c, 60c+15c, 1fr75c+25c, 2fr+40c, 5fr+1fr, 5fr+5fr, 10fr+10fr. The stamps are very attractive and there are two designs, one showing the Abbey ruins, another shows a Monk carving a wheel, which is the symbol of reconstruction, the third design portrays Duchess Matilda and the Orval Coat of Arms, whilst the fourth design shows Monks ploughing a field near the Abbey.

China.—We are informed that the Nationalist Ministry of Communications has ordered the Postal Authorities to issue a special set of stamps in memory of Sun Yat Chung Shan, the denominations are to be 1, 2, 4, 10, 50 cents and 1 dollar, but we have no information as to the colours and designs.

French Colonies.—A new stamp of 1fr10c in a definite design has been issued for 20 French Colonies.

Latvia.—A new set of stamps is to be issued on the 18th of November, to commemorate the ten years' independence of the Latvian Republic, the denominations will be 6, 15, 20, 30, 50 santimi and 1 lat. We are informed that these stamps will show a picture of the National Theatre at Riga and other historical views.

Malta.—All values of the current set have been overprinted with the words "Postage and Revenue" and are to be put on sale on October 1st.

Roumania.—For the first time Air Mail stamps have been issued for this country, and we have seen three denominations, 1, 2 and 5 lei. They are very well printed and show a monoplane in flight; inscribed on the body of the monoplane is "C-Raiu," which is the name of the pilot, but our correspondent at Bucarest informs us that this name should be "Captain C. G. Craiu" and that a further lot of stamps is being printed with the corrected inscription.

Russia.—We have received notification from Moscow that the intention to issue stamps to commemorate the anniversary of the 100th birthday of Count Tolstoy has been abandoned.

St. Kitts & Nevis. — We are officially informed that the £1 stamp of the current issue is no longer obtainable, and this stamp will not be re-issued.

South West Africa.—The 3d and 6d Postage Due stamps have now been received in the new type and overprinted "S.W.A.", thus completing the set. In each sheet of the 6d there is an error with the period omitted after "A."

Trans-Jordan.—All values of the current issue have been overprinted in Arabic with the word "Dastour," meaning "Constitution," to commemorate the signing of the agreement between H.M. the King and the Amir Abdullah, and the enactment of the Organic Law setting forth the Constitution of the Government. The stamps were issued on September 1st and were on sale for one month only, so that they are already obsolete. The overprinting was done in Cairo in the following quantities:—2 mils, 21500; 3 mils, 16500; 4 mils, 15500; 5 mils, 25800; 10 mils, 11800; 15 mils, 16200; 20 mils, 9600; 50 mils, 8500; 90 mils, 6300; 100 mils, 6300; 200 mils, 5600; total, 143600 stamps.

Turkey.—It has been stated that special stamps were issued in connection with the recent celebrations of the Turkish victory over the Greeks in 1922, but our agent in Constantinople informs us that these are merely labels issued by the War Orphans' Association and do not in any way pay postage. In these circumstances we shall not include them in our catalogue, nor distribute them through our New Issue Service. The complete set of the 1926 issue has been overprinted with Turkish characters meaning "Smyrna Exhibition, September 9.928." There are fourteen denominations from 10 paras to 200 grouch, and the stamps were on sale only during the period of the Exhibition at Smyrna, which was open from the 9th to the 20th of September.

Venezuela.—On July 21st a 10 centimos stamp printed in green was issued to celebrate the 25 years of internal peace in Venezuela. These stamps were put on sale for one day only without any previous warning and only 20,000 were issued for the whole country. All the stamps were sold out on the day of issue, and our agent writes that although he went to the Post Office immediately on hearing of this new issue he was unable to obtain even a single copy.—Whitfield King & Co.'s Bulletin.

THE BELATED SPECULATOR

By W. E. Imeson.

Oh, show me what I ought to buy,
And where that "what" is sold!
Of "good things" that I might have had
I'm always being told.
For "gilt-edged stock" that others find
In vain I look around;
Ne'er on the spot, I fail to "spot"
The spot where such is found.

Ere buying stamps upon the rise
I wait until they stop;
Then, if I buy when they have "riz,"
They're always sure to drop.
Of woman fair that hesitates
'Tis said that lost is she;
I hesitate to say it, but—
The man that's lost is me.

Some always get in just before,
And clear out on the boom,
But when I wish to come in (late),
Alas! the cry's "No room!"
Or if perchance first in the field,
I'm first to get the hump;
The "good things" that I touch are "safe
As houses"—for a slump!

I'll speculate no more—not I!
The greed of gain's a crime
(Especi'ly when you speculate
And get left every time).
No "golden opportunity"
Will I in future take;
I'm always finding prophets, but
No profit can I make.

EDUCATION IN STAMPS

(This clipping was taken from the Detroit "Evening Times" and sent us by James A. Downs. It is interesting in that it shows how philately can be advertised.—Ed.)

To millions a postage stamp is just a postage stamp; to collectors it is an important item in a life-long, absorbing quest. But to Sigmund Rothschild, stamp collector extraordinary, who is lecturing in Detroit this week, postage stamps represent a liberal education.

Rothschild, whose appearance here marks the opening of the J. L. Hudson Company's stamp department, is speaking daily both over WJR and to audiences in the Hudson store auditorium. His message is: "Let postage stamps help educate your child."

Rothschild, a youngish appearing middle-aged man, has perhaps the most unique stamp collection in the world. He is the only collector who refuses to set any commercial value on his collection.

"I am interested in stamps only as an important aid to the education of children," said the collector, whose home is in Freeport, L. I. "I've never even counted the number of stamps I have.

"But I'll guarantee that any boy or girl who'll study stamps will be able to answer every question in Thomas Edison's group of 50 queries that stumped the college graduate two years ago."

In his 28 years' study of stamps—he began the hobby when his celluloid manufacturing business failed—Rothschild has found only eight "freak" stamps embodying ridiculous errors.

One is the famous Lindbergh air mail stamp, which has a ridiculously inaccurate map of North America. A Newfoundland stamp has an elephant with legs like a horse, while another exhibits a seal with paws and claws instead of flappers.

In the American Columbian exhibition stamp of 1892, Columbus is shown, smooth shaven, about to land in America. The companion stamp, picturing the landing a few hours later, shows Columbus with a full-grown beard. St. Kitts, a British colony, went the United States one better in its Columbian stamp. It showed Columbus first sighting America through a telescope more than 100 years before that instrument was invented.

But Rothschild isn't greatly interested in freak postage. He has the facts—and the stamp—to prove that study of stamps will assist any bright boy or girl in his or her study of geography, history, biology, agriculture, mechanics and scores of other subjects. And for the youth who is interested in aviation, engineering, electricity, sport, transportation, religion, and architecture, there are stamps to stand to every subject, the collector declares.

By FREDERICK D. MARKEE, 40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

Here is a flight that we won't have much chance covering! I quote from the Postal Bulletin—"Fairbanks to Beaver. The Supt. of Railway Mail Service at Seattle. Wash., is hereby authorized to employ the Wien Alaska Airways of Nome, to perform one round trip of emergency service from Fairbanks, Circle, Fort Yukon, to Beaver, and return, about Oct. 17th, 1928, carrying not to exceed 400 pounds of mail both ways at the rate of $325 for the round trip; payment to be made, etc."

New York's first Aeronautical Exposition since 1920 will be held at the Grand Central Palace during the week of Feb. 6th next, under the auspices of Aviator's Post 743, American Legion. This might mean a cachet of some kind.

Mott, No. Dak., held Dedication exercises on Oct. 3rd for a new Airport, Legion Field. A special three line cachet was applied to covers, reading "Legion Field —Mott, N. D.—Oct. 3rd, 1928." NOT OFFICIAL. Cover received through the courtesy of Mr. F. W. Wright.

A news item quoted by Mr. Wilfred T. Foster states that a landing mast for dirigibles has been erected at St. Hubert Field in anticipation of the coming of the R 101, now under construction in England.

Port Richmond, Va. held an Air Derby and Dedication on Oct. 11th and 12th, covers receiving a special cachet in the form of a "birds eye" view of a plane, in outline. NOT OFFICIAL.

Davenport, Iowa, is to dedicate a municipal field on or about November 12th, and I have been advised that a special cachet is probable, application being made to covers by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Frank H. Grace writes that he will be glad to co-operate with collectors in the despatch of covers, which may be sent to him, prepared for mailing, at 1119 Iowa Street, Davenport, Ia. I thank Mr. Grace in behalf of my readers, for his courtesy.

A cover from Havana, Cuba, bearing a special cachet, has been received from Mr. R. Oriol. The cachet depicts the Maine Monument at Havana, in outline, and has been applied to mail during the convention of Spanish War Veterans during the week of Oct. 7th-12th. Probably NOT OFFICIAL, although my information is not complete.

The "Record Air Mail Flight" cachet, applied to Air Mail from San Antonio, Tex., on Oct. 9th, came out beautifully and certainly is a credit to the San Antonio chapter of the N. A. A., who made the application to covers. This might be termed a SEMI-OFFICIAL cachet, as it was well advertised beforehand and applied by a recognized organization, acting in conjunction with other organizations of a like nature.

The first Portland, Me., Airpost Dedication cover that I have seen with a cachet has been forwarded by Mr. G. H. Curtis, who states that the Portland Chamber of Commerce did not make up their minds to apply a cachet to mail until a day or two before the dedication dates, Sept. 28-29. As a consequence, very little mail received the four line impression reading "Portland Airport—Dedicated Sept. 28-29, 1928—Chamber of Commerce — Portland, Maine". Covers sent to the Postmaster were returned, sans the cachet.

I have been shown a cover carried between Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., on what is said to be a First Trip, the flight occurring July 23rd, 1928. The cover, sent in by Mr. E. J. Newcomer, bears a face cancel of Victoria, dated as above and cancelled at 2.30 P. M. Backstamped Vancouver July 23rd, at 4 P. M. A rubber stamp impression on the face of the cover reads "First Flight—Air Mail—Victoria-Vancouver, B. C." Another cover carried over the same route, but dated Aug. 11th, bears a 5c stamp of private origin, being issued by the British Columbia Airways, Ltd., and affixed to the back of the cover.

Co-operators for the past week include—Irving Levine, Glenn M. Kidder, Frank W. Wright*, Wilfred T. Foster*, L. B. Gatchell, Frank H. Grace, J. H. Elm, R. Oriol*, G. H. Curtis*, D. Abernathy, E. J. Newcomer, Edgar C. Cantrell*, W. H. Farnum, Mrs. Vernon G. Godfrey, Douglas Harwood, Harry E. Klotzbach*, Chas. F. Jones*, Chas. E. Roy, Wm. Esselen, Jr., C. H. Evans*, Paul P. Wentz*, Hugh M. Troland, Jr., Benjamin Cadbury, E. M. Fenter*, J. Holly Elm*.

A lengthy letter received a day or so ago from the Pan American Airways, Inc., still leaves me much in the dark as to what is going to transpire with regard to the Central and South American flights. I am going to try again and as soon as anything definite is received, it will appear in this column.

Did your Mexican covers all return satisfactorily? I have heard from a number of readers who have had some tough luck on this flight, but the majority report that everything went K. O. with them.

As this is being written, they are warping the "Graf Zeppelin" into the hangar at Lakehurst and in a few hours the heavy load of Air Mail will be on its way to the many, many collectors who were fortunate enough to have had correspondents abroad. The Postal Bulletin of today states that there will be an OFFICIAL cachet applied to Air Mail carried on the return trip to Germany; the New York and Lakehurst, N. J., offices are to be equipped with the cachet and will make the application to covers. Remember, the rate is $1.00 per ounce for letters and 50c for each post card IN ADDITION TO THE REGULAR POSTAGE FOR THE COUNTRY TO WHICH THE LETTER OR CARD IS ADDRESSED. One ounce is the limit for letters. Covers may be sent to the Postmasters of either (or both) of the above points and should be endorsed "By German Airship L.Z. 127 from Lakehurst, N. J."

THREE CENT 1851 AND 1857

We have just received instructions to break up the famous collection of these stamps owned by Dr. Carroll Chase. This collection was awarded the "Palm of Honor" at the 1926 exhibition held at New York.

The cancellation portion has already been sold. The balance, which we are holding, consists of all the plate varieties and flaws that are known on these stamps in the finest condition that Dr. Chase was able to obtain them during the many years he was accumulating these stamps. There is a complete set of reconstructed plates, not a stamp missing, also reconstructed plates made up of overlapping pairs and strips.

There are several fine blocks, including the two largest known blocks of the orange brown unused.

A remarkable feature of the collection is the number of 3c '57's Type I with recut inner lines. This stamp has always been very difficult to obtain and it is present here in nearly all possible varieties.

We should be pleased to show this collection to callers at our office or send out portions on approval.

This collection is remarkable for the unusually fine condition of the varieties in it, these copies being the best that Dr. Chase could procure after years of searching. Every stamp has been priced separately with the exception of a few interesting sets which have been priced per set.

We will announce further particulars shortly and in the meanwhile, we would be pleased to hear from all those interested in seeing these stamps.

PRICES AND CONDITION

The trend of modern collecting is condition first and price second and it is certainly the very best policy for one who is forming his collection both for pleasure and as an investment.

Quotations in my annual price list may not be the lowest but I believe them to rank fairly with other quotations, condition considered. Page one of my price list contains a very accurate description of condition—more definite, I believe, than contained in any other price list.

I invite trial orders upon the understanding that anything may be returned for any reason whatsoever. I cheerfully refund both your cost and postage on anything returned. [74c ber of Commerce, in which appears an item asking the co-operation of Cleveland business houses in securing a heavy mail for Oct. 17th—"Air Mail Day." The article deals with the time saving ability of Air Mail.

"3,306,207 miles flown, without the slightest injury to any passenger, or the loss of a single ounce of mail or express" is the statement made by Lester D. Seymour, Asst. Gen. Mgr. of National Air Transport. A REAL record of safety!

Last week must have been Dedication Week! In addition to the dedications given above, there has been added Le Roy, N. Y., October 13th, Moorestown, N. J., October 13th-14th, and New Castle, Pa., October 13th. Le Roy sent a plane load of mail to Rochester for despatch from that point, most of the covers bearing the cancel of Rochester. A few were canceled Le Roy and despatched. I have seen two different cachets, plus a special printed envelope. Moorestown, N. J., cachet was applied by the Burlington County Aero Club, and the New Castle, Pa., cachet reads: "City of New Castle—Airport Dedication — and — Aero Show — October 13th." None of the foregoing are official.

Covers from the LZ 127, "Graf Zeppelin," were received in Boston, October 17th, having the New York backstamp of Oct. 16th at 10 A. M., and bearing the face cancel of Friedrichhaven, October 10th. Franked with the new German Air Post stamps, the covers are most attractive. A small, oval cachet reading "Mit Luftschiff L.Z.127 befördert" was carefully applied, together with a small blue label with white letters, reading "Mit Luftpost Par Avion" framed in a white border. The new German Air Mail stamps are the handsomest we have seen for a long time and will be popular among collectors.

Official announcement from P. O. Dept. states that Pan-American Airways, Inc., have been awarded the contract to carry Air Mail between Miami and Nassau, Bahamas, at $2.00 per mile. No date yet for the First Trip.

Mr. J. P. Penning writes that a special non-official cachet will be applied to Air Mail covers on November 12, by the Connellsville, Pa. Chamber of Commerce. A special flight will be made from Connellsville to McKeesport and C. A. M. No. 11 will carry the mail forward from that point. Mr. Penning also states that Clifford Ball, c/o Bettis Field, McKeesport, Pa., will apply a special cachet to Air Mail covers, carried over CAM No. 11 on the date of the visit of the LZ 127 to Pittsburgh, whether or not the airship finds time to land.

Exchange

—One Who Finds More Pleasure in Swapping than Buying

By PERCY E. MORSE

In a recent issue I noticed an article by Percy A. Hill, on collecting stamps by exchanging, wherein he says such a collection would never merit more than a leather medal. Now I would like to know what a fellow is going to do who has not the money to put into stamps that the more well-to-do people have, but who has the collecting mania just the same.

I have been collecting stamps for a little over four years and in that time have gathered together a collection of a little over three thousand, valued according to catalogue prices at over one hundred dollars. Most of them I have gathered by exchanging but have also purchased quite a number. But to me there is more satisfaction in exchanging than there is in buying. Other small collectors have told me the same thing. We like to trade. We cannot get the rare stamps like King George and other rich collectors can, but I have an idea we get just as much "kick" out of our collections as they do, and perhaps more.

I belong to an exchange club with members all over the world and have exchanged stamps with members in England, Germany, Brazil, South Africa, India, Straits Settlements and Australia and never yet have I had anyone take advantage of me. I have never yet had dealers send me stamps that I did not ask for and am afraid if one did he would get them back "pronto" if I did not care for them.

I wonder if the European who sent Mr. Hill the set of fakes and wanted stamps in exchange of a value of 300 francs or more, was the same "bird" who wrote to me asking to exchange and wanted stamps valued at 300 francs or more? Needless to say we did not do business.

I expect the collections of us little fellows if placed alongside the collection of the big fellows, would look like a tramp beside a society queen, but as long as w cannot afford the rare stamps and jus collect for a hobby instead of a busines I think we will go on exchanging and b satisfied with a leather medal until w can merit a bronze one.

MOLLY PITCHER BATTLE OF MONMOUTH

JUST ISSUED! On October 20th, like a bolt out of the blue, Uncle Sam issued a special surcharged 2c stamp in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle Monmouth. The stamp is the regular 2-cent and is surcharged in two lines "MOLLY PITCHER." It was issued on the 20th in three cities, Freehold and Red Bank, N. J., and Washington.

Three first day covers, one from each of the cities, and five unused copies, a single and a block of four, will be supplied for only one dollar. Don't delay ordering these covers. The advance notice hardly allowed time for the preparation of the usual first day covers, so the available supply will be smaller than with other new issues.

New Zealand

—Interesting Pronouncement In Relation to the Policy of P. O. Dept.

A most interesting pronouncement of the New Zealand's Postal Department's policy in regard to the issue of stamps was contained in the following paragraph which appeared recently in the Christchurch Sun:—

"No special stamp will be issued by the Post and Telegraph Department to commemorate the first flight across the Tasman Sea, states the Secretary of the Department.

"To issue such a stamp would take at least six months, for the Department has decided to have all future designing of, and making plates for, stamps, done in Great Britain. Furthermore there is etiquette between postal departments which would make such an issue by the New Zealand Post Office out of place. The Dominion is the second leg of the flight, and any action taken should be in Australia.

"In addition, there is the fact that philatelists view issues of stamps with suspicion, and New Zealand has no desire to lay herself open to the criticism that she is attempting to make money from such an issue. A clear profit of from £4,000 to £5,000 is made by the Department from collectors on each new stamp issued. New stamps should be issued for events of the first importance."

Insofar as the issue of a special stamp, to commemorate the first flight across the Tasman, is concerned, we believe—and no doubt most collectors in New Zealand will agree with us—that such a stamp would have been welcomed.

Although we are heartily in agreement with the Department that no administration is justified in issuing stamps with the principal object of benefitting financially from collectors, the national importance of a trans-Tasman flight would certainly justify a philatelic commemoration.

And so far as Departmental etiquette is concerned there is the precedent that Australia, although the "second leg" in the "Ross-Smith" flight, thought fit to issue a special stamp for use on correspondence carried from England.

In common with all loyal New Zealanders, we are strongly in favour of local products provided the quality is equal, or at least only slightly inferior, to an imported article. But, judging from past experience, and with the memory fresh in our minds of the "Admiral" type stamps, we think that the new policy of the Department, to have all issues not only engraved but also designed in Great Britain, is a step in the right direction.

Although New Zealand has been responsible for some really beautiful stamps, the appearance of a representative collection is certainly marred, from an artistic point of view, by some very crude designs which, in every instance have been the work of local artists and draughtsmen, who have lacked a proper appreciation of the special requirements of a design for a stamp.—Postage Stamp.

STAMPS STOLEN

Mr. Tom V. Binmore, secretary of the American Stamp Dealers' Association, reports that between the hours of 6.30 P. M., Saturday, October 13th, and 9 A. M., Monday, October 15th, Room 204 at 81 Nassau St., New York, was entered by some person unknown, who forced the lock. About thirty to forty dollars in unused U. S. stamps were taken consisting of 2c and other denominations; and a red duplicate book, with the name, Ralph Lesgor, and in the inside of the cover, these two addresses: 3 avenue des Pyrenees and 9 rue de Gascogna, Biarritz. This book contained France, French Colonies, seapost cancellations, etc., and distinctive stamps of this character may lead to identification. Any trace of the stamps should be reported to Mr. Binmore, whose telephone number is Cortlandt 1835, and (evenings) Ravenswood 4685.

AUCTION REVIEW

By Philip H. Ward, Jr.

The collection of United States Postage and Revenue stamps, gotten together by the late Dr. George Hetrich and sold by Eugene Klein at auction on October tenth, was the first United States collection of any importance that has come upon the market via the auction route this season. As many record prices were made, it is of general interest to announce some of the outstanding items. The collection as a whole was in unusually fine condition and where items were superb, prices ruled around catalog and in many cases, much more. Damaged varieties brought only a fraction. One attending the sale could not help from noticing that it is to the advantage of the collector buying for investment purposes to purchase only stamps in the best of condition. The main increases were in the twentieth century issues, for the collector is beginning to appreciate the rare errors and varieties.

An unused copy of the 1857 5c brick-red, described with slight gum thinning, brought $275. An 1867 1c with experimental grill 13x16 sold at $61. A used block of the 12c 1869 went at $150, while the 1870 12c grill in mint condition reached $400. The 24c of the same issue cancelled sold at $280. The 1888 imperforate 5c and 30c in pairs went in excess of catalog, while the 1893 2c Columbian imperforate pair sold at $140.

The 4c Columbian Error made a record price when it was knocked down after spirited bidding at $370. The 1894 5c and 6c part-perforate varieties in pair and strip sold at catalog or more. The imperforates of 1895 in pairs from 1c to $5 brought out forcibly that these items are somewhat under-cataloged, as they reached $370.

The record price for a 2c 1901 Pan-American Invert was reached when this stamp was sold at $1,220, which is in excess of the new catalog quotation. It may be of interest in passing to note that Dr. Hetrich paid $50.00 in 1902 for this stamp. The 1c of the same issue reached an auction record at $175. The 1902 $5 block, one of the scarcest twentieth century normal blocks, sold at $156. The pair of 10c coils of 1908 brought $77.50, while the blue paper 3c block sold at $102.50, no doubt a record figure. The later issues brought substantial portions of catalog.

The Departments when described as very fine brought strong prices, the 1c Executive going to $27 and the 24c Treasury to $16.50.

Newspaper stamps are becoming more popular and brought from one-half to three-fourths catalog.

In the sale of Revenues, many items among the imperforate and part-perforate brought nearly catalog or more.

The Inverted Centers ruled high, the 10c Second Issue bringing $130—$45 in excess of catalog. The 70c, which was cut so that a part of the stamp had dropped out and been replaced, brought $350, somewhat in excess of catalog. The 30c Third Issue again reached $130, an auction record of a year or so back. The 1c Proprietary invert sold at $250. All of the inverts seem to be under-cataloged, and every auction sale such as this one and the Hurd Sale, show that there is a greater demand than supply, and as a result, they well exceed catalog quotations.

The Hetrich lot of Match and M cine stamps was possibly the finest that has been offered at auction and prices, at which they were sold, refle a keen interest in these issues.

—Nominations by Garfield-Perry for 1929 President and Vice Presidents

At the regular meeting of the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club, Life Chapter No. 3 of the A. P. S., held Friday evening, October 12, 1928, members were advised of the informal nominations for A. P. S. officers, made at the One Thousandth meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society, and feeling that the members were wisely chosen, it was decided it would be proper for Garfield-Perry to make the formal nominations, which must be presented by each Chapter. It was therefore regularly moved, seconded and unanimously carried that we nominate the following members to hold office in the American Philatelic Society for the two year term beginning Sept. 1st, 1929: President—Gustave M. Rosler, Cincinnati, Ohio; Board of Vice Presidents—Dr. C. W. Hennan, C. F. Mann, A. F. Boehm, all of Chicago, Ill.

We especially commend these candidates to our other Chapters for their approval in the belief that these members are especially fitted for the offices selected.

In passing, it should be of interest to other A. P. S. Chapters to learn that this committee is a Standing Committee, appointed each year, to watch and report on A. P. S. matters regularly and to initiate such legislation as is deemed wise to present to the conventions.

Our active membership is scarcely more than fifty per cent A. P. S. When we feel a member is a permanent philatelist, or at least a conscientious collector, we then bring pressure to secure his application to the A. P. S. and land him in quick order.

Klein Auction

—Prices Realized at Sale Held Recently at Philadelphia.

("Public Ledger"—A. J. Cubbage.)

A 2-cent "error" stamp, issued in 1901 for the Pan-American commemorative issue, sold for $1,220 at an auction sale of United States postage and revenue stamps at Eugene Klein, 200 South 13th Street. The purchaser was Y. Souren, of New York.

The stamp, printed in carmine, has a black center with an inverted railroad train. It is part of the collection of Dr. George Hetrich, of Birdsboro, Pa., who bought it for $50 in 1902. It is unused. The catalogue value of the stamp was listed as $1,200.

Another high bid was $400 for a stamp of 1870-71. This also is an unused stamp and bears the original gum on the back. It was bought by Philip H. Ward, of this city.

Other high prices were $370 for a 4-cent Columbian stamp of 1893, $365 for a 5-cent stamp of 1908-09, $280 for a 24-cent stamp of 1870-71 with grill, $275 for a 5-cent stamp of 1857-60, $270 for a 13-cent stamp of 1908-09, $215 for a 90-cent stamp of 1879, $185 for a 6-cent stamp of 1894, $175 for a 1-cent stamp of the 1901 Pan-American commemorative issue and $160 for a 5-cent stamp of 1894.

The collection of revenue stamps was made by Dr. Hetrich from dusty medicine bottles forgotten for many years in country drug stores in small towns throughout Eastern Pennsylvania. These private revenue stamps were issued by the Government as one of the means of paying the costs of the Civil War to a large number of firms and individuals engaged in the manufacture of proprietary medicines and matches. These private stamps are known among stamp collectors as "match and medicine stamps."

EDITORIAL

THE following letter from Mr. H. J. Moran, New York, whose letter-head indicates that he is in the steel business touches upon a subject that should have been commented upon before. He says: "In your efforts to strengthen philately, you encourage all of us to come out in the open and do something to help the good work along. Consequently, I decided to take a census among my associates to learn if there were collectors among them, in view of the fact that I never spoke of my collecting proclivities except on rare occasions. You may be pleased to hear that I have found that four of my friends are collectors and that a dozen others knew something about stamps or were acquainted with some one who did. I think that my explanations to those who have not opened their eyes philatelically has done some good and I know that I have added four congenial companions who share my hitherto somewhat furtive pleasure in collecting." Mr. Moran's example should be followed by others and we are sure that in some instances pleasant surprises will result. In fact, stories are heard how one found that close friends were philatelists by a chance remark or the showing of stamps, or by some other circumstance. The simpler way is to ask those with whom we come in contact if they are collectors, and when it is followed, the results sometimes are happy, indeed.

FROM Mr. W. F. Goerner, Edgewood, Rhode Island, we have received an old envelope, imprinted "Post Office Department, Return Letter Office, Due 3 Cents," bearing the Washington cancellation in red of the year, 1864. The envelope is on manila, wove, and is catalogued by Mr. Toppan, under "Postage Due Envelopes," who says that he had seen only one specimen and singularly enough, he says that it was canceled July 14, 1864, the same date that appears on Mr. Goerner's envelope. After Mr. Toppan's catalogue was published we were able to send him the same envelope with "Due 6 Cents." Under the head, "Notice to the Postmaster," there are directions to him to return the letter to the writer, followed by other instructions. On the reverse of the envelope is printed: "Free Delivery of Letters, by Carriers, at the Residences of Owners, may be Secured by Observing the Following Rules." Mr. Toppan said that while strictly speaking, these envelopes were not stamped envelopes, they certainly deserved a place in a catalogue of envelopes of the U. S.

IT is undeniable that the question of "paper" presents difficulties at times that perplex an experienced philatelist. Occasionally, a puzzled collector will give it as his opinion that the difference between "National" and "Continental" paper in the 1870 design U. S., for instance, are academic rather than material, as one man has said. With some knowledge of paper distinctions, we admit that there is justification for this suspicion. Up to about the year, 1894, little attention was paid to the paper varieties of U. S., and about that time, they were differentiated between as they are in the catalogue to-day, broadly speaking. These few paragraphs are introductory to the following letter from Dr. H. B. Hinman, Everett, Washington: "In a recent issue of your paper, there was a letter in which Mr. Bartels expressed his opinion that the 30c Interior had never been printed by the American Bank Note Company. I have a copy of this stamp that was pronounced to be on American paper by a dealer. Naturally, I was interested in the matter and sent the stamp in turn to Messrs. Bartels, Ward and Luff. I enclose their replies . . . Can't you give us an article that will tell the average collector how to distinguish the two printings and papers apart without studying the subject for twenty years as Mr. Bartels has done?" We quote from Mr. Bartels' letter: "The stamp (30c Interior) is the one to which I refer in my comments; namely, a Continental printing on a somewhat porous and slightly soft paper, but it is not a paper ever used by the American Bank Note Company, which is less crisp and slightly more porous, generally also somewhat thicker. None of the American Bank Note Companies' printings of the Interior are as deep a shade as this, most of them being considerably lighter. This stamp, in my opinion, is No. 1605 in the catalog, while on the other hand, I claim that it is wrongly listed as an American Bank Note Company printing. Other Department stamps also exist on this paper, but they should probably be classified as Continental printings. These statements are my personal opinion. I have studied the subject for over 20 years and did not agree with the catalogers when the 30c and 90c were first admitted." Mr. Luff says: "I have looked carefully at your stamp and also consulted some of the people at the office who are handling U. S. stamps all the time. It is the opinion of all of us that your stamp is not on the paper of the American Bank Note Company printing. that is often referred to as 'intermediate paper,' a paper that shows some of the porous effect but is thin. This is understood to be a paper used by the Continental Bank Note Company, so our conclusion is that your stamp is not No. 1605. I believe that the stamp really exists, despite Mr. Bartels' opinion, but of course it is a very scarce thing." Mr. Ward says: "There is a medium grade paper showing somewhat of a soft appearance but it is not the paper of the American Bank Note Company and personally, I feel that this stamp should not be listed. . . . . If you take a real soft paper of one of the commoner varieties, such as the 3c War, unused, you will readily see the difference."

THE opinions quoted are interesting and they are as one so far as the judgment is concerned that the paper of Dr. Hinman's 30c Interior is not the soft paper of the American Bank Note Company. The explanation is that there are paper variants of the Continental paper and herein lies the basis for controversy. When Crawford Capen and others wrote exhaustively on the paper varieties of the '70's thirty-five years ago, much attention was given to the multiplication of paper varieties in U. S., and at the time, the ribbed paper, horizontally and vertically, was recognized by the catalogue. The claims of the ribbed paper stamps as the ribbed paper of the paper makers were disproved and the stamps dismissed from their places. At that period, we had the privilege of consulting a practical paper maker and learned from him some of the "tricks" as he called them that paper played. We remember that he said that runs of paper made at different times often showed variations that became noticeable under close comparison. While the paper used in the U. S. stamps in practically all instances followed the specifications, yet it is not to be argued that all the deliveries were absolutely uniform as to texture. It would be small wonder if "intermediates" did not exist and while it would be well on the score of simplifying the study of paper if they did not, yet the variant is to be reckoned with. We can well imagine the difficulty of classifying the border-line varieties and we feel that the experts do a pretty good job, under the circumstances. To paraphrase: philately may not be an exact science but in some of its phases it is an exacting one.

THE columns of our contemporary, Stamp Collecting, London, disclose that there is a movement in Great Britain having for its object, a commemorative issue on the occasion of the Postal Congress to be held in London in 1929. Some of the stamp folks over there are indulging in the pleasing diversion of suggesting designs for a set of pictorial stamps; and it is needless to say that there is no dearth of material in England from which to select.

Sevard's Twinkles

We have read with interest that the new envelope contract has been let with hopes for new watermarks, probably a new size or knife, and the old amber color again. The amber color will be only one-half of one per cent, so there's no use whispering about it. But in the context of the item, one notes that size 5 is the commonest size. Our statistics show that size 13 is commonest, and we show receipts of twice as many size 13 as size 5. If we eliminate windows, the item probably is correct, but the bare statement that size 5 is our commonest size surely does not appear to be correct to any cataloguer of envelopes received from 1916 to date. Then again, maybe we receive more unpaid bills than other persons.

The old problem of what to do with guide lines and criss-crosses and end tabs again bobs forth in a recurring cycle of commentary. Suppositions on this subject, injected into the intercourse, are entirely without mathematical probability, and if you know what a postulate is, you probably recognize the underlying mathematics of the probabilities of occurrence of plate numbers, guide lines, arrows, platemen's initials, as computed by those writing on the subject. There is no way to calculate the occurrences of guide lines and criss-crosses, as the cutting knives in the Bureau don't work the same. The only solution to the problem seems to count the guide lines and tabs and see which are most commonly found. To illustrate this, we might say that in the 2c compound, one will find twice as many bottom tabs as top tabs, altho the number in an unused sheet shows the same number of top, right, left and bottom tabs. If we examine into the guide line tabs, top and bottom, we find more top tabs than bottom tabs. If you will examine the tabs or shelvage or "salvage" on these stamps, you will see why this occurs as it does. Why do users of stamps tear off certain tabs and not others? Do our stamp consumers tear off more right tabs because so many are right handed? Are plate numbers seen in used condition with top tabs or bottom tabs or with right or left tabs, as in the flat bed plates? Do the wide tabs of the rotaries cause fewer plate numbers to come thru in used condition? These questions are not for the mathematician, but for the statistician. Being rhetorical, we ask questions which we feel we can answer from our statistics. Altho 38% of the stamps issued show marginal varieties, we find less than 25% come thru with marginal characteristics. Again, in the booklets, every stamp shows a marginal variety. Of booklet stamps received, stamps 1 and 2 are very rarely seen, 3 and 4, very commonly, and 5 and 6, often, but by no means, frequently. In fact, altho every booklet has a stamp 1, we have only seen one copy used, eliminating, of course, purely philatelic covers. These points are brought forth, not as a matter of self esteemed erudition as a mentor, but as a cogitation that stamps are interesting purely as a matter of investigation and study. Three years ago, we wrote that only 20% of the 2c perf. 10's came thru with marginal characteristics, and in the years previous, we named the 2c perf. 11 as showing 34% marginals. If you seek a reason, don't ask your best friend, for even he won't tell you. There, little girl, don't cry, I'll buy your violets.

Some time back, we wrote of postal markings, describing the International Flyer and the Universal Model G. The Universal Model D has now become common enough to describe. Heretofore we have devoted attention to the Universal Machine as it usually appears in the larger cities, the one with the 21mm townmark and the seven line wave. That is the Model G die. The Model D dies are many, but the most common is die A with a 20mm townmark and a six line wave mark. The townmark resembles the Model G townmark very closely, altho we do not find any die numbers in the townmark. Further in the die A of Model D, we almost always find the wave mark and the one we refer to, always begins with a falling arc, which characterizes the term "Universal six line fall" as indicative of this postal marking. A trifle scarcer is the "Universal six line rise" which one will meet sooner or later. Ten years ago, this machine was used in many of the larger cities, Chicago in particular. Today, we find it in the smaller cities only, altho New York City has a number of them. We trust Harry Konwiser has progressed in his study of New York cancels to explain the use of this machine among all the Internationals. Brooklyn, Long Island City, Arverne, Ozone Park, Forest Hills, Goose Creek, Flushing, Bayside, Jamaica? The postmarks of Jamaica are interesting.

Those who have obtained most enjoyment from stamps are those who take stamps as they come, study them, survey them for theories, yet let them live in the movement of their own history. Perhaps the perfection of Greek sculpture is nothing more than the repetition of ordinary workmanship until the scrape of a tool became commonplace and yet the best workmanship ever known. They had no movement beyond the genuine, which of itself, was true, since it lived. Phidias and Praxiteles spent their lives under porticos, in the stadium, in the gymnasia, or on the Sacred Way, chatting and laughing with the artisans, young men, young girls, shopkeepers, donkey-drivers, herb-sellers. Their familiarity with basic, sordid intimacies yielded a sociability of artistry, like Raphael's, and not Michael Angelo's. Their contact was true to the movement of their models. This perhaps seems beyond the philatelist. Yet one believes that stamps as real creations are the basic materials for the making of a collector; not rarities, not errors, not provisionals, which they seldom see. They cannot all have rarities. Such thought is anarchism to the specialist. But we all can have fun collecting stamps. Who exists with such a lethargic mind, with such a paucity of purpose, with such an apathetic credulity that the happiness of collecting stamps is an apostrophe? Yet the next time Mamma's vacuum cleaner busts, it'll stay busted for all I care. The way that thing collected stamps from my desk yesterday was a cataclysm to all progress. No wonder the Greeks got perfect, they never cleaned up.

Bring in your list or send it in; there are four competent stamp people here to find the stamps for you; if we have it, we'll dig, if not, we'll advise you when it shows up.

Of course a lot of it, especially the less popular countries, is hard to find. The weekly purchase of a fair sized collection helps out here.

Junior Dictionary

P. S.—An overprint found on certain South Australian stamps issued during the period 1868-74 for use on the correspondence of the Private Secretary. These stamps were superseded in 1874 by the general issue for all government departments with "O. S." overprint.

P. S. N. C.—These letters appear in the corners of the labels issued by the Pacific Steam Navigation Company which were provisionally used as a regular issue by the Peruvian Government.

P.T.—These letters stand for "piastres" in the 3p surcharge on the Egyptian official stamp issued in 1919.

Dutch Air Post

Two values, 40c orange red and 75c blue green, recently issued.

Junior News Release

By Beach Conger, Jr.

Australia.—The Post Office has finally approved a design for the Australian airmail stamp. Minor details will probably be added or effaced before the stamp is ready for use. It shows an airplane in full flight over a mountain range. The stamp will probably not be ready for use until the opening of the Perth-Adelaide route next April.

China.—The Nationalist government of China will issue in the near future five stamps in honor of the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, probably bearing his portrait. The values will be 1, 2, 4, 50 cents and $1.00.

Italy.—A set jointly commemorating the centenary of Prince Emmanuel Philibert and the tenth anniversary of the victory of the Italians over Austrians at Piave. The design shows the Prince of Savoy after the statue at Turin, and an Italian soldier marching beside him. Values are 50 cent brown and blue, 75 cent carmine, and 1.75 lira green. In 1921 a set commemorating the third anniversary of Piave was issued.

Belgian East Africa

Many of you have wondered how to classify those stamps of the Congo which bear the surcharge "Ruanda Urundi." This is really very confusing for anyone since the first stamps issued under the Belgian Occupation of German East Africa are listed by Scott under the head of German East Africa. The stamps issued since 1922 are listed as Belgian East Africa.

During the World War, that large section of East Africa which belonged to Germany was captured by British, Belgian and Portuguese troops. The complete surrender of this region was announced Dec. 1, 1917. Belgium thereby acquired a part of this territory.

The first Belgian occupation stamps were issued in 1916. The 1915 issue of Congo was handstamped "Ruanda" in black or blue ink. The same issue was also handstamped "Urundi." Stamps overprinted "Tabora," "Karema" or "Kigoma" were issued without authority and have no philatelic value. In 1916 there appeared 8 varieties of Congo stamps with the more elaborate surcharge in four lines in dark blue as follows: "Est Africain Allemand Occupation Belge" "Duitsch Oost Afrika Belgische Bezetting." In 1918 the red cross stamps of Congo were surcharged "A. O." in large black letters. The two letters "A. O." are the abbreviations for the French words meaning East Africa.

In 1922 the stamps with the four line surcharge were overprinted with new values, in black or red, ranging from 5 to 50 centimes. These five stamps are the first ones listed under Belgian East Africa, whereas those mentioned before are listed under German East Africa.

From 1924 to the present time the contemporary stamps of Congo, including the postage dues and the semi-postals, appear surcharged with the two words "Ruanda, Urundi" in either red or black and in various types and positions.—A. C. LeDuc.

Spain—New Issues

Catacombe Issue.—By Official Decree stamps in support of the funds the "Association for the Catacombes of St. Praetextatus and St. Damasus" will be on sale for the period December 23, 1928, to January 6, 1929, in the towns St. Jaques de Compostelle (dedicated to the patron of Spain) and Toledo (the see of the Spanish Primate). The ordinary stamps will be suspended during the period named.

Seville Exhibition Issue.—The Times informs us that there are five types to be embodied in this set, all the work of Spanish artists, and that the stamps are to be engraved by the Royal Mint at Madrid. The Times continue:

The first subject is the head of King Alfonso inset upon a view of Barcelona showing the Columbus statue and the Montjuich. The second is a caravel upon a view of Seville and the Giralda. An aeroplane in flight above an outspread map of Spain constitutes the third design, appropriated to stamps for aerial postage, while the fourth is a reproduction in miniature of the official poster advertising the show. Last, there is a stamp showing a general view of the exposition as it will appear when open to the public. To this must be added a sixth type for the express delivery stamp, depicting the nightmare figure of a buck in motion.—Philatelic Magazine.

Another Map Stamp

The collector of map stamps will rejoice in the 5c Liberia that has just seen the light of day.

Monmouth

—Molly Pitcher Commemorative Stamps On Sale October 20.

(N. Y. "Times"—Wilbur F. Kerr.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Ten million surcharged "Molly Pitcher" stamps, of the regular two-cent denomination, will be placed on sale October 20, it was learned at the Post-office Department today.

Freehold and Red Bank will be designated as the offices where the special stamps will first be sold. The balance of the issue will be placed on sale at all offices requisitioning the special stamps.

The stamps are being issued by the department in commemoration of the Battle of Monmouth and the part played in the Revolutionary War by Molly Pitcher. It will be the first issue of surcharged stamps bearing the name of a woman.

The name "Molly Pitcher" will be printed across the face of regular two-cent stamps in black ink.

The department's decision to issue the stamps came as a result of a protracted fight for a special issue waged by Congressman Harold G. Hoffman of South Amboy; Congressman Ernest R. Ackerman, of Plainfield, and others. They first requested a stamp printed from a special die, but this request, along with other similar requests, was denied by the Postmaster General. The surcharged issue was then requested as an alternative.

"Molly Pitcher" Stamps

The Third Assistant Postmaster General announces that on Saturday, October 20th, a new 2-cent surcharged postage stamp in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Monmouth, will be placed on sale. The issue will consist of the current 2-cent rotary print, perforated 11x10 and overprinted on the rotary press "Molly Pitcher" arranged in two horizontal lines across the face of the stamp. The surcharge will be in black. The variety will be available on the first day, not only in Washington, but at the post offices in Freehold, N. J., and Red Bank, N. J., which are post offices located in the vicinity of the battlefield.

It is expected that the issue will amount to about ten million stamps and they may be obtained by other postmasters who make a special requisition for them.

It is to be regretted that the Department should again resort to surcharging, for the Hawaiian issue was not satisfactory and the overprinting was exceedingly poor. Further, few of the postal clerks seem to read the Postal Bulletin or instructions, for few of them pass them without argument, claiming that they are nothing more than precancels. If an event is of sufficient importance to justify a special stamp, it certainly should warrant a special issue, rather than an overprinted variety.

Collectors, as usual, may obtain their supply of well-centered copies by applying to the Philatelic Agency.

In order that clerks will not refuse to accept the Hawaiian surcharged stamps, the Third Assistant Postmaster General again calls their attention, in a notice dated October ninth, to the fact that these are available for postage in the United States proper, Hawaii, Alaska, Guam, Porto Rico, Samoa and the Virgin Islands. The notice appears in the Postal Bulletin of October 12th.

Additional Washington Notes

Mr. R. S. Regar announces that at the present time, they are not making preparations for higher denomination postage due stamps, in view of the fact that postmasters have not asked for higher denominations. No doubt, the request will be made in time, as it is not a common thing to see the postage due stamps of the high denominations cancelled in sheets.

The Second Assistant Postmaster General, in the Postal Bulletin of October 13th, mentions that recently large shipments weighing from 400 to 14,600 pounds have been sent via air mail. If this is going to be common occurrence, we certainly should expect higher denomination air mail stamps, in the not far distant future.

Canal Zone

In the Chronicle of last week, the arrival of the new 2-cent Canal Zone stamps, with portrait of General Goethals, was described. The 1-cent has just arrived, through the courtesy of Mr. R. S. Carter. This stamp, which is printed in bright pea green, shows a portrait of General Gorgas and was issued on October third. The plate numbers noted on the 1-cent stamps are—115181-115182-115183. The 2-cent are—115184-115186-115187.

Mr. Carter writes that the Philatelic Agency sold these two stamps in the amount of five hundred dollars on mail orders the first day of issue. In addition, a good many thousand were sold locally. The variety becomes a permanent issue and will probably appear later printed from the rotary press, as the new stamps are both flat plate varieties.

We wish to thank Messrs. Frank L. Lyle and F. C. Bundlie for notes of interest.

Abyssinia.—New Series.—The long expected issue is about to be made. The delay, says the Daily Telegraph, was due to postponement of the opening of the new post office. The designs are to be portraits of the Empress Zaoditou and Prince Tafari.—Philatelic Magazine.

Andorra.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the 20c Urgenta stamp in a new pale shade.

Australia —Impending air mail adhesive.—Mr. W. A. Trott kindly sends us the appended cutting from the Sydney Morning Herald:

"A design presented by the Commonwealth Stamp Office for a special Australian air mail postage stamp has been submitted to a special committee.

In size and shape it will be similar to the Canberra 1½d stamp, and will show an aeroplane flying over a field of sheep, with mountains in the background. The —First Stamps Reached Philadelphia Ahead of the Dirigible.

Arriving ahead of the giant airship, ty sets of the German postage stamps sued for the first trip of the Graf Zep-lin reached Philadelphia yesterday.

The stamps are neatly lithographed. ne set, in blue, for two marks, was is-ed for mailing post cards and the other t, in brown, for four marks, for letter stage. In the centre of the stamp is own the top of the globe, with Europe one side and the United States on the her. Just above is a picture of the 'ship that is now on its way to Lake-rst, N. J.

Vertically, on the right, is printed the rd "Europa" and on the left "Amer-a." Across the top is printed "Deutsche ftpost," meaning German Air Mail.

Fifty thousand sets of each stamp re placed on sale in Berlin on Septem-r 24, and all were sold on the first y. It was said here yesterday that the af Zeppelin is bringing 53,000 pieces mail to the United States.

—Nine Authentic Copies of this Western Australia Error are Located.

Among the varied curiosities of phi-ely the stamps described as errors ith centre inverted" are the most ght after by philatelists and have the eatest interest for the general public. e most expensive error of this class the Western Australia 1854 4d blue th the swan inverted. The copy from Ferrari collection sold for £1,060 in tober, 1923. What is probably the est copy known of this stamp is the Mr. Louis Meinertzhagen showed mong a varied selection of interesting ims) in the loan exhibit of stamps at ympia. This is the specimen formerly the collection of the late Sir William ery, who bought it from Mr. W. P. dd, of Hamburg, in 1895. Mr. W. H. ckitt, the dealer, now retired, told me Sir William's excitement on securing s gem. The famous scale-maker was t setting out for the Riviera when the mp arrived by registered post, and he d barely time to catch his train. He shed to Mr. Peckitt's office and almost ried him off with him to the train to to know all about it and how much it s worth.

There are but nine authentic copies own, and at least four of these are er likely to come on the market. eir present owners or locations are: The King; (2) Tapling Collection, itish Museum; (3) Leinster Collec-n, Science and Art Museum, Dublin; (4) White Collection, Mitchell Library, Sydney, Australia; (5) Executors of the late Mr. E. H. Collins; (6) Mr. Arthur Hind; (7) Dr. H. A. James; (8) Colonel E. H. R. Green; and (9) Mr. L. E. Meinertzhagen.

Of these No. 6 was the last sold at auction; it fetched £680, being purchased by an English collector, who, however, was not specially interested in Western Australian stamps. The collector made a present of it to his wife, who parted with it to Mr. Hind for about £800. It was not a perfect specimen, or it would have been worth considerably more.—The Postage Stamp.

ZEPPELIN COVERS

The newspapers throughout the country have been illustrating covers that were carried by the Graf Zeppelin on its successful flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, New Jersey. We have seen pictures of four of these interesting pieces in various newspapers, accompanied with explanatory text. The German air mail stamp is a handsome production, and loans a fine effect to the cover, with its interesting markings, otherwise. Some of the envelopes are signed by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin and the Oberpostmapektier, F. Zuhn.

Pot Pourri Of Stamp News

St. Barthelemy

—Payment of Postage Indicated by Imprint on Envelope.

By HANS LAGERLOEF.

In your number of June 9th, you had an inquiry as to the Swedish Colony, St. Barthelemy, which was sold to France in 1877. I inquired of Dr. Nils Strandell in Stockholm, and he writes me under the date of September 30th, as follows:

"While this island was still owned by Sweden, there is little or no news available as to postal conditions existing on the island. I have gone through the postal archives here in Stockholm, but without any success in this matter. The probabilities are that mail from St. Barthelemy was sent by the regular liners of France from Guadeloupe, and the probabilities are that French colony stamps have been used, whereas, for the part St. Barthelemy-Guadeloupe, no stamps were used at all, but that the payment of the St. Barthelemy postage was signified by some kind of an imprint or cancellation on the envelope. That there should be some information that a Swedish Post Office should have existed on the island, which was using Swedish stamps, is not to be found in the postal archives. If this had been the case, chances are that if only a single, there should have been some stamp existing with the cancellation, St. Barthelemy. The matter is of greatest interest. I know that in Gothenburg investigations have just been made in this very matter, but the result has turned out to be nil."

Zep Stamps

—Great Demand for the Envelopes and Cards Brought to the U. S.

(Clipping from E. H. Sprangers.)

Cancelled stamps on envelopes and postcards brought to this country by the Graf Zeppelin are causing keen competition among stamp collectors and dealers, with $4 being reported quoted for the four-mark stamps on envelopes and $2 for the two-mark stamps on postcards.

Postoffice officials said the Zeppelin's mail consisted of fifteen sacks, containing 28,124 letters and 37,590 postcards. They said arrangements probably would be made for the dirigible to carry mail on her return trip.

A Protest

—New York Dealer Urges Change of Policy Upon Postmaster General.

By J. MURRAY BARTELS.

As an active member of patriotic societies the writer has always encouraged the commemoration of the worthy deeds of our revolutionary heroes and sees no reason why the Post Office Department should not give due consideration to requests for recognition of important anniversaries, thus lending its aid to the kindling of patriotism and arousing a widespread interest in the memory of historical events of outstanding merit.

The Post Office Department has in numerous instances added dignity and importance to such occasions by the careful preparation of an artistic and appropriate design for a postage stamp which has in time pleased the American public as well as numberless stamp collectors in all parts of the world.

The policy apparently adopted by your Department during recent months leads us to the conclusion that it is no longer deemed necessary to supply a separate design, but all that will be required is an overprint such as you have approved recently in two instances, which read "Hawaii 1778-1928" and "Molly Pitcher."

As a stamp collector of nearly half a century and a dealer since 1892, I cannot refrain from entering a strong protest against the too frequent issuance of commemorative stamps, and especially against the overprints which we must regard as unworthy of the dignified record of our postal history.

Our country has in the past been repeatedly criticized by numerous foreign philatelic publications for the all too frequent issuing of Commemorative stamps before the recent overprinting on the current general issue, for which not even an attractive or suitable type was selected.

Would it not have been sufficient to have authorized the use of an appropriate cancelling device for a specified period in the interested territory instead of inflicting this unwelcome issue upon the vast army of stamp collectors throughout the world. The good name and dignity of our postal department will be widely assailed for two latest stamp productions, for which it seems difficult to find an adequate excuse.

STOCK TRANSFERS

The lower values of the 1917 Documentary surcharged "Stock Transfer" are quite easy to get up to the $10.00 stamp (except the 25c, 40c, and $3.00) when punched, but are not at all easy to find unpunched. The values above $10.00, except the $100.00 stamp, are rare in fine uncut condition, the two values being hardly ever seen. They should not be confused with the high value Future Deliveries, which are comparatively common. We have just secured a very few copies of these rarities, which we offer with others below, all uncut unless otherwise mentioned.

PRICES AND CONDITION

The trend of modern collecting is condition first and price second and it is certainly the very best policy for one who is forming his collection both for pleasure and as an investment.

Quotations in my annual price list may not be the lowest but I believe them to rank fairly with other quotations, condition considered. Page one of my price list contains a very accurate description of condition—more definite, I believe, than contained in any other price list.

I invite trial orders upon the understanding that anything may be returned for any reason whatsoever. I cheerfully refund both your cost and postage on anything returned. [74c

For this reason and in the interest of Philately and collectors of stamps, I hereby beg to offer this protest for your respectful consideration.

—Letters from the Zeppelin Receiving Newspaper Attention.

(Various subscribers have sent us news clippings dealing with the letters brought by the Graf Zeppelin. This is particularly true of New York City and Brooklyn. Mr. Herman Toaspern sends us the following in connection with a clipping taken from the Brooklyn "Daily Eagle."—Ed.)

I am enclosing you herewith clipping from the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, regarding the "L Z 127". This newspaper, one of the most progressive in the Greater City, "scooped" all other papers in the Metropolitan District, by being first to illustrate a cover or even to show the new German air-post stamp.

Mr. H. M. Crist, the Managing Editor, has an exceptionally keen nose for news, and the Brooklyn Daily Eagle has given stamps and stamp collecting excellent publicity. The position of this great newspaper may be more readily understood when one knows it is the leader in circulation and class of news in Brooklyn, the largest Borough of Greater New York, with a population of 2,250,000 people.

I called the New York P. O., and in their usual most courteous way, they arranged to rush off the Brooklyn mail from the airship, and the letter was delivered in Brooklyn at about 12.30, Oct. 16. Mr. Kieley, the New York Postmaster, is certainly efficient, and under his direction those dealing with the public are most courteous and helpful.

MOLLY PITCHER BATTLE OF MONMOUTH

JUST ISSUED! On October 20th, like a bolt out of the blue, Uncle Sam issued a special surcharged 2c stamp in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle Monmouth. The stamp is the regular 2-cent and is surcharged in two lines "MOLLY PITCHER." It was issued on the 20th in three cities, Freehold and Red Bank, N. J., and Washington.

Three first day covers, one from each of the cities, and five unused copies, a single and a block of four, will be supplied for only one dollar. Don't delay ordering these covers. The advance notice hardly allowed time for the preparation of the usual first day covers, so the available supply will be smaller than with other new issues.

J. O. MOORE, INC., Hammondsport, N. Y.

SEEN AND HEARD—

C. H. YAW, Connellsville, Pa., advises us that the airport in that city will be dedicated on Armistice Day. There will be a special air-mail flight to connect with the McKeesport-Cleveland line.

WE regret to announce the death of C. E. Koch, Kane, Pa., an old-time subscriber to the WEEKLY. He passed on September 14, after an illness of three weeks. He was eighty-seven years old and very much interested in philately. His daughter who sends the sad news writes:—"He has passed many a happy hour with his stamps."

A NEW stamp paper called Philatelic Interest has appeared from 3600 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa. A sample copy will no doubt be sent to anyone who will write for the same.

WE are indebted to A. E. Gorham and A. W. Arter & Son for first day issue of the Molly Pitcher stamp on Oct. 20, from Washington, D. C., and Freehold and Red Bank, N. J.

A NEW stamp paper is to appear from Newfoundland. It will be called The Argosy, will be published monthly, and the first number will be dated November. It will aim to cover especially the stamps of Newfoundland and Frank F. Wills, the well known dealer-collector, will be editor. If you want a sample copy of the first issue write Mr. Wills at Box 5205, St. John's, Newfoundland.

ON Oct. 17, Cleveland, Ohio, had an air-mail day and as a natural result a non-official cachet in purple was supplied. Further details are lacking. We extend thanks to Erwin Strasser for a specimen.

THE tenth anniversary of the Bellefonte, Pa., airport will be observed December 18, with a special cachet. Mail sent to Geo. P. Bush, fully prepaid for mailing, will be properly marked and sent.

C. LEE TUBBS of 2546 Fifth Av., San Diego, Cal., is publishing a house organ known as "Seeley's Stamp News." The issue before us shows considerable enterprise and a sample may be had for the asking.

WE have received from Frank H. Wills a sample envelope of the first metered mail in use in Newfoundland. It is used by the Avalon Telephone Co. of St. John's as a seal, time-saving device. Denominations 1c, 2c and 3c.

IN the New York Sunday News of October 21, appeared a full page stamp feature dealing with some of the rarities of our hobby. King George, the Prince of Wales, King Fuad of Egypt and Col. E. H. R. Green are all pictured as enthusiastic collectors. Mr. Hind of Utica, N. Y., is also given considerable space. All in all, the article is a particularly good one in the way of philatelic publicity. Clipping from Carlos de Conte.

BANK NOTE ISSUES

Recent offerings to my customers include the following U. S. items not to be found on every huckleberry bush:

1871—90c, wonderfully fine o. g. block with imprint—quite unbeatable.

1873—7c, magnificent o. g. block with imprint and plate number. No other I've ever seen or heard of can hold a candle to this glorious piece.

1871—12c on cover to Finnland. Yes, I mean FINLAND.

1873—7c on cover to Cape of Good Hope, via London, with other values to make 56c postage. (Small envelope.)

1873—3c, block on cover. (Larger envelope.)

1888—90c purple, pretty block used on and tied to a generous piece of the original envelope.

1873—90c, several o. g. blocks.

1873—3c, strip on DOUBLE PAPER with full o. g., imprint and plate number.

1873—7c, strip of three and various singles—one cancelled with the famous Hallowe'en Jack o'Lantern.

Other U. S. Issues

1857—30c, an unused o. g. block that's in a class all by itself. (The price is in four figures.)

1857—10c type V, a full o. g. block that includes the one big shift—No. 47 R.

1857—10c Plate 1 and plate 2 in blocks, used and fine.

1861—24c steel blue, town canc. of Old Point Comfort.

1861—24c steel blue, red grid.

1861—24c steel blue, red PAID in circle.

1861—24c red lilac—red PAID in frame.

1861—24c red lilac, red star in circle.

1869—1c, block used on cover.

1869—2c, large o. g. block with marginal imprint and plate number. Only one other known to me is equally desirable.

1869—6c, block used.

1869—12c, block used.

1869—12c (and 6c, too), "straddle copies" showing pane margin and part of adjoining stamp.

1869—12c showing guide arrows—all positions.

1873—7c Treasury, a superb o. g. block with marginal imprint and plate number.

1845—Providence Postmaster, 5c on cover from the Seybold collection.

1871—30c in grayish black: NOTE:—Recent discovery of this shade is like "discovering" there is salt water in the Atlantic Ocean. Covers bearing the grayish 30c used before any Continental 30c were printed have been well known to well posted dealers for many years. And there is at least one excellent reason for omitting this shade from the catalog.

I get a lot of fun and some business from these ads. Don't think I sell only high priced stamps because I have omitted mentioning a lot of fine lower priced goods that are loafing around here waiting for a word from you.

This is a real New Issue Service—not a sub-agent of some foreign firm for the distribution of their left-overs.

New Issues are distributed in a systematic and business-like manner to my subscribers—and my service should not be confused with so-called New Issue Services through which attempts are made to issue stamps of recent issue—but where invariably the results prove "rather scattered"!

Recognition

—A Plea for a Special Air Mail Stamp in Honor of Wright Bros.

By Frederick D. Markee.

DECEMBER 17, 1928.
KITTY HAWK, N. C.
25th Anniversary of First Flight of the Airplane.

This article will appear under date of November 5th, and there will remain approximately only six weeks before December 17th, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Wright Bros. epoch making flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

If you, as a collector, as an aviation enthusiast, or an admirer of what our Air Mail Service stands for, make your demand strong enough, it may be possible for the noise to penetrate to the proper spot and some action ensue.

Charles W. Richling of Elmont, N. Y., writes me under date of October 14, that he has received information through his Congressman to the effect that the Department does not feel justified in assuming the expense of a new issue of an Air Mail stamp for this event, although admitting that the issuance would be well justified!

Was there any demand for the "Molly Pitcher" overprint? Was the "expense" justified? Ask the next ten men or women you meet, "Who was Molly Pitcher?" and get a few laughs from their answers. Ask the same ten people "Who was Wilbur Wright?"—and get action!

If Germany, poor as she is reputed to be, can issue two beautiful stamps for the flight of the L. Z. 127, what excuse can the Post Office Department offer? Expense? Unethical?

Aviation, as evidenced by the Department's own child, the Air Mail Service, has grown too large to accept "expense" as an excuse. If this Government is too poor to spend a few hundreds of dollars in commemorating the 25th anniversary of the birth of its own child, then it ought to hang its head in shame.

Make your share of the noise! Write your Senator or Congressman that you want a special Air Mail Stamp issued on December 17th, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the first flight of heavier than air machine—and make yo letter strong! Don't sit back and wa for someone else to do the work of wr ing! Get busy! Have the Mayor voi his sentiments, get the President of t company you work for, headed towa a stenographer. Get busy.

HALF CATALOGUE

I am breaking up an old and fine collection of postage stamps only, issues from 1840 to 1910. The bulk of the stamps are unused, and the collection has been remounted in between 50 and 60 of my well known approval books.

Medicinal

—Various Stamps as Seen in their Relationship to the Sick.

The first doctor to be represented on the postage stamps of his country is Dr. Laczkowski, Surgeon-General of the Polish army in 1831, whose portrait appears upon three varieties of stamps issued by the Polish post office in honour of the Fourth International Congress of Military Medicine and Pharmacy which met in Warsaw in July, 1927. Although there is no precedent for a doctor's stamp, several have been issued for the furtherance of medical science. New South Wales and Victoria put on sale stamps commemorative of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee, to be purchased at a premium in aid of local funds. They were of 1s and 2s 6d value, and were available for postage at 1d and 2½d respectively, the balance going towards the erection of a home for consumptives. The former represented an angel ministering to the sick, and were inscribed: "But the greatest of these is Charity." The latter bore a portrait of Queen Victoria surmounted by the word "Charity," and others depicted a mother nursing her child. Belgium, Holland, and Luxemburg have issued anti-tuberculosis stamps at various times. The Queen of the Belgians was herself responsible for the issues on behalf of the National Anti-Consumption League in 1910, which bore the picture of St. Martin sharing his cloak with a beggar. On a later issue appears the Cross of Lorraine, the badge of the League, and the inscription "Pro Tuberculatis Belli," indicating as its object the treatment of soldiers who contracted tuberculosis through war service. Another issue is about to be made in the Free City of Danzig, where six years ago a former issue of the stamps bore an allegorical design representing St. Michael slaying the dragon. For the Amsterdam Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Holland some twenty years ago issued stamps of various values displaying the figure of Hygeia; and the Luxemburg issue of 1925 depicts a hospital nurse bending over a patient.—Junior Stamp Magazine.

METROPOLITAN STAMP COMPANY
1482 BROADWAY NEW YORK CITY

A NOTABLE AUCTION

Ernest Mueller, the well-known stamp dealer of Basle, Switzerland, held an auction sale of international interest from Oct. 29 to Nov. 3. It is unfortunate that the catalog reached the United States too late for the philatelists here to avail themselves of the many offerings to be found in the sale. The catalog of about 350 pages shows over 4500 lots of the old German States, Europe and the world at large. It would take a large amount of space for us to even mention the many great rarities listed in this sale. Illustrations are found upon every other page, so well executed as to win the admiration of even a casual observer. The old city of Basle is taking its place with Zurich and Lucerne as an auction center, and Mr. Mueller evidently intends that Basle shall become as well known as the other two cities.

EDITORIAL

THE Molly Pitcher surcharges have come, and while their physical attractions are not such as to cause a quickened pulse, yet they celebrate a phase of American history that is worthy of remembrance. None will say that the heroine is not deserving of this postal memorial, which will serve its purpose of bringing to the fore in the minds of Americans a figure that is enshrined in our annals. The Molly Pitcher 2c was issued on October 20, 1928, as promised, and a few days later first day covers were in the hands of a number of collectors.

THE announcement may now be made that the vogue of the surcharged current issues as commemorating persons and places is not to be uninterrupted. In proof of this, the news that the stamp to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Fort Sackville at Vincennes, Indiana, will be a specially engraved stamp is offered. The date of this George Rogers Clark memorial stamp naturally coincides with that of the celebration, Feb. 25, 1929, at Vincennes. The Memorial Commission has approved a painting by Frederick C. Yohn, "noted illustrator, formerly of Indianapolis, and now of Boston, Mass." We quote from the Indianapolis Star of October 19th: "While Postmaster General Harry S. New had expressed his approval of any design that the commission might adopt, the actual plans for the anniversary stamp had been withheld until the commission officially recommended a painting to be used. Mr. Yohn's painting shows the surrender to Clark of Fort Sackville by Col. Hamilton, the British commander. This painting was originally produced on the cover of the Youth's Companion in October, 1923, and now is the property of the Indiana Historical Bureau. It was presented to the bureau by Mr. Yohn. A bronze reproduction of it has been made by the Muncie chapter of the D. A. R." Thus, another addition to the list of historical issues seems to be assured and naturally, Mr. New will be interested in seeing that this stamp, in which his own state is so much concerned, will have a proper presentation.

SCOTT STAMP AND COIN COMPANY
1 WEST 47TH STREET, NEW YORK, N. Y.

ACCORDING to notices mailed by Mr. Tom V. Binmore, New York, secretary, the annual meeting of the American Stamp Dealers' Association was to have been held on October 24, 1928, at 10 A. M., at 51 W. 48th St., New York. No doubt, the business session of this organization was an interesting one, at which questions of policy were discussed and conclusions reached.

THE following remarks come from Major Harry Morell, Shellsburg, Iowa: "In yesterday's Herald & Examiner, Chicago, Mr. Arthur Brisbane draws a comparison between the value of a square foot of New York real estate at $500 a foot, and a canvas by Vermeer, called 'Allegory of the New Testament' at $20,000 a square foot. 'Pooh. That is nothing. In the little town of Boscawen, New Hampshire, in 1846, there was printed a little piece of paper, in dull blue ink, less than half an inch square, to serve as a postage stamp which has a current value to-day of $12,000. One square foot of this paper would amount to about $345,000. By this comparison, we have the relative values of paper, canvas, and New York real estate."

MR. C. A. PAIGE, Chicago, writes: "As a collector of anything out of the ordinary in stamps, I have been greatly interested in the special 'killers' used by some of the post offices on registered mail. My work keeps me on the road practically all of the time, and in my wanderings I have interviewed several postmasters regarding the use of some special cancellation for this purpose, something that would be of particular significance in their town, perhaps. A number of them have shown interest; and they are seriously concerned with any means of increasing their registered mail business. I was wondering if other readers of the WEEKLY would approach their postmasters with the suggestion and then as new 'killers' came out, readers could send you the information. In this way, interest in a rather new branch of collecting could be aroused and more designs would be forthcoming. To date, I have obtained covers from Prescott, Arizona; Fairfield, Iowa; Appleton, Wis., and Sharon, Pa. Prescott has two designs and Sharon has four. I trust that you will find this subject worthy of consideration." As we understand the question, no demand is made by the authorities that the "killers" be of prescribed form, unlike the postmarks and cancellations. Consequently, the designs for "killers" such as used on registered mail may take any form that suggests itself to the P. M., and so, they may be characteristic of his section or embody features that may appeal to postmasters. There is the Appleton apple; the rose of Sharon and others that our correspondent has named; and we can see that the field may expand and attract the attention of collectors who take pleasure in attending to distinctive markings of the post office. Latterly, side-lines in collecting have attained an importance that formerly they lacked, and the day of conformity in collecting has passed.

NO sooner had the foregoing paragraph been written before it became apparent that we would have to change our tunes in singing about the registration cancellations or "killers." It may happen that this new collecting branch will be lopped off close to the trunk, for does not our trustworthy correspondent, Mr. LeGrand Payne of Indianapolis, Indiana, write: "Word from our post-office this morning, October 20th, indicates that some of our eastern post-office managers have lost their jobs on account of the special registration cancels, although I have not heard who they were." If the registration cancellations are to be sunk, at least there will be traces of them left.

WE have received a number of copies of the new 2c green Canada of the bi-lingual set which came so unceremoniously; and Mr. L. E. Sprague, Ottawa, says that the further values will also make their appearance without a fanfare. Mr. J. C. Dowse, Toronto, gives the number of stamps printed in the historical set, on the authority of the Canadian Philatelist, as follows: 5c, 20,000,000; 12c, 5,000,000, and 20c, 7,000,000. There will be no basis for any charge of restricted issue with these figures in view.

MR. GÉZA DEISZINGER, Los Angeles, California, writes: "I just received a letter from a postmaster in Europe, with the news that the countries in Europe are contemplating the discontinuance of the use of postage stamps on mail matter. What do you know about it, and in your opinion what effect will this have on stamp collecting, if carried through?" Over twenty years ago, when the universal stamp was an idealistic objective, discussions on the effect of the restriction of stamp issues were a feature of the stamp papers. Later, when the automatic stamping machine first made its appearance and was a novelty, the possibility of dispensing with adhesive stamps altogether was a subject for speculation. We remember that observations of various kinds were made and that those who maintained that no ill results would follow were in the majority. In fact, it was claimed that the suspension of the issue of postage stamps would stimulate collecting. The supply of stamps now available for collecting purposes is now on its way numerically to 100,000 varieties, including everything in the catalogue, and if no more stamps were to be issued, we could survive. However, there is no need to worry about a possibility that is remote; the twilight of the postage stamp has not yet arrived.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

Postmaster General New is being urged by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other Southwestern organizations to give consideration to an Air Mail route between Los Angeles and El Paso. Dallas is seeking a direct connection with this line, also. Evidently there is sufficient Air Mail business to justify the demand for these new routes.

San Jose, Calif., was added to CAM No. 8 on October 15th. I have had a number of letters and clippings giving the data on this inaugural service, the latest coming from Mr. Albert N. Brown, who states that the following quantities of mail were carried—San Jose to San Francisco and Eastern points, 136 pounds (approximately 5500 letters). San Francisco to San Jose, about 21 pounds or 1000 letters. The cachet used at San Jose was very similar to the one used at Laredo on Oct. 1st, the chief difference being the use of a diamond shaped center, instead of a circular one. Undoubtedly most of my readers have received covers from the flight, so I will not bother with details of the cachet.

Collectors of Air Mail covers will be interested in learning that a prominent Mexican collector, Mr. Victor M. Suarez, has arrived in this country for a year's stay and has offered to assist me in editing matters pertaining to coming Mexican Air Mail flights. In his letter Mr. Suarez states that an experimental flight between Merida and Mexico City was accomplished late in August, the return flight being made on Sept. 2nd. Two companies are—or have been—seeking the contract and both made flights to and from Merida. Permanent service was inaugurated on the route October 15th.

"Corning, the Olive Town", is the wording of the cachet applied to covers that were mailed from this point on July 16th at the dedication of Woodson Airport. The full cachet reads—"Corning, the Olive Town—Greets the Fliers of—The National Air Tour — At Woodson Airport — July 16th, 1928". Not Official.

Personal—to my Co-operators! Get busy in your own locality on a special Air Mail stamp for December 17th. See article elsewhere on the subject. This week's list should be particularly active, for among the names are many who have been right on the job for several weeks past. This week's list—the star indicates a cover received—Walter Smith, Jr., Claude C. Beals, Fred Baumgartner*, Albert N. Brown*, C. W. Horn*, Billy Burr, E. L. Randall*, Victor M. Suarez*, L. J. Bottimer*, Allen P. Harding, E. M. Fenton, Miss Anna M. Schafer*, Burt Williams*, Dr. L. H. Snyder*, Frank W. Wright*, Todd Fagan, Chas. L. Hall, M. T. Mauck*, Wm. F. Housman*, H. G. Kingdom, E. C. Cantrell, Cleon McClarran, J. H. Brackett*, George Hill*, Wm. J. Kotab, J. P. Penning*, Ralph Moffett. (That Wright boy is a bad actor! Five covers in a week—keeps me broke sending post card acknowledgments!)

Todd Fagan sends me a letter from the Mankato, Minn., Chamber of Commerce, which states that "The Committee believed that an unofficial cachet would be of no particular value to philatelists, etc.", and returned covers!

Cleveland Air Mail Day, October 17th, was productive of two cachets on covers, both UNOFFICIAL. Wm. J. Kotab, who worked hard to get an official cachet, writes that the large cachet reading "Cleveland Airport—Air Mail Day" was the result of his work and had the sanction of the contractor. The design was most effective and a space was provided for the dater cancellation, by close measurement. Covers that were sent through without this particular cachet may have same applied by consulting with Mr. Kotab, whose address is 12706 Melgrove Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Kotab will also apply the cachet to any covers that may be sent him for despatch from Cleveland on any future extensions, the arrangement of the cachet permitting the Post Office to cancel the letter in the space provided.

Contrary to expectations, the dedication of the Airport at Orlando. Fla., came off as scheduled on Oct. 4 and 5 and a cachet was applied to Air Mail on those dates, in the form of a four-line affair, plane flying West, with wording "Dedication Municipal Airport—Plane—Orlando, Florida—October 4-5, 1928". Not Official.

The Tri-City Airport Dedication at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., occurred on Oct. 20-21 and the cachet used was an outline map of the immediate vicinity of Wisconsin Rapids. Sure! It's on the map! Look under D-4.

Just happened to switch on the radio about 5.30 P. M. on October 17th and picked up KDKA making an announcement that Sigmund I. Rothschild of Freeport, N. Y., would speak on stamps. I listened to Mr. Rothschild's talk and it was a most interesting one. If Mr. R. ever becomes interested in Air Mail covers, we hope he will be as enthusiastic as he is on stamps and broadcast his enthusiasm!

We also invite the Senior collector to extend words of advice, encouragement and stimulation and thus develop in the Junior a real passion for Philately.

Junior Dictionary

Populi Voluntas.—"Will of the People," part of the inscription found on stamps issued in connection with a plebiscite in 1920 in Marienwerder, West Prussia.

Port Cantonal. — An inscription shown upon all the cantonal stamps of Geneva, issued between 1843 and 1849, meaning "Cantonal Post."

Porteado a Receber.—Found on the postage due stamps of Portugal meaning "postage to be received."

Porte de Conduccion.—Found on the parcel post stamps of Peru and means "postage for conveyance."

Porte Franco.—Found on many of the early stamps of Peru. It means literally, "post free."

Portielje, G.—A painter of Antwerp who designed the 5c Brussels Exhibition stamp issued in Belgian in 1896. His initials, "G. P.", are shown on the stamps in microscopic letters.

The New 2c Canada

The above shows the design of the new 2c Canadian. A striking feature is the use of the word "Postes" as a courtesy to the Franco-American citizenship.

Bosnia 1906-1912

The large pictorial stamps of Bosnia issued during the years 1906-1912 have always been of great interest to collectors. This has probably been due to the fact that each value has a different picture. The border designs are also different. Up to the 1K value the stamps are all large oblong pictorials. The 1K, 2K and 5K are square, the first two being pictorials and the 5K being a picture in dull blue of Emperor Francis Joseph, the late ruler of Austria-Hungary. The 1K shows the Carija at Sarajevo and is maroon colored. The 2K shows the Lucas Tower at Jaice and is printed in gray-green.

The 1910 issue is called the Birthday Jubilee issue. It celebrated the eightieth birthday of Emperor Francis Joseph. This issue is the same as the 1906-1907 issue except for the date label at the bottom which reads "1830-1910."—A. C. LeDuc.

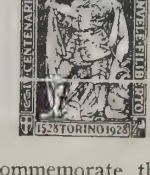
What Shall I Collect?
By Jos. B. Breed, 3rd.

The stamp season has opened, and now is the time that the Junior stops and says to himself, "What shall I collect?" What shall he collect? Indeed it is a subject of much discussion, and nearly everyone seems to think differently. Some say specialize, some say collect the whole world, and yet some say collect only two or three countries.

If one starts to collect everything he will doubtlessly acquire very little unless he is willing to sacrifice large sums. However, this is the method which I recommend, the method which I think best suited to the beginner. A young Philatelist cannot wisely choose the countries he likes best until he has had experience with all.

Collect every stamp until you know something about them all. Then you may exercise wisdom in your choices.

Philibert Commemoratives



Issued by Italy to commemorate the 400th anniversary of Emmanuel Philibert, Duke of Savoy. There are six stamps in the set:—
20c brown and ultramarine.
25c red and green.
30c blue-green and brown.
1.25l blue and black.
5l violet and green.
20l violet and black.

Confederate States

The name adopted by the eleven states which seceded from the American Union in 1860-1 and maintained a separate existence, recognised as a separate government by most of the European Powers, until the close of the Civil War in 1865. During this time special stamps were issued.

IT'S HERE

I take great pleasure in announcing the rchase of the wonderful collection gotten gether by the late J. Barton Townsend, resident of the Provident Trust Company Philadelphia, consisting of United States, reat Britain and the Colonies.

Mr. Townsend, one of the earlier Phila-lphia collectors, has been interested in ilately for many years and during that me has accumulated a wonderful assort-ent.

His United States Issues ran from the ostmasters to date. In the earlier issues, selected one copy only, but endeavored get shades and varieties, preferring, here possible, the mint specimen. In the ter issues, Mr. Townsend collected blocks. id it is in this portion of his collection at he especially shines. For instance, ost everything in twentieth century is resent in blocks and this includes the ne papers complete, among which are to found the exceedingly rare blocks of e 4c and 8c, of which only two or three re known. The Columbian Error is resent, the 1894-1895 imperforates com-ete in blocks, the 8c Omaha part-perf., e 1901 inverted centers—1c, 2c and 4c, veral of the late part-perfs., and all of e rare perforated 10 in block form. There re some few Carriers and quite a few loice Locals, including a unique Bloods on ue. The Departments are complete.

Mr. Townsend was especially fond of his evenues and had practically all of the ormal varieties, including the rare high enominations.

In the case of the British Colonies, he as a subscriber to the New Issue Service r eighteen to twenty years, and has prac-cally everything in twentieth century rough the one and two pound values. e was also especially fond of Errors, ence — has many inverted surcharges, inor perforations, watermarks and the ke.

His nineteenth century, truly a magnifi-nt lot, was collected in accordance with ibbons, hence is strong not only in nor-al varieties, but in perforations and ades. I note one or two outstanding ieces, such as the Gibraltar 1889—10c with gure of value omitted, all of the twen-eth century issues of this country, the 89 20-shilling Gold Coast, etc., etc.

Being a collector of the old school, he nly endeavored to obtain a fine single opy of each listed specimen.

Want lists are accordingly solicited. As rule, my activities are almost entirely evoted to the issues of our own country, ut this was such a magnificent lot that I as pleased to have the pleasure of pur-hasing it outright.

2-Cent "Molly Pitcher" Issue

The 2-cent carmine, rotary print, perforated 11 x 10½, surcharged in two lines in black "Molly Pitcher" and issued to commemorate the Battle of Monmouth, appeared in accordance with schedule on Saturday, October 20th. The stamps are distributed in sheets of one hundred, with margins on all sides and those that have been noted so far bear plate numbers 19070 and 19071. As in the case of the Hawaiian overprints, the work is exceedingly poor, hence, there are many imperfections which appear as broken and deformed letters.

It is certainly to be regretted that the Department has taken this manner of commemorating events of importance and it is hoped that the surcharging of stamps will be discontinued, as it is unworthy of a Government such as our own.

As previously stated, the issue first appeared in Washington, D. C., Freehold, N. J., and Red Bank, N. J., but have since become available in other post offices where the postmasters have ordered supplies.

The variety was issued hurriedly, almost without any advanced notice and this may account for having another surcharged issue.

Dr. L. H. Snyder and others kindly favor us with first-day covers. We wish to thank Messrs. D. B. Damon, A. H. Robertson and Raymond Fischer for clippings regarding this stamp.

Another Odd Postmark

Under date of October 19th, the Postmaster General ordered by telegraph the immediate suspension of the postmaster and his assistant at Lansford, Penna. It seems that thousands of circulars attacking Herbert Hoover were distributed and that purposely the letters failed to carry postmarks, showing the originating point of the communications. A special cork postmark in the shape of a four-leaf clover was used in cancelling the stamps. One of these covers would make

George Rogers Clark Stamp

We announced in this column some months back that an appeal had been made to the Department at Washington to issue a special stamp to appear the latter part of February next, in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Surrender of Fort Sackville to George Rogers Clark, at Vincennes, Indiana.

Mr. Alan P. Vestal kindly sends a clipping from the Indiana Star of October 18th, in which mention is made that a special Clark Memorial Commission met in Indianapolis on the previous day and approved as an illustration for a new 2-cent stamp, a painting by Frederick C. Yohn, noted illustrator, formerly of Indianapolis and now of Boston. This painting shows the Surrender to Clark of Fort Sackville by Colonel Hamilton, the British commander. It originally appeared on the October, 1923, cover of the Youth's Companion and is now the property of the Indiana Historical Society. We are told that the Postmaster General has expressed his approval of any design that the Commission might adopt and that he has withheld any announcements until the Committee officially made its recommendation.

Abyssinia.—Mr. G. T. Maclean tells us that the new Post Office is still not inaugurated, and the new stamps are not issued. The coin, which is nominally one-sixteenth of a Maria Theresa dollar, called in ordinary parlance "piastre" or "tomoon," and on the present stamps "girsh" or "guerche" (the French equivalent), will on the new stamps be designated "mehalek." — Gibbons' Stamp Monthly.

Argentina.—Mr. A. H. Davis notifies us that a special issue is to be made in commemoration of the centenary of the preliminary convention of peace between the Empire of Brazil and the Argentine Government.—Gibbons' Stamp Monthly.

Barbados.—We have received from Mr. D. E. W. Gittens copies of the current 4p stamp in a distinct brick red shade. Mr. Gittens advises these were placed on sale about October 10th.

Belgium.—Mr. R. Roberts and Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the current 4fr pale brown and 5fr bistre, with the surcharge "Colis Postal" and "Pos collo" with a large C P monogram forming a part of both words.

France.—Whitfield King & Co. report the following Sinking Fund stamps 40c+10c violet with red surcharge; 50+25c dull red with blue overprint, and 1fr50c+50c lilac with black surcharge.

Germany.—Two Zeppelin Air Post stamps have come to hand from Whitfield King & Co. They are of the same design, and picture the top half of the world with the Zeppelin sailing over. The 2 mark is of bright blue shade, while the 4 mark is in dark brown.

Gwalior.—Mr. R. Roberts has received from his native state the 12a claret and 1R green and brown, both overprinted at Nasik in large type similar to the 2R surcharged stamp noted some weeks ago.

Italy.—A 50 lire denomination is to be issued shortly.—Stamp Collecting.

Latvia.—Whitfield King & Co. send for chronicle the 15san chocolate on brown, and 30san blue, both watermarked swastika.

Nigeria.—The 2p chocolate, script watermark, has been received from Whitfield King & Co.

Roumania.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of a 25 bani black with the words "Assistenta Sociala" at the top.

Sarawak.—The South African Philatelist learns from L'Exchangiste Universal that the stock of the 5c unwatermarked stamp is so large that the Postmaster has been authorized to dispose of it by converting the stamps into 2c or 3c stamps by means of a surcharge.

Tanganyika.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the 30c mauve and grey, and 50c pale grey and grey, both being new shades.

MARKET IN MODERN COLONIALS

Price Changes in the New Gibbons

By "PHILATELIA."

The New Gibbons Part I.—The chief event of the year in this country is the issue of the new Gibbons' catalogues, and we may be forgiven for devoting most of the space this week to some of the chief changes in Modern Colonials. The system of price ranges is, of course, only applicable to the early imperfs., but there are some innovations in the more modern issues also.

Chalkies.—In a recent article reference was made to the possibility of pricing the "ordinary" and "chalky" stamps separately. A start has been made with this and under Hong Kong, the ordinary paper stamps, where they also occur with a chalk surface, are priced separately. This is part of the general revision of Hong Kong, but it is only to be expected that it will be extended to other Colonies where necessary, chiefly, of course, to the multiple issues of 1905-6.

Edwards. — There is evidence throughout the volume that more attention is being paid to this group and a large number of increases are noted, chiefly in the scarcer or higher values. In Antigua all 5/- stamps, both Edward and George move upwards, although one cannot see that the current type 5/- has done much for promotion, as it is presumably still current.

In Australia, to give it its new official name, we see a number of changes, chiefly upwards, in the high or scarce values. The 1/4 Turquoise seems cheap at O pence! Whilst the current 1/4 for some reason figures at 3/-.

Both £1 values in Bahamas show some increase, whilst there are several movements in both directions in the staircase type to be observed.

As usual Barbados provides some excitement in the modern issues. The 1/- Nelson puts on half-a-crown. The Peace or Victory set shows most movement, the 2/-, really the scarcest value, is now 10/-. The 3/- violet goes up 10/- to 45/-, whilst other alterations here and also in Barbuda are chiefly of a minor character.

Bermuda shows a few small rises, chiefly in the stamps recently obsolete, but the Commemorative sets are now priced used as well as mint, the 2½d coming out higher used, contrary to what most people would expect.

British Solomon Islands shows a few rises and the scarce 5/- orange-buff K.G. is priced for the first time at £1. The 10/- Cayman puts on 5/- at 75/-, but there is not very much movement elsewhere here.

In Ceylon Georges, several of the scarce high values like 2r lemon put on a few shillings. The rare Cyprus 45pi Script is now priced used at £7 as against £8 mint, and the £1 puts on 15/-.

In Dominica we again see the high values gaining ground at the expense of the low values; the 5/- Edward and the last 5/- George MCA both gain 5/-. Many of the illustrations are more distinct throughout the volume, and the paper is whiter, although still rather too translucent.

In Falklands, a number of shades are up, but the recent provisional listed in the addenda is unfortunately unpriced. Some of the recent high values of Gibraltar show improvement, the £1 George now being 65/-. The highest values of Gold Coast are increased substantially, despite recent comment in these notes, but I should welcome proof that such values as the 15/- have been withdrawn.

Grenada shows quite a number of movements in the high values, nearly all the 10/- values are up, but the 1/- olive back which has not been seen about much of late is still £3. I am still without any reply as to recent query as to which, if any, of the Indian "C.E.F." series are in use and where. The 1 rupee George makes a noteworthy jump from 10/- to 30/-. Perhaps some reader out East could give the present position of this series with any known statistics as to printings? The 5 ru. Jhind K.G. recently recommended in these notes goes from 9/6 to 25/-.

NEW LATVIAN STAMPS

By GEO. H. JAEGAR.

On November 18, 1928, the Republic of Latvia celebrates the anniversary of its first decade, in which connection two series of commemoration postage stamps will be issued. For this purpose the Chief Postal Administration arranged a prize competition. Till the fixed term (September 18, 1928) 52 artists handed in their sketches to the jury, consisting of Prof. R. Sarrinsch, chief manager of the State Printing Office, Prof. J. Tillbergs of the Academy of Arts, and Mr. A. Jagars, director of the Department of Post and Telegraphs of the Ministry of Communication.

From the six 1st prizes of Ls.200, and the six 2nd prizes of Ls.100, the gifted young engraver, Charles Krause, a pupil of Prof. Sarrinsch, who has also engraved the stamps issued in memory of the first Latvian State President, Jahnis Tschakste, gained three 1st and three 2nd prizes. We give our readers reproductions of Mr. Ch. Krause's sketches for the set of six stamps of different values, showing views of the towns of Rezekne, Jelgava (Mitau), Césis (Wenden), Liepaja (Libau), and Riga. The Lat stamp shows the National Theatre where the independence of the Republic of Latvia was proclaimed on November 18, 1928. This set consisting of stamps of 6, 15, 20, 30 and 50 centimes and one Lat is remarkable for its distinctive simplicity and its uniform style. It is destined for the real anniversary issue and will be issued in the following quantities:

6,000,000 stamps at 15 centimes.
640,000 stamps at 20 centimes.
1,200,000 stamps at 30 centimes.
200,000 stamps at 50 centimes.
110,000 stamps at 1 Lat.

This issue will not be repeated.

The So. Georgia Provisional of 1928 and Other Falklands Notes

By "CALABAR".

Taken all round the Falklands have led a pretty uneventful life, so far as stamp issues go. Save for the war issues and the 1890-91 provisionals the philatelic history of these islands is unbroken by any of those sensational outbursts which mark the path of many another Colony nowadays (q.v. Ascension, Malta, New Hebrides, etc.). Five years ago, however, the smooth train of events in these uneventful isles was shattered by the issue of that delectable of delectables, viz., a bisect—in the form of the 2½d dark blue of the 1912 issue. Inasmuch as only a very, very few copies are extant, and as the postal authorities have ever since been extremely reticent over the matter, this little provisional was soon crowded from the boards by the ever pressing flood of new issues.

And now, five years later, So. Georgia once again knocks the philatelic world into a cocked hat—this time with the current 2d purple surcharged in large type "2½d." So far details are few, just as in the case of the former So. Georgia eruption. Mr. B. S. H. Grant, F. R. P. S. L., the well-known Falklands specialist, has a copy dated Feb. 19, 1928, and as far as I can make out, his is the only copy which has been reported to date. Some weeks ago a British dealer advertised "limited supply 2½d Prov. expected soon," but we have still to know whether or not he got his stamps. Another dealer—also British—was a bit too late, as he received this letter from the Postmaster:

"In reply . . . regarding the forwarding to you of ..... overprinted stamps, I regret to inform you that the entire stock of these stamps has already been sold and that the issue was closed on the 24th February. The total issue was only 1,179 stamps.

Signed, FREDERICK B. WILSON,
Postmaster."

Although not exactly welcome news to the recipient, this is decidedly welcome news to specialists, etc., as it tells (1) the nos. issued, and (2) date of exhaustion. If we presuppose that Mr. Grant's copy was posted on the day of issue, or shortly afterwards, it is plain that the stamp lasted for only a very short time. There is this to think of, however: is the normal local demand for 2½d stamps big enough to absorb 1,179 copies within a week?—assuming, of course, that the date of issue was around Feb. 19th. On the other hand there may be collectors, correspondents, etc., on the spot, whose presence would account quite nicely for the stamp's selling out in such a short time.

Well, this is all conjecture, and as such is worth little, if anything, save that it may catch the eye of someone who can tell us more about this highly interesting stamp. By the way, I see Gibbons list it, although not the 1923 stamp. Why? Was the former authorized from Port Stanley? (The lack of official sanction, you remember, kept the 1923 stamp from the Catalogue.)

According to Mr. E. H. Roberts of Port Stanley and L'Echo—the French stamp journal—a new pictorial set is to be issued about the end of the year. Mr. Roberts adds that "the current series will remain valid contemporaneously with it," but what this means I can't say. Its obvious meaning, of course, is that the current series will be good for postage along with the new set, but why he should mention this, when in practically all Colonies the obsolete stamps are valid for postage, is a trifle obscure.

The last printings of the current series were despatched during the first quarter of this year. These comprised the 1d, 2d and 2½d. Prior to this fresh printings of the ½d, 1d, 2d and 2½d, were sent out during, I believe, the first half of 1927. This was the first printing of the 2½d in the old colour. Strangely enough Gibbons do not distinguish between this printing and the first (1921) printing. They are quite distinct, however, the reissue being in a dark blue similar to the 2½d of the 1912 issue, but not so intense as the 1921 stamp. This 2½d reissue, and also the current 6d, should be watched, as they will have been in use for a shorter period than any of the other current duties. The 6d, you recall, was issued during the latter half of 1925.

However, I doubt if any large stocks of even the three current high values (5/-, 10/- and £1) will come on the market once they become obsolete, as the stamps of the Falklands are not printed in any great quantity, as is the case with certain other Colonies. Besides, the local demand for ordinary postal purposes, is small, especially for the high values. In fact, it would not surprise me at all to see the 10/- and £1 missing from the new pictorial set. High values seem to be going by the board lately, as witness Gold Coast, St. Helena, Antigua, Dominica, St. Kitts, etc. (£1 of the last three has been withdrawn; also the 10/- of St. Kitts.) Used copies of these high values will be especially desirable, and should be worth two and three times the price of mint copies. Messrs. Harmer Rooke & Co., the well-known London auctioneers, recently obtained £7 for the 2/6 and 5/- of 1898, used on two registered envelopes—a figure which is food for thought, when one considers that mint copies of these two stamps sell at only 50/- the pair! Twenty years from now, unless I am greatly mistaken, the current high value Geos. in similar condition will be just about as scarce, as compared with mint copies. I've said it again and again, and I still say it: used high values of the out-of-the-way Colonies are the best bets on the modern Colonial market today. Don't take my word for it; sink a little cash in 'em wait twenty years—and see for yourself!!

N. B.—I am not a dealer!

MOLLY PITCHER BATTLE OF MONMOUTH

JUST ISSUED! On October 20th, like a bolt out of the blue, Uncle Sam issued a special surcharged 2c stamp in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle Monmouth. The stamp is the regular 2-cent and is surcharged in two lines "MOLLY PITCHER." It was issued on the 20th in three cities, Freehold and Red Bank, N. J., and Washington.

Three first day covers, one from each of the cities, and five unused copies, a single and a block of four, will be supplied for only one dollar. Don't delay ordering these covers. The advance notice hardly allowed time for the preparation of the usual first day covers, so the available supply will be smaller than with other new issues.

EXCHANGE—

FROM the Economist Stamp Co., 87 Nassau St., N. Y. City, we have received their 1928-29 Pricelist of U. S. Stamps and Colonies, also Philatelic Accessories. It is a substantial booklet of eighty pages, and will be sent to any address upon request.

WE have been advised of the death of William H. Seward, Johnson City, N. Y. He was founder of the William Seward Stamp and Coin Club of that city. Mr. Seward was born in Coleville, N. Y., in 1858, and began in early life to study and collect stamps. He was a man of sterling character, beloved by all who knew him.

WE have received from Floyd Shockley, Indianapolis, Ind., a cover which bears a cachet in purple, reading "Airmail Day, Indianapolis, Oct. 25, 1928." The envelope carries with it the remarks of an airmail flight, but we have no particulars as to how long the letter was in the air.

WE acknowledge with thanks greetings from J. E. Crouch, who is on a visit to Bermuda.

H. HOLDEN, after a stay in Berkeley, Cal., has returned to his old-time location in Detroit. Mr. Holden has been in the stamp business for forty years, and in 1891 introduced monthly auction sales. Elsewhere in this issue will be found his advertisement, and he promises that our readers will hear from him from time to time. His present address is 115 John R St., Detroit, Mich.

A GROUP of boys at the Athol, Mass., Y. M. C. A. have organized a stamp club. It was voted to hold meetings every other Tuesday at 4 p. m., Robert Henchman, President and Clyde Starrett, Secretary. The charter members are: Clyde Starrett, Howard Roth, Robert Atkinson, Wallace Mayhew, Rubert Atkinson, Franklin Henchman, Francis Gray, Frederick Merrill, Donald Hayden. Adult Advisers: A. P. Johnson, Robert Briggs.

WE have received from White & Wyckoff, Holyoke, Mass., their 1929 art calendar. It is a handsome production showing twelve exquisite illustrations featuring "Message Carriers of To-day." As one turns the pages the queer and quaint ways that Uncle Sam uses to convey the mails are portrayed. There is the Alaskan dog mail, the mountain carrier on snow shoes, the delivery of mail to an isolated lighthouse, airmail, reindeer mail, etc. The calendar is unique with its educational features. The U. S. P. O. Department has co-operated in its preparation. Price 25c and it may be obained from the publishers.

Scarce Early U.S.
AT BARGAIN PRICES

The weakest spots in most collections of United States stamps started in recent years may be those of the issues of 1861-67-69. For those who wish to improve the value and appearance of their collection, we have superb copies of almost every number at prices ranging from ⅔ of catalog to ten times the list prices.

For those who have only empty spaces for most of these issues, we have what we call "Educator" copies. They are clean and presentable, but not perfect as to details of centering, perforations, etc. Their value, we believe, lies in familiarizing the beginner with stamps which in superb condition cost more than he can afford to pay. Of these we offer two popular issues, those of 1861-62 and of 1869, as follows:

AERIAL STAMP FOR AUSTRALIA

According to information that he gathers from the Melbourne, Australia, Age, Mr. E. H. Oesch says that the Postmaster-General and officers of his department have given all consideration to the selection of the design for the air mail stamp that is to be issued; and that in its salient features, the outline has been decided upon. Mr. G. G. Haldane, the acting director of postal services has referred to the stamp as of 3 pence denomination, and as of the size of the Canberra stamp, which commemorated the opening of the federal capital last year. The details of the stamps are a representation of an airplane about a country scene with sheep "grazing on a paddock." The drawing, which has been approved by the philatelic society, has been given to Mr. Harold Herbert, whose fame as an artist is growing, for completion in a form for actual work in the manufacture of the stamp.

That is the basis of my business, and this policy has won the confidence of collectors all over the country. I have built up a clientele that appreciate courteous, efficient service.

BAD

We learn through Tom V. Binmore, secretary of the American Stamp Dealers' Association, that another robbery has been perpetrated in New York. The office of Mr. J. A. Galbraith, 115-117 Nassau Street, New York City, was entered by transom workers and some valuable stock was stolen. The loot consisted of two stock books of used British colonials and two of unused British colonials; and also, one little bag containing a note-book and a sheet of the Molly Pitcher stamps. Another epidemic of stamp thefts prevails and it is necessary that steps be taken to discourage it. Care in leaving stamps where they may be safe is a requirement and more to the point, perhaps, dealers should be very cautious before buying stamps that may be offered by strangers or those who do not seem able to give good title to them. The A. S. D. A. will work on any clues that may be afforded, and the aid of the police will be enlisted, if opportunity is given.

No. 1 you may have in your collection. The name of the Asst. P. M. at this time being D. P. Hamlin. No. 4 is seldom cleanly struck, and when hit properly it makes a fine addition to any collection of cancellations. The double letters are often misleading, for the F.T. is no fort, and the next one may not be Vermont, and the next may not be Phila.

Continuing about schools and hotels, I went thru my covers and find I have 30 schools, and 85 hotels on covers used prior to 1870 issue of stamps. These I have mounted and they make a good start. Some are quite unusual as compared with Returns nowadays.

One, a dense purple all over, is the Bordentown Female College, and it is pretty. There are some Greek Letter fraternities, a Sabbath School, two covers before stamps are postmarked "CARY'S ACADEMY O", one in black with no ring, other in orange-red, each has a mss. "10" for its rate.

Some of the schools had rather long drawn out names. It would be quite awkward to give a yell for "Fort Plain Seminary, and Female Collegiate Institute". I have also saved out a very pretty gray surfaced envelope with the Return of a chemistry professor. In a semicircle above we read "J. MILTON SANDERS M.D., L.L.D.", then below is a table with one of those chemist's flasks that all Chem Lab students regard a few paces removed, to see if the cork will hit the ceiling first, or if the whole she bang goes up at one explosion! Ther are beakers and retorts also on the nic white table cloth, which droops dow gracefully, showing the rest of the re turn address of this Professor, to b "Professor of Chemistry." No town i mentioned, so I reckon he was very wel known, tho my knowledge stops with Ir Remsen, and a name with a "z" in it which I can't spell.

Many of the colleges show pictures o their campus or building. Wesleya Academy used beautiful steel engrave stationery, picture of the entire ground and buildings in 1865.

Among the hotels are many with returns in embossing. American House i Boston shows the hotel in white, the irregular frame being in bright red give a neat cover in 1856 or thereabouts. American was popular as a name, being used in Boston, Cleveland, Columbia, Galesburg, Montpelier and Richmond, to my knowledge, with probably many, many more.

I have three Atlantics. The Aveline from Ft. Wayne is neatly engraved. My best hotel is from Bosco Bel, Wisconsin, it being a rebus on back of the envelope. From the Clark's House, at Beaver Dam, I have a Railroad pmk. "CHI to GREEN BAY R. P. O." on 3c 1869. Cooley's Hotel of this town is on a gray surfaced envelope in 1869. The hotel is just being remodeled in part.

On a folded cover is a 3c 1851 stamp, precancelled, the mss. pmk. reading "Crawford House," and I have seen but few of these pmks. The old FIFTH AVENUE HOUSE used a very neat embossing in the 60's. In 1851 the Franklin House of Phila., used an ornate blue design, the letters colorless. The Girard House of Phila., came in a black ellipse in the 60's, showing the perspective of the hotel. My cover is mailed from Romulus, N. Y., showing the patrons sometimes carried away stationery in those days, too!

HALF CATALOGUE

I am breaking up an old and fine collection of postage stamps only, issues from 1840 to 1910. The bulk of the stamps are unused, and the collection has been remounted in between 50 and 60 of my well known approval books.

I am pricing this collection now and nearly all the stamps from 1880 to 1910 are priced at half catalogue and less. In very many cases the older issues are also priced half catalogue, only a very few choice copies of early issues being priced as high as 60% of current catalogue.

Many rare and uncommon stamps are included and the whole collection has a catalogue value of over $50,000.00.

The following new books are now ready:—

No. 42. Portugal.
No. 43. Paraguay, Parma, Prussia and Oldenburg.
No. 44. Romagna, Roman States and Roumania.
No. 45. Russia, Sardinia, Saxony, Schleswig and Servia to No. 77.
No. 46. Servia Nos. 79 to 164. Spain to No. 228.
No. 47. Spain Nos. 228 to 330, and Sweden.
No. 48. Switzerland to No. 125.
No. 49. Switzerland Nos. 125 to 183. Tunis, Tuscany, Two Sicilies and Uruguay to No. 25.
No. 50. Uruguay Nos. 25 to 207 and Wurtemberg.

The rarer stamps of this collection are mounted in separate books for advanced collectors and are as follows:

No. 51.	Great Britain, West Indies, B. N. America and Australians.	Price to $4920.00
No. 52.	Cape, Mauritius, Natal, Ceylon and Australians.	Price to 4110.00
No. 53.	Cape, Ceylon, Natal, Early Uruguay, Brazil, Dominican Republic and Peru.	Price to 2880.00
No. 54.	Germany and Italians.	Price to 1447.00

Two from Virginia, the Greenbriar at hite Sulphur Springs (W. Va.). and e Healing Springs Hotel in Bath Coun- an appropriately named county sure f. Lovejoy's Hotel in N. Y. This house has connection with any other house in city."

The Mt. Holyoke, Mass., Mountain ouse gave its guests very neat envel- es, with a picture of the hotel on the ountain top, they also furnished other envelope with picture of the aks of the nearby range of mountains. e Sherman House of Chicago had em- ssing. It is all tied in with a belt d buckle, and is quite neat—used in 60's. From Oil City, Pa., we find ers from the Sheriff House, probably a jail, tho at first glance it would ear so. I have "UNITED STATES Ho- s" from Hartford, New York, Platts- rg and Washington.

The terms hotel and house are used out equally in the names of these hos- ries on covers before 1870. Several llectors are saving the return addresses business firms too, and when they are t and pretty they make a very inter- ing layout.

British Colonial Sets
At Investment Prices

One auction catalog recently in describing some British Colonial lots called them "Standard Goods." It is certain that no other stamps, as a class, offer such a universal appeal. The following are priced so low that we believe they offer a fine investment for anyone. All unused and in fine condition unless mention is made to the contrary.

STOCKHOLM - LONDON FLIGHTS

During August and September, four trial flights were made between Stockholm, Sweden, and London, England. The exact dates are August 14, 22, 29, and September 3. We are indebted to Hans Lagerloef for specimen copies of covers, which show the airmail markings of this service. There is an inscription in four lines reading:—"Air Post-office—Stockholm London—Overnight Service—14-15 August 1928", which is common to all the envelopes, and serves the purpose of cancelling some of the stamps. A circular cancellation showing an airplane in flight is also a prominent feature. All the markings are in black. These are pioneer covers and will doubtless blaze the way for a regular mail service between Stockholm and London.

THE LONDON BOURSE

Through the courtesy of Mr. Reginald F. Makepeace, who writes from London to tell of the opening of the great dealers' fair, all indications point to the success of the sessions of the meeting. Stamps to the value of millions are on hand and the stamp trade is well represented there, dealers having come from many of the cities of Europe and from New York and Boston, in the United States. It is easily realized that with the admirable foundation in a philatelic sense that London provides, a meeting of the kind is almost certain to be attended with good results. A newspaper clipping remarks, as follows, and incidentally, we should say that there are relatively few folks in England who do not know of the existence of stamp collecting as a definite diversion: "While many people profess an inability to understand what pleasure can be gained from collecting postage stamps, there is no question that in an economic sense the hobby has reached a point where it is entitled to be classed with the collecting of pictures, books, furniture, old glass, antiques, and other collections which run into a good deal of money."

BOOK REVIEW

"Sources of Supply for Stamp Dealers." This directory will be of great value to dealers, and especially the younger dealers, who have not established rock-bottom sources of supply. There are two lists, one consisting of the addresses of dealers with their specialties, and the other of countries named alphabetically with cross references to the dealers who can supply the stamps. There are no fewer than 431 dealers listed. The book is published by Gossip Printery, Holton, Kansas, and the price is 50c.

states as follows: "The elusive value of the overprinted Official Air Mail stamps of Brazil appears to be the 200 reis on 2000 reis Maroon (Scott No. 803). The total printing of this stamp was 6000 copies." It follows that $5.00 catalogue value is not likely to remain long. If you have not already obtained it, do so before the supply is exhausted. Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

A new Air Mail publication, "The Air Post Collector," has reached me. As this copy is No. 1, I presume others will follow and they will be welcome reading. "The Air Post Collector" is the House Organ of Mr. R. E. R. Dalwick, Dorking, Eng., and is his medium for placing before collectors his large stock of pioneer, current and possible future flight covers. Write Mr. Dalwick for a copy.

From Mr. Gearhart Frantz comes a cover bearing a three line cachet, which reads, "Use the Air Mail—Martin Jensen Airport, Lehighton, Pa.—Will be dedicated Sunday, October 21st." As the cover bears a cancel of this date and location, I presume the dedication took place on schedule. Not Official.

Mr. Fred Krueger sends me a very interesting cover—one that seems to be among the missing in many collections, although of fairly recent vintage. A special flight from Fargo, N. D., to Winnipeg, Man., occurred on July 13, 1927, being sponsored by the Fargo Aeronautics Club. A few covers were carried and posted at Winnipeg, and others at St. Paul, the postmarks reading, "St. Paul, July 13, 1927, and Winnipeg, July 15, 1927." The covers carry a four line printed notice in the upper left corner, enclosed in a single line frame and reading, "First Mail Carried By—Airplane From Fargo, N. D.—sponsored by—Fargo Aeronautics Club." The envelope used was a regular 2c stamped No. 13, and there is no backstamp.

Jesse T. Lillibridge reports a special cachet was used at the dedication of the Airport at Stowe, Vt., on October 26, 27, 28. The cachet is diamond shaped, bears the words "Opening Airport, Stowe, Vermont, Oct., 1928, 26, 27, 28," and a winged propeller in the center. Looks as if it might have been made from a stencil. Not Official.

You will recall my note relative to covers being carried in the "Friendship" by Wilmer Stultz, in a recent issue. I am now able to inform you that 11 covers were carried by Mr. Stultz, and were mailed in London on his arrival there the covers being the property of a friend residing in Newfoundland. It is interesting to learn this fact, for no previous mention has been made that the "Friendship" was the means of getting a few covers carried over the Atlantic. The covers ought to be valuable.

Good intentions sometimes fail to work out as anticipated, and Mr. Clifford Ball seems to have had his share of hard luck in connection with a cachet of welcome to the Zepp. It was originally planned to apply a cachet to Air Mail on the day the "Graf" hovered over, or landed at Pittsburgh. Weather conditions prevented, but Mr. Ball was a sport and sent the covers along on October 29th, after all hope of a visit had peterered out. Just to show that he is interested in our hobby, he applied the original cachet—four lines in a frame—reading "Greetings to the—Graf Zeppelin—and its gallant crew—on their flying visit here," and then to give us good measure, applied a second cachet, another four line affair in smaller type and without the frame, which reads, "Graf Zeppelin Cancelled—Inland Flight, Oct. 26, on account of high winds and—flew to Germany today." Covers before me are cancelled McKeesport and Homestead, Pa. and Mr. J. P. Penning states that last minute changes necessitated the use of the three postoffices, McKeesport, Homestead and Pittsburgh, and that cover were split so as to receive the three cancels where possible. Cachet, of course is Not Official.

Dennison, Texas, dedicated an Airport on October 20-21, and I am indebted to Mr. William Prinzing for a cover bearing a cachet. "Gray Field" on the wing of a plane, "Dennison's Airport—Secured by the Junior C. of C.—Formal Opening —Oct. 20-21." All enclosed in a single line frame. Not Official.

Another Contract Route to get under way on December 1st, according to newspaper clipping received from Mr. J. W. Stanton, Atlanta Journal, under date of October 25th, states the ATLANTA-MIAMI service will start on that date according to a statement by an official of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., the contractor. The Southbound plane will leave Atlanta at 7. A. M., on Dec. 1st, arriving in Jacksonville at 10. A. M., and Miami at 1. P. M. Return from Miami at 11 A. M. Dec. 1st, arr. Jax at 2 P. M., and At

MARKET NOTES AND NEWS

By "CALABAR".

Ascension.—The popular first set of this Colony is still on the upgrade. The 1/-, in Scott's Advance Sheets, goes to $5, the 2/- to $6, and the 3/- to $9. In spite of these high levels further rises are bound to take place, and the complete set is well worth getting hold of at anything under $10.

The Barbados 2/- and 3/- of 1921 are also up in Scott's Adv. Sheets, the 2/- is now at $2.75, and the 3/- at $4. These are two good little stamps which should not be overlooked.

A report seems to being going the rounds to the effect that a complete new series for the Leeward Ids. is being prepared. This has not been confirmed by the Crown Agents, however, and I doubt very much if there is any truth in it.

The foreign post card rate in these islands has now been reduced to 1d, so that the 1d stamps of the different Presidencies and of the Federal series, will doubtless appear in red again.

Solomons.—Scott's new figure (10c) for the current 1½d, although lower than the old one of 50c, is still more than their usual figure for current 1½d duties. Gibbons' price is also a trifle high, viz., 4d. Why these figures? This stamp is certainly current.

Gold Coast.—Quite a few of the old CA 10/- K.G. with olive back have been coming on the market recently, particularly in London. It is noticeable that prices are well under those obtaining over here, the London prices ranging between 17/6 and 27/6.

Mr. Harry Huber, in an article in the WEEKLY of Sept. 10th, states that 20,160 of the 4d old CA of Montserrat (which was issued July 13, 1922) were burnt at Plymouth on Aug. 18, 1924. One wonders why the script 4d was ordered when it was, when a large stock of the old CA 4d was still in hand.

The 5/- 1914 of this Colony is a stamp well worth getting hold of. It is the best of the Montserrat King's head issues, and I see two British dealers are offering 25/- and 30/- for it.

Turks & Caicos.—The obsolete 1922-26 set is still a good buy, the 2/- 1925 particularly. Only 7,560 were sent out, so that its present figure is due for a big jump.

Sierra Leone.—It is officially stated that the 2½d, 7d, 9d, 10d, £2 and £5 stamps of this Colony will be discontinued. The 7d, you recall, was issued early this year, and may turn out the best of the lot: i.e., show the biggest proportionate rise over face. A few copies, either used or mint, are well worth buying up.

Turks & Caicos.—Some interesting figures re the numbers issued of the 3/- 1922-26 appeared in The Philatelic Trader for August. The first printing, including copies sold by the Crown Agents in 1922, was 8,160. A second supply was received at Grand Turk on Jan. 24, 1927, numbering 5,880. Judging by these figures the market price will eventually settle down somewhere between 5/- and 10/-.

The 2/- of this set (with script wmk.) is the better of the two, of course, as the supply received in the Colony was only 7,560. It would be interesting to have the Nos. of the other values, especially the 5d, 6d and 1/-.

Tanganyika.—I learn that the 40c, 75c and 3/- values of the current K.G. type series are to be discontinued and that no further printings will be made. These duties will thus have been in use for about one year only, and I know that of the 3/- fewer printings were made than of the other values, so that a few copies put aside now should prove a good investment in a couple of years.

Malta.—I see that all values of the current set will appear with the "Post. & Rev." ovpt. and that they will include the new 1d light brown and 1½d red, which are not yet on issue. I fancy the new provisionals will have a hardening effect on the prices of the old "Melita" set.

St. Kitts.—An English dealer is offering the £1 of the 1920-22 series at 45/-! This seems a little high for a stamp that has been in use for 6 years, and only exhausted recently, and recalls the high figures asked for the 10/- Caymans 1921, soon after it became obsolete. The market price of the latter is now noticeably lower than it was in 1926, and I think the St. Kitts stamp will also drop from the above figure of 45/-. It must be remembered that modern St. Kitts issues are very popular, and hence, stamps which are just obsolete are apt to fluctuate somewhat more than the issues of some Colony which is less popular.

Papua.—It appears that it was all a false alarm about the change in the wmk. for this Colony. The Victorian Philatelic Record got a consignment of New Guinea stamps (which of course were on unwatermarked paper) confused with a lot of Papua issues (watermarked). This new lot of Papua is watermarked as before, though there are some slight shade differences.

Barbados.—I fancy the recent issues of this Colony will show several rises again in the new Catalogues. The "Victory" series and the 3/- bright violet of 1918 (S.G. 200a) are worth getting hold of, on the basis of 1928 quotations. I am rather doubtful of the 3/- 1916; this, you recall, was raised to 75/- by Gibbons, and then dropped to 35/-, but market prices, which took a big jump along with the Cat. quotation, did not drop back to any extent when the Cat. price dropped; so I doubt if this stamp will rise very much, for a while at least.

Next year will mark the fourth year of the current issue, and inasmuch as Barbados has issued new sets every four years, or less, since 1912, I should not be at all surprised to see a new issue again next year. So don't put off getting the present series too long.

EDITORIAL

THE new edition of the catalogue published by the Scott Stamp & Coin Company made its appearance on the dot, and in all respects maintains the high typographical standard set by recent editions. A general idea of price changes during the year has been given by comments on the Advance Sheets as they were circulated. We believe that the question of pricing has received a greater degree of attention than ever before, and that the publishers are alive to the necessity of being eminently fair in their appraisals. This desire to be just in this most important particular based on the ripe experience of the cataloguers gives title to the claim of standard. The additions to the work, in comparison with last year's edition, show how the visible supply of stamps has increased during the past twelve months.

OUR annual correspondent, Mr. Donald E. Dickason, Wooster, Ohio, writes: "One year ago, I reported to you some figures on the annual increase in catalog value of my stamp collection. This collection, as you may recall, is a general collection consisting of stamps issued since 1910, and comprises from twelve to fifteen thousand varieties. The 1927 catalogue shows an increase over the previous year in the collection of 7%; the 1928 catalogue shows an increase of 17½% over the 1927 catalogue, and the 1929 catalogue just completed shows a further increase of 17%. These figures are based on the same stamps from year to year and don't allow for new ones added during the course of the current year. These results should be of interest to those who, like so many of us, need to consider the investment value of the money we spend on stamps, as well as the pleasure that is gained." The yearly report of our statistician is accepted with thanks; and a year from now, we want to hear from him again, as we feel it in our bones that the motto of good stamps is Excelsior.

WHILE the Molly Pitcher stamp came as a surprise, letters that we have received from readers prove that it has not been a pleasant one. We have been made the repository of a dozen communications from various and sundry that strike a minor chord in discussing the issue. We forbear quoting from the more outspoken correspondents, lest ears polite be offended. The most philosophic commentator says: "I hope that the surcharge makeshift is indicative of only a temporary state of official mind. Halfway measures merely involve our surface emotions, and no stamp at all would be better than the Molly Pitcher contribution, which is the height of something." Incongruity.

THE following communication has come from D. M. Merrin, secretary of the Aviation Committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce: "This is to advise that a special cachet will be applied to all air mail from Spokane on November 11th, the occasion being the dedication of the Fancher Memorial Beacon at the Spokane Airport. The light, which is the duplicate of the Mount Diablo beacon in California, is being erected by the American Legion as a memorial to the late Major John T. Fancher, who was in command of the National Guard Observation Squadron here. Major Fancher was killed while giving a bombing demonstration at the dedication of the Wenatchee airport last spring. Covers may be sent to the Spokane Chamber of Commerce for mailing on November 11th." This information comes just a day too late for insertion in the WEEKLY in time to be put to practical use by our readers.

THE following letter was received recently from Mr. Richard S. Clover, Philadelphia, who writes authoritatively on a subject that is growing in appeal to a considerable number of collectors: "The articles by Mr. H. W. Boers and Mr. F. F. Parsons regarding floating post offices in the U. S. were noted in recent issues of the WEEKLY. I wish to add that there are numerous offices under the direction of the Railway Mail Service, and designated as Railway Post Offices, which are operated on steamboats and not on trains, and which therefore may be classed as floating post offices. The service differs from that performed by the Detroit River P. O., in several particulars, however. The former do not sell stamps or receive other than first class mail, nor receive registered mail. They do not deliver mail to the addressees, but turn it over to post offices with fixed locations for this purpose. They do, however, receive mail from the public and apply a cancellation thereto. The post office designates the name of the route, while the cancellation contains the letters, 'R. M. S.' The object of this service is to save time in the distribution of the mails and for the accommodation of travelers, while the Detroit River P. O. would appear to have all the functions of the ordinary post office. Among the floating post offices of the R. M. S., I might mention the following: Inlet & Old Forge R. P. O., operating between Inlet, N. Y., and Old Forge, N. Y., during the summer months; Ocracoke & Morehead City R. P. O., operating between Morehead City, N. C., and Ocracoke, N. C., which is located on an island, a distance of 62 miles; Norfolk & Hicks Wharf R. P. O.; Baltimore & West Point R. P. O. and Baltimore & Norfolk R. P. O. There are others too numerous to mention here. A cover bearing the cancellation of the Baltimore & Norfolk R. P. O., is enclosed. Note that the direction of the route takes the place of train numbers." The explanation by Mr. Clover is instruction of the right kind, as many of us were somewhat vague on the subject of these cancellations, and now we know that an "R. P. O." may be in fact a boat cancellation.

WE are under the sad necessity of announcing the death at St. Francis' Hospital, Evanston, of Corydon B. Rogers, on October 27, 1928, who was a thorough philatelist, and a former president of the Chicago Philatelic Society. His death was sudden, an attack of pneumonia proving fatal in forty-eight hours. Mr. Rogers' life was an eventful one. He was the first white child born in Carlton County, Minnesota, his birth having taken place in 1870, when his parents were at the Indian reservation there. His father was an army surgeon at the time. Mr. Rogers' business experiences were varied; and in Nicaragua, he spent some years in the canning business. Twenty-five years ago, he entered actively into Chicago's philatelic life, and was first known as a general collector, who was a specialist in the stamps of Brazil. He sold his collection at auction, and then gave attention to U. S. and Confederates, making a good showing in them. He was among the first collectors to study cancellations and postal markings on our early issues, and if circumstances had not arisen that made it advisable to sell his stamps of the kind, he would have profited exceedingly, by now. He distributed the 13c on bluish paper, and made a number of minor discoveries that were of interest. Mr. Rogers had been practically retired from philately for a good many years, although he did not sever all the connections that he had made with friends during his philatelic hey-day. He was a quiet, but effective force in helping spread the collecting doctrine, and not a few collectors were started by him, who became worthy additions to our ranks. He was a cheerful exponent of our pursuit, and his agreeable personality made him many friends; and it is to be said that he was a raconteur of no ordinary ability, and he had a fund of personal reminiscences that was inexhaustible. Mr. Rogers was unmarried, although a sister and several brothers survive him on the Pacific coast. Resolutions to the respect in which he was held were passed at the meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society held on November 1, 1928.

DESIGNS OF AUSTRALIAN STAMPS

Some philatelists have been very critical of the designs of Australian stamps, the main objection to the current 1½d stamp, the King's head flanked by the emu and the kangaroo, being on the score of the mass of detail crowded into the design. The P.M.G.'s department has purchased the rights of a design by Mr. R. A. Harrison for a three-halfpenny stamp, the King's head, in which is flanked by fluted columns. A photograph of this design appears in another column. Besides the kookaburra design for a special threepenny stamp to be issued, there is also in prospect a special air mail stamp, and one to commemorate the West Australian centenary next year. Inquiry from an official source in the department yesterday, however, elicited the fact that the responsible officers consider some change is desirable, with a view to improvement in the style of our present postage stamps. A change is not likely to be brought about immediately, but when the department decides that the time is appropriate for substituting new stamps, competitive designs will be called for, or the aid of artists sought. The stamp printing press of the Commonwealth turns out 800,000,000 stamps every year, the cost of such printing being 5d per 1,000.—Australian Newspaper.

AIR COVER COLLECTING

By Samuel Falkoff.

Airmail cover collecting is going through an early stage of development such as its parent, stamp collecting, passed through in the '60's and '70's. This period is characterized by general enthusiasm and lack of well defined methods of collecting. Such a chaotic state did much to harm early philately, when many items that appeared to be stamps were put into collections that later turned out to be forgeries, unofficial privates, etc., because they were accepted on mere appearance.

As I see it, this condition, comparable to the above, now exists in American airmail collecting (I do not think it is nearly as prevalent abroad). Many collectors are perfectly satisfied to put pieces in their collection if it but bears a rubber stamp impression on its face. He is little concerned whether this "cachet" is applied by some Chamber of Commerce, Smith's Hardware Store or a strictly private individual. If only there is a marking remotely savoring of airmail, there is another collectible variety for him.

One can readily appreciate that in a young hobby, each new variety would be heartily welcomed as a new succession. But, if we collectors of air covers care not what official standing these novelties have and embrace every semi-plausible variety that appears, the hobby of aerophilately inevitably is going to suffer serious consequences. If there are to be values, there must also be standards to serve as bases to judge them by. From my observation, I can, as yet, see no generally accepted standards in use by the rank and file of airmail collectors, that will concentrate the aims of this hobby in a worthwhile direction. Unless these guides are soon erected, there will be an inundation of worthless material that will bewilder and confuse the collector and his disappointment will be shown in the slow expansion of the hobby. Even now this influence is beginning to be felt.

I would say that a collectible cover is one that has received airmail service on a route operated with official sanction, and whose markings are official (by a collectible variety I mean one justifying catalog rating). These may be carried on first, special, experimental, or ordinary flights. Exception can be made for pioneer flights, which show the infancy of airmail development, some of which were unauthorised. This can also be done for modern flights, which can be shown to be bona fide attempts at airmail development.

Some of the things that I consider worthless from any intelligent angle are, convention, commemorative or show markings on ordinary flights of contract service. These "cachets" are almost always unofficial and are made in connection with no new service, and I, for one, am unable to see on what grounds they are entitled to catalog ranking. Such items as the Springfield Fair covers (merely a contractor's device to popularize his service), and Boston Radio Show covers, exemplify what I mean in this regard. Such also, I consider covers of pure speculative intent and of no postal justification, as the Byrd North Pole and Norge covers. By no stretch of the imagination can they be considered to be connected with airmail. What then are they? Souvenirs? All well and good, but like Scott and the other catalogs, I think such items depend for their value on personal preferences and are clearly not entitled to catalog ranking or consideration. Have we reached the point where any stamped envelope or card (considerately rubber stamped) that goes up with Byrd, Lindbergh, or some other famous aviator on an undisguised non-airmail flight, becomes a legitimate airmail item merely by so doing? I think not, on any logical basis.

Unless official covers are adhered to, we must also buy the varieties gotten up by ambitious collectors who plan flights so as to make "scoops"; this is done by directly open acts or more often by suggestion.

The above outline is intended as a stimulus to bring out some sort of investigation with the end of establishing the hobby on a firm basis through weeding out of undesirables and unnecessary varieties. A committee of well known collectors could act in conjunction with the publishers of the American catalog. Any move in this direction would be sure to benefit the hobby now and even more in the future.

I should mention that all new items should be subject to scrutiny such as is given by the Scott Co., to all new stamps before listing. As for pilot's autographs, private flights, souvenir flights, etc., they may be collected with the areophilatelists' fancy as the sole arbiter of value (as in stamps). There is no place for them in a standard catalog.

Dieu Et Mon Droit

This motto appears on the scroll below the shield on the centre of certain of the stamps of Antigua. It forms part of the British Royal coat-of-arms, and is said to have been first used by Richard

Coeur de Lion, in whose time the Royal Arms consisted only of the three lions now shown in the first quarter of the shield. The motto is in French and means "God and my Right."

A set of nine stamps has been issued for the Orval Abbey Restoration Fund. Each stamp has an additional fixed fee that is set aside for the repair fund.

Junior News Release

By Beach Conger, Jr.

North Borneo.—The current 2c and 24c stamps of this country have had their colors changed. The 2c, formerly green, claret and black. The 24c stamp, has been changed from mauve to violet.

Nigeria.—According to orders placed with the Crown Agents, the 2d stamp is due to be issued in brown instead of gray.

Kenya and Uganda.—This colony has now a set of postage due stamps of a design similar to that of the Federated Malay States set. The values are 5c purple, 10c red, 20c green, and 40c blue.

Leeward Islands.—A new 1 pound stamp, purple and black on red, is being prepared for this colony. The 1d stamp is now printed in red and the 1½d stamp has been changed from red to brown.

Montserrat.—More color changes. Same as in the Leewards sets, the 1d being now red and the 1½d brown.

Zanzibar.—The Rs30 stamp has been ordered printed on Script C.A. watermarked paper.

Venezuela

A 10c green in the above design was recently issued to commemorate the 25th anniversary of peace in Venezuela. Gen. Gomez is pictured, also Bolivar City.

Junior Dictionary

Port de Mar.—The chief inscription upon certain labels employed at one time in Mexico to denote to the authorities at Vera Cruz the amount of postage upon each letter which was to be paid to the Company conveying the mails by sea. As the whole of the postage was prepaid by means of the ordinary postage stamps and these labels merely gave information upon a matter of accounts, their philatelic interest is not very great. The inscription means, literally, "sea postage."

Port Lagos.—A small town in Turkey, in Europe, at which France maintains a consular post office. The stamps used at this office since 1893 have been overprinted with the name of the town.

Porto.—This word forms the only inscription, other than the value, shown upon the postage due stamps of Austria and the Austrian Levant issued since 1908. It means "postage."

Porto Gazetei.—Found on the 5 paras stamp of Moldavia. It means "newspaper postage," this low value stamp being issued for the prepayment of postage on newspapers.

Port Said.—An Egyptian town, on the west side of the Suez Canal. France has long maintained a Consular post office at this port, and since 1899 the stamps used there have been overprinted or inscribed "Port Said."

The Postage Stamp's Lesson

"Knickerbocker Press"—E. Trenkner.

There was a little postage stamp
No bigger than your thumb,
But still it stuck right on the job
Until its work was done.

They licked it and they pounded it
Till it would make you sick,
But the more it took a lickin'
Why the tighter it would stick.

Let's be like a postage stamp.
In playing Life's rough game,
And just keep on a-sticking
Though we hide our heads in shame.

For the stamp stuck to the letter
Till it saw it safely through,
There's no one could do better;
Let's keep sticking and be true.

Costa Rica

The most southerly state of Central America, extending right across the isthmus. The first stamps for Costa Rica were issued in 1862.

How To Organize A Stamp Club

By A. C. LeDuc.

The first thing necessary is a group of persons interested in stamp collecting either for the reason that each has a collection already started or would like to have a collection. This group may be small and still make it possible to start a club, because as soon as the word gets out that there is a club there will be others who will want to join. Some clubs starting with a few members have had to put a membership limit into their by-laws soon after organizing. The group may consist of boys or girls or adults. It is best not to mix the children and adults in a club as their interests and desires are so different. It is, however, very fine if there is some adult who will help the boys and girls get organized and meet with them to guide them. Usually children welcome help from such a person providing he is wise enough and big enough to become just another child with them and not force them to do things that they do not care to do. The interest of the parents is very desirable also, providing it is offered in the same way.

Reasons for a Stamp Club

There are a great many reasons for having a stamp club. The main one is to keep the collector's interest from lagging. At a club meeting there is a general swapping of ideas as well as stamps. There is also more or less competition. Without competition there is little fun. Without some interested observer what is the need of careful arrangement? A boy may have an untidy page, but will he keep it that way after looking at a nicely arranged page in some other fellow's book? Will he buy damaged stamps when the other fellow has good copies? Will he glue down or tear or muss good stamps when he sees others using good hinges, stamp tongs and a great amount of care? There are many ways that a club by competition stimulates stamp col-

D. K. M. Gets Taken Down A Notch; He Finds Real Stamp Fiend In The Hills

EDITOR THE TIMES:

Stamps are weird little beggars.

I thought I knew about every fellow in these hills and certainly I would have sworn that there was not another stamp collection back in these sticks.

Recently I was down at the blacksmith shop getting Lil's wishbone straightened, and the rural carrier dropped in; nice fellow, he saves me block numbers, and the carrier said: "The storekeeper at Rocky Point asked me if there was another stamp collector I knew of, and I told him about you, and he said for you to stop in some time."

I didn't take that very seriously; a crossroads storekeeper probably has 5,000 bum stamps in a junior album, but Rocky Point lies between the shack and town, so the next time I was going in I stopped and saluted the fat gink smoking a cob pipe on the veranda of the country store.

And I said: "The carrier tells me you collect stamps."

He removed his pipe, scanned my tattered overalls, as I had glimpsed his frayed trousers, and with a reflective spat, he replied, "Unhuh."

The fellow irritated me, he was entirely unsocial; probably he didn't have a darn stamp worth over a dime. I asked, in a nice, nasty voice: "Wot's your specialty?"

He uncreaked another joint, removed the pipe, spat, and with a vast unconcern, replied, "U. S. mints, brother; U. S. mints."

Now, far be it from me to boast, but I have a few scattering items in the U. S.; to be exact, I am 80 percent complete on regular adhesives; do you think any splay-footed crossroads storekeeper is going to kid me? I said: "Maybe, you got mint 30-cent pure brown '88"; that's a pet of mine, because it is not listed and I got three copies. He said: "Sure, I got it. I got '47 mint, too."

So that was another day all wasted. Before the day was done this fellow dragged out approval books from four stamp societies; the total value per catalog was over $4,000; and I picked up an item for $27.50 that one of the largest dealers in the realm had returned my check on for $60; this stoopid was not only a member of half a dozen societies, but he was bidding on the majority of auctions, in two countries and panes of old $5 sheets are a mere trifle to him.

Right out in the hills; if any of you philatelic brethren ever use the lower Columbia highway, stop for a minute at Rocky Point, and there is good bass and croppy fishing, too.

ectors to make better stamp collectors. There is no better chance of comparison nd competition than at a club meeting.

Another good reason for having a club to keep the collector from getting into rut. He becomes less satisfied with his wn methods of collecting and arranging, nd so becomes a progressive collector. He improves his own methods by adopting the good points used by other collectrs. He grows constantly. His stampic outlook is broadened. He may specialze, but he realizes that there is something besides his speciality. He realizes ue value of the other fellow's viewpoint. he remains a specialist he knows why is a specialist. If he does not remain specialist he knows the reason for that so.

Place of Meeting

One of the first things to consider hen organizing a stamp club, is the gical place of meeting. This matter often automatically settled by the enronment of the members. In our pubschools are found literary clubs, glee ubs, athletic clubs, etc., so why not a amp club in every school? The prinpal of any school will, in most cases, operate by setting aside some room to used by the stamp club, naturally in e school building. Some one of the achers will be found willing to assist keeping order.

Boy scouts and girls' clubs often organe stamp clubs from among their memrs and meet at some convenient place, ch as Sunday School rooms or comunity centers. Sometimes a church, a triotic order or community organizaon organizes a stamp club with no reion to any other existing club among members. Stamp clubs are often ornized under the auspices of the Y. M. A. or the Y. W. C. A., and naturally d convenient meeting places in their spective buildings.

Even though all public doors might be osed to a group there is a very satisfacry way of arranging for a meeting ace. If it is a boys' or girls' club, the t-to-date parents are willing to open eir homes as their turn may come to tertain the club as it meets from time time. As the club grows, it is a little rder to have it at one's home, but it mes less often in consequence. An ult club also seems to enjoy this meetg around at the homes of the different mbers, as there is often less formality n in a public meeting place. Sometes such a club gets light refreshments h as pop corn, apples, cookies or ces. If the parents are interested as ich as all that, then there is a real mp club.

THE OLD GOLD AD

Stamps are familiar objects to Briggs, the newspaper artist, whose series, "When a Feller Needs a Friend," not to mention other subjects, has won him a host of admirers, and he feels a kinship for stamps. As a younger man, he collected and at one time was a member of one of the philatelic societies. Occasionally, he flavors his artistic work with a philatelic dash, which has the genuine taste. No doubt, readers have seen the big Old Gold cigarette advertisement, consisting of a drawing by Briggs, showing a boy of thirteen, say, seated at a table, with the open stamp-album before him. His father is leaning over the son's shoulder, endeavoring unsuccessfully to stifle a cough. The result of the explosion may be imagined; the loose stamps fly about, to the disgust of the boy and the delight of the dog. The boy says: "Aw Gee, Pop! Why don't you smoke Old Golds? There isn't a cough in a carload." Grandma is moved to articulation upon seeing the scatteration and says: "Mercy Sakes! Why Eustace wants to be litterin' up the place with them things anyway, I don't know!" The patient mother admonishes her heedless husband: "Oh George! What a shame! and Eustace had just spent two hours sorting them all out."

Mr. Walter J. Rozmin of the Educational Feature Service, Chicago, has sent us a big bundle of these ads, saying: "This is just a sample of the piece of publicity that we received last week, Thursday, October 18, 1928, in about two hundred papers throughout the United States. When the total circulation is concerned, it is huge, indeed. The Lennen & Mitchell Advertising Agency, New York City, produced the ad."

BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. H. E. Sandstrom, Evanston, Illinois, has acquired the complete stock of stamps belonging to Dr. C. W. Hennan, Chicago, and will conduct a business with these stamps as a foundation. Mr. Sandstrom has been identified with collecting in Chicago for some years and takes an active part in local society affairs.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
Lexington, Mass.

IT'S ALL HERE

I had the pleasure of announcing last week the acquisition of the wonderful lot of United States and British Colonies, gotten together during the last forty years by the late J. Barton Townsend, president of the Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia.

Since my last advertisement was written, I have acquired the Foreign collection. The three lots have a catalog value well in excess of $125,000.00 and it is the finest lot of British Colonies and Foreign stamps that have ever passed through my hands. Mr. Townsend has belonged to the New Issue Service for years and acquired not only everything in the way of British Colonies, but of the Foreign countries as well. I note an especially fine lot of South America, as well as French, Portuguese and Spanish Colonies. Of course, the British Colonies are practically complete in the way of twentieth century, with the exception of the great rarities. In the early stamps, he collected in accordance with Gibbons, hence, there are numerous perforation and watermark varieties. Mr. Townsend was especially fond of the Error, so, there are many inverted and double surcharges, inverted centers, wrong font type and the like.

It may be of interest to announce that the delay in acquiring the Foreign was due to the fact that a second party had informed the heir that he could pay a very substantial price for the lot one much more than I had figured. When the final calculations were made and after others had been called in, it was found that my offer was in excess of 60% higher than the nearest approach. This detail is mentioned in order that those having important properties to sell will appreciate that I offer the most satisfactory outlet. Then, too, the fact that immediate cash is paid is a detail not to be overlooked.

The finest properties coming upon the market privately are passing through my hands—there must be a reason.

If you are thinking of selling or if you are looking for anything unusual in the way of United States, British Colonies or Foreign, correspondence is solicited.

Those interested in buying certain countries complete from the Townsend Collection will be given early consideration.

"Molly Pitcher" Stamps

The Post Office Department states that the ten million "Molly Pitcher" stamps being distributed, are all that will be printed, for there has been much criticism of the issue, and it is doubtful if any further surcharged stamps will appear. At first, it was thought that the issue would be larger and that they would be distributed throughout the country. So far, around a thousand post offices have received the issue and most of these have gone to territories in the East, connected with revolutionary events.

It is our recollection that celebrating the Battle of Monmouth was first thought of by our fellow philatelist, Congressman Ernest R. Ackerman, for it is recalled that at the time the Valley Forge stamp was being agitated, that he was recommending to the Postmaster General the issue of a "Molly Pitcher" variety, so that much of the credit for the appearance of this issue is due to Mr. Ackerman. I am further informed that Congressman Hoffman gave his support to the project.

So far, no varieties of importance have been located, although numerous broken letters and the like are to be found.

Mr. J. F. Muller sends a clipping from the New Brunswick Daily Home News of October 23rd, wherein it is stated that while this postmaster had a supply of these stamps on hand, there had been no inquiries or call for them. This is, no doubt, due to the fact that there was very little advance notice of this issue, as the Department did not decide until the last minute to provide such a variety, hence, the usual advance notice was impossible.

New Envelopes

Mr. H. Clay Reed reports the finding of several new envelopes of the current circular die varieties which have not been noted heretofore.

1½c brown, size 13 (window), Die A, on blue, low back, no gum, watermark 27.

New Playing Card Stamp

We recently had the pleasure of announcing in this column, that the Bureau of Engraving and Printing was preparing a new Playing Card stamp. Through the courtesy of Mr. Allan P. Vestal, we have now seen a copy of this Playing Card stamp, issued in coil form, perforated top and bottom, and imperforate at sides, measuring approximately an inch and five-eighths by seven-eighths inches. The stamp is printed on the rotary press in blue, showing a large figure "10" in the center within a circle, with the words "cents" in a ribbon below. On either side of the figure, leaves form a wreath. Straight across the bottom there is "U. S. Int. Rev.", while across the top there is "Playing Cards." In the corners, we find the diamond, heart, club and spade. The perforation is ten. The copy noted has been pre cancelled in red for the United State Playing Card Company.

Atlanta Provisional

Mr. Joel H. Du Bose informs us tha he has recently located an Atlanta Provisional Postmaster Envelope that ha not been listed before. The marking i circular in design, showing "Atlanta" around the top and "Ga." instead of th usual "Geo." at the bottom, with "Paid" across the top center, and the figure "5" sidewise, immediately below. This cove was postmarked in Atlanta on June 15 1861, a few days after the envelope wa issued.

We wish to thank Messrs. Charles F Becker, J. L. Thompson, and C. H. Nogle, for notes of interest.

Brazil.—Copies of the 400 reis ir orange have been received from Mr. R Roberts.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

The German Airship, "GRAF ZEPPELIN", arrived in Lakehurst, N. J., in the late afternoon of October 15th. On October 16th the Post Office delivered to us over 2000 covers carried on that epoch making trip. Ten days later we did not have a single cover left. We are receiving letters daily from all over the country and telephone calls ordering these covers, but—"We have no bananas today". Thousands of collectors are anxious to secure one of these covers but are unable to obtain them at any price, but the supply is exhausted. The "Graf Zeppelin" has gone back on the

The Covers carried on this Return Trip will therefore be more valuable. We have on hand a number of letters and post cards on this trip, many of which are already sold and paid for in advance. Our Envelopes have an attractive reproduction of the above picture showing the "Graf Zeppelin" sailing over the skyline of New York City.

The post cards have on the reverse side a large photograph of the airship. The covers are Franked Exclusively with Air Mail stamps of various denominations and each envelope has a Block of 4 of the 15c airmail stamp (Scott 625).

CHICAGO AERO PHILATELIC SOCIETY

The Chicago Aero Philatelic Society gave its 1st Annual Banquet, Saturday evening, October 27, 1928, at the Sherman Hotel. The two principal speakers of the evening were Captain Benjamin B. Lipsner, 1st Superintendent of United States Air Mail, and Captain Paul Richter, National Chief of Training Divisions.

Captain Richter told in his speech, of the progress the "Aviation International" is making all over the world, and that they also have organized a section called the "Aero-Philately International," and that they would make the Chicago Aero Philatelic Society Charter Member No. 1. Mr. Richter referred to the flights which will occur in the near future from Europe to South America, and to the West Indies, etc., and told what it will mean for Aero-Philately.

Mr. J. Max Golding, President of the C. A. P. S., called on Tom Hunter, one of the invited guests, who gave a very nice talk on Philately, and referred the members to subscribe to as many different Stamp Magazines as possible, and urged them to join the American Philatelic Society. The last of the speakers on whom Mr. Golding called, was Captain Benjamin Lipsner, Father of the United States Air Mail. Captain Lipsner told how the Air Mail started in this country, how much mail was carried on the different flights, and what amount of work it required to bring the Air Mail up to the level it has acquired. Capt. Lipsner, who is President of the "Aviation International," presented to the President of the C. A. P. S., an Air Road Map of the world, which was made for the Government in 1918, with his compliments to the Chicago Aero Philatelic Society. This very important Map was autographed by Captain Lipsner, and President J. Max Golding turned this map over to the Librarian. Captain Lipsner also promised the members present at the banquet that he would present to each one who gave his name, a letter on a Special Flight with his autograph.

The Society presented to Mrs. Richter, a "Zeppelin" Cover with their compliments, and quite a few of the members gave Souvenir Covers from various flights, also Zeppelin Covers and Lindbergh Covers to Captain Lipsner, who regretted that he did not start collecting when he began the Air Mail. He bought quite a few letters in the auction and he promised to become a real collector then and there.

The meeting lasted till far after midnight, and then the members were discussing the wonderful time and Aero-Philately for another half-hour in the lobby of the hotel.

The dinner arrangements were made by Mr. W. H. Gilley, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, Mr. Wm. F. Maedge, and Mr. Herman Wasmer of the Banquet Committee.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor:—

I have just read in the October 15th issue of Mr. H. M. Brehm's experience with the Hawaiian Commemorative stamps and it brings to mind a little experience of my own about a month ago. I had sent a correspondent in Boulder Creek, Calif., a quantity of the 5c Hawaiians to be used in blocks of four on parcels to be sent to me.

Well, I got my stamps all right. It wasn't long until I received a parcel bearing a nice block of four 5c Hawaiian Commemoratives in superb unused condition! Along side of these were about 25c worth of stamps, all nicely cancelled. This puzzled me at first, but a letter the following day explained the matter clearly. My correspondent had affixed the stamps to the package, taken it to the post office and there had been informed by the postmistress that the stamps were cancelled stamps, were useless, and could not be accepted for postage. So, thereupon, he paid the required amount of postage, the parcel was franked with good, uncancelled stamps and sent to me, and I had four of my Hawaiians back none the worse for wear, but minus their original gum.

Sincerely yours,
Dale Dulmage.

The second anniversary series which will be issued for the benefit of the Committee for the Erection of a Liberty Memorial and sold with a premium of 10 centimes per stamp, will embrace stamps of the same values as the series above, but no more than 40,000 copies will be issued.

We reproduce here also other sketches which have gained prizes, and are due to the following artists:

A. Apinis: 2nd prize for stamps of 30 centimes with a view of Jelgava (Mitau).

A. Drekslers: Two 1st prizes for stamps of 6 centimes with a view of the Venta in Coureland, and for Lat stamps showing trenches near the Riga Bridges during the Bermondt-invasion in 1919; one 2nd prize for stamps of 30 cent. with the National Theatre in Riga.

J. Sternbergs: Sketch for stamps of 50 cent, with a view of Césis (Wenden).

W. Kruhminsch: Symbolic figure of Latvia for stamps of 20 cent.

Both series will be printed at the State Printing Office, the technical skill of which is a very high one, thanks to the experienced management of Prof. Sarrinsch.

Besides these two series of commemoration stamps a special commemorative picture post card will also be issued.

ZEPPELIN COVER

Through the courtesy of The Comet, an interesting and ably-edited weekly newspaper devoted to the welfare of the south shore, Chicago, we are enabled to show a cut of a Zep cover that was received by Mr. John Hocke, the architect of East 79th Street. We may add that the Comet contained a front page account of the celebration of the 1000th meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society, and we suppose that our philatelic friend Robinson, of the Comet staff, may be credited for the Comet's recognition of philately from time to time.

SOCIETY CHAT

By R. J. SCHWARZ.

The two meetings of the National Air Mail Society of Chicago during October were well attended and a great deal of enthusiasm was shown.

The committee which was to investigate the matter of incorporating the Society under the laws of the State of Illinois, as was at first intended, reported that after consulting good legal advice it was found that such action would result in no material benefit to the Society or its members, and, therefore, the idea was considered dropped.

R. J. Schwarz gave a talk on C. A. M. route No. 2, Chicago-St. Louis; and among other interesting things about this famous route, often called "Lindbergh's Route" because he was chief pilot, it was brought out that "Lindy" carried all the mail on the southbound trip from Chicago via Peoria and Springfield to St. Louis, whereas on the return trip, northbound, pilot Philip R. Love carried all the mail from St. Louis while Lindbergh carried what mail was picked up at Springfield and Peoria.

At the second meeting of the month, President E. O. Howle told of how he happened to have been in Baltimore, Md., on October 15, when the giant German airship, Graf Zeppelin, floated over at a low altitude on its way to Lakehurst; and what a thrill it was for him because he knew there was at least one cover on board addressed to himself. He then exhibited a cover autographed by Dr. Eckener. Mr. Howle incidentally also told of how he paid a call at the Bureau of Engraving & Printing in Washington to see his friend, Mr. J. M. Smith, head of the department in which the postage stamps are printed, and being ignorant of any portending new issue how he was very much surprised during his visit when Mr. Smith took him to a complete unperforated roll of the new Molly Pitcher commemorative stamps just as they had come off the press.

WHAT ABOUT THIS PHILATELIC PROMOTIONAL IDEAL?

By HARRY M. KONWISER.

Just how much interest should. "the average collector" pay to the hobby apart from his personal pleasure in placing stamps in his albums or in his vaults, dependent upon his style of collecting?

Does the average collector take cognizance of the fact that he is part and parcel of an organized hobby; that the stamp dealer is on the watch to purvey to his particular requirements; to lead him, if it can, into certain forms of stamp collecting, to develop financial profit to themselves? And assuming this is known, as it is of course, what of it?

Should the collector be interested in creating and fostering a community of interest—admittedly realizing that dealers will gain the financial rewards? What of that?

A few (comparatively speaking) collectors, with the aid of the comparatively few intelligent dealers, years ago developed the idea that a "national society" would accomplish good results; that a community of this sort would increase the standing of stampsters and their dealer associates, and there is no denying that the national societies (as the A. P. S.) and the local groups, the Collectors Club, the Chicago Club, and others, have helped not only what we call "the hobby of stamp collecting," but the tradesmen.

The question is this: Are not all the collectors expected to "do something" for the hobby which they enjoy, or is it quite right and proper they sit quietly by, not registering any thought or word for the hobby? Is it sufficient to know that the present clubs are sufficiently alive and large enough to perpetuate the cult of stamp collecting, or are the dealers of tomorrow to be depending, always as in the past, on the hope that the new crop of collectors will ensue from the same place as the last—without rhyme or reason?

not the present point—just who is go- g to make Philately a plaything for re people; that seems to be the point. Naturally, comes the query: If I am a mp collector and know a few more, n I also expected to proselyte? Why? As a "friend of the cause," of course, e others I lend myself to Philatelic opaganda, and I ask myself, at times, hy" this is agreeable. Is it because a desire to show friendliness to mak- e of catalogs and albums, who Do t Want To See Philately made a udo-science, to recognize their stupid- in compilations?. Is it, therefore, be- se I have a few stamps and aim to p keep up the market value? I won- r—as a collector, if you please.*

And in doing my "wondering" do I s that other collectors "feel the same vy?"

The collector of pictures or books sel- dn hits the spotlight as do groups of platelists. Why is it? Do they col- t, enjoy the collecting and let it go at t—not caring one iota about the fu- e of their hobby, nor about crude gs done by sellers and what not? I nder.

DID YOURS COME BACK?

N. Irving Glover, Acting Postmaster eneral, today was notified by the Post- ster at Lakehurst, New Jersey, where l Graf Zeppelin is now anchored, that re are a large number of short paid ers at his office intended for dispatch the Zeppelin on its return trip to many.

The postage on these letters," said . Glover, "is $1.05 each. In no cir- stance will short paid letters be sent the Zeppelin, but will be returned to senders. In addition to this, only l in care of the postmasters at New rk City or Lakehurst will be taken on rd the German dirigible when it ts on its trip to Germany."

Mr. Glover said that there are at pres- some 3,000 pieces of mail at the kehurst post office intended for the f Zeppelin.

Sevard's Twinkles

Now that the Business Reply Cards and Envelopes have come down a cent to 2c and 3c respectively, we can begin anew our search for datings and varieties. The 2c Card is coming along copiously, but we don't expect much pep out of the envelope. The post card is one go-getter when it comes to business. We used to get 2% returns on the old postal card, and sometimes less. But then we were trying to sell in Connecticut, and you know what that is. Even when you lie to those birds, they don't believe you.

NOW WHO THINKS THIS IS A PATRIOTIC —"GIRL GIVING WOUNDED ZOUAVES A DRINK, BATTLE SCENE IN THE DISTANCE." HAVE YOU EVER BEEN IN TEXAS GUINAN'S JOINT AND SEEN THE ZOUAVES THERE? AND AIREDALES, TOO.

Here's another one—Girl with hosiery displayed, squad of soldiers gazing, officer remonstrating—but in the next item, —aha!—officer also looking. The soldiers only gaze, but the officer looks.

Then there's one that we remember very well. Grant portrait with "We propose to light it out," etc. That refers to the time Fanny Ward called up General Grant to light it out on a foursome going thru the revolving doors. The printer was supposed to put an F in that sentence for Percy Doane, but it looks like L.

WHICH REMINDS ONE THAT ACCORDING TO THE INCOME TAX COLLECTOR, GENERAL GRANT IS THE ONLY PERMANENT RESIDENT OF NEW YORK CITY.

The fourth class permits which aren't at all plentiful when compared to meters and Red Cross seals and 2c perf. 10's and such, are mostly all of the box type, an oblong, or rectangle, containing the information of so much paid, the name of the city and the permit number. In 1925, the box added the words "U. S. POSTAGE" so that you wouldn't think they were spool labels, and only recently the box got another addition in the code about Sec. 435½ P. L. & R. with a droppage of the value. The distinction here made is in the box type as different from the postmark type. If you go back many years, you recall the old Paid in Money permits, and then the unboxed permits. Then we come to the boxes which continue at this time. These permits are mostly third-class, but as such, are very uninteresting. They are interesting, however, when they come on fourth-class matter. In order to call them by a classy name, we refer to them as FRANK TYPES, as distinct from meters, Type C permits, penalties, congressionals. Anyway, get the idea that these permits you find are collectible, and that if you haven't one of these box types, you'll get one—even on that free tube of Kolynos. That's right—the children should brush their teeth.

Every now and then, someone blats forth with a breviary for stamp dealers telling them what the words fine, splendid, rotten and superb mean. No matter how loud thunder is, we can't do a darn thing with it except scare the kids. Of course,, one realizes that the intentions are good but as father adviser says, "Hell is paved with good intentions." To go squawking around on a flight of fancy is believing in witches—zoopey on a broom. Unless there are some studies on stamp condition, we can't, for the life of us, see where all this yipping leads one, except, like Fido, to the back door—'raus! Everyone knows that some stamps run to a pleasing degree of acceptability as to condition, whereas, some other stamp, in any condition, is a desirable addition to a collection. Each stamp has its idiosyncracies; to wit, the White Plains stamp is found 31 times out of a hundred in fine condition, or we expect to find normalcy for that stamp within the confines of superb, fine or excellent condition. This is an actual average, and means average for that stamp. Not so with the 2c 1923 H coil. That stamp runs into a fine condition only three out of a hundred. The actual average for that stamp is only a fair condition.

This all leads to the point that stamp dealers aren't getting enough for their stamps—hurray!—and that they should—hurray!—be first to adopt a standard—hurray!—whereby the commodity more nearly approaches true valuation in corelation to prices received for commodities sold solely on a supply and demand basis—which has nothing whatever to do with the equalization fee or McNary-Haugen bill.

THE CHEAPEST STAMP THAT WE HAVE EVER COMPUTED A VALUE FOR IS THE PRESENT 2C ROTARY COMPOUND PERF. AND THAT PRICE IS 24C A THOUSAND IN BULK, OR $ .00024 EACH. A NORMAL VALUE IN TRUTH FOR THE AVERAGE CONDITION WE HAVE FOUND. BUT DO WE WANT AVERAGE STAMPS FOR THAT ISSUE?

For a fine stamp, however, by degree of correlative computation, we expect to pay more than ten times the average value. This is not guesswork but absolute computation as is used by insurance companies in computing the amount of premium you are to pay on your life insurance, or theft insurance on your tin can, or liability insurance in your factory. The computation shows that a fine stamp should be worth $ .00300.

Take the 2c 1923 H coil. The average value for us computes to $ .00073 and a fine specimen shows a valuation of $ .01078. A trifle over a cent.

Go back to the 3c 1879 soft paper. The average value of that stamp computes to $ .00211, and for a fine copy, $ .01973.

Don't think that we are juggling these figures so that we can become a stamp dealer with approvals at $ .00024 a stamp. But we can build up some computations that might surprise you. Take the light rose 2c perf. 10 which for an average poor copy computes to $ .09507 or take the colored cancel on the 2c brown good condition at $ .06909 or the White Plains stamp in excellent condition at $ .02249, the R. M. S. cancel at $ .01611, the 2c 1916 white envelope at $ .00044 for cut squares and $ .00138 for entires. The Jefferson postal card at $ .00417 and the Class A Tax Paid Cigarette 20's at—that's officially out for selling purposes,—but we rather enjoy it all.

WE DEVOTED OUR ATTENTIONS PURPOSELY TO CHEAP STAMPS SO THAT NO ONE COULD SAY WE WERE TRYING TO BOOST PRICES IN THE CATALOGUE, OR THAT WE WERE REPORTING VALUES FOR INDIVIDUAL GAIN.

But we do get nausea over the frequent vitriolic pennings, which comes forth like the wail of a loon over the silent, dismal marshlands in the lurid wake of the moon. It's a cry that wells with pathos and sorrow, with distress and dearth. It all seems like a cry in the wilderness, an impossible plaint, a vacuous hope. Afar, to attenuated ears, perhaps, this moribund cry moves an inward soul to noble credulities, but to us,—the dumbbell sees a wooden duck and thinks it's the real thing.

Old Stamp Finds Net Large Sums

FORTUNE AWAITS DISCOVERER OF PHILADELPHIA POSTMASTER PROVISIONAL ISSUE

(Clipping from Philadelphia Bulletin.)

A fortune awaits the finder of a Philadelphia postmaster's provisional stamp, for although no one is known to possess one, it is pretty well authenticated that before the issuance of Government stamps in 1847, some were issued.

It is possible that stored away in the garret of some Philadelphia home is a musty old letter, bearing such a stamp. Its discovery would be an event in the world of stamp collectors, and although the price it would bring if put up at auction is problematical, it is certain it would be high enough to cause the uninitiated to gasp with wonder.

Recently Philip H. Ward, Jr., this city, purchased a ten-cent stamp of the Baltimore postmaster issue of 1845, for a price close to $10,000, and immediately sold it to a local collector at a profit. The stamp was hidden away for more than a half century among the effects of a venerable English bishop, and before its discovery only five of the Baltimore postmaster stamps were known to exist.

Several postoffices in the United States during 1845 and 1846 issued provisional stamps. In most cases these had a limited use, and with the exception of the New York office, comparatively few have survived. Although there is no definite record, there is an abundance of testimony that a provisional stamp was issued both here and in Washington.

It has been estimated that there are more than 3,000,000 stamp collectors in the United States, and the value of collections runs into millions. Last year $11,000,000 worth of stamps were displayed at an exhibition staged by philatelists in New York. In Philadelphia there are six collections appraised in excess of $100,000.

They include those of William West, Henry Clay Gibson, Wharton Sinkler and Edward R. Wood, Jr. Recently the collection of the late J. Barton Townsend, catalogued at $125,000, was sold and broken up. One American, Arthur Hind, Utica, N. Y., has a collection worth more than $2,000,000.

Philadelphia has a local stamp club with a membership of 175, which maintains a clubroom at 1632 Arch St., and which meets weekly to discuss events in its particular field. Stamp collecting was described as the "most all-consuming of hobbies" by Mr. Ward.

With this picture of the local field, it is easier to visualize the excitement that would be caused by the discovery of a Philadelphia postmaster stamp. Yet grandfather's old documents do not have to produce a provisional stamp to reward the searcher. So many and varied are the rare stamps that practically any collection of mail fifty or more years old is a potential gold mine.

For instance, during the '50's, letter carriers in this city received a cent for delivering a letter. For this purpose householders purchased carrier stamps, and would give one to the postman in lieu of a penny. Today carrier stamps are worth $500.

Letters carried by the Pony Express during the early settling of the West are worth $300 or more. Stamps cancelled by Mississippi River packets have a value ranging from $10 to $200. Any stamp depicting a bear and issued by the postmaster at St. Louis is rare and worth up to $3,000.

Values have grown up about correspondence which passed during the Civil War period. Letters from prison camps with the mark of the censor on the envelope; decorative envelopes of the period, Confederate stamps; all are at a premium today. In fact, not a generation of American life since 1847 has passed without producing an unusual stamp, made valuable by some vagary.

Only recently, with the issuance of the first twenty-four-cent air mail stamps, a sheet was put in circulation with an inverted center. That is, the airplane was printed upside down. A mistake being made by the printer. This error added fuel to the fire, and today these stamps sell for more than $1,000. As an investment they are said to be gilt-edged.

Stamps were first issued by Great Britain in 1840, other nations following within a short time. Most collectors are specialists, confining themselves to the issues of one country or a geographical division.

The United States alone is a field sufficient for the ambitious. The British, French or Portuguese colonies, or sections of Europe or South America, all offer years of hard work.

A collector, after spending a fortune on American stamps, was casting around for a new field. "How about the British Colonies?" suggested a dealer. "They will cost you about $20,000."

But while it is a hobby for millionaires, it is also a hobby which may lead to

A REVIEW OF 1929 EDITION STANLEY GIBBONS CATALOGUE

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

Part I. British North America

I speak very feelingly of this catalogue because for 32 years it was my child and I had sole charge of its development and growth. I am more than proud to know that the new edition with its great improvements and courageous pricing, is in the hands of the son of my dead brother, my nephew Mr. Stanley Phillips.

In this world of ours today, the lead in most things is with the new generation. Those of us, like myself, who go back to the older days of philately, find it hard to advance our ideas of quality and prices to the ideas of the new generation.

The Great War of 1914-18 has caused such huge changes in this world of ours, that many of us have failed to grasp its effects upon our small world—that of stamp collecting and its concomitants. It is here that the new generation has us oldsters "skinned to a frazzle."

First of all of importance when we come to consider the changes brought about by the War, is, in my opinion, the altered value of money in regard to its purchasing power.

The dollar of 1928 has only about half the purchasing power of the dollar of 1914, and I think this vital fact has been overlooked by most stamp catalogue publishers.

Even if there had been no increase in demand, and in values, between 1914 and 1928, yet prices all round should have been doubled, and yet in thousands of cases they have been little altered.

When, however, on the top of this, we have to consider a vast increase, throughout the world, in the number of collectors, with its corresponding demand for stamps, there is even more and greater reasons for prices being advanced. Then we have another great feature that has only developed of late years, and that is of "condition."

Year by year the rich collectors are showing us that they will pay two, three or even ten times the old catalogue prices, for superb and unusual condition. For generations we have seen this applied to other hobbies, but neglected in philately.

Take engravings for instance. A "Rembrandt" in first state and with full margins, is worth, maybe, twenty times as much as a later impression and one with short margins. Same applies to folio Shakespeare's, half an inch more margin means thousands of dollars on the price, etc., etc.

This appreciation of condition and of relative rarity is very much in evidence in the new Gibbons catalogue. For the first time we have what they term "Differential Pricing," which they define as follows:—

"In effect, we have quoted low and high prices, which cover the ordinary saleable range of stamps, from poor, but not hopelessly defective specimens, to fine copies in first class condition."

Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., claim that "the new method of pricing effectually prevents the quoting of fictitious catalogue values to the detriment of inexperienced collectors, so far as the issues we have dealt are concerned, and, of course, in relation to their condition only."

This "Differential Pricing" is a move in the right direction.

In the old catalogue a single quoted price for a used stamp was understood to mean a stamp in good general condition, such as would be accepted by most collectors. To the great bulk of collectors such prices were misleading, to say the least of it. Take such a stamp as a New South Wales 3d Sydney quoted $20.00 (Scott). I have had lots of passable copies I could have sold at $5.00, but recently I paid $90.00 at auction for an extra superb used copy. This range of values applies more or less all through the older imperf. issues.

Now let us analyse some of Gibbons new quotations as applied to the stamps of British North America.

Here in America, with our good neighbour Canada, so close to hand, we can form even a better idea of real values than our confreres in Great Britain, as here we have more, and much larger collections, and larger stocks, than exist on the other side.

In the following notes, for the sake of clearness of comparison for my readers, I quote all Gibbons prices in dollars at five dollars to the pound. The small difference in the exchange does not effect my remarks.

British Columbia

	Scott.	Gibbons
5c rose, Imperf. unused,	$600.00	$750.00
5c rose, Imperf. used,	400.00	500.00
Unused is exceedingly rare, only one unused pair is known and two or three singles. A fine unused is worth $1,000.00. Fine used are also very rare.
10c blue, Imperf. unused,	100.00	125.00
10c blue, Imperf. used,	70.00	100.00
Scott's prices for fine copies are high enough. Gibbons are too high. Fine unused and used are fairly easy to obtain.
Perf. 12½
5c red, unused,	20.00	35.00
Scott much too low. Gibbons about right. Used copies are rarer than unused.
10c lake, unused,	25.00	40.00
Gibbons price is real value.
25c yellow,	15.00	25.00
This is not rare. Scott is nearer correct value.
50c mauve,	20.00	30.00
Gibbons price is about right.
$1 green,	30.00	60.00
Gibbons is $60.00 unused, $75.00 used, both prices are above our market value, although the stamp is scarce.
10c lake,	35.00	50.00
Scott is much too low. This

J. O. MOORE, INC., Hammondsport, N. Y.

Scott. Gibbons

This variety is rare, especially superb, but Gibbons price for finest is sky-high.
10d blue, thin paper, used, 50.00 20.00 to 60.00
10d blue, thick paper, used, 75.00 45.00 to 110.00

Gibbons thin paper about correct. Thick paper superb are not common, but $110.00 is too high.
7½d rose, used, 15.00 7.50 to 21.00

Gibbons correct, fine copies are getting scarce.
½d ribbed paper, horizontal, 50.00 75.00
½d ribbed paper, vertical, 100.00

This stamp is almost impossible to get fine, the paper tears so easily, superb copies are far, far rarer than superb 7½d green, and worth even more than Gibbons prices.

Perf. 12, 6d purple, raised in price both unused ($225.00) and used ($130.00), both prices well justified by rarity.
1858, 5c red, used, 1.00

Much too high. The stamp is very common and can be supplied in quantities at 30c to 40c fine. The 10c in its many shades are much better and more correctly priced by Gibbons than Scott, new prices used are, black-brown $32.50, brown-purple $4.00, brown $5.50, other shades $3.00

The brown is too high at $5.50, it is not rare and came in several printings.

The 17c is coming to its true value. Blue $7.50, slate-blue $9.00. This proportion is not right. I have one hundred blue and deep blue to 6 or 8 copies of the slate-blue.

In the large cents issues of 1868 Scott's are way out on one stamp. No. 21a, ½c black, watermarked, they price $18.00 used. I hereby offer $100.00 for a good used copy showing watermark distinctly.

Gibbons has made considerable advances in prices in this issue, which are well deserved.

The 1c laid is priced $75.00, against Scott's $50.00. It is rare and a good copy is worth Gibbons price.

Scott's have raised the 6c watermarked to $75.00. Gibbons is $40.00, and that is quite enough.

The 1c orange-yellow priced by Scott $3.50, and Gibbons $4.00 is over valued by both. They are slow to sell at $2.00 fine.

In the popular "small cents" 1870-1880, there are many increases. The 1c orange unused, Gibbons has $12.50, Scott $6.00, latter is much nearer market value.

The large 20c vermilion and 50c blue, Imperf. are priced $12.50 each, against Scott's $8.50. Gibbons is right. These values are scarce and wanted in many collections.

The "registered" 8c blue is raised to $15.00 each unused or used. Used is really much the scarcer, but both prices are much too high. Scott's price $7.50 unused is about market value.

MORE AUCTION RECORDS

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Attention was recently called to the record auction prices brought early in October for choice United States items of both nineteenth and twentieth century vintage. A second similar sale of importance was held on October 17th, by George B. Sloane, and additional records were made, proving pretty conclusively that it is most difficult to get really fine things in United States stamps today, and showing that when they are offered, the catalogue quotation is not of necessity a criterion as to values. When an item of real importance is described as superb, it is difficult to estimate in advance as to what price it is likely to bring, and as a result, auction dealers generally refuse to accept "buy" bids.

Copies of the 1894 $5 sold at $43 and $44 respectively, while the same stamp watermarked brought $19.50. The rose-carmine 2c block of 1898 sold at $31. The 1c inverted center Pan-American, described as a perfection mint copy brought a record price of $181. Inverts are becoming more popular day by day, and there are not sufficient numbers to go round.

In the 1902 issue blocks of the $1 sold at $28.50, the $2 at $45.74, and the $5 at $162.50. A pair of the 1c coil of the same issue #318 brought $62. The 2c coil in pair changed hands at $50.50, whereas blocks of the St. Louis issue sold at almost full catalogue.

A pair of the rare 10c coil of 1908 brought full catalogue—$80, whereas a 4c on blue paper of 1909 sold at $360, which is 20% higher than the new catalogue quotation, and this in spite of the fact that the copy was described as, "a fraction off-center at top." The 5c of the same issue went at $101, the 6c at $12, the 10c at $15.75, the 13c at $66, and the 15c at $9. These are still selling at most reasonable prices, when the quantities available are considered.

A pair of the 2c coil of 1910 #388, always a rare item, sold at $24.50. The Panama-Pacific issue sold around catalogue, a block of the 10c, perf. 10, bringing $25.

In the 1912 issue, blocks of the 50c #421 sold at $38.25, where the dollar block of the same issue sold at $29. The 1914 50c, perf. 10 watermark, a stamp which is somewhat scarcer than the catalogue indicates, sold at $28.50 per block, with the $1 going at the same figure. The rare imperforate rotary coil #459 in pair brought $43.50.

In the unwatermarked series, perf. 10 of 1916, a single 50c #477 sold at $47, while a mint block reached $200. A single of the $1 sold at $12.25, and a block at $51.

In the 1917 issue, a plate block of six of the 1c imperforate from one of the Rose Experimental plates, found a new owner at $55, while a block of the dollar, black-brown Scott's #518a brought $34. A plate number block of eight of the $2 orange and black, which could have been purchased from the Philatelic Agency for $16 only a few months ba... reached $33.50, whereas a single copy ... the 3c Victory in the red-violet sha... sold at $6.35, and a block of four ... $35.50. I can remember that not ... many months back, these were be... sold, when the first sheets were be... broken up, at $2 per block.

A 1922 rotary issue perforated 11, ... #595 in block, sold at $15.75—anoth... variety which was available a f... months back at 8 cents per block at t... Agency.

A set of the Shanghai varieties fr... 2c to $2 sold at $15.50.

OFFICIAL CACHETS ON "ILE DE FRANCE" COVERS

In our issue of Oct. 22, we made reference to what appeared to be a spurious cachet on certain "Ile de France" air mail covers. Mr. Angers of the Air Mail Society declares these covers to be unofficial, but authentic, and we are very pleased to publish this additional information and correct the erroneous statement previously made:—

By request of members of the American Air Mail Society, I have investigated thoroughly the alleged forgery of the cachet which was applied to a certain number of the Ile de France, first westbound trip covers. My task was very simple as Mr. Frederick Markee applied his own cachet, similiar in some respects to the original, to the covers which were his own property. He gave a certain number of these covers to his friends with the explicit explanation that the cachet was not official. There was never any intention or attempt on his part to represent the cachet as an original. A number of these covers bear a personal note over Mr. Markee's signature that the cachet was privately applied. There is no question about the authenticity of the covers as being bona-fide, first Western flight 'Ile de France' covers and collectors having them need have no hesitancy whatsoever in accepting them as first Ship to Shore covers from the 'Ile de France'."

REVIEW OF GIBBONS 1929 CATALOGUE PRICES OF MODERN COLONIALS

By "CALABAR".

Another Gibbons! And a mighty welcome little volume, too. Taken as a whole the K.G. issues show less changes than in the 1928 book. "Comparatively few new stamps have been issued," runs the Introduction, in part, "and there has therefore been less speculative activity in the Georgian section, but a continued upward tendency will be noted. More attention is being paid to the Edwardian issues, and here, also, changes have had to be made. Speaking generally, however, the most important alterations will be found in the stamps of the Victorian period.

An upward movement will also be noted in some of the 'neglected' groups such as Australian States, the Pacific Islands, Orange River Colony, Transvaal, and others. As a matter of fact no country can to-day be truly described as neglected, as there are keen collectors of all, and as the competition for stamps of the most popular groups becomes intensified, there is a tendency for a certain proportion of the demand for stamps to turn into other channels.

Of the popular modern favourites, Irish Free State, Rhodesia, Malta, and South-West Africa continue in good demand, the last-named showing a particularly sharp rise in prices.

Altogether, the market in the stamps of the British Empire is a most active one, and there is no doubt that prices generally will rise still further from year to year."

One paragraph will be of special interest to U. S. collectors, viz.: "After careful consideration we have decided that we will not deface our illustrations in order to conform to U. S. regulations, and this Cat., therefore, cannot be imported into the U. S. A.

We feel that it would be unfair to the many collectors throughout the British Empire, to whose support the existence and growth of this Cat. are due, if we defaced our fine illustrations to accord with a regulation, which we sincerely trust will eventually give place to some simple system of control, such as obtains in our own country."

Now for the prices. Antigua shows several rises, notably in the s. values of the first Edward set and the 5/- 1913 (the latter now at 25/-). The 1921-27 issues are now priced used as well as mint, the used almost throughout being higher. The most interesting changes in

Ascension are in the form of prices for used copies. The 1/-, 2/-, and 3/- of the first set, for example, are listed at 10/-, 22/6, and 35/- used (mint copies staying at the old 1928 figures). The second issue is also priced used, and higher. In this connexion the following paragraph, from the Introduction, will be of interest:—

"The relative values of used and unused stamps are gradually changing. The activities of dealers and speculators have provided a market reserve of the majority of unused stamps of the middle and later issues, but the increase in the postal use of stamps of all but the largest Dominions and Colonies has not been proportionate to the increase in philatelic demand. As a consequence, modern stamps in used condition are in very short supply, whilst used specimens of many of the earlier issues are disappearing from the market, the result being at, as time goes on, an ever-increasing mber of used stamps will be priced high- than the same stamps in unused condi- on. We do not imply that this tenency is likely to proceed to extreme ngths, as there will naturally be a balcing demand for the cheaper variety, hich will tend to keep prices for unsed and used more or less on an quality."

Scattered rises in Barbados, with several of the high values listed at better gures in the used column. The 2/- and "Victory" go to 10/- and 15/- mint (2/6 and 17/6 used). Some of the arbudas are now priced used. Bermuda has minor rises; Solomons also. he scarcity of used copies of the latter emphasized. In Caymans the rare /- of 1921 now jumps to 75/-. The ree Cyprus rarities (45pi script and /- and £1 MCA) stand at their 1928 gures.

The outstanding rises in Fiji are the 1903, now at £5, and the do. 1906-12, ow at 65/-. The 4/- script of Gib. cks on 5/-, whilst the 8/- Universal ars to £9. The 15/- script of Gold oast goes to 40/-, the £1 to 40/- also, id the £2 to 80/-. Just why these three ities should be given these enhanced gures, I can't say. Were they withawn following the appearance of the ictorials? I.F.S. shows a large numr of changes, as usual, amongst which note the 2d orange, Die I, Harrison int, July, 1922 (No. 31), at 15/-, and e 10d Thom, July-Nov., 1922, with dull ack ovpt. (No. 43a), at 60/-.

The Jamaica 3/- MCA (1920-21) puts 1 5/-, whilst the 5/- script, in the arce blue and yellow-brown shade, mps to 50/-. As was expected, the 5d eewards fares poorly, being priced at shilling both ways, whilst the 2½d ange is at 10/- mint and 12/6 used.

In Malta the rare 10/- MCA 1919 goes £40, the 10/- script "Self-Govt." to /-, and a number of the "POSTAGE" t come in for small rises.

The 5r Mauritius on pale yellow, Die MCA (No. 203b), is now priced, viz., /-, whilst the rare 10r of the same ries, with olive back, reaches £20.

Quite a few Naurus are now priced in ed condition. Newfoundland shows a irly general upward trend, the 3c Alck attaining £100 mint and £90 used. ew Hebrides, which showed only one ange in last year's edition, has quite a w throughout. The 1911-12 set steps) and the 2d on 40c with "R F" wmk. ain rises, this time to 85/-. The curnt set is now priced at below face, nich is as it should be. Scattered rises No. Nigeria, with the £25 of 1904 itherto unpriced) at £200. Nyasaland rotectorate has a pretty general sprinkg of rises also.

I see the current Papua set is still up t was raised in the "S.M." a couple of nths ago when rumours of a new inting on unwatermarked paper, were ing circulated. This new printing has iled to materialize, however, nor is ere any possibility of its appearing thin the near future.)

The first Geo. issue of St. Helena ows an all-round rise in the used dumn, whilst the 15/- script is listed at £6. In St. Kitts the 5/-, 10/- and £1 of 1920 advance to 12/6, 22/6, and £4, though there is absolutely no reason for this figure for the 5/-, as it is still current. That scarce little stamp, the 1d red script of St. Lucia, reaches 5/-.

The 2/- Turks & Caicos 1925 (script) lists at 10/-, and that rarity, the 2/- 1913-18 on greenish white, soars to £6.

Rhodesia and So. W. Africa, as mentioned before, show particularly sharp rises, but these are too numerous for any detailed description. The lists of both Palestine and Trans-Jordan have been re-written by the well-known expert, Major Jno. J. Darlow, and in their new form will be found much more complete than formerly. The Hong-Kong list has been re-written also, and stamps on ordinary and on chalky paper are now listed separately for the first time. We wish this system might be extended to other Colonies as well: Antigua, Dominica, Montserrat, etc., for example. Hejaz, properly enough, has been moved to Part II.

Tribute

—The Purchase and Use of Commemoratives, a Patriotic Duty.

By R. G. FRAME.

Unless a person has a large city post office available, it is difficult to obtain Commemorative stamps for postal use. After repeated requests at the local office for special issues, the postmaster stated that it was too much bother to order them, and that the majority of his patrons wanted stamps and did not care what they were as long as they were good for postage.

If the above experience is common throughout the country, and it would seem to be the case, in view of the limited use of Commemoratives, that the vital purpose of their issue is lost. The Post Office Department does not expend the extra money of their cost to gratify collectors and dealers. On the other hand, these stamps are issued for the purpose that their classification designates: in commemoration of an event dear to lovers of American history, and to bring a thought of its significance to the public on the Anniversary.

We have not become so thoughtless that we cannot pay tribute in this simple way to those American Patriots whose deeds are the foundation of American Liberty. Here is an opportunity for Patriotic and Historical Societies to bring before the present generation incidents in the wonderful history of our country.

Newspapers are glad to give a news story to new issues, together with illustrated articles on the event which is commemorated. Advertising of this kind is a public duty on the part of those interested. Let everyone purchase and use Commemoratives, and in so doing bring to the mind of the nation a small portion of what we owe in gratitude.

IRISH FREE STATE

In its 1929 Edition, Scott's catalogue classifies the various surcharged issues of the Irish Free State for the first time. Every collector who has followed Scott's previous listing will wish to bring his Irish stamps up to date and I am therefore offering herewith all numbers that I can supply at present either used or unused. Where a stamp is not offered, it is either out of stock or in stock in quantities too small to advertise. I can also supply many of the major and minor errors, essays, etc., and solicit inquiries from those interested.

EDITORIAL

THE following letter has been received from Joseph L. Roberts, postmaster at Sharon, Pennsylvania: "Some time ago, Paul P. Wentz, a philatelist of this city made a special cancellation device for use in cancelling registered mail, and for the benefit of collectors who are interested in cancellations, a notice to this effect appeared in the different stamp journals. A large number of collectors have taken advantage of this opportunity to secure a variety of markings. In order to ascertain from the post office authorities if it was proper and legal to use such special devices, the question was submitted for a ruling, and I have to advise that under date of November 3rd, the following reply was received: 'You are informed that the Department does not consider it advisable to permit the use of cancellers of special design for use in cancelling the stamps on registered mail; and it is desired that all postmasters use only such cancelling instruments in cancelling stamps on registered mail, as have been provided by the Department for cancelling purposes. In this connection, your attention is called to article 12, page 93, of the July, 1928, Postal Guide.' The section in the July, 1928, Guide referred to reads as follows: 'Advertising on Postmarking Stamps Forbidden:— Postmarking dies shall not be used for advertising purposes, except by special permission from the Department, and permission will not be granted for such advertising of expositions, fairs or celebrations, unless they are of such national interest as to have been recognized or appropriated for, by Congress'." In our issue of November 5th, it was said that word had been received that the post office authorities frowned on these evidences of enterprise on the part of different offices, and now it looks as though these interesting markings have been given their quietus. However, traces of this postal irregularity will remain in collections as illustrating a temporary condition in our history.

THE Associated Press has issued a despatch with the Orleans, France, dateline of November 5th, to the effect that on the 500th anniversary of the deliverance of Orleans in 1929, all stamps of France of the denomination of 50c will bear the effigy of Jeanne d'Arc. Surely, there will be no objection to the philatelic canonization of this glorious woman who saved Orleans in 1429, when it was besieged by the British.

MR. ARILD G. ANSON, Minneapolis, Minnesota, begs for a moment's attention in order to show that he is entitled to applause for "probably having been the first to ask the post office department to issue a special stamped envelope, which is now promised for the first of the year." With no wish to dim the lime-light that may be descending on Mr. Anson, it is to be said that there were others who took their pens in hand to avow their belief that an envelope of the kind would be acceptable to the populace now that the people have become air conscious.

HERE is a letter that came to W. A. Dudley, of the Chicago Fair, 1933, publicity staff: "After speaking to you Sunday, I thought out a very brilliant scheme to advertise your World's Fair without a cent of cost. The Chicago post office gets out a vast quantity of precanceled stamps, such as the above, each year. They are of all denominations, and carry mail to all corners of the earth. Why do not some of you see the postmaster and have the inscription changed from 'Chicago, Ill.,' to 'Chicago World Fair, 1933.' The cost to the post office would be trifling, but the advertising value would be immense." We have no doubt that many suggestions for utilizing the post office department in various ways to obtain publicity for the Chicago Fair will be made, but they will all be in the shadow of the great consummation that will be devoutly hoped for by many, special stamps for the occasion.

IT will not be necessary to refer to the letters that we have received on the subject of the Molly Pitcher stamps, since we have disposed of the subject in the preceding issue. The issue is treated in a tone that ranges from raillery to outspoken derogation. However, we have received a letter from Washington that we do not pretend represents the official mind, but is a view of an officer at the capital. The gist of it is that "circumstances alter cases," and consequently, when a last-minute decision is made whereby a bureau that works to capacity under ordinary circumstances is compelled to extend itself, it becomes necessary to work with the tools closest to hand. Evidently, time is the essence of all contracts of the kind, and in the present instance, it seems to have been lacking.

WHILE speaking of Washington, a few words about the Stamp Agency there are permissible, since we have occasional complaints that all the stamps that are sent out from there are not centered. Not unnaturally, the collector wonders why it is that all specimens that come from there are not in the condition desired by him. First of all, the stamps received by the Philatelic Agency come from the Bureau, and the clerks there can do no more than select the best specimens that are in stock in filling orders. Necessarily, as the supply of a certain issue becomes exhausted, the scale of condition becomes a descending one until finally, the worst stamps are reached; and on the theory that these are better than none, they are mailed to collectors. The clerks want to satisfy their patrons and they spend much time in going over the stock for good specimens, and in fact, the care that is exercised slows down the filling of orders. The workers at the Agency are interested in establishing their bureau in the regard of collectors, and they are reluctant to send out copies that do not comply with collecting standards, but they do not make the stamps and they must take what is offered to them. The Bureau of Printing and Engraving always runs at high speed, we are told, and since speed is a requisite, perforating must suffer at times, even though we are told that the uneven shrinkage of the damp paper is responsible for some of the off centering. In this connection, we are informed that some attention is being given to the question of even perforations by the authorities who may be realizing that a well-centered sheet of stamps is a badge of careful and competent workmanship. Perhaps the wishes of collectors in this regard have something to do with the disposition mentioned, because philatelists would rejoice and be exceedingly grateful if a marked improvement would be made.

AS for delays in the filling of orders that readers occasionally mention, the force at the Philatelic Agency is not elastic, and when there is an inundation of orders, each person has much work to do; and conversely, when business is slack, the workers are not under pressure. We suppose that in time an appropriation will be made to care for emergencies that must be met when new issues appear, but until it does come, the probabilities are that customers of the department will have to exercise patience. The regular patrons know of conditions, but it may be that others do not, and cannot understand why there should be any considerable delay in filling orders.

SOME of our readers may not have seen the Associated Press story that two million letters have left Le Havre, France, addressed to women in this country, and are due for delivery here about Armistice Day. The letters all bear stamps and were addressed by war widows; and the French government encouraged the mailing, although the sealed letters advertise perfumery.

U. S. BARGAIN
A collection consisting chiefly of U. S. (older issues)—many on covers—and particularly strong in the 1847 issue is offered at a low price for prompt sale. Over 80% of the value is in early U. S., which includes many very fine items and unusual pieces. The estimated retail value will exceed $12,000., and I believe there is no chance of duplicating the collection anywhere for $10,000. First check for $6,600. received takes it. Yes, this is where the bargains come from.

Air Mail News

BY FREDERICK D. MARKEE,
40 Wilshire Park, Needham, Mass.

(Our subscribers are urged to send air mail news direct to Mr. Markee and especially advance news concerning first flights, with names of cities served. The scope of this department will not allow the treatment of flights from other than the purely philatelic standpoint.)

Did you read the figures on the return mail to Germany via the LZ 127? 49,745 letters, 51,938 cards, a total of 101,683 pieces. They weighed 1,609 pounds and filled 33 sacks! And that isn't all, either. Uncle Sam has to kick in with $75,713.50, Germany's share of the postage. This amount goes to the Zeppelin Company. And they do say we collectors are poor flyers!

Begins to look as if we may get a cachet out in Oakland, Calif., on the seed-boat affair. Chas. L. Hall sends copy of a letter received by him from the Chamber of Commerce and right on Mr. Hall's letter's heels comes one from Ralph Moffett, saying a cachet will be used. Date has not yet been announced, so hold your horses. Mr. Moffett says he will let us know in time. If you feel that you really must send your covers along ahead of time, send them to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. No hurry, tho.

Mr. Moffett also writes that a special cachet will be used at Chicago during the International Aeronautical Show, Dec. 3, and Philadelphia, Nov. 3-10. Covers for the Chamber of Commerce in both cases. The Philadelphia notice comes much late to use, but is welcome, nevertheless.

Things are beginning to look up—on the Cent. American route. I believe that we will have an announcement to make in the very near future that will cause you much joy. Now, don't all of you chaps write me for advance information. It will appear right in this column when—and if—I get it!

Champaign, Ill., has been added to the Chicago-Evansville flight that is scheduled for Nov. 19th. Nice name, isn't it? Kind of wets the whistle, as it were.

First reports from the Amsterdam-Batavia flight, received from Bangkok, Siam, states that the flight went through on schedule, but due to soggy landing field, the planes avoided Bangkok. It was hoped that the returning plane would be able to land and pick up the accumulated mail and carry it to Holland. Another new service was to start on Oct. 1st, when direct connections between boat and plane would be made at Marseilles, France, speeding up delivery of mail in Europe, England and America. Siam, under Mr. Praeger's guidance, is beginning to step out.

Mr. Victor M. Suarez writes that the quantity of mail carried between Vera Cruz and Merida on the flight chronicled last week amounted to eighty-three and one-half kilos (about 183 lbs.). Mr. Suarez further states that a new route (or routes) will be inaugurated in the near future between Mexico and Guadalajara, Mazatlan and Matamoros.

Judging by the clippings that come in from Akron, Ohio, the Rubber City is bouncing high with expectations of being the leading Air Mail city of the country. The gain for October, in Air Mail despatched, was approximately 500%, or about 2,500 pounds total. Got to do a whole lot better than that, though, to reach First Place.

Coöperators this week were—Anna M. Schafer, Victor M. Suarez, John G. Knespert, Douglas Harwood, Wilfred T. Foster*, John W. Stanton, D. Abernathy, Ralph Moffett, Chas. L. Hall, Elizabeth Ann Bradford*. Electioneering too much for the rest of you folks?

This may interest our lady readers. Miss Anna M. Schafer, one of my excellent coöperators, is conducting a column for George W. Linn, in Mr. Linn's new weekly. Miss Schafer is to "write up" the collections of several Akron feminine enthusiasts, although I am unable to state whether or not the number includes any Air Mail cover collectors. Miss Schafer is an entertaining writer, and her interviews will make interesting reading.

Mr. Robert A. Crosby, Secy. of the Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce, writes that the dedication may have to be postponed until Spring. Bridgeport (Conn.) will eventually be on CAM No. 1, if the expectations of the city are realized, and it may be possible that they will combine their Dedication with a First Trip.

Saginaw, Mich., had an Air Mail day on Oct. 30th. I am indebted to Miss Elizabeth Ann Bradford for a cover. They used the cachet applied to Air Mail on the opening of the route, back in July, with an added two lines reading "Saginaw—Air Mail Day 10 30 28."

National Air Transport have just about filled the bill in the October 13th issue of the Bulletin Board, their own publication. Besides interesting information pertaining to Air Mail, the Bulletin Board carries the photographs of 36 of the N. A. T. pilots. A fine, clear-eyed bunch of fellows, too. One picture in particular, that of William C. Hopson, brought a lump in our throat. Hopson was the pilot who crashed at Polk, Pa., on Oct. 17th, losing his life in the accident. At the time of the publication of the B. B., his record stood at 6,010 hours in the air, exceeded by but one other pilot in the employ of N.A.T. It is to be regretted that this young chap had to go West without even a fighting chance.

Another death recorded this week was that of Capt. C. B. Collyer, pilot of the Round-the-World flight of July. My Mears-Collyer cover becomes even more valuable through this accident.

I want to take a little space this week to reply to the innumerable requests to supply "advance information" on coming events, privately. While I appreciate your interest in Air Mail events, and the fact that sometimes the information is received too late to benefit everyone, it would be too much of a task for me to assume the responsibility of notifying several hundred collectors almost daily, of coming events. If there is some public spirited reader, or readers, or even a corporation—I won't be fussy—that wants to pay me $5,000 a year to keep he, them, or it, informed on these events, I might consider chucking my present job and accepting, but until an offer of this nature comes sneaking in at the back door, you will have to be contented with what you get for your five year club dues! Charity is supposed to begin at home, but if I don't get out of the trenches oftener, my better nineteen-twentieths will soon invite me to make my home in the garage—and it's getting too cool to pound the Corona in that location!

Brain Teasers

Here are some nice Teasers for our juniors. Answer all you can and send in your lists so we shall receive them by Dec. 20. Mr. LeDuc is our good helper on this contest:—

(1). What stamps were surcharged on the backs to make them available for postage?

(2). Certain stamps are found with large letters "T" in each of the four corners, and figure of value in the center. Where do you put such stamps in your album?

(3). What stamp shows a professional ice-skater?

Junior Dictionary

Portomaerke.—Found on the postage due stamps of Norway and the Danish West Indies. It means literally "postage stamp," but as the latter expression is usually translated "briefmarke" (letter stamp) or "freimarke" (frank stamp), "portomaerke" is given the signification of "strafportomarke," i.e., "penalty postage stamp."

Porto Pflightige Dienst Sache.—Found on the municipal service stamps of Wurtemberg and means "Service matter liable to postage."

Porto Scrisorei.—Found on the early stamps of Roumania (Moldavia and Moldo-Wallachia) meaning "letter postage."

Argentina

Two values, 5c carmine and 12c blue, were issued Aug. 27, to commemorate the centenary of the peace agreement between this country and Brazil.

Peping Not Peking

So far we have seen no reference in the lay press or elsewhere, to the fact that the name of the capital of China has been changed from "Peking" to "Peping." The interesting and unexpected news comes from Messrs. Whitfield King & Co., who had several letters from the Peking Post Office headed "Peping." On writing to inquire if this was a mistake and, if not, the reason for the change, they received a reply stating that the change of name was made after the Nationalists entered the capital, which event marked the end of Chang Tso-lin's regime. "Peking" means "Northern Capital," but as Nanking is the new capital of China, "Peking" was changed into "Peping," meaning "Northern Peace." One would expect to see this interesting item of news in the ordinary daily press, but nobody seemed to have noticed it until the question was raised from Ipswich. —Stamp Collecting.

Brattleboro

A town in the state of Vermont having a population of over 6,000. It is philatelically famous from the fact that in 1846, its then Postmaster issued a special 5c stamp to facilitate the prepayment of postage. This label continued in use until August, 1847, when it was superseded by the government issue.

How To Organize A Stamp Club

By A. C. LeDuc.

The First Meeting

In organizing a club composed of juniors, some adult familiar with usual parliamentary procedure should act as temporary chairman for the first meeting. He should act until all the officers have been elected and understand their duties. He should always be ready to lend any necessary assistance. If there is no adult in the club, there is usually some member who has been most active in getting the group together. He should act as temporary chairman until the officers are elected.

In opening the meeting the temporary chairman should state its purpose and ask for the opinions of those present. Then someone should move to organize a stamp club and that a committee be appointed to bring in a set of by-laws. The by-laws can be prepared in advance, or a recess taken for that purpose.

Officers of a Club

The officers in a stamp club may consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, auctioneer and sales manager. The duties of the president consist in presiding at each meeting and conducting the business in an orderly manner. He should also see that the other officers attend to their respective duties and that the various committees function properly. The duty of the vice-president is to act in place of the president when necessary.

The duties of the secretary consist of keeping a record of the business carried on at each meeting. He also sends out notices to members as to the date of the next meeting, and attends to correspondence.

The treasurer collects the dues and receives all funds accruing to the club from auctions and sales circuits. He pays all bills authorized by the club.

The auctioneer gets the material ready for the auctions, selling it to the highest bidder and disbursing the proceeds after the sale is completed. He makes a report directly after each auction.

It shows originality in its make-up, and up-to-date collectors will find it profitable to be upon the Wilson mailing list.

LAST week the Broadway Stamp Co., 116 Nassau St., N. Y. City, ran an advertisement in our columns. This firm has just moved into the Morton Building, where they intend to take a place among the first rank dealers of the city. Max Sage is the proprietor of this firm.

MAXWELL KRAUSE RETURNS

Our readers will be delighted with the return of Maxwell Krause to our advertising columns. It will be remembered that some months ago Mr. Krause experienced a serious accident, which necessitated his temporary retirement from active work. We welcome him back to our columns and feel that his quarter-page advertisement of Irish Free State will attract favorable consideration. No advertiser sends in finer copy than Mr. Krause submits, and we feel quite sure that no advertiser has enlisted a larger circle of friends than Mr. Krause, through his upright dealing with stamp collectors.

MAINE STATE ASSN. MEETS

("Bangor News"—A. B. Cragin.)

The Maine State Philatelic Association held its fall meeting, October 27, at The Worster in Hallowell. Five affiliated clubs were represented, the Androscoggin of Lewiston and Auburn, the Augusta, the Kennebec of Waterville, the Collectors Club of Portland, and the Penobscot Valley of Bangor. The officers of the association are Reuel Smith of Auburn, president; Sewall C. Brown of Brewer, vice-president; Abbot B. Cragin of Waterville, secretary; Mrs. Roger North of Augusta, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock when Reuel Smith gave an interesting talk on Postage Stamps as an Investment. The banquet was at 5.30, and was followed by a sale and exhibition. Exhibits were arranged in the billiard room. Waldo Sampson of New York exhibited an unusually interesting and valuable collection of early Rumanian stamps, containing many which have probably never been seen in Maine before. Daniel Day of Lewiston showed his superb collection of stamps of British North America. Miss Mattie Wadsworth of Hallowell showed her unique collection of United States and foreign covers. Charles Flint of Bangor exhibited his striking and artistic pictorial mounting of United States stamps, which occasioned much favorable comment.

The prize winners in the contest for the best arranged mounting of United States issue of 1922 were Louis S. Cook of Bangor, first and the Kennebec Stamp Club of Waterville, second.

Attractive cards, with a picture of The Worster, and bearing one of the just issued Molly Pitcher memorial stamps, were presented as favors by the Augusta club to all in attendance.

The Maine State meetings are rapidly growing in importance and are already attracting favorable comment from out of the state. Among those present from other states at this meeting were J. Waldo Sampson of New York, Alfred B. Schier of Boston, Henry M. Pringle of Washington, D. C., and Roy Hersted of Los Angeles, California. The next meeting will be held at The Worster, Hallowell, on May 18, plans for which are already under way.

OUR FORTNIGHTLY

We intend to issue a fortnightly list. We shall go through our stock starting at the beginning of the alphabet and price all items of which we have a sufficient quantity in fine condition. All stamps will be attractively priced.

If you drop us a line we shall be pleased to mail you a copy of any lists in which you are interested.

We would appreciate your sending us a list of the stamps you have been unable to obtain elsewhere. Our sending would convince you that our stock is probably the largest and finest in the country.

HOW TO ORGANIZE A CLUB

The sales manager handles stamps belonging to the various members in an effort to dispose of them at the prices marked by the owners. He makes regular reports to the club.

The Program Committees

The president appoints all committees. He should try to appoint members who are not already elected as officers as this tends to keep more members actively engaged in the work of the club. Committees should consist of an uneven number such as three or five. This prevents a tie in case of disagreement.

The most necessary committee is the program committee. This is very important as the proper functioning of this committee puts continued interest into any stamp club. Members must be entertained in one way or another. It is best to make the business part of a club meeting short and snappy so that there will be time enough for entertainment. Auctions are interesting, but should not be an exclusive feature of every meeting. Contests and puzzles with a stamp flavor are always well received. Exhibitions of collections with discussions and explanations of same should be frequent features. An article tracing the history and geography of a stamp issuing country may be prepared and read at each meeting. The entertainment committee must see to it that the different members have their share in the entertainments, so that it may not fall on a few members.

The entertainment committee should see that meetings are well planned, far enough in advance so that the individual who has something to offer, will be prepared to carry out his part of the entertainment. The chairman of the committee should be prepared to offer some kind of entertainment to the club, at a meeting, if his helpers fail him for any reason.

The secret of success of any stamp club consists in getting out a goodly number of members at each meeting, conducting the meeting in an orderly manner and winding it up with an entertainment that will please everyone.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) West Somerville, Mass.

IT'S GOING

The demand for the fine things in the J. Barton Townsend Collection, which I am now breaking, is substantial and most of the fine items in the way of U. S. Issues have been placed. Numerous want lists have been filled practically complete and further want lists of the general collector are especially desired.

The Townsend Collection formed by the late president of the Provident Trust Company of Philadelphia, catalogued in excess of $125,000.00 and contains practically everything from the world listing at $100 and under, including an especially choice lot of the twentieth century issues of the world in mint condition. Mr. Townsend was a subscriber to the New Issue Service for many years, and while he collected only the single copy, he desired as many shades as possible and was particularly interested in minor varieties, such as inverted and double surcharges, misplaced and wrong font letters, inverted centers and the like.

As it is not my intention or desire to stock foreign issues, I would especially like to dispose of countries intact to specialists. This offers an opportunity to purchase at a most reasonable price numerous varieties, which will be better appreciated by the specialist than by the dealer.

Those desiring to either purchase or sell the fine things in philately will find it to their advantage to communicate with me.

United States

Stamps for Aeronautical Congress

The Postmaster General announces that there will be placed on sale in Washington on December 12th next, a series of two stamps, consisting of a 2-cent red and 5-cent blue, in honor of the International Civil Aeronautical Conference, which opens at the Chamber of Commerce Building in Washington, on that date. Thirty-six countries will be represented at the Conference, and it is expected that the delegates will have a special trip over the Air Mail routes from Washington to New York, and from New York to Chicago.

They will also be given a trip to Kitty Hawk, where the Wright Brothers flew their first plane.

The two stamps will be about the size of the current special delivery, and it is expected at this time, that the lower denomination will show the first Wright plane in flight with a view of the Capitol and the Washington Monument in the far distance. This will pay domestic postage. The 5-cent to pay postage abroad on the communications sent out by the delegates, will show two globes, depicting the Western and Eastern Hemispheres—somewhat similar to the stamp designed by the American Bank Note Company for our own International Philatelic Exhibition, distributed at the New York exhibition.

At the present time, there is no thought of placing these on sale at any other place than the Washington office, and further details will be given in an additional story next week, concerning how to make application to obtain these special varieties. They will be good for postage anywhere in the country and they are not air mail stamps, but are designed for regular use. The Conference will meet on December 12th, 13th and 14th.

Air Mail Envelopes

The International Envelope Company, the holders of the new envelope contract for four years beginning January first next, have recently negotiated the purchase of the plant at Dayton, Ohio, of the Middle Western Supply Company, the present contractors and manufacturers of our envelope stamps. Under the circumstances, it is thought that the new air mail variety will possibly be issued before January first, as with the new arrangement there will not be as many changes necessary as would have been the case had the new contractors found it necessary to establish a new plant.

The Philadelphia Mint is at present cutting the die for the new 5-cent Air Mail Envelope, and it is believed that this work will be completed early in November. It would not be surprising if envelopes would be available in time for the Aeronautical Conference, although this is not promised officially.

Philatelic Agency

The Philatelic Agency is receiving thousands of orders for the new "Molly Pitcher" stamps, and there are sufficient on hand to take care of all requests. It is hoped, however, that collectors and dealers will not become impatient, for it is a physical impossibility for the clerks employed to fill the orders immediately upon their receipt. It is very easy for one who has never viewed the Government activities to state that any dealer could furnish a few clerks who could turn out the work in prompt order. Such procedure is all very well for a private individual or firm, where they may simply stick the stamps in an envelope and send them out. There is so much red tape attached to Uncle Sam's requirements, that it is necessary to write out a bill for each order, to describe in detail the remittance, as well as what stamps have been sent and how. The Philatelic Agency would not think of transacting any business except in accordance with government requirements. A collector ordering a block of four necessitates just as much routine work as a dealer ordering five thousand of the same variety. If one viewed the numerous requests that are sent to the Agency, they would realize that some orders take from two to three hours to fill.

The Agency wishes to impress upon collectors that they do not handle the stamps of the Canal Zone, and that requests for such varieties should not be addressed to Washington. Those desiring Canal Zone stamps from the Government must address their letters to the Philatelic Agency at Balboa, Canal Zone.

Air Mail Covers

At a recent conference with Mr. Warren Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, in charge of Air Mail subjects, the question arose as to numerous requests made upon the postmasters in different sections of the country for special items. For instance—one collector will write and ask that a block of four be placed in a certain corner and another block on the back, and that one block will receive the special cachet of the occasion, and that the one on the back receive some other postmark. Another collector will ask for a plate strip and will further request a postmark on the back and also on the front. Some ask for the arrival stamp to be placed on the back and some on the front. Still another will ask for different denominations of the issues on hand. In other words, the requests are so numerous and varied that it practically necessitates the special time of a clerk or two to even follow such requirements. Personally, I am of the opinion that as air mail covers are received from different points, that they should be removed from the letter accompanying them, all put in the same place and given the same attention on the day of issue. If it is customary for the postmaster to apply a certain postmark on the front only, why it is felt that this postmark should appear on the front and no other place. If we are going to necessitate a vast extra expenditure, we are soon going to put ourselves in a position where the officials from necessity will have to refuse all such favors. Right at the present tim philately is favored in having such ge tlemen as Messrs. Glover, Regar an Eidsness in charge, but we do not wa to find ourselves shortly without friend at court, and be refused these considera tions because of the cost. Under th circumstances, it is suggested that th Department authorize the postmaster t give the same consideration to all appl cations and to treat one no differe from the other.

The Department has not made up i mind upon the subject, and if reader have anything to say, it is suggested tha they address the editor of our Unite States Chronicle upon the subject.
